Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"!

This is the engine that's writing a whole new chapter in the book of automobile performance records. This is the engine that has stock car timers doing a "double take" at their stop-watches wherever experts gather to compare the abilities of the 1955 cars.

For example, in the recent NASCAR stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Florida, Chevrolet literally ran away from every other car in its class—and a raft of others besides. In the one-mile straightaway run for low-priced cars, the first two places—and six of the first ten—went to Chevrolets. And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, the Motoramic Chevrolet beat all other low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

What's behind this blazing performance? A compact honey of a V8 that only the world's leading producer of valve-in-head engines can build. Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8".

It puts a new kind of fun in your driving life. You're in charge of 188 high-spirited horsepower—or if you're looking for even more excitement, the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" (optional at extra cost) puts 180 h.p. under your toe!

Pick the one you'd rather have fun with, then come in and get behind the wheel. You'll see why the Motoramic Chevrolet is showing its heels to everyone else on the road!

Express Thanks to Fire Dept.

The Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department recently received the following letter:

"A few weeks ago we had to call the Independence Fire Department to our place. We had a fire in a tenant house. Now, we would like to take this opportunity to thank them and to say that if it hadn't been for the wonderful work they did and the interest shown and the ability to do their work, we would have lost our house. They are certainly to be commended, and needless to say, we are deeply grateful."

It isn't often that the firemen receive such praise for their work and the members are grateful for the above letter. Although the fighting of fires and to protect lives and property is the job of a fireman, it really gives a boost to the moral when they can read about the community they are doing in this community. I'm sure that the above note has given these members more of a chance to realize their deeds than all previous notifications.

Services at Masonic Home:

Members of all Masonic Orders of Independence, met Sunday morning at the Independence Bank Building, and went to Shelbyville, to hold services at the Masonic Home. The day was spent in the area and a picnic dinner enjoyed.

Job's Daughters, Bethel 8:

Monday evening, April 25, inspection of Job's Daughters, Bethel 8, by Mrs. Almira Reinhardt, Inspecting Officer and Grand Guardian of the State of Kentucky, was held at the Independence Bank Building. During the business part of the meeting, five new members were initiated into the Bethel. They were: Donna Watson, Donna Bramlage, Sandra West, Patricia Wythespoon and Jeanne Robertson.

Every officer of Bethel 8 was highly praised for their knowledge of their office, their conduct, and the seriousness in which they performed their duties. Joyce Maffett, Queen of Bethel 8, presided at the meeting.

Guardians attending the meeting were L. P. Lee, Associate Grand Guardian of the State of Kentucky, and Associate Guardian of Bethel 8, C. O. Coleman. Past Grand Associate Grand Guardian of Kentucky, Mary Coleman, Grand Second Messenger, and Louise Jackson, Grand Third Messenger and Guardian of Bethel 8. Others attending were many Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Bradford Star Chapter, also the present Worthy Matron, Jeanette Beers, and Worthy Patron, C. D. McDannond, Associate Patron, Helen West, and Associate Patron, Robert West, as well as other members of the Order and of the Masonic Lodge.

The next meeting will be the annual Daughter-Mother banquet, to be held at Simon Kenton High School, Monday, May 9, 9:30 p. m. All persons attending are urged to bring a covered dish. A very good program has been planned.

Certified Mail:

Most of the revamping stems from the Department's attempt to cut down operating deficits. Newest is "Certified Mail," slated to start as soon as needed forms can be distributed to Post Offices around the country.

This service is for important mail that has no real money value but for which you may want proof of posting or delivery. You pay a 15-cent fee, get a coupon to show the letter was mailed. The Post Office delivering the letter obtains a signed receipt and keeps a record of it for six months. Any time up to then that you want proof of delivery you can pay 10 cents and get it. Or, if you ask at the time you mail the letter, this proof will cost only 7 cents. Registered mail, at a higher fee, is still available.

Soil Stewardship Sunday Observance Set For May 5th

Throughout the ages man has offered humble thanks to his creator for the priceless gifts of soil, water and sunshine, which make all living things possible. In all lands man has paused on certain days or seasons of the year to remind himself of his sacred obligation to cherish and care for the Lord's earth, which gives birth and nourishment to all.

While man has sometimes been negligent in his stewardship of the land, his shortcomings have seldom been wanted. Most often they have come from lack of knowledge or understanding of the divine law of creation or the absence of spiritual guidance to remind him that he is but a custodian, not owner, of the Lord's land.

In other lands, rogation days have been observed for centuries on the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Ascension Thursday, as a reminder of man's responsibilities for stewardship of the earth.

In America too, rogation days are on the calendar of many churches. The purpose of rogation days is to implore the mercy of God that He may keep us from all evils of soul and body and give to the plants of the field an increase. In the spring when the fields are becoming green and there is a promise of a good harvest, but also the possibility of destruction through frost, hail or rainstorms, the processions are a reminder to feeble men to turn with humility and confidence to the giver of all good. In some sections of the nation, the fifth Sunday after Easter is observed as Soil and Soul Sunday.

Soil Stewardship Sunday in America had its beginning in 1946 when the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine suggested to the religious leaders of a few southern states that they set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregations of man's duty to be a good steward of the land. The fifth Sunday after Easter was suggested. The magazine offered to provide sermon suggestions, selected biblical quotations, and references to actual source material.

So great was the response of ministers and laymen that "observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday" rapidly spread to numerous other states within the magazine's circulation area. In 1954 the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine suggested to the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts that wider observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday could aid materially in bringing about a national reawakening of man's obligation to the land. The publishers offered to relinquish their limited sponsorship of Soil Stewardship Sunday to the association.

The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts was pleased to accept this offer and assume responsibility for encouraging national-wide observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday, which will be observed on Sunday, May 15, with the Boone County Soil Conservation District as local sponsor.

Atwood-Nicholson Homemakers

"Spring Fever" and "Ever Have Club Day Fever," were subject chosen by Mrs. R. C. Durr, reading chairman, for the April meeting of the Atwood-Nicholson Homemakers Club. Mrs. Leslie Wagner was hostess for the day, and Mrs. John L. Butler presided.

A citizenship program was given by Mrs. Charles Whitten, entitled "Brotherly Love." The lesson for the day, "Good Grooming," was presented by Mrs. Herman Schoborg and Mrs. Leslie Wagner.

The club's family night will be held on Tuesday, May 10 at the Independence Christian Church.

Letter To The Editor

The following is a letter received from Mrs. Nell Dudgeon, who is living with her son, Sgt. J. O. Dudgeon, and family at Ft. Gulick, in the Canal Zone. April 17, 1955. Fort Gulick, C. Z.

Dear Editor: Included is money order for paper. We enjoy getting the news from home, and when we read Conrad's ad we think how lucky people are to get the things they want, for here, there are so many things you can't get, especially repairs done. Only on the item you have bought here from the dealers. Shoes are very hard to get, but here, you only need cotton to wear and sport shoes. The weather is wonderful now—has been since December, but now is the time for the wet season to start, and it rains nine months out of the year. Time goes very quickly here. It was six months the 11th of April I arrived. It is a very nice place, and I'm very happy with J. O. and his family. He has just another year before we return to the states.

The climate is a very good one for some people and I happen to be one of them. I miss all my friends, but have made lots of new ones here. Time goes quickly and we will be back before we know it. It seems so strange to hear of all the snow and ice back in Walton, and here we are trying to keep cool. There is always a nice breeze blowing. You don't notice the heat. The temperature is about 20 degrees cooler in the shade. They say this is the hottest month of the year, and it is 93 degrees Friday, but you didn't notice it because of the nice breeze. This is a very nice Army Post, nice school for the children. Tell everyone hello for us. With best regards,

Sgt. J. O. Dudgeon & Mother

Future Homemakers Hold District Meeting At Campbell County Hi

Saturday, April 23, Future Homemakers from the Covington District met at Campbell County High School, Alexandria, to participate in the Spring District FHA meeting. The theme was "FHA's n Year Round Harmony." Following registration and get-acquainted activities, the meeting began with the FHA opening ritual, led by Sue Chandler, district president. Wanda Turpin, Simon Kenton, gave a most interesting and inspirational devotion. Miss Mary Bell Vaughn, State adviser, brought greetings from the state office, and welcomed the chapter. Candidates for district officers were interviewed by Ann Scott Giles, Dixie Heights, and this was followed by the "FHA Activity Tune Calendar," in which an interesting report and description was given of monthly success activities by each chapter. Cassandra Dance, Simon Kenton, explained how the local chapter observed National FHA Week, in November.

Following lunch and a review of scrapbooks, each outgoing officer gave a report of what she had done to make her stay in office successful and Simon Kenton's two officers, Lou Ann Elliott, first vice president, and Carolyn Richardson, reporter, had their goals 100%. The Simon Kenton chapter received a rating of "superior" on its scrapbook, and the district organization selected Mrs. Gayle McElroy as a candidate for honorary membership in the state association of Future Homemakers. Following the business session, the following incoming officers were installed: President, Donna Trapp, Campbell County; first vice president, Dortha Smith, Grant County; second vice president, Irene Webster, Owen County; secretary, Betty Wierling, Dayton; treasurer, Jo Ann Heideman, Simon Kenton; historian, Donna Richardson, Simon Kenton; reporter, Johanna Draper, Grant County; parliamentary, Erma Woeste, Campbell County; song leader, Jane Cook, Williamson; and recreation leader, Joy Harris, Dayton.

The Campbell County chapter and its adviser, Mrs. Gertrude Houseman, rolled out the welcome mat to these chapters: Gallatin County, Owen County, Boone County, Grant County, Williamson, Dixie Heights, Simon Kenton, Holmes, Dayton, Bellevue, Highlands, Butler and Falmouth. During the past ten years, the Covington District has grown in number and in zeal toward accomplishing the purpose of the organization. Thus from Simon Kenton who attended were: Lou Ann Elliott, Carolyn Richardson, Jo Ann Heideman, Donna Richardson, Virginia Oliver, Dusty Hale, Wanda Turpin, Cassandra Dance, Mona Salke, Edwin Miller, Betty Northcutt, Olive Wolfenbarger, and Mrs. Gayle McElroy, chapter adviser.

IT FINALLY COMES OUT

At a basketball banquet at the Grant County High School recently, Ted Horn, back admitted that the Walton basketball team of 25 years ago was better than his Corinth team, which went to the National tournament. He stated that Walton had beaten them twice during the season, and that the journey win was an upset. He gave just one little thing that he thought won that fateful game from Walton, and here it is.

"I noticed from watching one of Walton's stars, Jimmy Vest, that when he was going to shoot that deadly long shot from way out in the floor, he would draw his feet together, so I instructed his guard to reach his feet and when they were far apart to play way back so he could not break around the guard, and when he pulled his feet together to rush him and therefore ruin his shot—and it worked."

That just shows how important the little things are to anything.

Burlington Rd. Homemakers

Mrs. Arthur Ammon, Burlington Road, Florence, was hostess to the Burlington Road Homemakers for the April meeting, which was opened by the president, Mrs. A. B. Smoot. "The Homemakers' Collect Prayer" was read and the "Homemakers' Song" was sung. The lesson project, "Pictureframing," was conducted by Mrs. Lester Muff.

Members answering roll call with "A State I Would Like to Visit" were: Mrs. A. B. Smoot, Louisa Edgington, C. A. Ricer, Robert Eastman, Harry Whaley, Robert Ammon, John Kille, Joe Northcutt, Henry Fisher, Leo Lawson, Charles Riehemann, Al Becker, Lester Muff, Joe Dringenburg, Richard Ammon, Asa McCullum, Arthur Ammon and Nancy Gulliford, Demonstration Agent. Mrs. Ray E. Vace was a guest.

The May meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Riehemann, Erlanger—Pub. Ch.

RURAL MAIL BOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

The week of May 16 has been designated by the Post Office Department as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week. From the Morning View offices comes the following item:

"This (Rural Mail Box Improvement Week) is to get you to take notice of your mail box. Did you ever drive along the road and notice the beautiful country homes and lawn, but, oh, boy! that horrible looking mail box. Most people wouldn't think of not painting and fixing up their house, flower boxes, or yard furniture every year, but the poor old mail box is forgotten, and too, don't be ashamed of your name, put it on your mail box and let it be known you live there."

"Did you ever think how important your mail box is to you. Your country mail box has so many more advantages to you than a town mail box. So, let's go all out and beautify our rural mail box. If there's any information you want to know about fixing your box just right your rural carrier, Edward 'Boots' Cross, or Postmaster Elmer Schaller, Morning View, will be more than glad to give you this information."

Quite a lot of excitement was on tap in the Tower, Sunday when a report of the wild animal, which has been recently seen in Campbell county, showed up near Shaw's farm. A bunch of men with dogs and guns was soon on the way to the scene of action. After several hours in which they failed to locate the culprit, they gave it up as a bad job and disbanded. The next hunt will be when someone else has a brainstorm.

Boo, oh, boy, the plowing that is going on in the Tower and now we want to make a little prediction. This will be the year when everything will grow and the farmer is going to charge according to your purse, which has gone up and as you have been striking for more money, so you are in a position to pay whatever we think we need to make both ends meet. We can't strike but we can put the price of what we have to sell up to take care of the extra cost of what we have to buy. So watch out boys, you get a raise, we have to charge more to keep up with the parade.—E.J.R.

Bemis Tobacco Setters

I have seven Bemis tobacco setters carried over from last year—horse drawn, trailer type and hydraulic line—they sell for $225 and $245, but I am going to sell what I have in store, see me and I will sell you one of these Bemis setters, all set up, ready to go. These must sell this month as I do not want to carry them over—if you need a setter, come to CONRAD. I also have a lot of Perfection hand setters, some are blank for sale for years.

Carl Gerth is using that rubber-base paint for his house, inside—it sure does a nice job. Mrs. Lula Howard bought an Armstrong 12x15 rug, a nice flowered pattern. Mrs. Agnes Slett bought a lot of linoleum for her kitchen. Gordon Phillips sent for some galvanized Lots of farmers are coming in for Blue Stone, lime and GDT for their plantations. We received a large shipment of key blanks and a larger rack for stock—we cut keys every day—sometimes we find one we have no blank for but not very often.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reynolds were in today a few minutes, but could not sell them very much this time. Mr. Cockrell, who lives at Harris Pike and L.L. High, way, bought a dairy line for his milk house. Those two wild men from Staffordburg, Binder and Ballinger, were here again today—I have awful times with these two. N. K. Johnson, from Crittenden, bought a paddle pump and hose for his tractor to pump water. Mr. and Mrs. J. House bought the best Eclipse hand mow-ers in the county. I have most everything you need in lawn mowers and we are really selling them—new and used ones.

I have some good used power mowers, cheap, an 18" Reo power mower for $25, a 20" Reo power mower for $35, a 20" Toro power mower for $45, a 20" Trima-lene in extra good condition for only $60, I also have several hand mowers for as low as $5 each. We have our metal lawn chairs in, $4.95 each set up, or $4.50 in cartons. Mr. Dean brought Mrs. Emma Wolfe to town and she bought window shades and a 12x15 linoleum rug.

Charles Portwood stopped in and said he wanted 25' of that pattern of linoleum and when we measured it there were 26 1/2', which was getting too close. Mrs. Emma Flynn bought more Blue Point and curtain rods—she is a wonderful lady for her age. I have an extra good used Maytag washer, I had rebuilt. It is a square column tub type new model for only $75. I have a good used garden tractor with lawn mower attachment, cost $288 new, will take $188, and it is a bargain.

Benton Barn Destroyed By Lightning Fire Sat.

Five Calves and Other Equipment Lost In Fire

Loss Monday was expected to exceed $10,000 as a result of a modern dairy barn being struck by lightning and destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon, near Walton.

Fire Chief Russell Groger said the large frame barn had caved in by the time 22 volunteers of his department arrived. Firemen managed to save a horse barn, milk house and five-car garage, which were ignited by the adjoining burning barn.

Chief Groger said 500 feet of hose was extended from a lake. Firemen stayed at the scene more than six hours, wetting down hay and other smoldering portions of the fire.

The barn was located on the farm of Robert Benton, old Lexington pike, three miles north of Walton. The loss, not estimated officially, was partly covered by insurance.

Five calves, electric milking equipment, a hammermill, other equipment and a quantity of hay were destroyed.

Neighbors told firemen the barn seemed to "blow up" when it was struck by the lightning during a brief wind and rainstorm. Flames lit up the sky and attracted the Independence Volunteer Fire Department, several miles away.

Florence volunteer firemen also were summoned, and the assisted by pumping water from a cistern.

Charles Worthington, Guy Carlisle and David Hankinson, assistant chiefs of Walton, aided Chief Groger. Members of the Ladies Auxiliary served sandwiches and coffee to firemen during the six-hour period, marking the initial field duties of the auxiliary since its formation, Chief Groger said.

Ground Observers On Job

Tuesday afternoon of this week during a rain and heavy overcast skies a jet aircraft was heard and then seen flying low in the vicinity of Walton. A member of the newly organized AUSA's Observers Corps of the Civil Defense knew that the pattern he was flying meant he was lost, and a quick call to the filter center at Columbus, Ohio, sent assistance to him and guided him to a safe landing, with only a half hour supply of fuel left. A man's life was probably saved, along with a plane that cost the taxpayer thousands of dollars.

On a safe landing at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, the pilot said, "Thank God, somebody saw me."

The next meeting date of the Ground Observers Corps will be announced at a later date.

Boone Counties Confer With Governor Wetherby

A delegation, made up of representatives of the committee for the Northern Center of the University of Kentucky, called on Governor Lawrence Wetherby, in Frankfort, Monday.

Asa M. Rouse and Bruce Ferguson, representing Boone County, were with the delegation, the purpose of which was to ask for expansion of the University Extension in Covington. Mr. Ferguson spoke for the delegation on the Center's value to Northern Kentucky's high schools and school teachers.

The group later met in Lexington with President Herman Donovan of the University, where they were warmly received.

Civil Defense Alert Held at City Bldg., May 1, Is Effective

The first of May, a Civil Defense alert was held at the Walton City Building. Civil Defense Chairman Herman Simmons and assistant John Still, supervising the Ground Observer Corps members.

Eighteen planes were spotted by the observers during the hour-long delay, the longest time of contacting the Filter Center in Columbus, Ohio. Walton telephone operators who were on duty were very efficient and cooperative in handling the calls.

Most people do not understand what Civil Defense means and its importance; knowing what to do in this atomic and hydrogen era for self preservation.

It was very interesting to learn just how to take and call in an alert to the Filter Center. The things you need to know are very simple, the time required to find out is very little, the hour or minute this knowledge may save you and your family from annihilation might be tomorrow for it is known that Russia can, if they do desire, attack and destroy a great part of the U. S. A. at any moment.

Radar can do a large part of detecting and tracking down enemy planes, but only to a certain point. The need of men and women, young and old, is absolutely necessary to help see that enemy planes do not sneak in and destroy us—in order to do this, we must be prepared.

One of the many principles of the American Legion Auxiliary is service to our country, so we are holding an open meeting at the Walton City Building on Friday, May 13, at 2:00 p. m. to help plan for the protection of ourselves and you. All organizations are invited to help in this Civil Defense meeting.

Won't you come out for a couple of hours and we will tell you what we can do to answer your question about this important part of what you too can do. At least come out and hear what it is all about. You will not be obligated in any way. Let's not be guilty of waiting until it's too late to be prepared.

Refreshments are to be served.

The Worthy Grand Master, Mrs. Lillian Ridgeway, of Louisville, was inspecting officer. At Fields song a beautiful solo, after which the Worthy Grand Master was introduced.

Grand Organist, Gladys Haggard; Deputy Grand Master, Mildred Schenck; Secretary, Barbara Williams; Yeast were present. There were four Grand Representatives and a Grand committee member, Dorothy Kern, twelve Worthy Matrons and six Worthy Patrons in attendance. Proceeds to Be Used To Buy A Drill Field

The Whiz Bang Minstrel is coming to town Friday and Saturday nights, and you must not fail to see it one night, as they have a wonderful show. Action will get under way at the Walton gym, Friday night at 8:00, with the rush to get seats starting at 7:30, when the doors open. There will be no reserved seats either night—first come, first served. Admission will be 65c for adults and 35c for children, 12 and under.

The rollicking cast will be interlocked by that long, lean, lanky "Plucker" De-Moisy, who also will enroute you with his vocal "rendition." Those wild "end men" will include David Hankinson, Tommy Cook, Jim Iscombs, James Bonar, Russell Hall, Russell Groger, and Gayle Roberts. Added to this will be the climax of the musical program when Florian Lusby booms "Oh, Monna-han."

One of the big features of the "whiz bang" will be a "bubble" song and dance by Mrs. Alva Falls (you don't want to miss this), and also the old-fashioned vogueville song and dance routine by Jimmy Bonar and Carole Hankinson (a jimmie-dandy number). Eva Waters will break your heart with her "sad" song about a lost love. Elizabeth Ryan and Sharon Gubbs will lose you with their fun and music.

That old cowpoke, Bill Scroggin, and his Buckskin Gang will tickle your toes with many numbers. Mrs. Helen Belcher has spent many hours in directing this year's minstrel and deserves much praise for her efforts. The purpose of the show is the musical side well in hand.

Seriously, folks, come one night and enjoy yourself and help the firemen buy that new practice field.

Members of the Walton Woman's Literary Club held their May meeting in the Walton Christian Church, with Mrs. Julia A. Rouse, Mrs. Bernette W. Franks and Mrs. Sam B. Sleet as hostesses.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag and reading of the club call, led by Mrs. Alan H. Gaines. The president, Mrs. Rouse, presided. A much enjoyed musical program was presented by a talented artist, Mrs. T. P. Strittmatter, who gave a brief history of the composers. Selections played by Mrs. Strittmatter were, "Prelude," by Bach, "Sonata," by Beethoven, "Liebestraum" by Liszt, closing with "Nocturne Fantasia Impromptu," by Chopin.

Mrs. Strittmatter was presented with a gift by Mrs. W. D. Scroggin.

While in business session, the president read a communication announcing the death of Sarah B. Holmes of the University of Kentucky, as a candidate for the office of First Vice President of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Jean Chambers and Mrs. C. W. Ransler were named as delegates to the State Convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Lexington, May 17-19.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT!

The writer of this ad had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for similar riches. Just give it a try. Your 40c back at any drug store if not completely pleased. BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Iron and Clay

Lesson for May 15, 1955

IN PERHAPS the most famous dream mentioned in the Bible, an immense statue appeared, with a head of gold and the rest made of other materials down to the feet which were mixed of iron and clay. That dream points a good many morals; one of which is that such a statue will soon topple over. An iron foundation is strong but a foundation only partly strong won't do. So the foundations of life, if they are partly strength and partly weakness, will not endure. We have with us today (in this week's Bible study) a man who like that famed dream-image was part iron, part clay. He had his strong points and his weak ones, and he finally toppled.

He Loved the Soil

This man was King Uzziah, one of the better kings of Judah. He was a strong king in many ways. It is true, he was king over a very small territory as we see it today. Dr. Stapp's rocket sled could cover it end to end in about 20 seconds. It is said by his biographer that his fame extended to the border of Egypt... not over 200 miles at most. However, while his kingdom was a tiny one as countries go today, the beauty of the Old Testament is that we have something like very large-scale maps of small areas, blown up so we can see the detail. This King Uzziah succeeded in resisting ruinous invasion by the ever-greedy ruthless countries around him. He strengthened the national defense, he reorganized the army; he introduced (then) modern equipment for his armed forces. He conserved the country's small water-supply. He developed farming, both stock-raising and agriculture. He "loved the soil" (II Chr. 26:10). Best of all, he made a serious effort ("he set himself") as his biographer says to "keep God's laws. He listened to the prophet Zechariah, he was willing to be "instructed in the fear of God." Altogether, for a large part of his life, he gave the country a wise and strong administration because he was himself wise and strong.

He Grew Proud

Nevertheless he finally tumbled down. His clay underpinning at last gave way. The inspired biographer puts his finger on the weakness and names it: "He grew proud"—and adds, "to his destruction." Proud men do not think of their pride as a weakness, they consider that strength and pride go together. So they often do only the pride tears down the strength. What happened to Uzziah has happened to many a dictator since. He thought he could do as he pleased. He scoffed at the laws he had once supported. He came to think of himself as a human exception to God's law. He declined to take advice. He no longer would listen to men or God. It is this ballooning conceit, this unwillingness to listen to any one, this feeling oneself Destiny's child, that trapped Julius Caesar and Pontius Pilate and Napoleon and Hitler and many another tyrant in history. Pride is always a weakness. It blinds the proud man to his own defects, it blinds him to the wisdom of others. It turns him from a good strong man into a little tin god, from something genuine into something "phony." It isn't only kings of old and dictators of today, it isn't only the famed in history, it can happen to obscure people too.

He Was False to the Lord

The most serious charge brought against Uzziah is that he was "false to the Lord" (II Chr. 26:16). To put what he did into modern terms, this king-dictator had run everything else successfully, at last tried to run the church. The priests took their orders, as they understood it, from God; this brain Uzziah said in effect, "Now never mind what God has ordered; from now on you will listen to ME." To put it into modern terms again Uzziah wanted to put the Church under the direct control of the State. Against this, the high priest of that day protested, and religious persons will still protest. It may be true that from the standpoint of pure efficiency most churches are not too well run; it is true that with government force back of them churches could get more members—of a sort.

STAIRWAY TO GOD

Since the beginning of time, man has recognized the need for divine worship. He has ever sought a stairway to God. • For nearly two thousand years the Christian religion has pointed man to such a stairway. And through the centuries millions have climbed it. • But millions have not! And the reason they have not is the most serious problem that faces the Church and the world today: • You see, the only stairway to God is FAITH IN JESUS CHRIST, HIS SON. And Faith is not something which men can possess collectively, as all Americans possess freedom. Faith is something we can only possess individually like life itself. The man who lacks it is dead, even though millions around him possess it. • The faith of your wife, or your father, or your son, or your nation is not—for you—a stairway to God. Christ has given you the Church to plant and cultivate faith in your heart. But the Church must have your heart—in person!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamm attended church at Erlanger Baptist Church, Sunday of last week, and went on to Covington to see J. T. Roberts, who has been quite sick, but who was able to leave the hospital and was at his daughter's, Mrs. Helen Steele. We are glad to hear he was able to leave the hospital and hope he will soon be able to come home.

We are sorry to know Conner Littrell was taken to Bath Hospital and Bernard Wilson was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital recently. We wish each of them a speedy recovery.

Mayro Hayden went to Owenston Saturday night of last week, to set up with his uncle, Lloyd Mcelford, who was very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Hamilton and sons, and Mrs. Vevie Webster attended the birthday dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gordon of Glencoe, in honor of her father, Curtis Webster, who was 87 years young Sunday of last week. There were about 70 relatives and friends present. All left late wishing Mr. Webster many more happy birthdays.

Mr. Edith Chandler of Cincinnati spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Mayra Hayden and Mrs. Susie Glare.

J. T. Glare was visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Adams, recently.

We were glad to hear Douglas Davis could see some out of his eye Sunday.

He was hit in his eye with a baseball at school recently and it was thought at first he would lose his eye.

Glad to see Walter and Thomas Leek back from overseas. They received their discharge Thursday of last week.

LAST CALL

This is the last call for Bemis tobacco setters—I have put them down to the bottom, $190 cash—I am selling them and when these are gone I will not have any more this year. I have had these too long and they are beginning to rust a little, so I want to put them in the bank. While you can buy a Bemis tobacco under $200 you had better get it now—so, now is the time to come to CONRAD'S and get a Bemis tobacco setter, $190.00 cash and take it with you—I have a lot of parts for Bemis setters.

Tuesday, and a very busy day—they were buying everything. Bluestone, lime and DDT for plantlets. Fly spray for cows. Mrs. James Nave bought a new Magister lawn mower. Bill and Viola Ruth bought a hand mower, an Eclipse, one of the best I had. Red took two power mowers out to Jack-Conner's house and the ladies liked the Mastercut, so they bought one—I believe they are going to do it this morning. We turned on our big fan today, it was very warm. We are getting out our fans and air conditioners—give us a try before you buy. We have a selection of GE fans, Westinghouse fans, and we have several Cool-Aire 34-ton window air conditioning units. We also have a table model 20" fan for $37.50.

Mrs. Nick Parr was in but I did not see what she bought. Jack Caldwell and wife were here—I tried for a week to get Jack some fittings for his cow stanchions and I finally made it—they got them today. Brewster put down some linoleum for Martha Wallace. Brewster and Red installed a new electric range in the J. O. Ward apartment for Mrs. Maude Wilson, who has moved to Walton as she sold her farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Price bought linoleum rugs—they are moving back to the house on the Gaines farm where they did live years ago. W. H. Presser and I had a lawn mower trade—they got a Lawn rotary mower but I don't know what I got, haven't looked it over yet. If you want to buy some cheap mowers, slightly used, and all the people who traded them in said they were good ones, come to CONRAD, I have them at most any price, hand-push mowers or power mowers, whatever you want and most any price.

Russell Sparks came after a battery type electric fence charger and knobs. J. C. Benton also bought a battery type electric fence charger, and some fittings. Earnest Price came after his linoleum—he is ready to move. Katherine Robinson, Roy, Lawrence and their mother, moved into the house I just finished remodeling, down by Roadrunner's store—they bought a new Allen electric range. That house sure did work over nice: with lots of work, some money and materials, you would hardly know it is the same house—Callen & Wood did the carpenter work, Kirtley Steele did the plumbing and a little of everything else.

Brewster did the wiring and lots of other jobs. Roy Robinson did a very good job—finishing the inside with a lot of work, paint, putty, crack filler and it is a nice job. Carl Gerth came after more paint and linoleum—he took two paint cans so he must have Edith helping him—Chas. Wheeler says he is going to move, Tuesday—he's going to Kenton county. Mrs. Spillman of Welsh Avenue bought a metal lawn chair. Mrs. Virgie Fisher bought rubber base wall paper—she used it last year and liked it so well she is trying it again this year.

I have more compliments on this point than anything I ever sold. Mrs. David Mullins bought a garden plow, garden hoe, sickle and paint. John L. Vest bought a lot of aluminum screen wire for his windows. Gordon Phillips bought a lot of galvanized water pipe—she is getting city water. Mrs. Gene Crouch was looking over the power mowers—she needs one, a rotary type. Frances Kalgren bought water hose and nozzle. Mrs. T. Prusett had Chick make a piece for her washer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Overbay bought two 9x12 Armstrong rugs and some new plastic window shades. Mrs. Owen Flynn was in getting a few small items for her mother. Mrs. McMillan also bought some glass and other small articles. Jack Berkshire bought a Mastercut power lawn mower and he didn't even have any grass to mow, as he just had his yard graded off, but he will have some in a few days. J. D. Burgess bought his wife an ironing board and cover for Mothers Day. Joe Hoffmann bought his wife a Sunbeam skillet for "her" day.

I have a new Perfecton table-top refrigerator in perfect condition, and will sell cheap, for $65.00. It sells new for $189. Look this one over if you need an all range—it is clean and ready to use for a long time. Don't forget you can buy used lawn mowers at CONRAD'S at your price. We have power and hand mowers to sell, cheap. Logan Wayman, down on Richardson Road, came up and looked our lawn mowers over—I told him Brewster would bring them down and he could try all of them, so he did and Mr. Wayman took the Sunbeam power self-propelled mower—it was the largest and he has a lot of yard to mow. Miss Kate Roberts just finished painting her house with Bolce paint—take a look at it—how white it is. Bill Denstler and Bill Roberts did the job. "Dude" Simpson came in for water hose. Ray Alexander, from Crittenden, bought a Mastercut power mower. Conrad Clark bought a Bemis tobacco setter and a lot of harness. Robert Stephenson bought a bag of green Sta-Dri to paint his basement.

Everyone Is Asked To Wear A Poppy On Saturday, May 28

On Saturday, May 28, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when each year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the world wars.

It should be a matter of community pride to have poppies worn over every heart on Poppy Day. Surely no city or town in America is willing to concede that its patriotism is anything less than the highest. Poppies glowing brightly on every lapel on Poppy Day will give proof and evidence to one who remembers and is grateful for the sacrifices made in America's defense.

Thousands of our young men made the complete sacrifice in all past wars and the little scarlet poppy is their memorial flower and is worn in their honor.

The benefits of the American Legion Auxiliary memorial poppy fund reaches out in many directions bringing help and hope into lives blighted by war. Veterans in hospitals who make the poppies are given beneficial employment which enables them to contribute to the support of their families.

Other disabled veterans and needy children of veterans benefit from the American Legion Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare fund financed by Poppy Day donations.

On Poppy Day as we place memorial flowers over the hearts of our citizens and enshrine the memory of the great sacrifice made for our country by our war dead, we will continue to "keep the faith" with those who lie in "Flanders Fields."—Pub. Chm. Amr. Leg. Aux.

OBITUARY

It is with profound regret that we announce the death of the well known and highly respected senior class of the Walton-Vernon High School. Upon skilled diagnosis, the trouble proved to be enlargement of the intellect which, after a lingering attack, lasting four years, caused the demise of the class May 17.

The senior class was one respected and loved by all who knew it, and will be greatly missed in the social, athletic, and educational circles of the school and neighborhood. Its qualities of industry, idealism, and charm endeared it to all who had the pleasure of its acquaintance, and it will be sincerely mourned by faculty, classmates, and friends.

The passing of the Senior class leaves a void in the intellectual circles of the school that will long be marked.

Attendance to the funeral service will be Thursday, May 19, at the High School auditorium.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT!

The writer of this add had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results, but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for similar itches. Just give it a try. Bradford O.E.S. Chapter, 493
Members of Bradford Star Chapter, 493, held their regular meeting May 10 at the Independence Bank Building, with Jeanette Beers, Worthy Matron, and Dawson C. McDonald, Worthy Patron, presiding.

During the business session, officers and members presented Mildred Schenck, Deputy Grand Matron of this district, and Past Matron of Bradford Chapter, with a life membership certificate of which Mildred was very proud and gracious for the thought and was overwhelmed that members had unanimously voted for such an honored gesture.

Dorothy Finney, chairman for selling the Household Hint books, announced that 30 books were now available at 50c a copy, and that any person desiring to purchase one or more should call Holly 4584 or contact her at the chapter hall during meetings. These books contain subjects of every nature and will assist every housewife in many ways in the home. Last year these books were sold for $1 and nearly every member had one. The stipend committee reported that Mrs. Lula Loomis and Mrs. Gladys Watson were in the hospital.

The ways and means committee, Mrs. Alfred Appel, chairman, reported the second annual ham supper, sponsored by the chapter, would be held at Simon Kenton High School cafeteria, Saturday evening, June 18, and serving will start at 5 p. m. and will end at 7 p. m. Tickets are available from any member of the chapter.

The next meeting for officers and members will be held at the Independence Bank Building, on Tuesday, June 14. All members are cordially invited to attend.

The Mothers Day program, arranged by Worthy Matron Jeanette Beers, showed that Mrs. Anna May Roberts was the oldest mother; Mrs. Lula Baldwin the mother with the most children, and Mrs. Joan Gibson the youngest mother attending the meeting. Each of these ladies received a large potted plant and all others received small plants. The program was very nice and enjoyed by all.

Moore Bros. Post, American Legion

The next regular meeting of Moore Bros. Post, 275, American Legion will be held Thursday, May 19 at 8:00 a. m. at the Legion home located on the North edge of town. All fellows desiring to present their names for membership will be cordially invited to attend.

Kenton Elementary P. T. A.
J. A. Caywood will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Kenton Elementary P. T. A., Thursday, May 19, at 7:45, in the school auditorium. Officers will be installed and officers and chairman of the past two years will give their annual reports.

Mothers of the fifth, and sixth grades will assist Mrs. Ernest McKinley and Mrs. Joseph Kunkel with refreshments to be served at the social hour following the meeting.

STAFFORDSBURG

Whites Tower

Another good neighbor left us when Herb Grasso, who lived in Atlanta, but had a farm here, died suddenly of the heart while chasing some calves which he was preparing to ship the next morning. Another fine neighbor, the second in a month, has gone and will be sadly missed by his many friends. Our sympathy goes out to his wife, Jo, and his son, who lives in Sunny Acres, also on Taylor Mill Pike.

The rain that fell here Friday and Saturday was badly needed and all the growing things are jumping and we only hope we don't have a cold spell to follow which would be disastrous.

Ray Cook of Covington, spent several days' last week with his sister in the tower.

Mrs. Richard Dorsey and little daughter, Sara Lynn, leave next Sunday for California, from where they will take off by plane for Japan to join her husband, Lieut. Dorsey is in the Air Force. Needless to say, she and Dick are both thrilled with the prospects of being together again. We wish for both a safe journey and a happy reunion.

Mr. Miller, who taught at our school the past year, has accepted a position as teacher at Reading, Ohio. Our loss is Reading's gain, as late rates among the good teachers of the state.

Owing to the death of our good neighbor we have a couple more of those good Hampshire pigs, about 13 weeks old, for sale. See Charley if you are interested.

Valley Blitz, who has probably the best looking garden in the tower, kindly has to have those things early.

We were very sorry to lose Scotty Hitch as the bus driver on our line, as Scotty has been on there many years and was well liked by all patrons. We understand that he just couldn't make both ends meet under the new arrangement. Good luck, Scotty, wherever you go.—E.J.R.

Job's Daughters Banquet

The second annual Mother-Daughter banquet, sponsored by Job's Daughters, Bethel 8, was held last Monday evening at Simon Kenton High School.

The banquet commenced with many varieties of delicious food brought as covered dishes by members of the Bethel, with the finest-tasting ham ever having been supplied by the organization. With Bonnie Jackson, Joya Moffett, Sylvia and Carol Deglow, Jeanne Robinson and a few others being present, the dishes and pie plates were cleared. After the meal, various girls and mothers were instructed by the group to perform in some odd and hilarious way, which was entertainment for all.

Bonnie Jackson and Joyce Moffett, in charge of the program, had a guest, Robert X. Wall, who played a few selected numbers and was pianist for Bonnie Jackson during a lively recital act, which was very gay and comical. Brenda Worthington, accompanied by Brendo Bailey, sang two songs to the mothers and did a very wonderful job on these songs.

Mrs. Robert N. Knox has returned home after spending nearly two weeks vacationing in Florida. Dad (Bob Knox) has been doing right well on tuna fish sandwiches and beans.

The people in Independence will be losing two very nice neighbors soon. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Reed will be moving to their home recently purchased from Emma Meier on Taylor Mill Road, near Nicholson.

Looking Forward

Now that school will soon be dismissed for the summer, many children and their parents will be looking forward to many hours of relaxation. Some are now planning a week or two is some distant place where the home surroundings are completely different and with recreation facilities plentiful. Some families will probably intend to visit relatives who have moved and settled in other areas. Whatever the plans are that you have made or will make to enjoy the summer months, it is always pleasant to enjoy your vacation time to the fullest, by traveling.

To those who are wondering where to go and have a pleasant time, you might check your own state of Kentucky and its facilities. Touring Kentucky first should be the main object for a perfect vacation in every family. In fact, Kentucky ranks second in the U. S. for having wonderful vacation facilities, scenery, sports and, above all, the best highways for safer traveling. Give it a try this year. Treat your family to the best—seeing and touring Kentucky. If you want up-to-date literature, giving complete details of all favorite and famous places, write to Commonwealth of Kentucky, Division of Publicity, Frankfort, Kentucky. All of this information is free and while you are at it, also request a road map, it will give you all of the latest information on the best roads that can be traveled.

Rural Mail Box Improvement Week

The week of May 16 has been designated by the Post Office Department as Rural Mail Box Improvement Week, thus marking the 17th year that such a week has been observed.

Rural mail boxes, which are not properly erected or not in good serviceable condition, retard the delivery of mail and expose it to damage from weather. It is therefore desirable that patrons of rural service spend this time to improve or repair their mail boxes and its supports, so as to provide suitable mail receptacles and to erect them so they will be readily accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance.

It has been aptly stated that a rural mail box is not only an article of utility but the front door of the home it serves. How does your mail box rate your home? Is it in need of paint, the door hanging by one hinge, loose on its support, and the flag missing? Can it be that the post or support is just about ready for replacement? If so, why not make these improvements or repairs during the week of May 16. Show others that the front door to your home is just as bright and solid as the interior, and, above all, don't forget to paint your name on the mail box. It is mostly during the summer that the substitute carrier is on duty and your name can help him in serving you more efficiently.

BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Reconciliation

Lesson for May 22, 1955

THERE are only three possibilities when two persons or groups are lined up on opposite sides of a fence. It may be a family quarrel, a national crisis, a split in a church, a community fight . . . Whatever be the cause, whatever the "fence" may be, there are really only three ways the two factions can be related to each other. One is the way of hostility. They can cut off all communication; they can refuse to hear any good of each other; they can harp on past wrongs; they can open a shooting war. Another way is that of compromise. They can each agree to something neither of them wants, in order to keep the other one from getting what he does want. One side can yield to the other not because of any friendliness but only because of fear.

Reconciliation
The trouble with both these ways is that either one of them leaves the two parties just where they were. Hostilities (cold or hot) harm both sides. Compromise for selfish reasons actually brings the parties no closer together; they will stay together only so long as selfishness dictates, and they will split apart at the next opportunity. There is a better way: the way of reconciliation. Apart from religion, it is doubtful whether true reconciliation ever takes place; for it can be fully done only in the spirit of repentance first of all, and is nourished and strengthened only through the joining of hearts in worship. This is the way, is why Christian marriages hold together far better than marriages between people of little or no religion. Quarrels occur in most marriages sooner or later, Christian or not. The battle of the sexes is one from which no family is free. But in a couple without religion, little quarrels grow "big" ones, husband and wife either become enemies and go separate ways, or stay together only for the sake of appearances, or the money,—not because of love. Without religion repentance is rare. It is only in the family with a common faith that reconciliation is possible. When the day's end comes and it is time for prayers.

It Has Worked
Reconciliation is not a theory; it is a fact. It has actually worked. The Hebrew Book of Chronicle tells of King Hezekiah's experience with his neighbors to the north of him. They had been citizens of a seceding group, no doubt inheriting much of the bitterness that always underlies secession at any time or place in history. To their inherited prejudices against the Kingdom of Judah from which their forefathers had revolted, there was added the sting of poverty and defeat, for the seceding kingdom of Israel had finally gone down in weakness to a final smash-up. The left-behind citizens must have been an embittered lot. But King Hezekiah sent invitations to all these people, recently his enemies, to come up to the Temple and join in the great Passover festival. Men once enemies were drawn together in a common confession of sin, and in a united worship of their one God. In this spirit broken churches have come together again, in this spirit broken homes have been mended, northerners and southerners in the United States have forgotten their grandfathers' quarrels. It was in this spirit that in 1948, coming out of nations that only three short years before had been at violent war, Christian churches around the world came together for the first time in the World Council of Churches,—born of repentance, cradled in worship. Never 100 Per Cent

It never works 100%. There were unconquered Israelites who did not come to the Passover; there are Irishmen today who have never forgotten Cromwell, southerners who cannot forget Sherman, bitterly proud churchmen who refuse to be reconciled to any church but their own. When we attempt reconciliation with others, we may not always succeed. But which is better, to try God's way—for reconciliation is the way he has shown us—even if we do not always succeed, or not to try at all, and end in a dark wilderness of bitter isolation?

WORLD OF TOMORROW

It's a fascinating thing, that globe. As they twirl it, Ken and Johnnie speak of the places they'd like to visit, the things they'd like to do. All the wonders they've ever heard of come to life for them, and it's as if they could actually shut their eyes and see the Taj Mahal, in its Oriental splendor, and the Tower of Pisa slanting across the Italian sky.

But it's a frightening thing too, that globe, shadowed by war and the threat of war, intolerance, superstition. Out of its darkness, a single light burns brightly, the light of FAITH . . . kindled across its face by the Church. Ken and Johnnie . . . and all the other youngsters in their generation . . . need the guiding hand of the Church if they are going to succeed in making that globe a better world in which to live.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values, democracy, and civilization on which every person should draw. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself. Join the Church today! Plan to go to Bible study.

ELECTRIC

Electric ranges are so cheap to buy and to operate I don't see how you can use anything else. Electric water heaters are fool proof, fire proof and economical to use—how can you heat water any other way? Those Cold Air air conditioning units are so cheap this year you will just have to have one—pay cash for it or we will finance it for you. Any of these items you do not have or care to spend that much at one time, we will finance them for you. If you want anything electric, come to CONRAD!

Mr. Wilson, up on Edwards Ave., has started painting his stucco house outside with Sta-Dri—they say this makes a wonderful job. Mrs. Raymond Connor, who lives on U. S. 42, at Doc Edwards' farm, bought 42 sq. yds. of linoleum. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Concoran, who live at Ft. Mitchell, but have a farm at Devon, buy a lot of Bolce paint each year. This was repair day—we repaired everything from a hand tobacco setter for Mr. Morton, a floor lamp for Mr. Cockrell, an electric iron for Mr. Hughes, a lawn mower for Mrs. Atha, a lawn mower for Wayne Rice, and a lawn mower for Mr. Northcutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil from over on Alta Vista just came back from a fishing trip to Cumberland Lake—you should see the pictures—they caught 12 fish that weighed 179 pounds. A fellow from Owen county got a Hord's-Burns tobacco setter and took it with him. Mrs. Anna McCabe bought towel bars, turpentine and other small items. Mrs. Katie Hudson and Marvin were in a few minutes—they bought a heat bulb and several small things. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Price bought more linoleum.

Doc Edwards, who feeds us all the good chicken at Doc's Place in Erlanger, also has a farm on U. S. 42—he was in today and bought several large chicken feeders, founts and two rolls of weld fence. We received a large shipment from Tobacco States Chemical Co.—all kinds of bug killers and fungicide treatment, so if you need anything in the insecticide and fungicide line, I believe we have it—if we can learn what to sell for what. Mrs. Jack Roberts was getting wallpaper paste—she has the Simpsons hanging paper. Mrs. Emma Flynn bought a nice aluminum tray—they are very handy when you want your meals served in bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Courtney bought wall paint to decorate their home. Kenneth Stamped has been crippled up with rheumatism in his hip—came in today and said he had a sure cure for rheumatism—he went back on the farm to change the bull from one field to another and the bull took after him and he ran about 300 yards and cleared a four-foot fence and forgot all about the pain in his hip—a sure cure, he says.

WALTON, KENTUCKY — THURSDAY, MAY 26, 1955

Volume 40 - Number 21

Gospel Round-Up To Begin At Verona Lake Ranch, Sun., June 5

Something new, which has never been tried before in spreading the gospel in this area, will be launched this summer at Verona Lake Ranch, Verona, starting Sunday afternoon, June 5.

The Ranch, located 5 miles West of Walton, on Kentucky Route 16, is nestled in a beautiful shaded location in God's rustic outdoors, and the huge, shaded amphitheater is expected to be filled each Sunday afternoon by interested persons from Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, as they gather to hear some of the best Gospel preaching and singing throughout the land.

A group of cooperating ministers, along with William Schoggin, owner of the ranch, have worked out a plan to bring Sunday afternoon evangelistic services to this area. The cooperating ministers are Rev. Kelly Kennedy, of the New Bethel Baptist Church, Verona; Rev. Charles A. Vaughn, of the Walton Christian Church, and Rev. Wayne Patton, of the Walton Methodist Church.

Each minister will have charge of and be responsible for the services for one month out of the summer—June, July and August. Rev. Patton will have charge for the month of June, Rev. Kennedy for the month of July, and Rev. Vaughn for the month of August. The services will begin at 3:00 p. m. There will be outstanding speakers and special music that no one will want to miss.

In the services June 5, 12 and 19, Rev. Patton will use Rev. Samuel Doctorman, an evangelist from Lebanon and Palestine, who has obtained for a revival at the Walton Methodist Church, June 5-19. He is, in the truest sense of the word, a spirit-filled man of God, and everyone is invited to hear this unusual man, along with all the other speakers at the Walton Methodist Church, each Sunday afternoon.

According to Mr. Scroggin, Verona Lake Ranch will also have an old time music and Western horse show each Saturday night, starting at 7:30 p. m., on June 11. A complete listing of the show will be announced at a later date and should be of special interest to both young and old.

Sheepmen Have Been Misinformed About Support Program

Many of the sheepmen of Boone County have been misinformed concerning the 1955 support program for wool, according to Joe Claxon, County Agent.

The average support price will be 62¢ per pound, grease basis, to the producer, which is 106% of parity price for shorn wool as of September 15, 1954.

The 1955 program applies to shorn wool on or after January 1, 1955 and marketed during the marketing year April 1, 1955 to March 31, 1956. This means that the ownership of the wool must still be in the hands of the farmer on April 1. If he sold prior to April 1, he lost the payment.

Payments for shorn wool will be based on the percentage needed to bring the national average price received by producers up to the support level. The payment to individual producers will be an amount equal to this percent of the net sale value of his shorn wool.

The producer must sell his wool for the highest possible net price, for the higher the net price the higher the incentive payment.

S. K. BAND CONCERT

The Simon Kenton High School band, under the direction of Robert R. Roden, will be heard in a Memorial Day concert at the Independence Courthouse. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to attend the program, which will begin at 7:00 p. m.

The popularity of this fine organization has risen greatly during the present season, due to its public appearances. Recently the Simon Kenton band won a rating of "superior" at the Kentucky State Music Festival at Lexington. The rating was given for prepared selections, as well as for sight-reading. This distinction places the band with the top-ranking high school bands in the state.

It is hoped that everyone who enjoys good band music will attend the Memorial Day concert. In the event of rain, the program will be presented the following evening.

Local Firemen Get "Merit Award" From Dystrophy Association

Fire Chief Russell Groger and members of the Walton Volunteer Fire Department have received a Merit Award from the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc. Guy Carlisle, who served as chairman of the local Fire Fighters March for Muscular Dystrophy, announced today.

The Merit Award was presented in recognition of "outstanding work in helping to find the cause and cure of muscular dystrophy, a crippling and killer of children and adults." The firemen made house-to-house calls on their own time to collect donation envelopes last November.

More than $3,900.00 was raised nationally in the Fire Fighters March.

Mr. Carlisle said, of which $198.02 was collected in Walton. While the bulk of the money will be used to continue and expand scientific research into the baffling malady, a portion of the funds will revert back to communities for establishment of a network of muscular dystrophy clinics and for direct aid to local victims of the crippling disease.

The Merit Award is signed by Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, national campaign co-chairmen. Mrs. Lou Gehrig, campaign chairman and widow of the famed Yankee first baseman who died of a similar disease, and William Marsh, national president of Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc.

In announcing receipt of the Merit Award, Mr. Carlisle added that the "success of our campaign to save stricken children and adults was made possible by the generous response of the open-hearted residents of Walton to our 'March.' We thank each and every one of them deeply."

Bro. Doctorman has traveled extensively through the land of Palestine, the city of Jerusalem, and the surrounding territory. He has experienced standing upon the Hill of Calvary, where Jesus Christ was put to death upon the cross. While standing there he realized that he was at the place where Christ had died for him. This experience later helped to lead him to a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ.

He has had great success in reaching many souls for the Lord, especially in the Land of Egypt. He is, in the truest sense of the word, a spirit-filled man of God who preaches the gospel. Everyone is invited to hear this unusual man. A Vacation Bible School will be held at the local Methodist Church, June 21 through July 1, closing with a picnic for the whole Sunday School.

TOBACCO PROBLEMS — Now that burley growers have voted to adjust the production of their crop to the demands for the product, and thus to maintain a favorable price basis, their next big problem is to improve cultural practices and quality. Unless we Kentuckians can learn to produce real cigarette tobacco we will have to continue our downward production. Cigarette makers want ripe, fluffy, mild tobacco. If we put the same determination in the program to improve quality as we did to reduce acreage, we can do an effective job this year.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, R.E.A. — This month, on May 11, to be exact, the R.E.A. is twenty years old—still not old enough by legal standards to vote—yet I know of no development that has brought as much happiness, or ended as much drudgery for as many people in such a short time as has the Rural Electrification Administration. Few people can realize that in 1935 only one farm in ten had central station electric power; now only on farm in ten does not have it. More than 4 million rural families are now being served by R.E.A.

No group of people need electricity more, nor use as much of it per family as farm people. Besides the usual need for lighting, cooking, refrigeration, washing, information and pleasure, the modern farmer uses it for pumping water for home, livestock and irrigation; for milking, feed grinding, moving hay and grain, and in innumerable other ways.

The R.E.A. is made up of over 1,000 former-owned, farmer-managed cooperative associations. If there is one thing that stands out above all other in their organizations, it is the excellence of their management.

As County Agent in McCracken County in 1935, I was instrumental in starting one of the first R.E.A. Cooperatives in Kentucky. A former member of the organizing committee, C. D. Harris is now manager of the Coop. In those days he was "tops" as a doorman; now he is the successful manager of one of the largest electric distributing enterprises in the state. How versatile farmers can be!

WE'LL MISS HER — Kentucky's farm people will lose a real leader when Miss Myrtle Weldon's resignation as State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents becomes effective on July 1. Miss Weldon is not only a women's leader in Kentucky—she has been and is an inspiration to all true friends of agriculture. Because of her high ideals, her determination and organizational ability she has helped develop Kentucky's farm women through their Homemakers Clubs, into the most dominant factor for the improvement of rural life. We are all proud of our "Homemakers Clubs" of which Miss Weldon and her able assistants are leaders.

By her resignation before reaching retirement age Miss Weldon is showing again her good judgement and independence of action. She is "taking out" while she can still enjoy travel, people and study, and we know she will continue to bring good things to our Kentucky folks.

New Tire Offers Greater Mileage and Safety Says Report

A new tire, for which greatly improved mileage and safety performance is claimed, was announced here today by T. C. Russell, agent of Standard Oil Co. Called the "Atlas Premium," this new tire is now available at Standard Oil service stations throughout the Walton area.

"Standard Oil recognizes," said Mr. Russell "that the ever-increasing horsepower of automobiles, coupled with the rapid growth of high-speed turnpikes throughout the South, requires safer, longer-lasting tires than ever before, and the new Atlas Premium tire with exclusive Viperine treated is the answer to this growing need."

Viperine, it was pointed out, is the first entirely new synthetic rubber developed by private industry since World War II. It is reported to have improved resistance to abrasion up to 50% over the longest wearing tire treadstocks in use.

In recent tests conducted for Atlas Supply Co., test cars were driven at 100 miles an hour around a two-mile circular track. Only cars equipped with full sets of Atlas Premium tires with this new Viperine treadstock, completed 1,000 miles without tire failure, and the tires still had safe tread remaining at the end of the run.

"Of course, we do not expect that motorists will drive that fast," said Mr. Russell "but we do consider that these tests are a significant measure of the extra safety and mileage built into Atlas Premium tires, and is why Standard Oil guarantees them for two full years."

Two Social Security Provisions Are Being Overlooked Is Report

Two very important provisions of the Social Security law seem to have been overlooked by many people who could benefit by them, according to Joseph T. Ware, manager of the Covington district.

First, under the law as it was before 1954, a worker who died before September 1, 1950 may have needed more than six quarters of coverage to be fully insured. His family, therefore, may not then have been eligible for survivors' benefits.

The 1954 amendments provide that a worker who had six quarters of coverage and died before September 1, 1950, may now be considered fully insured if he had as many as six quarters of coverage. Beginning with September, 1954, benefits may be paid to his widow, child or dependent parent, provided they now meet all other conditions of eligibility.

Second, the 1954 amendments protect the old-age and survivors insurance rights of people who have sufficient work covered by social security and who are or who become totally disabled and unable to work for a long period of time.

The earnings of such disabled workers may be "frozen." Under this provision, periods of low earnings or of no earnings need not be counted at all in figuring the amount of work you need to be eligible for payment. It makes it easier to qualify for payments when the worker reaches 65 or dies, and the amount of the payments will be larger, but there are no payments now unless the worker has reached 65.

In order to have your earnings record "frozen," you must have social security coverage for ten—five years out of the ten before disability began and also about a year and a half of work during the three years immediately before the onset of disability.

Further information concerning the social security law may be had at the office in the Post Office Building, 7th and Scott, Covington.

Resources Of God

Lesson for May 28, 1955

A CRIPPLED American carrier after the battle of Leyte was zig-zagging its way to what looked like certain death. Faster Japanese craft were after it, their shots were coming closer. The only hope any one on board could have was that by shifting course and speeding again and again, they might be able to put off the inevitable end. Finally in mid-afternoon, just when drowning seemed closer than ever, for some reason the Americans never understood, the enemy ships gave up the chase and pulled away. The chaplain gathered the men on deck and there read the 124th Psalm (our devotional reading for the week) as if it had been written for the occasion: "If he has not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us, then they would have swallowed us up quick... then the waters had overwhelmed us."

The Resources of God God (said Napoleon) is on the side with the largest battalions. Napoleon was not acquainted with God or he would hardly have said that. There have been too many occasions when the biggest battalions, the best military material (sic), the ablest generalship, did not turn the trick. God has sometimes appeared to be on the side of very small battalions. Sometimes it's a kind of mystery how it's done. But history carries the record. There was the time when the Hebrew slaves left Egypt in spite of the best army in the world. There was the time described in the Bible reading this week, when the God-fearing King Hezekiah and his people—a much smaller little country than many another that had fallen to defeat by mighty Assyria—was saved by a miracle. There was the time later in Hebrew history (between the Old and the New Testaments) when the little army of the Maccabees stood off the great armies of the Seleucid kings; the astonishing day when the "Invincible" Armada, the enormous naval expedition of Spain, which could never have been beaten by English arms at that time, was smashed by a hurricane on the rocky coasts of the islands the Spaniards intended to enslave. For what you please, some victories cannot be explained unless you can see "God within the shadows, keeping watch above his own."

Victories of the Spirit

There have been victories of the spirit, too, which can hardly be explained unless you can see God in the picture. When John Woolman was born, slavery was taken for granted everywhere in the civilized world. You would not have thought Mr. Woolman could make a dent in so well-established a custom. He had no money, no prestige, not much education. But the Lord laid on his soul a burden, and he went from one Quaker meeting to another, sharing his burden of concern for slaves; and out of his one-man crusade came the Quaker opposition to slavery and the gradual awakening of the Christian conscience everywhere. So, nearer our times, when Walter Rauschenbusch was a boy, religion was generally supposed to have to do only with a man's soul, not with his business or his politics or anything outside his church and home. Rauschenbusch became a new sort of prophet—attacked, of course, as prophets are; but what seemed to be heresy in his day is preached today in all churches, that the Christian religion is concerned with every side and every interest and relationship of life, public and private too.

Not the Lazy

It is a serious mistake to suppose that God always rewards the weak, or that he will do for us what we are expected to do ourselves. The story of Hezekiah brings this out. He felt, and the whole country felt, that God had saved them in their time of need; and this was true. But it should be noted that Hezekiah, faced with invasion, took intelligent (and expensive) measures for defense. He secured a reliable water supply for use in case of siege, he diverted water away from the places where the besieging army was sure to be. He built up the army, he manufactured new equipment. If he had radar screens he would have used them.

Sweet Sixteen

How proud Mother and Dad are of their lovely young graduate. They bask in the glow from her fresh beauty and quite understandably feel a sense of accomplishment. Raising a baby daughter and seeing her attain this threshold is an achievement.

But hold on there, Dad, before you burst with natural pride. What have you given this daughter other than the physical necessities of food and clothing? What have you done about her spiritual needs?

And, Mother, you who have often denied yourself for this beloved girl, what inner endowment have you passed on? Have you enriched her soul with faith and understanding?

How about it, parents of this lovely graduate, have you given your daughter the religious training and habit of regular church attendance that will help her more than all attendance that will help her more than all else to meet life's problems with tranquility, to make the most of her promising future?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WILDFIRE IN TOBACCO

Wildfire has already started in some tobacco plantations in Boone county. It is the time of year that beds should be treated with bluestone-lime mixture to prevent wildfire. If wildfire is in the plantation it will carry over to the field causing many dollars damage to the crop.

Tobacco beds should be treated as soon as the plants are well up. The following is now to prepare bluestone-lime mixture: (1) Fill a clean 50-gallon barrel or oil drum three-fourths full of water strained through a cloth; (2) in one contained thoroughly mix four pounds of fresh commercial hydrated lime in three or four gallons of strained water; (3) in another container dissolve three pounds of powdered bluestone in about four gallons of water; (4) pour the lime paste into the barrel of water and stir vigorously, and while stirring, add the bluestone solution slowly; (5) add water to make 50 gallons.

It is advisable to use one-half pound of fifty percent wettable DDT powder to 50 gallons of the bluestone-lime mixture to control fleabeetles and cutworms, according to Joe Cleson, County Agent of Boone County.

This is said to be the largest planting of its kind in the Cincinnati area.

Local Telephone Company Moves Serviceman Home

A telephone plant man in the person of Alfred E. (Army) Armstrong has been stationed at the Walton exchange, full time, G. B. Fucose, Vice President and General Manager of the Consolidated Telephone Co., announced this week.

Mr. Fucose said that Mr. Armstrong will reside in Walton and that the service truck will be stored here as well, in order to be available for emergency night calls when telephone troubles arise. Except for jobs of major importance, (Army) will take care of both repairs and installation.

A veteran of 21 years with the Bell Telephone System, Mr. Armstrong has been with Consolidated for two and one-half years.

Mr. Fucose emphasized that all trouble calls still should be reported to the Walton operator. (Army) will take over from there, he said.

Another important announcement by Mr. Fucose was that John W. (Bussie) Huff has returned to work with the telephone company after two years' service in the U. S. Army. A life-long resident of Boone county, in the Hamilton area, Bussie has been with the company six and one-half years.

Huff's entire Army service was confined to the Signal Corps in virtually every phase of telephony. Most of the time he was an instructor in this service. His commanding officer took official notice of his great skill in his chosen work.

The new associate of the Covington group is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, and formerly taught at Tulane University, in New Orleans, La.

His affiliations include membership on the Dan Beard Council of Boy Scouts, chairman of the board of the Florence Christian Church, president of the Eighth District (Ky.) Convention of Disciples of Christ, and past president of the Pioneer Toastmasters. He is a veteran of World War II and saw action with the Marines from Saipan to Okinawa and Japan.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT!

The writer of this odd had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for similar itches. Just give it a try. Your 40c back on any drug store if not completely pleased. Emergency Pastures Cut Feed Cost, Keep Milk Output High

It's time for emergency pasture when grazing gets short like this.

DAIRY farmers can help lick the traditional summer milk slump by growing well fertilized emergency pastures to pinch-hit for bluegrass growth that is burned out by hot, droughty weather, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Emergency pastures such as Sudan grass or oats and rape, says the committee, can pay off in fatter milk checks. They can save you money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain. They can help cut down costs of milk production and increase your net returns.

The key to these benefits is high pasture yields per acre. To get those high yields, your soil needs a high fertility level. Whether you plant Sudan grass or oats and rape, the emergency pasture crop needs not only a balance of fertility, but ample amounts of fertilizer as well.

Using a fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash at from 300 to 600 pounds per acre can give good insurance against poor stands and low yields that cut the carrying capacity and run up the cost of each pound of feed.

Agonomists at Corn Belt colleges say that seedlings for emergency or supplemental pastures can be made up to the middle of June. Sudan grass is particularly resistant to drought, the agonomists point out.

One precaution is necessary, however. Agonomists advise keeping livestock off Sudan grass pasture until the growth is 16 or more inches high and has taken on a dark green color. This is a safeguard against prussic acid poisoning.

Plans for the observance here have been completed under the direction of Mrs. Georgia Stephenson, poppy chairman.

A house-to-house canvas on Friday, May 27, will be made by young girls who have volunteered. Whatever your donation may be, either large or small, will be greatly appreciated by the auxiliary.

The auxiliary's volunteers will offer the poppies on the streets Saturday, May 28, from early morning until late afternoon. Let everyone have the honor of wearing a poppy in memory of our war dead.

The June meeting will be held with Mrs. R. M. Lucas, Burlington Road, Florence.

Piner Baptist WMS Meet

The Day Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of Piner Baptist Church met May 6 in the home of Mrs. Frances Gross. The meeting was called to order by the president and roll call was answered with Scripture verses. Sixteen women and three children were present.

The group decided to take the name of the "Ethel Harmon Circle," and to be known by that name from now on. A box of clothing, valued at $40, was sent to Oneida Institute; 40 cards had been sent to the sick, and 47 visits made.

The associational president, Mrs. Arthur Ammon, visited the society and gave a very interesting account of the state meeting. The program in Royal Service was given by several ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Christina Oliver, with Mrs. Agnes McMillan giving the devotional.

Those present were: Mrs. Mary Elliott, Mrs. Christina Oliver, Mrs. Georgia Correllus, Mrs. John Lunsford, Mrs. Reatha Wilson, Mrs. Hazel Mullins, Mrs. Foy McMillan, Mrs. Hazel Spaulding, Mrs. Charles Gross, M. R. Hazel Mann, Mrs. Agnes McMillan, Mrs. Bessie Forehan, Mrs. Melba Cook, Mrs. Myrtle Bell, Mrs. Lucy Beighle, and Mrs. Ammon; also three children.

Resolution No. 15

A resolution calling for the construction of four (4) foot sidewalks on both sides of the paved portion of Alta Vista Avenue in the City of Walton, Kentucky, declaring the improvement to be a necessity and indicating that an ordinance will be presented for adoption making the improvement.

WHEREAS, there is no sidewalks on either side of Alta Vista Avenue from its intersection with Main Street or U. S. 25 to its extremity; and

WHEREAS, it is anticipated that there will be a very material increase in the persons who will travel, by walking, the complete length of said Avenue and that it appears in the interest of safety a sidewalk should be constructed;

NOW, THEREFORE, The City Council of the City of Walton Does Ordain as Follows:

Section 1. Following the necessary action by the City Council, a four (4) foot concrete sidewalk be constructed on both sides of the entire length of Alta Vista Avenue a distance of approximately Two Thousand Seventy feet

(2,070), be the same more or less. The sidewalks to be constructed four (4) inches thick with Three thousand (3,000) pound concrete, to be laid on a stabilized base according to the grade of the street as now constructed and as may be directed by the City Engineer.

Section 2. That the cost of construction of the proposed street improvement will be apportioned against the property on both sides of said street for the distance to be improved.

Section 3. The construction of sidewalks on this street appears necessary to the City Council, there being no sidewalks at all and the safety of children and adults who will walk on the street makes the necessity for their construction.

Section 4. An ordinance will be presented and proposed to the City Council for adoption, and the ordinance will embody the same general terms, but be more in detail, as those set out in this resolution and in accordance with the plans and specifications of the City Engineer.

Passed by a vote of 4 members of the Council of the City of Walton, Kentucky, this 23rd day of May, 1955.

Week End Vacation

Several years ago I never thought I had time to take a weekend vacation when the holidays come on week ends; but now I see where I missed a lot, so I take every one I can get, and I give my men every evening I can get away with. So this weekend get you some fishing tackle, an ice cream freezer, a portable grill, some charcoal, set of horse shoes, ball glove and ball, large thermos jug, some lawn chairs, a hammock and really take a good rest, you won't have another chance until July 4 and a lot of hot days are ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Doud from Crittenden bought paint, flower guard and several other small items. I sold a Perfection hand tobacco setter but I forgot who bought it. Lewis Webster, our television man, bought 50 lbs. of Blue Stone to put in his lake for killing the moss around the edges. Mrs. Ward Ellison, from Crittenden, bought a used hand lawnmower. Mrs. Burdett bought a new hand lawnmower. My Perfection hand setter man was here today—so now I have the valves, valve rods and springs for that Perfection hand setter.

We received a shipment of metal lawn chairs and hammocks. I have those flat spring steel chairs for $9.95 and I have the hammocks with the metal rack. Guy Carlisle bought lawn fence to fence that daughter in the back yard. Mrs. Grace Points had us put up some new white plastic window shades. Brewster put a new handle in Mrs. Julia Rouse's garden spade. Mr. Presser brought over a long trough he uses in his vegetable freshener for Brewster to solder a new bottom in it—it was some job but about two hours labor and a pound of solder did the trick.

Dr. Maddox called—he had a water faucet he could not shut off. Brewster took down a new one and put it on. Red set up a lot of new lawn chairs and they are in use. Mrs. Ruth Walden and mother were in looking at linoleum. Evelyn Soremore is here several times a day—they are remodeling their home. Farmers are really busy now—they come after repairs or whatever they need or right job to work. J. C. Fulton came after chain links. Orin Britt needed mower sections, and Frankie Penick needed mower guards.

Beckham Shields and I had a tobacco setter trade—a new hydraulic lift Bemis for a horse-drawn old model Bemis—Beck says it is OK and will set plants. J. O. Ward called for paint today—the must be house cleaning. Mrs. Burdett bought a garden plow—I suppose for her husband. Nell Hunt bought a new linoleum rug. Chuck and Red helped her put it down. Sleet West brought in a hoe his grandfather had for us to put a handle in—Chuck fixed it for him.

We washed our windows today, put out the summer goods, like ice cream freezers, both hand turn and electric, lawn chairs in wood and metal, hammocks, electric fans in all sizes and prices—I have GE and Westinghouse, also Dayton fans. We have a real bargain, a 20" table fan for $37.50, while they last. I have the 34-ton Cool Air air conditioning unit, installed in my home, for only $279—I only have a few of these, so get them early. Red just put away another large shipment of rubber base paint.

I believe it is the greatest advancement ever made in paint when they made that rubber base paint. James Bonar bought a used power mower and a good one too. Rev. Vaughn bought a used hand mower, it also was a bargain for $5.00. I will sell you a mower if you make a reasonable offer. You make the price, I take the money and you take the mower. Just ten more days to sell lawn mowers and I want to clean them up—none to carry over.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worthington (Ruby and Woody, to us) were in—they just bought a new power lawn mower and one of those hot and cold Dayton water systems—they both said they were really satisfied with those two buys. Evelyn Soremore was back today, after more paint and plastic window shades. Ira Dixon got one of the best power lawn mowers. I had a power driven Mastercut rotary mower, and it's one of the best. Mr. Paul Ford bought a 9x12 Armstrong rug and plastic window shades. Ray Hurd said bring over two of those three power lawn mowers and his wife take her choice, so she picked the Mastercut.

Olus Waltenberger from Mt. Zion, and wife bought paint and a used hand mower. Some fellow from Pendleton county bought fencing and a used power mower. Pete Poe, down on Market, bought 3 gallons of weed killer, 2 gallons of brush killer, and 1 gallon of Aldrin to put on his ground after he plows to kill the insects before he plants. We sold lots of transplant solution to put in water when you set your tobacco to kill wire worms and insects. We also sold several bottles of Streptomycin to stop and prevent wildfire and blue mold.

Mrs. William Upton has been buying lots of Bolce paint and today she bought a lot of Armstrong linoleum. Clay Nix came after one of those paddle pumps to fit right on the power take-off and start pumping. Mrs. Lamm and Mrs. Brown were over getting a handle put in their hatchet. Mrs. Mary Rice also a Bolce paint buyer, brought more of her own to decorate another apartment. Mrs. Albert Denton called for me to bring her a gallon on apple green liquid satin wall paint.

Telephone Company To Use New System Of Billing Toll Charges

Boone county telephone subscribers are being introduced to a new system in the billing of their long distance and toll charges, R. T. Uze, commercial superintendent, Consolidated Telephone Co., reported this week.

At first glance the new system might appear complex, but after a few minutes study of the first ticket or the sample shown in a company advertisement appearing in this paper, it is felt that the new way will prove to be a lot simpler, and much more complete. The new tickets will even give the time the call was placed, and how many minutes and seconds were consumed.

Mr. Uze said the total charges for toll calls, including the 10% Federal tax and 3% Kentucky tax where applicable, will appear on bills as in the past. The new toll tickets will replace the usual detailed list of patrons' long distance calls. These original tickets will be made out by the operators at the time the calls were placed. The company, Mr. Uze explained, will retain a record of all calls on microfilm.

The toll tickets will provide patrons with a complete record of their calls. Mr. Uze said. A brief study of the instruction sheet should enable subscribers to understand the tickets without any difficulty.

Mr. Uze emphasized that operators are instructed to spell names as they sound rather than make any attempt at actual spelling. This will explain the odd spelling which may occasionally appear on toll tickets. "In fact," he said, "many cities and towns have long names and in order to save time and space, the names of these towns are shortened by means of standard abbreviations used by all telephone companies."

"Used successfully by other progressive telephone companies in the United States is another reason which leads the company to believe that its patrons too, will like the new change," he added.

TO TEST CATTLE FOR TB

A representative of the Federal Animal Husbandry Research Department is to be in the county to test for TB in dairy cattle, June 6, 7 and 8, and June 20, 21 and 22, according to Joe Claxon, Boone County Agent.

This has been a TB clear county for many years, this meaning many dollars to dairymen, as they can ship Grade A milk. Every three years there has to be a check to make the county TB clear. One thousand cows will have to be tested for TB. This test will be free for the dairymen. A schedule will be set up for the testing in different communities of the county. Dairymen desiring their herds tested, please call the county agent's office, Burlington 412. This is very important to milk shippers of the county.

Union Man Loses Life As Home Burns On Sunday Afternoon

Boone county was conducting an investigation Monday to determine the cause of a fire which resulted in the death of Carl C. Adams, 40, and destroyed his home near Union, Sunday.

The body of Mr. Adams, an employee of the Newport Steel Corp., was found in the kitchen of the five-room frame farmhouse.

Florence volunteer firemen, under Chief Robert Martin, responded to an alarm but were unable to save the home which was a mass of flames when they arrived. Chief Martin said the cause may have been a defective flue in the kitchen.

The blaze was discovered at about 4 p. m., by a son, Carl W. Adams, 16, who had been playing in the yard of New Haven School.

Firemen, while raking through the wreckage, found Mr. Adams' body lying across a table. His arms and legs had been burned off.

He leaves his widow; two sons, Carl, and Robert, 14; two daughters, Ruby, and Robert, 10; a brother, Earl Adams of Bullittsville; two half-brothers, Leo and Charles Adams, and a half-sister Mrs. Bertha McGinnis, all of this county. Services were held Tuesday afternoon at the fifth funeral home, Florence, with burial in Hopeful Cemetery.

Final Red Cross Report

Final report of the 1955 fund raising drive of the Boone County Chapter, American Red Cross, shows that 1771 persons donated $2903.77 for use of the local chapter. Five precincts exceeded their goals: Beaver, Florence, Corns, Petersburg, and Richmond. Although the county, as a whole, did not reach its goal of $3800, the drive was most successful.

The chairman, James S. Webster, of Walton, extends his thanks to all precinct chairmen, publicity chairmen, and the workers for their loyal service, and to all contributors to this worthy cause.

Kentucky State Police said Mr. Simpson suffered a broken neck and crushed chest. They said he was returning to Grant county after taking two girl classmates, one of them his sweetheart, Gail Eckler, to work in Cincinnati.

Rev. Sam Doctorian To Be Guest Speaker

The first Gospel Round-Up of the summer season will take place at Verona Lake Ranch this Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 3:00 p. m. Rev. Wayne Patton of the Walton Methodist Church will have charge of this service, consisting of special music by Asbury College students.

For this special outdoor service, Rev. Patton has been fortunate in securing the services of Rev. Samuel Doctorian, evangelist from Palestine, who has had great success in his evangelistic endeavors, especially in the land of Egypt. His experience of standing upon the Hill of Calvary, where Jesus Christ was put to death upon the cross, led to his own conversion. Everyone is invited to hear this spirit-filled man of God preach the Gospel. Rev. Doctorian will also preach June 12 and 19 at the Gospel Round-Up at Verona Lake Ranch.

During the month of July, Rev. Kelly Kennedy of the Verona Baptist Church will have charge of the Gospel Round-Up service, and during the month of August, Rev. Charles Vaughn of the Walton Christian Church will be the minister in charge. Each Sunday this summer, Verona Lake Ranch will be devoted entirely to the Gospel Round-Up service and all sports, stands will be closed, also the lake will be closed to fishermen on Sunday. Every effort is being made to make this Gospel Round-Up service each Sunday afternoon throughout the summer months one that no one will want to miss.

"A free-will offering will be accepted to help defray expense in this community wide undertaking, and life free cooperation already shown by the Walton fine people is a good indication of the great success for this Gospel Round-Up service. The public is invited to attend each and every service this summer."

Children's Day On Sunday At Walton Christian Church

The Department of Education and Youth and the minister will participate in the annual dedication and blessing of babies and pre-school children Sunday morning during the 11 o'clock worship service at the Walton Christian Church. This is not a baptismal service but is a dedication of parents who will take the religious vows of rearing their children in the service of God so that they may be prepared at the age of accountability for confession and Christian baptism.

Mr. Stanley Bush and Mrs. Gilbert Groger will visit any home and make the necessary preliminary arrangements for this beautiful and scriptural service. A beautiful nursery has been provided and equipped and is in use every Sunday morning by mothers whose babies get fretful.

Rev. Vaughn will speak Sunday morning on the subject, "If Money Is What You Want, This Is Heaven."

The evening evangelistic service begins at 8:00 p. m.

Spinal Nerve Pressure Causes Many Diseases

This Is the Famous "Health" Chart of Chiropractic

STUDY THIS CHART CAREFULLY
See how the nerves pass through the spinal openings. Many diseases are caused by one or more of these points being the EXACT CAUSE OF YOUR PARTICULAR CONDITION

1. Slight "pinching" of nerves at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, insomnia, dry or stiff neck, facial paralysis, dizziness, polio, arthritis, abnormal blood pressure, anemia, colds, hay fever, sinus trouble, nervousness, etc.
2. A slight nerve difficulty in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuritis, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, the gripe, nose bleed, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.
3. The arrow head marked N-3 locates the part of the spine wherein "pinched" nerves will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism and neuritis of the arms and shoulders, etc.
4. A blocked nerve at this point causes so-called heart disease, pneumonia, tuberculosis, asthma, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.
5. Stomach and liver trouble, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by pressure in this part of the spine, so light as to remain unnoticed by others except trained Chiropractors.
6. Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of supper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccoughs, diabetes, etc.
7. Bright's disease, floating kidney, skin disease, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.
8. Regulations of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbar, constipation, etc., Chiropractic adjustments at this point.
9. Why have so-called kidney stones, rectal troubles, female troubles, many lower abdominal pains, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?
10. A slight slippage of both innominate bones, located here, will likewise produce so-called sciatica together with many "diseases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

Take time to re-study this famous "Health Chart of Chiropractic," reproduced above, and you will see how simple it is to understand what an important part YOUR SPINE can play in the maintenance of your good "natural" health. Misaligned spinal bones can cause disease in ALL PARTS OF THE BODY. Notice how the nerves go to every organ, tissue and cell of your body—arms, legs, abdomen, head, etc. So provide your body with the fullest protection against disease.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Highway Programs:

There's been much discussion in Kentucky about highway programs. Here, in the capital, there's been a lot of talk about the road building program in Maryland, just aside this big city.

It seems that the free state of Maryland had planned to build about $104,000,000 worth of highways but construction costs have gone up so much that the program needs $21 million dollars more. All of which means that some roads will not be built unless new money is found. Some citizens are suggesting that toll roads be built. They reason that tourists to the state of Maryland can help pay for the highways and no money would come from the regular road building fund.

Award Won:

We tip our hat to a fellow-Kentuckian, Julian Goodman of Glasgow, Ky. Julian is with the National Broadcasting Corporation and in a ceremony at the White House he received a citation from a national magazine. Julian is the NBC liaison man with the Eisenhower staff and he won his award for his work in helping to arrange the telecast of those weekly press conferences with the president, an achievement which deserves kudos.

What's a 3-letter word for $31,855?

RELAX, MISTER! You won't find it in the dictionary. But in our book the answer is "JOB"—for that's the kind of money it takes to create a job opportunity on the Southern Railway today.

This $31,855 is our invested capital per employee—the money that has been put into the equipment, land, facilities and other "tools of the trade," without which there could be no jobs.

Because of the nature of the railroad business, this investment per worker is far higher than in most other industries. But it is money well spent. For our invested capital not only creates employment for many thousands of men and women, it also makes possible a modern, ever-improving transportation service that is constantly adding value to the investment all of us have in the Southland and its future.

About Repentance

Lesson for June 5, 1955

IT IS easy to talk about large groups of people, even so large as to include millions of persons, as if they were one single person. We talk about "Russia" as if it were one big bandit. We talk about "America" as if the nation lived under one hat. We speak about General Motors or the Church in the singular; "It" does so and so or "they" say this or that. Evangelists call on "America" to repent, as if America could walk down the aisle and shake the evangelist's hand and join the church.

Now if there is one thing Christianity stands for, it is the responsibility of individuals, by themselves, before God. And yet there is some meaning in all the talk of immense aggregations of people as if they were single persons.

Seducing the People

In olden times, so often that most people have forgotten all about them, there lived a small, not well-known to fame, named Manasseh. In his time a king could "bet" the country in ways that no king now enjoys. Kings in those days had absolute power. The smart ones did not push their people too hard; they only held out the carrot, so to speak, in front of them. But a king, especially when his country was a small one like Manasseh's Judah, could just about make his country do what he wanted it to do. If the king was bad, the people were bad; if the king repented, the people repented with him. The days of such kings are over, nearly everywhere. And yet, without the title, there are men today whose desires, notions, ideals, prejudices, ambitions, hatreds and loves can be so communicated to others that they can deliver the vote, if they need to, of millions who follow their lead. It is said that King Manasseh "seduced the people." He did this without benefit of radio, TV, or advertising in slick magazines. Nowadays how easy it is to seduce the millions! One "spot" on one radio station can reach a hundred thousand people. Pictures can be made so lifelike that they can deceive almost anybody that is not smart. Seducing the people is simple, if you have the money.

Half-gods Arrive

"When half-gods go, the Gods arrive," sings a poet. You can turn that around and still be right. When God goes, half-gods will swarm in. When bad Manasseh ruled his land, for a long time he would have nothing to do with the true God. But he was not an atheist, oh not by any means. He put up altars all over the place, even in the courts of the Lord, and would hardly get out of sight of some place of worship in Jerusalem. He dealt with mediums and with wizards. All sorts of bad religions and silly superstitions flourished under his majesty's patronage. You may be sure he was no lone idolater. You can hear them saying down on the farms, and out in the little villages, "well, if it's good enough for King Manasseh, it's good enough for me." So it is still and always. There have been times when religion "declined" as the quaint phrase puts it, here in America as in ancient Judah. But that was only the declining of the true religion. Other religions and cults and superstitions flock in to take Christianity's place. People simply do not live in a religious vacuum. They would rather be idolaters than atheists.

A High-flyer Humbled

This King Manasseh lost a war. For some time he was a prisoner in an enemy country. When he came back home again he was a changed man. Prison had given him leisure to think. Things were different in Judah after that. He did his best to undo the evils he had set the example in doing. He went to church, as we would say, and he listened to men of God. It was a little too late, for his son Amon had already gone too far in the ways of evil to turn back. But still it was well that he repented, for many of his subjects served the true God thereafter, as he did. Suppose America—that is to say millions of Americans, leading men and women in every walk of life, repented this year of even one of our national sins—ray drunkenness. It would be good to repent... but would that bring back all the lost week-ends?

THE CONQUEST OF FEAR

One of the earliest emotions a child experiences is fear. And from the first loud noise that awakens him until the moment of his death he knows no day without some recurrence of the sinister, some foreboding of danger.

From the beginning of time religion has been our tested antidote to the poison of fear. In the dark forests of antiquity, on the boiling seas of exploration, in the fox-holes of modern strife, men have calmed the body's trembling with the soul's faith. We have faced the unknown, the hostile, through trust in the Known, the Faithful; we have challenged the Insurmountable, confident in the power of the Almighty.

How essential, though, that each generation passes on our Faith to the next! Who dares to deprive a child of the chance to conquer fear? Who would rob his son's soul of the Christian heritage martyrs died to preserve?

Bring your children to God's House every Sunday. Seek with them FAITH for this atomic age.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WHITES TOWER

Holly 4074 for News Items

A terrific wind and thunderstorm visited our community Saturday about four p.m. Over an inch of rain fell in about half an hour. Trees were blown down and large limbs blown from trees were carried as much as 100 yards. The rain was bad for the hay crop but the moisture in the ground will probably help out in the dry, hot months ahead.

The sale Saturday at the Gross farm was well attended and everything brought top prices, we are glad to report.

A force of men were working on the new church at the junction of Taylor Mill and Staffordburg Road.

Charles M. Samuels and wife and Harry Clements of Latonia, were welcome visitors of the writer and wife Saturday evening, getting in here just ahead of the storm.

Mrs. Richard Dorsey and little daughter, Sarah Lynn, arrived safely in Japan and are now reunited happily with her husband, Lieut. Dorsey, and will make their home there during the term of his service.

Linda Ward of Covington, is visiting her grandparents in the Tower. Her mother came out Monday for a visit.

Charlie Dorsey and Jess Webster hived a swarm of bees over the weekend. Both being amateurs they had quite a time but at this writing they, the bees, seem to be quite contented in their new home.

Coming home and going home mean two different things. We were just wondering about Oie, who joined her husband in Japan this week. Of course that is a joyful reunion and that is where a wife belongs, who is loyal to her husband, as all good wives are. But all who serve their country have to pay the penalty of being away from their parents and friends and that is what Dick is doing now. Give credit where credit is due. They are all serving their country in time of need.

We have always listened to Jackie Gleason's show but we wonder what kind of minds asked for the Saturday night show which they put on this week. Of all the mediocre shows we have seen on television this takes the cake. We would like to hear what the ordinary viewers thought that bunch of tripe they put on. The only bright spot in the whole show was Art Carney's little dialogue and that failed to take the heat off the rest of the show, which to say the least was just phoney. Eleven million dollars and they have to repeat a show like that.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grishover of Richardson Pike and Robert Stewart and family of Latonia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shaler Marshall last week.

The Bible school at Staffordburg Methodist Church starts June 6 and everyone, including children, are welcome. It lasts for one week and don't forget the date—June 6.

Mrs. Gladys Watson of near Nicholson, we are glad to report, is home from the hospital and we wish her a quick recovery.

Don't forget the annual building festival of the Taylor Mill and Community Volunteer Fire Department, June 17 and 18—E.J.R.

Faith Of Our Fathers

The pioneers who built this country of ours into the greatest nation on earth were guided and inspired by their faith in their own ability to accomplish any undertaking through cooperation and hard work.

The modern pioneers who created and built a program of rural electrification benefitting all the people credit their accomplishment to the same faith.

To us, who share the rich blessings of rural electrification, falls the task of insuring that future generations will obtain even greater benefits from this program of rural progress. We face this task with confidence, because we, too, have the faith of our fathers—faith in ourselves and in what we can do through cooperation and hard work.

Greater Cincinnati Telephone Numbers To Change June 11

At 2:01 a. m., Saturday, June 11, all telephone numbers listed in the Greater Cincinnati Telephone Directory change from the present two letters and four numerals to the new two letters and five numerals. The number change, which affects some 300,000 Greater Cincinnati Directory listings, is another step to further improve dial telephone service.

The Cincinnati Company is spending over one-half million dollars on the changeover, just to prepare the way for direct distance dialing.

Eventually, telephone service in this community will be affected by the number change. Because, someday, local telephone users will be able to dial Cincinnati and distant places directly from their own telephone.

The Consolidated Telephone Company has announced that, if customers use the old number in placing a call to greater Cincinnati, after 2:01 a. m., June 11, the operator will dial the caller of the new number. The company is also urging people to make a note of the new number and to call by number for faster telephone service into Cincinnati.

IT'S A BIRD! IT'S A PLANE!

Last Saturday, Ye Editor, received a very urgent call from Orville Simpson and Ralph Scott, on U. S. Highway 25, near Walton, that "something had come down out of the sky and landed on Scott's house." And sure enough that was just what had happened.

Scott's little girl was in the yard playing and she looked up and saw a large object coming down out of the sky and land on the roof, and Mrs. Scott even saw the shadow inside the house and rushed outside to see what it was. The entire group in that neighborhood gathered around and when the excitement had subsided a little, they discovered that the object was a 12"x100" tobacco can that had blown in from somewhere and landed on the house. There had been no extra strong winds for a couple of days and the fact that most farmers in this area use 9"x100" canvases, makes one believe that this can had been in the sky for some time and had come for quite a distance. "It's a bird! it's a plane," but no, it's a tobacco can. Anyone losing a canvas may have some.

Says Chairman Of Boone County Chapter

"Creation of the Salk vaccine against polio is a victory over a virus we have yet to translate it into a victory over a disease. This is going to take large amounts of money, effort and time," said Mrs. R. J. Schwenke, chairman of the Boone County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

With this note of caution, Mrs. Schwenke today outlined the remaining "fronts" in the fight on polio and warned the community against complacency.

"What the incidence of polio will be in the years ahead among unvaccinated persons cannot be predicted," Mrs. Schwenke said.

Polio has always been unpredictable. But we do know there have been new attacks and that others will be occurring for many months to come. This means that more thousands of patients will be added to the 70,000 cried over on chapter rolls from last year. The Boone County Chapter has been assisting polio patients with outlays that last year amounted to approximately $6,000, and there is no reason to believe we can substantially reduce these expenditures for the present and continue to insure medical care which the polio patients of our community need. We rejoice over the triumph of the vaccine, but we cannot abandon our duty to those born too soon to benefit from it," she continued.

In addition to patient aid, money is needed to finance important additional research to fill in waning gaps in our knowledge of both prevention and treatment of polio. Mrs. Schwenke added, "The search goes on for a cheaper method of producing the vaccine, for drugs that may prevent polio without vaccination, and for new diagnostic tests and improved methods of rebuilding lives."

Even for the treatment of persons who already have had polio, there is an extensive storage of personnel, Mrs. Schwenke pointed out, and a speed-up of recruitment and professional education of these specialists is one of the current aims of the National Foundation.

The National Foundation estimates at present a shortage of some 50,000 nurses with special training in the care of the partially disabled," she said. The nationwide need of additional physical therapists is estimated at the neighborhood of 2,500; of occupational therapists 4,000; of medical social workers 3,000, and of vocational rehabilitation counselors, more than 1,000.

INDEPENDENCENews Items Needed:

It seems the clubs, fraternities and community organizations in and around Independence have dropped all activities lately—no news items have been received. Any secretary or member of an organization can mail or phone their items of interest to Bob West, P. O. Box 571, Independence, or phone Hilly 8601. I know, during the summer, many folks are going on a visit or trip or attending annual conventions or doing some deed for the benefit of the community. All this makes good reading and should be printed. So, if you know of any item that is for the good of the community, just jot it down and send it to me. It will be printed.

Eggs Missing:

Mike Wagner is looking around for the culprit who did a quick switch. It seems that Mike had a duck sitting on 27 eggs and was doing right well, too. But one day Mike was looking the duck over and found that someone had substituted a fish head for all the eggs.

Bradford O.E.S., 493:

The next regularly stated meeting for members and officers of Bradford O.E.S. Chapter, 493, will be on Tuesday, June 14 at 8 p. m. in the Lodge Hall in Independence. Jeannette Beers, Worthy Matron, and Dawson McDannold, Worthy Patron, will preside and desire to invite each and every member of the order to attend.

Measles to Meet:

The next meeting for members and officers of Bradford Lodge, 123, will be on Thursday, June 9, at 8 p. m. at the Independence Bank Building. All members of the order are cordially invited.

Electric Blankets:

Putting an electric blanket away for the summer? Department of Agriculture offers this advice: It is best to wash gently in warm water and dry over parallel clothes lines in the shade. Chemical cleaning solvents may damage insulation on wires. Agitation in a washing machine can cause wool blankets to shrink. Drying in mechanical dryers can twist and ruin the wiring.

Water Wasters:

A shower, if you don't linger too long under the spray, uses 10 gallons of water compared with a tub bath's 20 gallons. That's one of the hints on ways to save water this summer, as offered by the American Public Works Association. Other tips: Give milk bottles a minimum rinsing, milk companies sterilize them anyway; fix leaky faucets quickly; they can waste hundreds of gallons of water.

Job's Daughters, Bethel 8:

To the members of the Independence Job's Daughters, Bethel 8, there was no meeting last Monday evening due to high school exams, but there will be a regular meeting Monday, June 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the Lodge Hall. At this meeting members and officers will hold election of new officers, with Joyce Mallett, Queen, presiding. All members are asked to attend. Also, members of the Masonic Orders and parents are cordially invited to attend.

Just A Thought:

Don't worry about getting older, when you stop getting older, you're dead!

Soil Conservation:

If a farmer is interested in farm pond construction, he would do well to get some technical advice. It must be determined if the soil in the location is suitable for holding water. Many farm ponds are never full because the water seeps through the soil which, when they are built. Technical advice from your Soil Conservation Agent in the Independence Courthouse can eliminate any future trouble of this nature.

Personal Mention:

Gary and Stevie Wagner, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Wagner, have received a tent that will cause Dad (Randall) to spend many nights under the stars, sleeping out.

cuperated from her illness.—She was pretty sick with the flu.

Causes Many DiseasesThis Is the Famous "Health" Chart of Chiropractic*

The diseases mentioned on this chart are only a few caused by the vertebrae "pinching" nerves as they enter or leave the spinal column, transmitting vital nerve energy from the brain to the organs of the body.

Take time to re-study this famous "Health Chart of Chiropractic," reproduced above, and you will see how simple it is to understand what an important part YOUR SPINE can play in the maintenance of your good "natural" health. Misaligned spinal bones can cause disease in ALL PARTS OF THE BODY. "Through fellowships and special grants, the National Foundation has provided more than $20,000,000 since 1938 to train the minds and hands of personnel in these fields," she went on, "and the present need indicates further large outlays."

Mrs. Schwenke pointed out finally that the National Foundation must continue to support its 13 respirator centers throughout the country for patients whose breathing has been affected by polio. Most of these establishments currently are operating at capacity and have waiting lists.

"These are reasons—life and death—why the March of Dimes, which is the National Foundation's only means of financing these activities, must go on," she concluded.

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Teen-Age Faith

Lesson for June 12, 1955

WE do not expect teen-agers to have the same outlook on life, or the same kind of clothes, or looks, or digestion, or habits, or occupations, as their grandmothers. Why should we expect them to have the same kind of religion? This is not saying that young people should have one religion and old people another. It is saying rather that the way a teenager thinks and acts is enough different from the way his elders think and act, so that we might reasonably expect that he will take the same religion with a different slant. Not all grown-up Christians are made in the same mold; and certainly it is a mistake to try to force the religious expression and ideas and beliefs of growing boys and girls into the precise pattern of Grandma, let alone St. Paul.

Dr. Foreman

Teen-agers Make Top-notch Christians

Most people who are converted are converted in their teens. Most young people who have been brought up in Christian homes and have since childhood never thought of themselves as anything else but Christians, join the church (or are confirmed) during their teens. Most ministers first felt the call to the ministry before they were 20 years old. Most missionaries first thought of being missionaries during their teens. The fact is, the teens are just the time when religious reception is good. Just as there are days when radio reception is good and other days when it is bad, so it is with what we can call religious reception; there are times in life when it is better than at other times. As the teen-age is the waking-up time all along the line, so it should not be surprising that the heart of boys and girls, just at the time when they begin not to be boys and girls any more, but men and women, should be specially open to the vision and the voice of God. Teen-agers can make top-notch Christians.

But They Need Help

We have a case in point, in the story of the young king Josiah. He was eight years old when he came to the throne. His father, King Amon, had been a bad man and a bad king, so bad that his own servants had a palace revolution and killed him. There must have been something promising about little Josiah, because we read that the people of the land "made him king,"—as we would say, elected him. This was remarkable, because in the ancient Near East it was just as it is in some of our neighboring countries today; if a king or a president is assassinated, one of the plotters is generally the next king. But the people picked out little Josiah and made him king. Boy-like, he did nothing particularly worth mentioning for eight years. Then, when he was 16 years old, he "began to seek after the God of David." Now whenever a boy with worthless parents turns out to be a fine character with a sincere faith, it is safe to guess that some one has been there influencing the boy for good. Boys and girls seldom develop into mature Christians without help. Later we read that Josiah was acquainted with the best and most God-fearing men of his time, and we are reasonably sure that this young king's wise and steady leadership, his growth in faith, his constructive reforms, were "sparked" by some of these priests and prophets who were his close friends.

Teen-agers Are the Church of Tomorrow

Whenever a boy or girl who has been confirmed or "joined the church," stops going to church and perhaps slips down from good to bad and from bad to worse, thoughtful persons will ask, "who's to blame?" The fault may very well be in the church, not in the young people. Boys and girls need wise help from older Christians. Young people coming into the church are always "commended to the fellowship" of the church or words to that effect. But how much fellowship do they get? An officer in a church once complained that his church paid "too much attention to young people. 'Young folks don't contribute,' he said. Not in money, of course! But don't teen-agers contribute anything?

The Chinese had a wall

Generations slaved away their lives to build it. The wealth of kings and the skill of engineers were poured into its construction. And, when it was finished, it roamed a vagabond course over the mountains for hundreds of miles, like a great grey dragon breathing defiance from every segment of its poised body.

It was a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wanted no more war... and the men who built it actually believed it would protect them from aggression.

The Americans have a hydrogen bomb. It, too, is a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wants no more war. And millions actually believe it will protect, not only America, but the whole world from aggression.

The only sure protection against war is the fortress that saves mankind from the evils in men's hearts which foment war. That fortress is the Christian religion. But even our religion is not a sure protection until it reaches the hearts of all men.

Support your church. Help it build the foundations of Peace in your own heart. And with your prayers and your purse advance its tireless efforts to build those same foundations in the hearts of all men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STAFFORDSBURG

Mrs. Ida Hoffman, oldest member of our church here, celebrated her birthday June 1. Reared within sight of her present home, she has been a lifelong resident of this neighborhood and has never far from its borders. She had a special hymn in her honor on Temple of the Air, the Rev. Morris Coers program on WNOP. Her many friends and her neighbors join in wishing her as many more years as she can enjoy here, and at life's close an abundant entrance into her home in Heaven.

One of our nicest girls, Miss Emma Catheryn Damon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Damon, became the bride of Mr. John Hammer in an impressive ceremony in Southside Baptist Church on May 27, at 7:30 p. m. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keeney and the officiating minister, Rev. C. L. Garringer, and Mrs. Garringer. Miss Damon recently resigned as secretary in the office of Miss Zelma E. Byerly, home demonstration agent. Mr. Hammer is a ministerial student at Georgetown College. After supper, the couple left for a short trip to central Kentucky. They plan to make their home, for the present, in Georgetown. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life together.

The Daily Vacation Bible School opened here Monday. We hope to have as many of the youngsters of the community as can find ways to come. We promise a good time to each pupil. Every effort is being made to make the lessons interesting and to plant in the young mind the precepts and promises of our Lord and Saviour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeney had as guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Keeney and daughter, Crystal Lee, of Chicago, Ill. Callers were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rapp and children, Stephen and Judith, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rector. We are glad to report J. J. Barnett, who suffered a heart attack recently, is much improved. Hope he will soon be out, good as new.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marshall on the arrival of a daughter, Deborah Ann.

Miss Minnie Rapp and Mrs. J. A. Keeney attended the District conference of the W.S.C.S. at Trinity Methodist Church, Latonia, Friday of last week.

VISALIA

We are happy to report John Proffitt is home and on the road to recovery. Happy birthday to Mrs. Shirley Halderman and to Jesse Wayne Klein, who celebrated his first birthday on May 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kalton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard on Monday of last week.

Sorry to report Charles Case is in the hospital.

Mrs. Mildred Glaze of Visalia, held a Stanley party recently, which was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pettit and children were recent guests of Mrs. Melvina Pettit and family of Falmouth.

Sympathy is extended the family of George Hoffman, who died recently. He leaves three sons, Harold, Charles and George. Mr. Hoffman was 81 years old. If any readers were at Independence Cemetery, Decoration Day, I know they will all agree it is a beautiful and well kept cemetery.

Mrs. Helen Espohl and son, Frank, of Dayton, Ky., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Glaze. Little Kevin Halderman was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for serious burns which resulted when he tipped scalding tea on himself. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Halderman. Tommy Zimmerman was home on leave from Ft. Knox, recently. He just celebrated his birthday.

Ed Petzinger, chief of the Ryland Heights V.F.W., attended the State Fire School, in Lexington, June 7-9.

Air Conditioning

It has been too cool to talk about air conditioners but before long we are going to have some real summer weather and that is when you need an air conditioner in your window. You build a nice home and spend several hundred dollars putting in a heating system to keep you warm, but you do nothing to keep you cool. A good furnace costs from $600 to $1200 to heat your home for seven months. I believe you could spend $279 to cool your house for five months. Give us a try before you buy.

L. B. Hutcherson, down at Beaverlick, called for us bringing a Bemis-hydraulic life-tobacco-seeder—Mrs. Reeves, at Banklick, bought two of my best metal lawn chairs. Mrs. Atha, from Mr. Zion, was in buying freeter bags and boxes. Mrs. Nick Parr was after Nitrate of Soda, so I sent her to the feed stores. Boyd Courtney, on Salem Creek, bought poultry fence and staples. I don't believe I ever sold, in one day, as much bean beetle killer, and wire worm killer, in all my time—I had to call Lexington to send down some more, after that load I brought last night.

Lindane for wire worms, Malate, Methoxychlor and Rotone for beetles. Rose dust and rose spray for your flowers. *We just received a new shipment of Armstrong rugs. They have some beautiful patterns this year. The grass is still growing and we are selling lawn mowers—come to CONRAD'S for a bargain in lawn mowers. Mrs. David Mullins bought a beautiful 9x12 Armstrong linoleum. Harriet Mear from Nicholson, bought 20 plastic window shades and they are very nice since they emboss them.

We have had several interested in buying electric ranges, they think they will cost too much to operate. I have told you before, and I can prove by the ones that I have sold electric ranges, that they are very cheap to cook on, also clean and no danger of fire. Two or three today stopped and asked at the Cool-Aire air conditioner—they are thinking about the hot weather ahead. Mrs. Emma Flynn was in buying a paint brush and inquiring about Bolca outside white paint—she is going to paint her house before long.

Mr. and Mrs. Treadway bought a gallon and half of that very fine Latex base wall paint. I believe this is the finest wall paint that has ever been made. Try some. I have told you before, and I can prove by the new colors in this paint; also two new colors in our side trim, red and pink. Have you ever used that asbestos fiber roof covering in green and aluminum? I have this and it does a wonderful job of making it thick and really covers—puts on a heavy rubber-like coat and makes an old roof new.

Appreciation Service Held at Independence Christian Church, Sun.

The Independence Christian Church conducted an appreciation service on Sunday night to show its appreciation for the work done and leadership provided by Rev. Arthur T. Tipton, pastor; Howard Williams, Sunday school superintendent; and all officers and teachers connected with any part of the church program.

Since the ministry of Rev. Tipton, begun eight years ago, the church has made many improvements both physically and spiritually. Rev. Tipton closed eight years of ministry at the anniversary service Sunday, June 5. He used as his sermon topic, "Acquainted With A Man" in which he stressed the idea that we are rank strangers unto ourselves instead of knowing ourselves to be as others see us to daily living.

Rev. Tipton presented a report to the congregation in which he revealed the estimated cost of the physical improvement to the plant to be $19,235. Some of the improvements include the addition of five new Sunday School rooms, a new chancel in the auditorium, and also in the basement, purchase of a new organ, new roof on the church, painting on the inside and out, visual aid equipment and many other items, which include an all furnace.

Rev. Tipton reported that 185 members had been received into the church since he became pastor. There have been 94 confessions, 79 by statements, 12 by letter. Seventeen have transferred and there have been nine deaths. He officiated at 25 weddings in and from the community and conducted several funerals.

Under the leadership of Howard Williams, superintendent of the Sunday School, attendance has increased from an average of 36 during the first year of Rev. Tipton's ministry, to an average of 159 for last year and to 173 for this year, through June 5, 1955. Vacation Bible schools are conducted each year now and revival meetings are held each year, with the top talent in the nation directing them. This year, the meeting will be held August 22 through September 4, with Rev. J. B. and Gladys Smith of Newman, Ill., in charge of music and drama, and Rev. Jack Anderson, pastor of the First Christian Church, Sullivan, Tenn., as evangelist.

The budget of the church has increased eight times the amount that it was eight years ago.

Those who appeared on the program were: Bro. Frank Boone, assistant to the minister; Howard Williams, Sunday School superintendent; Mrs. S. A. Roberts, organist; Mrs. S. A. Roberts, trustees; J. A. Wicklund and Bro. Carl Fisk, lay leaders, and Bro. Chester Lund, an elder, who gave the message of the evening, in which he stressed that lives should be on a solid footing for the cause of Jesus Christ.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served in the basement of the church after the service was concluded.

We finished complaining Saturday, but still have about 20 acres of hay to put up and it we get a break in the weather, like the last few days, it will be just "hunky dory" with us and the stock, too.

This is one weekend when we just can't seem to find any news of interest to write about.

The only good this kind of weather does is to get tobacco setting done by hand. The writer is done setting his little crop and we don't think a plant died. I just wonder if there is any way to keep the weeds from growing until its dry enough to plow and hoe.

Fairy Cooper and son, Glenn, and Mrs. Edith Piper will leave Saturday for a trip to Florida and Havana, Cuba, for a visit with relatives.

The following are entertaining new arrivals since our last report: Oscar and Margaret Kitts, Independence, a girl, May 24; Bernard and Geraldine Turner, Covington, Route 2—a girl, May 23; John and Vanda Morrison, Covington, Route 1; a girl, May 18; Edward and Betty Sterling, Bowman Road, a girl, May 19; John and Leola Reed, Apple Drive, Independence, a boy, May 9.

The rainy spell as of this Monday morning is getting to be rather serious as it looks as if the hay crop is practically ruined, as it is so heavy on the fields, especially red clover, which is beginning to rot, even before it is cut. Baled and winrow hay is in a very bad way and will hardly be worth putting in.

Work on the new church has come to a standstill on account of the weather.

Jos. Dugan and Tom Henshaw of Maple Hill, were Sunday visitors to the Tower, looking over some real estate, with an idea of buying if the price is right.

Charles Dorsey is the proud possessor of a pair of powerful binoculars which he received from his son, Lt. Dorsey, who is in Japan.

Soil erosion is plaguing the farmers since the heavy rains. Some corn on hillside has been completely washed out and in low spots covered up by the heavy rains.

Woody Butler of Nicholson, was a visitor in the Tower, Saturday evening, and brought our lawn mower, which was badly needed.

We have a fine bed of tobacco plants which probably could be used by someone. Bring cabbage and tomato plants and you can help yourself.

Those farmers who have been lazing sleep have had a chance to make up for it the past week as all you could do was just crawl in the hay and sleep it off.

We are glad to report John Schumaker is much better at this writing.

We attended a sale down in the mountains Saturday and crossed two creeks by crawling over a swinging bridge to get to the scene of the auction. As usual, things brought top prices. Its funny how people will buy at sales.

Good and bad luck visited our neighbor, Robert Frakes, when his wife presented him a seven year old son, May 26. The bad luck was when his little son, Timmy, fell from a swing and fractured his collar bone.

Some varmint killed and ate seven young ducks for the writer Saturday night. We think it was either a mink or an opossum as the woods here are full of the latter.—EJR entertaining parts of the evening was the Historian's report, which was given by Mrs. Charles Holder. A resume of her report follows:

The year 1954-55 held many interesting activities for Wa-Na Club members. We had two white elephant sales, a hobby sale, bake sale, our traditional Christmas party and entertained our husbands at one meeting. Mr. Victor Brown gave us a talk and demonstration on flower arrangement. In October, Mrs. Julia Rouse gave a talk on Club work. We had two members, Lou Ann Elliott and Virginia Oliver, from the Simon Kenton Future Homemakers Club with us. We learned something about the passing of a bill in the State Legislature when Mr. Joe Rouse was our guest. We also had a movie on Jackson and Perkins roses. Miss Catherine Betz played the marriage for us, and Dr. Virginia Kratz showed slides and gave a talk on Japan.

The year ended with regrets from all the members, but all are looking forward to a more fruitful year under the able leadership of Mrs. Wallace Grubbs, Jr.

STAFFORDSBURG

Rev. and Mrs. George Miller departed after evening services at the church for their home town of Butler, Ind. They will spend two weeks with relatives and friends and return for the fourth Sunday, when we will have our fourth quarterly conference.

The D.V.B.S. which was held the past week, was well attended in spite of the inclement weather. The singing of the children Sunday morning was inspiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeney and Mr. and Mrs. John Hammer were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Damon. This community was shocked Tuesday of last week when Mrs. Denny and children were badly burned when a can of kerosene which she was using to start a fire exploded in her hands. They were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where all are said to be improving. Blood donors are needed badly.

The W.C.S.S. met at the church on Thursday afternoon with seven ladies present. The program on the work of the U. N. was led by Mrs. J. A. Keeney, all members participating. Mrs. Miller conducted the business meeting. Clinton Henry suffered painful burns to his eyes while doing some welding and he was, however, much relieved when the doctor assured him that the vision was not impaired.

We had one hundred in Sunday school last Sunday. Let's keep it up. Ronald Losley will have charge of the morning services at the church on June 19. Come and assist by your presence and prayers.

Mrs. J. W. Fryer and children and Miss Hope Keeney are starting to Ky. June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grubbs and sons enjoyed a fishing trip in Canada, last week.

FIKSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson had as guests Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilson and family and Mrs. Della Huggins, all of Chattanooga, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wilson, and sons of Sharonville, Ohio, and Mrs. Newt King and son of Independence.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Hardin and son, who just moved to Fiskburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Martin had as recent guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Delaney of Covington.

VISALIA

Ryland Heights V.F.D. responded to a fire at the home of Mrs. Ray Claypool on Whites Road. The house is the property of Anna Kenneweg. Damage was confined to one room and attic.

Another fire in the vicinity seriously burned a 24-year-old Mrs. Denny and her two small children of Staffordsborg Pike. We wish each and everyone of them a complete and speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Glaze spent Sunday in Dayton, Ky. Their small daughter, Martha Lynn, will celebrate her first birthday June 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Land were out for a ride Sunday and stopped in to visit John Pettit and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Duncan were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Klein and family.

Ryland Heights V.F.D. recently had a rainy weekend for their festival. It has been postponed until later—date yet to be announced.

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union
Sunday School Lesson
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Before Worship

Lesson for June 19, 1955

I DON'T seem to get much out of church." You can hear that complaint too often. Maybe you have made it yourself. Let's leave the question of the sermon out of the picture. The sermon isn't all you go to church for. The object of that meeting.

on Sunday morning or whenever it is, is to bring you closer to God, to make God real to you, to send you back into your every-day life with a radiant heart and a mind at peace.

Dr. Foreman The object of your going to church is, in one word, Worship. Hymns, prayers, offering, meditation, sermon—all of it ought to blend into one blessed experience of worship, that is to say, an experience in which you and others with you meet with God. Why doesn't this always happen? Maybe the fault is with the people, not with the minister alone. One good preacher can't make a good service all by himself.

Encouraging the Minister

In the Bible story of Josiah and his great Passover, there are some valuable suggestions that even after all these years and all these changes can help us too. The Passover was the great festival of worship among the ancient Jews; it was observed every year. But the chronicler reports about this one of King Josiah's, that there had not been one like it since the days of Samuel, or in other words, it was the best Passover in about 400 years. What made this one so special? Three points stand out. One is that Josiah "encouraged the priests in their service." Put into modern terms, that means the people encouraging the minister. You always see the minister at the door after service, shaking hands with the people. They may tell him they enjoyed the sermon; but how many who tell him that, helped him beforehand? How many of them prayed for him, not while he was preaching, but long before, when he was working on his sermon? When a religious chicken-farmer is taking his poultry to market, he doesn't pray that they will be good chickens. The time to pray for that is back when the eggs are hatching, when they are in the baby chick stage, while he is selecting the feed, and so on. By the time the chickens are ready for market it's a little late to be praying about it. So the time to begin praying for your minister and encouraging him is while his sermons are hatching, so to speak; before, not only after, the service.

"Prepare Yourself"

We read also that King Josiah said to the Levites, "Prepare yourselves." The Protestant Christian belief is that all believers are priests. A service of worship, as we understand it, is not a kind of performance in which the minister up there behind the pulpit does it all while we just sit and watch him. One reason why we get so little out of church is that we put so little into it. If you had an interview with the President of the United States, wouldn't you make some preparation for it? You don't just "drop in" to see a man as important as that. And yet people will go to the house of God without the least preparation. They may be well dressed, but their minds are only half-dressed and their souls are more than half asleep. You have a right to come before God with a burdened heart; he welcomes the heavy-laden. But you have no right to expect much from a so-called worship service which you enter with a mind cluttered with workaday bothersations you won't let go, with a heart hardened by pride, with a spirit almost of defiance, as if you said to the minister, I dare you to interest me!

"Prepare for Your Brethren"

Josiah also told the Levites to prepare for their brothers who were coming to worship. True worship in a church is not an individual affair, as if each person present were sitting in a separate cell listening in by ear-phones. There is no point in "public" worship unless there is some sharing, some fellowship, some opening of the heart. A service of "worship" from which the people stream homeward without speaking to one another, or praying for and with one another, is a poor affair.

DADDY CAN FIX ANYTHING

The tremendous faith of a child in his father!

To the conscientious father it is frightening, indeed. And, to the conscientious mother, equally frightening is her child's trust in her.

It takes something more than love and good intentions to live up to the expectations of our children. We need a strength and wisdom and tenderness that do not come automatically with the responsibility of parenthood.

God provides, and the Church instills in our lives, the spiritual gifts which our parenthood requires. We were meant to cultivate these qualities, for with every challenge God offers us adequate resources.

And our children will grow as we grow in the Christian faith, for the most obvious truth in the world is that a child wants to be like his Mother and Dad.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force for worth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a treasure of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NOW FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT

USE KERATOLYTIC ACTION
Because this remarkable process sloughs off the tainted outer skin to expose buried fungi. Kills it on contact. T-4-L, a keratolytic fungicide, goes to work instantly to relieve this miserable ailment. When new, healthy skin appears, apply T-4-L periodically—medical science says athlete's foot can come back. In one hour, if not surprised and pleased, your 40c back at any drug store. T-4-L is greaseless, colorless, instant-drying, easy and pleasant to use. Also, use full strength for itchy and weedy feet, insect bites, eczema, poison ivy. Today at Brakfeld's, Walton. 31-24

Plans are underway for a county fair to be held in Johnson county, Sept-29 to 30.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT:

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Verona Bank, held in its office in Verona, Ky., on the first day of June, 1955, there was a vacant seat occasioned by the death of our associate, C. E. Baker, who has served as a member of our board for the past fifteen years, giving his excellent ability and time whole heartedly to the advancement and security of the bank.

The members of the board are deeply grieved over the loss of such a stalwart, untiring and able associate. Now, therefore, in open session by motion, the following resolution was adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED: In the passing of C. E. Baker, the Verona Bank has lost a valuable executive, one whose place will be hard to fill;

That Boone and Gallatin Counties have lost one of their most upright, honorable and valuable citizens;

That his family has lost a kind and affectionate father.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be printed in the Walton Advertiser, a copy sent to the bereaved family, and a copy spread upon the minutes of the Verona Bank.

Committee—

W. B. Ambrose,
T. J. Carr,
F. H. Hamilton,
W. B. McCormick,
G. C. Ransom,
W. T. Renaker.

DON'T SCRATCH THAT ITCH!

IN 15 MINUTES—

You must be rid of the itch or your 40c back at any drug store. Itch-Me-Not actually gives triple-action relief. It deadens the itch, peels off tainted outer skin. Kills germs and fungus on contact. Fine for eczema, foot itch, summer surface rashes. Today at Brakfeld's Drug Store, Walton, Ky. 41-23

COLD JUNE

I believe this is the coldest June, to last so long, I ever saw. I believe that the old man who told Mark Meadows the climate had slipped a cog somewhere, was right. It is hard on some of the old backs setting this tobacco by hand, but the players in the large they have to get them out of the bed. We had our furnace going today and the fellows were delivering and could see smoke coming out of chimneys like winter time. I have some wonderful bargains in electric ranges, a full size oven apartment size for $129, then I have a 36" divided top, full oven, for $159, then a 40" fully automatic for $239, and a fully automatic double oven for only $269—come in and see them!

It rained and turned cooler and several farmers came to town—it was too wet to work outside. W. B. Stomper, had me fix him up a new mail box with his name on it. Harold Aylor and his brother, Hallie, were in and they bought a pair of homes to fit a 24" horse collar, a package of PITZ powder for worms in cattle, hogs and sheep. Ed Eimore needed a pitman wood for his mower. Leo Courtney took a bag of Vigoro to make his flowers grow. We received another shipment of Bolce paint and one of Chicago paint (the one with the Indian head on the label)—we sell lots of each kind. I have to carry both to get the assortment of colors.

I bought a very nice selection of new patterns in linoleum and rugs. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Need traded me their five-burner electric oil range for a new Perfection electric range—one of the best I had in stock. We have two used Maytag washers for sale, cheap. I have a used pure dairy water heater, and still have some used power lawn mowers to sell, cheap.

I have some very nice 3' high 2x4 weld mesh fence for yards, also have 5' steel fence posts. I have some children swing sets for only $24.50. Now is the time to buy a new electric range for as low as $129—cook with electric, it is cheaper. Have running water in your home with a Dayton water system for $89.50. I have all the pipe and fittings. I have a very nice 66" double bowl sink for only $49—this has a heavy cabinet and is now white. How about a 52-gallon electric water heater for $100.

I have a lot of hardware items for summer, like swings, folding deck chairs, metal lawn chairs, hammocks, swing sets for the kids, ice cream freezers, croquet sets, grills, electric fans, air conditioning units, thermos jugs, electric range, electric water pumps, pony saddles, ball gloves, grass sickles, grass whips, lawn mowers, fishing tackle, electric drop-in water heaters, galvanized water coolers for the farm or contractor, stone water cooler for the office, sickle grinder, the farm, harness for Old Dobbin, plastic pipe and water pumps, power sprays for your tractor.

O. J. Struve bought a sickle grinder to sharpen his mower sections. Brewster bought No. 10 Flinn's Eclipse lawn mower over—it needed checking and shoring. Francis Baker, Chas. Baker, Jr., and Raymond Baker, all the Bakers, were in for a few minutes and did I have a lot of conversation. They wanted aluminum wedge to use in cutting trees with a power saw, so today I ordered them some. Mrs. W. B. Stomper bought a new mail box several days ago with his name plate on it—today his neighbor, Mr. Roe, had to have one with his name on it.

We sold lots of small items today. Some lady down on Airport Road came up for Berrie bread pans, a certain size, the Home-makers are using—said the had hunted everywhere when someone told her CONRAD would have them. We sold curtain rods, towel bars, shower curtain hooks to Louise Rouse—they have their apartment about finished. Laurel Kenney, over beyond Verona, said he would not need to Benis satter this year—he had set all of his tobacco by hand, and he was worn out—that is hard work. We set 20 acres by hand when I was young and it did not hurt me, but now it would be terrible.

Tevis Thomas and daughter bought fishing tackle. Tevis says she can catch the fish. Brewster overhauled Bill McCormick's lawn mower; also went over Nolan Flinn's Eclipse tractor mower. J. C. Baxter, up at Bracht, bought his wife a new Berrie washer. Some fellow came in for chain pump repairs—I had all the parts for Gem pump. Edna Kerns came for more paint—she bought Mahogany varnish and clover pink rubber base wall paint, that below new color. Tracy Hume has been in here twice today—ha's a busy man.

Mrs. Homer Osborne bought a beautiful 9x12 rug for her home. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hester bought a Maytag washer and a roll of fence. Gene Hanks got a Hol-Dee electric fence charger and all the fittings—this one cuts off the weeds. Frank Perlick bought a battery type fence charger with knobs, clips, and ground wire. Both of these fellows bought the No. 18 gauge wire on a spool—it comes ½ mile on spool for $4.75, which is the cheapest way to buy electric fence wire. We really are selling paint this year—so far, nearly all inside paint. I called Bolce for another large shipment to come down Wednesday and I sent a large order to Chicago for rubber base floor and wall paint.

I never sold anything but sells and salutes like that rubber base paint—it covers most anything and it is washable. I took one lady some of that rubber base paint for her living room and the said, I don't believe we can put that on now as I am cooking dinner on my gas stove and the ceiling in the living room is wet—but it went on OK.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Native Son:

Last week, down in Lexington, Ky., a popular Washington military man received an honorary degree from his alma mater, the University of Kentucky. It was Dr. Elbert DeCoursey—now General DeCoursey.

Probably no medical man knows the terror of the atomic bomb better than General DeCoursey. He visited Hiroshima and Nagasaki and surveyed the grim horror that befalls those caught in the fiery blast.

A Singer, Too:

The General was born in Ludlow and was reared in Covington. When you talk to him he likes to tell about his days at Kentucky when he was a young singer with a rich bass voice, and an accomplished member of the U.K. Band. Before he enrolled in medical school, Dr. DeCoursey and others toured the country as a quartette of professional vocalists.

His first exposure to army life was at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, as a young doctor-lieutenant. Progress up the military ladder was steady and a few years ago he was called a roving head of the most important military medical establishment, the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology. With it went the stars of a general.

Regular Tourist:

Dr. DeCoursey's travels in the interest of medical science have taken him to all parts of the world—Bikini, Japan, Panama, Saigon and, of course, Europe.

While he is best known for his work on atomic bomb medical problems, he has done credit to himself and his state in other fields and many a G.I.'s life has been saved, thanks to the 52-year-old Kentuckian.

Kentucky Proud:

The University of Kentucky did itself proud in bestowing upon him an honorary degree. We first met the general at U.K. Alumni Club luncheons in Washington and his love for his alma mater is unequalled. He also has been active in the Kentucky Society of Washington.

We have seldom devoted one column to an individual, but General DeCoursey deserves any kudo and praise his state can give him. To paraphrase a current traffic slogan, we can only say that in these terrifying atomic times, the life he saves may be your own.

Because of continuous use of fertilizers in recent years, some farmers in Grant county used only manure this season.

Ryland Homemakers Meet

Fourteen members of the Ryland Homemakers Club answered roll call with "a good thought I had this morning," at the June meeting in the Lakeside, Ryland home of Mrs. Arthur Kennedy, daughter of the hostess, Mrs. William Bagby.

Mrs. John Shaw, citizenship chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. H. W. Ward, presented an informative discussion on Ecuador. Highlights on the climate, occupations and living habits of natives were especially interesting. Mrs. Belew urged all members to register to vote, and to display the flag in observance of Flag Day, June 14.

Mrs. J. H. Lawson, landscape chairman, gave information on spring trimming of evergreens and the treating of rose bushes and plants for leaf mold and control of insects; also stated now is the time to spray or dust for control of bean beetles.

The officers and chairman of 1955 will remain in office for the coming year, except the newly appointed publicity chairman, Mrs. W. B. Barnes, and reading chairman, Mrs. H. W. Ward, who will assume their duties at the September meeting. Leaders for the work project lessons were also selected. Mrs. W. A. Damon will give instructions in basket weaving at a workshop meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. W. B. Barnes, Kenton, on June 28, from 1:00 to 4:30 p. m.

At noon the meeting recessed for luncheon, served buffet style. Tables were decorated with large bowls of pink ramblers roses. Arrangements were made for a summer picnic to be held at the Oaklawn farm home of Mrs. W. P. Schwall on August 23, at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. W. A. Damon, Mrs. H. W. Ward and Mrs. F. B. Hermes are in charge of games and entertainment.

The afternoon session and recreational period was in charge of the program chairman, Mrs. W. A. Damon. Games were played and a magazine exchange was participated in by all members. Mrs. F. B. Hermes, membership chairman, reported there were eight one hundred percent members this year and they will receive a gift of recognition when the regular meeting dates are resumed this year, in September.

Others in attendance, in addition to those mentioned, were Mrs. J. A. Rich, Mrs. Oliver Gee, Mrs. G. A. Damon, Mrs. Everett Wilson, Mrs. O. J. Williams and Mrs. Harry Caldwell.

BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

God and Nations

Lesson for June 24, 1955

GOD is not an American citizen. He is not even Americanized. He is not and never has been a citizen of any country in the world. And yet, strange as it seems, all down through history he has been thought of as if he belonged to one particular race or nation. A Scotch woman, in the era when France and the United Kingdom were more or less always at war, was reminded by her pastor that maybe there were God-fearing French women who were praying for victory for their nation too. "Oh," said the old lady, "who could understand those jabbering bodies!" The simple nation. The Bible is as clear on this as it can be.

God Controls

Three mistakes are commonly made at this point. One is that God is not interested in nations, only in individuals; that He cares a great deal about the individual, but is quite indifferent to the doings of nations. The truth is that God is as much interested and concerned about what men do by the million as what they do by one. He is as much concerned with acts of Congress as he is with acts of congressmen; as much concerned with honesty in personal contracts. Another mistake is to think of God as wanting to control the affairs of nations but not being able to do so, almost as if he read the headlines with as much alarm as you and I do. Another mistake, just the opposite, is to think that God controls nations the way a checker-player controls his men. They move when and where he moves them, they have no choice. Now the truth is that God does control nations, or else the Bible is all wrong. He does not dictate all their actions, for God is never the author of sin. But when we read what is going on in the world, we must not read with despair, for God never lets nations out of his control.

God Judges

If God literally dictated and brought to pass every happening in history, then God could be the judge only of himself. But he does judge the nations, as he judges individuals, for what nations do of their own free will and consent. Nations, as nations, can make right choices or they can make wrong ones. It has been often remarked that the mortality rate among nations is 100%. As the Bible sees it, the death of a nation is the judgment of God upon it. Now the point so often overlooked, indeed the point the average citizen of ancient Israel and Judah conveniently overlooked, is that God judges all nations alike. He is not like a referee who calls fouls on one team and never sees a foul if his favorite team makes them. He is not like a parent who brings some of the children up carefully and spoils his favorites. No person can be just, and God cannot be just, if his justice is only for some and not for all. We all know what to think of a judge who "takes tickets" for his friends who violate traffic regulations. God, the Judge of nations, never fixes anybody's ticket. Let us put this into plain English in terms of our own American situation: If an act of another nation is "bad," really bad in the sight of God, then the same kind of act on America's part is just exactly as bad, maybe worse if (as we claim) we know God's will better than anybody. Or if what our nation does at any time is "good," really good in God's eyes, then the same act done by another nation is good too, and we ought not to resent it.

God Rewards

The prophet Zephaniah says what all the other prophets write in their own way, namely that God rewards nations that follow his laws. God does not of course reward nations in heaven, as he does people one by one. The reward of a nation is continuing peace and happiness—and some times power—on this planet. The reward of nations is to become the safe home of men and women who know and love and serve God. The reward of nations is to be the living evidence of the justice of a God who loves justice.

a cake...

Those two tiny figures on top of the wedding cake . . . the bride and the groom . . . are a symbol. They mean that from this day forward two people will be as one . . . joined together in perfect unity, forming the nucleus of a new family group.

They have stood before the church altar, pledging themselves to each other and to God. Their marriage has been started in the right way, with God's blessing upon it.

In the years to come they will look back upon this day, and upon their holy moment together in the Church. They will remember the reception later when they cut this cake, when there was laughter and gaiety and nothing but love around them. When they return to their church on Sundays, they will always see in their minds' eyes their own figures, standing before the altar, taking their holy vow. Little wonder that the Church will always mean so much to them when they have laid the foundation for their happiness within it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Facts FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS

by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
KENTUCKY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

"PAY DAY IN MAY" is the slogan used in reference to income from strawberries. It is an appropriate slogan, too, especially if the grower is one of the so-called small farmers with a large, hard working family. I have recently gained some first-hand experience with strawberries, having just completed the harvesting and marketing of five acres of Blakemores and Tennessee Beauties, and since there is so much interest in berries at this time, I am passing along my impressions of the crop.

First, and of most importance, is the need for a marketing organization. I cannot think of a more helpless feeling than that of having a fine crop of berries with no place to sell them. The acreage in the community should be large enough to merit a cooperative association and volume enough to ship to distant markets. Strawberries are essentially a "family labor" crop. On our five-acre plot the cost of labor during the first year was just about $100 per acre. On the small farm most of this work would have been done by family labor. The family would also have earned a lot of money paid for picking and supervising.

Another thing that impresses me about the strawberry crop is its value to the community in picking our Tennessee Beauties we would often spend $60 per acre in one day just for picking and it was not uncommon for pickers to earn eight or ten dollars by mid-day. The daily earnings of some family growers often exceeds $25 a day. This is big money for many rural families.

High acre yields are essential for profits. We lost money on our Blakemores because the yield was poor but the Tennessee Beauties were very profitable. The Blakemores followed corn, and the Beauties followed tobacco which explains a big part of the difference in yield.

Strawberries are an extremely perilous crop—subject to more hazards than most crops. A few days of dry weather in the harvest season or too much rain at picking time can be disastrous. Late freezes and frosts can ruin a crop.

So strawberries may be a very profitable crop, or they may be very disappointing but that is true of any enterprise. Before trying for a "Pay day in May" local advantages and disadvantages should certainly be carefully considered and fully discussed with the county agent and other farm leaders.

THANKS—

I wish to thank everyone that has been so kind and thoughtful during my stay in the hospital and since I have come home, for the cards, gifts, flowers, candy and the delicious dishes that have been brought. Words seem to be inadequate when expressing appreciation but truly, thanks again.

The Governorship is Kentucky's most important office. The Governor's program will influence your life for years to come. I pledge myself to put Kentucky's interest first.

Bert Combs

Managing the affairs of the great Commonwealth of Kentucky is big business.

It is a full-time job that requires proved executive ability plus high integrity and the utmost sincerity. It is a job that requires a man of constant nature and unquestioned loyalty to the State and to its people.

Bert Combs is the man for the job. His program is not tailored for any section of the Commonwealth. It is the same in Ashland as it is in Paducah. It will be the same at the end of the campaign as it was when he opened his campaign in Shelbyville on June 2.

Bert Combs is a man that every Kentuckian can endorse with pride. A farm boy, he worked his way through school . . . a patriot, he volunteered at the beginning of World War II . . . a soldier, he worked his way up from private to Chief of the Investigating Section of the War Crimes Department on the staff of General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines . . . a lawyer, he worked his way up to judge of the highest court in Kentucky.

Bert Combs knows that unemployment is a problem . . . that prosperity must be worked for continually. He is from Eastern Kentucky where unemployment is now on everyone's mind. His forward looking program is planned to meet the challenge and overcome the causes of unemployment for all Kentuckians. His record of leadership in both military and civilian life proves him qualified to handle such a program.

Bert Combs is not running on the success of any past administration; nor does he find it necessary to distort his own past record. Bert Combs has conducted himself in such a way that his record is a stirring open book. His future plans are his own. His policies and beliefs are genuine; not hand-me-down platitudes. His courageous platform is "Put Kentucky First" . . . and he will!

A recent article in "Gallstones," official publication of the Abdominal (Ill.) County Medical Society, asserts that "food is the most universally accepted medium used to dispel hunger pangs." Winsome old Dr. Ed Noyd, dean of the society, has said in his jovial manner regarding the ham dinner, "We ain't go no panacea, we just got a pan of ham."

Foster Guttridge, president of the Church Boosters, and only recently returned from a royal garge, has announced that each diner may have his choice of right hand or left hand ham, and from either a red-haired or black-haired hog. All hams supplied, of course, by the famous Stomach Acres Farms.

Owen County Rural Electric Fair

We in the rural part of the country owe a lot to the R.E.A. who put the farmer up on top. It gave him the best in lighting, cooking, cooling, milking and lots of other uses. He can have a modern home just like the person who lives in the city. The R.E.A. built electric lines where no private company would have ever thought of going and in time it will pay off, because the farmer is buying more appliances every year.

I drive around a lot at night to see what is going on in the country. I drove by a farm house the other night—the wife was cooking supper on a new electric range, in the kitchen was a large 12' refrigerator, on the back porch was a 20 cu. ft. deep freeze, down in the basement was a Dayton water system and electric hot water heater—I know they have toaster, iron, mixer, percolator, television, radio, fans, sweeper, heating pad, and several other appliances at the house—a large pool light made it bright as day from house to barn, where the milkers were milking 30 cows, a large cooler in the milk house, another electric pump in the barn, and he told me not long ago his light bill was only $18.00 per month—where else can you get that much for $18.00 and save so much time and labor.

Laurel Kenney, who lives on R.E.A. just came in for a lot of pipe and fittings—he is installing a new electric water pump so he can have running water in his kitchen. Every day some farmer buys some electric appliance to use in the home or around the house. Brewster and Bill Denler loved a large room of linoleum in Bill's apartment. Just received another shipment of new linoleum rugs and linoleum—let us see new patterns. The mower season is getting late, but I have several left and will make you an extra good price on any of them. I don't want to carry them over.

Today was a mad house. Chick away, Brewster out on service calls, Red and I trying to take care of trade, then I had 12 salesmen, and Red helped unload three shipments, hauled two up from the depot and we put up three orders between showers. Mrs. John Tomlin had Brewster stop and measure a new house in Hoffman Heights, close to the new Kenton County Elementary School and Simon Kettering for venetian blinds—she has bought several orders of blinds from me. These Brennam blinds are very good.

A. B. Tompkins and wife were here today—he sold me more harness and a saddle. I bought some very nice calf and horse killing knives from Mr. John Stephenson, and his son, Richard, who was an honor student at K.M.I. this year, were down buying harness. They are real farmers and do it in a big way. Russell Baker, down on U.S. 42, had me cut him up a lot of round iron, also drill a lot of holes—he is making a truck rack. Charles Steinus, from Keeter, south of Williamson, called to see if I had the repairs for his Dayton pump—this was before breakfast, but I went down stairs and there they were—he come right down after them. That is what I have told you about buying Dayton water pumps from me—I try to cury repair.

Mrs. Charles Rector and daughter were in this afternoon—I didn't have much trouble with the mother, but the daughter, oh!—Well they are both women and all women change their mind. Earnest Price and Shorty were buying more fishing tackle—they are catching the fish. Earnest said Shorty caught one so big he had to lay down on the ground to keep from being pulled in the lake. We get some real fish stores from real fishermen.

Edna Kerns came after two more gallons of that clover pink rubber base wall paint—this is a beautiful color and really covers. A fellow come in today after some bolt ties—I thought I knew him, but it had been over 20 years since I had seen him—it was Johnny Durr from over in Kenton county, now living in Indiana. Twenty years makes a lot of difference in us, doesn't it? We sold lots of small items today, lots of paint for the inside and outside, plastic pipe and fittings, copper pipe and fittings, galvanized iron and fittings.

Aluminum kettles, dishes, icker and glasses, pyrex ware, alarm clock, electric kitchen clock, lots of fishing tackle, welded mesh fence, steel fence post, hay forks, iron pocker, hay pulleys, fork handles, sickle, scythe smoth and blade, electric wire and fixtures, 22 cartridges, paint brushes, charcoal, fork, Rotone, point hinner, stairway gate, bolts, pump repairs, poultry netting, screen wire, can opener to Sam Hudson, tomato dust to Walter Vest, J. C. Reynolds was in today and bought three of those aluminum buckets for $1 each—these are a bargain—get some before they're gone.

Don't forget the R.E.A. fair over at Nicholson, Monday night and Tuesday. It will be on the Old Kentucky Home farm, right at Nicholson. Me and my crew will try to be there with something to show you that you need in your home, or not your farm. Everybody come and make this a big event. The R.E.A. spends lots of money to put this on for your benefit as well as ours. We sold lots of point today. Edna Kerns was back for more rubber base wall paint—this is the wonder paint—it is a satin wall paint but you can wash it.

We sold bale ties, baler twine, hay forks, hay raps, hay hooks, weed killers, corn, Perfecton oil, cook stove, sickle grinder, and Scott Lancaster got another load of bolts, pipe fittings and hinges—he is building some barn. Mrs. C. A. Robinson bought paint for her house. Now is the time to put in that gas cooker—let us—we have them in stock and at a real low price.

FIREWORKS FORBIDDEN

OFFICIAL REMINDS PUBLIC

State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr., today issued a reminder that fireworks anywhere in Kentucky is forbidden by law, except in authorized displays.

Persons found guilty may be fined up to $100, or imprisoned in the county jail for 20 days, or both, and Underwood urged local authorities to cooperate in enforcement of the law in their respective communities.

"The anti-fireworks law of 1950 has eliminated a major cause of holiday injuries and deaths," he said. "Only one death may be traced to use of fireworks in Kentucky during the five years the law has been in effect. Before the law, there were several each year."

Fireworks covered by the law include firecrackers, Roman candles, sparklers, day bombs, torpedoes and similar items containing explosives. Toy pistols using caps are exempt.

Owen County Rural Electric Fair

We in the rural section of the country owe a lot to the R.E.A. and must put the farmer up on top. It gave him the best in lighting, cooking, cooling, milking and lots of other uses. He can have a modern home just like the person who lives in the city. The R.E.A. built electric lines where no private company would have ever thought of going and in time it will pay off, because the farmer is buying more appliances every year.

I drove around a lot at night to see what is going on in the country. I drove by a farm house the other night—the wife was cooking supper on a new electric range, in the kitchen was a large 12" refrigerator, on the back porch was a 20 cu. ft. deep freeze, down in the basement was a Dayton water system and electric hot water heater—I know they have toaster, iron, mixer, percolator, television radio, fans, sweeper, heating pad, and several other appliances at the house—a large pole light made it bright as day from house to barn, where the milkers were milking 30 cows, a large cooler in the milk house, another electric pump in the barn, and he told me not long ago his light bill was only $18.00 per month—where else can you get that much for $18.00 and save so much time and labor.

Laurel Kenney, who lives on R.E.A. just came in for a lot of pipe and fittings—he is installing a new electric water pump so he can have running water in his kitchen. Every day some farmer buys some electric appliance to use in the home or around the barn. Brewster and Bill Denzler lay a large room of linoleum in Bill's apartment. Just received another shipment of new linoleum rugs and linoleum—a lot of new patterns. The lawn mower season is getting late, but I have several left and will make you an extra good price on any of them. I don't want to come them out.

Today was a mad house, Chick away, Brewster out on service calls, Red and I trying to take care of trade; then I had 12 salesmen, and Red helped unload three shipments, hauled two up from the depot and we put three orders between showers. Mrs. John Tomlin had Brewster stop and measure a new house in Hoffman Heights, close to the new Kenton County Elementary School and Simon Kuttler, for vacation blinds—she has bought several orders of blinds from me. These Brenner blinds are very good.

A. B. Tompkins and wife were here today—he sold me more harness and, I bought some very nice calf and cow show halters. My cousin, Conrad Stephenson, and his son, Richard, who was an honor student at K.M.I. this year, were down buying harness. They are real farmers and do it in a big way. Russell Baker, down on U.S. 42, had me cut him up a lot of round iron, also drill a lot of holes—he is making a truck rack. Charles Steiner, from Keeler, south of Williamson, called to see if I had the repairs to his Dayton pump—this was before breakfast, but I went down stairs and there they were—he came right down after them. That is what I have told you about buying Dayton water pumps from me—try to carry repair in the lake. We get some real fish stories from real fishermen—I didn't have much trouble with the mother, but the daughter, oh! Well they are both women and all women change their mind. Earnest Rector and Shorty were buying more fishing tackle—they are catching the fish. Earnest said Shorty caught one so big he had to lay down on the ground to keep from being pulled in the lake. We get some real fish stories from real fishermen.

Edna Kerns came after two more gallons of that clover pink rubber base wall paint—this is a beautiful color and really covers. A fellow came in today after some bolt ties—I thought I knew him, but it had been over 20 years since I had seen him—it was Johnny Durr from over in Kenton county, now living in Indiana. Twenty years makes a lot of difference in us, doesn't it? We sold lots of small items today, lots of paint for the inside and outside, plastic pipe and fittings, copper pipe and fittings, galvanized iron and fittings.

Aluminum kettles, dishes, pitcher and glasses, pyrex ware, alarm clock, electric kitchen clock, lots of fishing tackle, welded mesh fence, steel fence post, hay forks, iron popper, day pulleys, fork handles, scythe snath and blade, electric wire and fixtures, 22 cartridges, paint brushes, charcoal, iron, Ronatone, paint thinner, stairway gate, bolts, pump repairs, poultry netting, screen wire, can opener to Sam Hudson, tomato date to Walter Vest. J. C. Reynolds was in today and bought three of those aluminum buckets for $1 each—these are a bargain get some before they're gone!

Don't forget the R.E.A. fair over at Nicholson, Monday night and Tuesday. It will be on the Old Kentucky Home farm, right at Nicholson. Me and my crew will try to be there with something to show you that you need in your home, or on your farm. Everybody come and make this a big event. The R.E.A. spends lots of money to put this on for your benefit as well as ours. We sold lots of paint today. Edna Kerns had a can of rubber base wall paint—this is the wonder paint—it is a satin wall paint but you can wish it.

We sold bale ties, baler twine, hay forks, hay rakes, horse hooks, weed killers for corn, perfection oil, stove, sickle grinder, and Scott Lancaster got another load of bolts, pipe fittings and hinges—he is building some more. Mrs. Cleo Robinson bought paint for her house. Now is the time to put in that air conditioner—we have them in stock and at a real low price.

"The anti-fireworks law of 1950 has eliminated a major cause of holiday injuries and deaths," he said. "Only one death may be traced to use of fireworks in Kentucky during the five years the law has been in effect. Before the law, there were several each year."

Bill Scroggin has planned a little of the Old West type of show, along with country music that will please both young and old.

The price has been held to 50 cents, plus 5 cents tax, which is in reach of all for the entire show. A few times at Verona Lake Ranch will convince most anyone there is a lot of fun to be had in one of these old time country and Western round-up programs.

Bible School To Be Held At Methodist Church, July 5-15

The Walton Methodist Church will conduct its annual daily Vacation Bible School from July 5 to 15. The school will begin at 9:30 each morning and will last until 11:45. There will be special emphasis on Bible study this year, more than in the past. There will also be games, refreshments and handwork.

On July 15, the closing day program will be held at 8:00 p. m. The following day, Saturday, July 16, the Bible School and the whole Sunday School will have a picnic. The place of the picnic is to be announced later.

A good group of workers has again been obtained for this year's school and the pastor, Rev. Wayne Patton, hopes it will even exceed the one last year. The school last year had 110 enrollment. Every child and youth between the ages of 4 and 16 are invited to attend.

FROM THE PAGES OF
THE NATION'S HISTORY
COME THE STORIES OF

KENTUCKY'S HISTORIC SHRINES

Cumberland Gap, Kentucky's Gateway to the West for America's pioneers, opened up a great new world for the nation's early settlers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky.

Historic shrines stand today in many Kentucky communities, commemorating the lives of great men and the stirring events which were a part of the historic story of Kentucky. Many highways follow historic trails. This luxuriant country, which was both "Happy Hunting Ground" and "Dark and Bloody Ground" to the Indians, became the earliest promised land for the pioneers from the East. The history of Kentucky makes up much of the early history of the nation, and the nation's history is filled with the deeds of men who were first Kentuckians. The deeds and men of this history are memorialized in state parks, shrines and museums throughout the state. To the studious or to the casually interested observer of history, Kentucky is an exciting museum, an inspirational and unforgettable center of historic action.

School Bus Accidents
Total 329 In 1954

Kentucky's county and independent school districts paid twice as much in insurance premiums last year to insure against accidents, as was paid by companies for damages, according to a study made by the State Department of Education, Frankfort.

Butler revealed that the study was made under direction of John Vickers, director of bus transportation. It also showed that there were 329 school bus accidents during the year, which resulted in 62 persons being slightly injured, four suffered serious injuries, and one fatality.

The study disclosed, too, that 193 of the accidents occurred on paved roads; 68 were on gravel roads, and 13 were on dirt roads. In addition, the road was reported in good condition in 185 cases; 53 occurred on slippery roads; 16 on rough places, and three on "soft" places in the road.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Tourists Coming:

Kentuckians can get ready for a lot more tourists if Uncle Sam's figures are correct.

Some facts already are available on the number of persons who visited Mammoth Cave over the Memorial Day weekend and the total was up more than ten per cent. We Kentuckians have been warned to expect similar increases the rest of the year.

All this, of course, is happy news, what with travelers bringing more money into the state. But Kentuckians could get additional funds if more accommodations were available.

Highway Needs:

Another of Uncle Sam's agencies has come up with some facts on Kentucky highways. We need some 492 million dollars for federal roads.

In that respect, Kentucky ranks about midway among the needy. California, for example, needs about two billion dollars to take care of traffic. New Hampshire and Delaware, both small states, are in the best shape. They need only 66 million dollars each to bring their highways up to snuff.

Some of these needs will be cared for if Congress can get together on passing a federal highway construction bill.

Accidents:

While we are on the subject of Kentucky highways, we thought it might be a good time to present some interesting figures on accidents.

When, for instance, do the most accidents happen? You'd be surprised but 84 per cent of all crashes occur when the weather is good. Fog and snow accidents are for less than five per cent. Driving between 1 and 6 in the morning appears to be the dangerous period. Eighteen per cent of all mishaps occur in those night hours.

Don't let the condition of your car fool you, either. Figures at hand indicate that 94 per cent of all cars involved in crashes were in good condition.

dition. Before the accident, that is!

GOP Convention Note:

Here's a note for Kentucky Republicans leaders who want to attend next year's GOP convention in San Francisco. We have just returned from an inspection of press and broadcast facilities there. Space is at the Cow Palace, the scene of the meetings, but hotel rooms won't be plentiful.

Don't misunderstand us! The hotels are good ones but, unlike Chicago, they are small and scattered over the city. We anticipate that a lot of loyal Kentucky Republicans are going to be disappointed over their quarters, especially if the delegation is a large one and the Blue Grass visitors are assigned to several different spots.

UK LECTURER CLAIMS CHURCHES ARE VITAL

"The influence of the churches will be vital in the solving of desegregation problems in the South," a University of Kentucky speaker declared last week. He was Weldon James, associate editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who appeared on the UK campus through the courtesy of his newspaper. The newspaperman described desegregation as "the most fascinating story of this age." He said the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation was "evolutionary, not revolutionary." James asserted that there have been some people in each generation since 1619 who have believed in desegregation.

Patriotism

Lesson for July 3, 1955

IS A man subversive if he—has an international outlook?
fails to conform to popular styles of patriotism?
will not promise to support every war in which his country engages?
speaks out against his nation's sin?

In this year of grace 1955, men who fill the above qualifications are cried down as subversive. Perhaps it has always been so. But in the sight of God, some such men have been honored above their stone-throwing fellow-citizens. One such person of record had what most people would call a "bad" record. He had been accused of subversive activities. He had predicted defeat for his nation while at war, and had publicly advised surrender. He had a record of jail sentences. He just missed being executed, several times; and finally died as a traitor, at the hands of a lynching party. Nevertheless he was one of God's great prophets. His name was Jeremiah.

Professional Patriots

Jeremiah's chief enemies were also called prophets by their contemporaries. History calls them false prophets, though to the "man in the street" of that time they seemed to be the true ones. The false prophets did not really have a word from the Lord. Their words were suggested by what the people wanted to hear. Their sermons were suggested by their own desire for prestige. They were suggested by their wish for a good income. Not long ago an American organization, supposedly patriotic, was selling motes to put on automobiles, reading "The only good Jew is Americanism," or some such phrase. The deals with that motto were selling like hot cakes, for people did not like to seem unpatriotic by refusing to buy and carry a slogan like that. But the mayor of the city investigated and as a result the sale of the things was stopped. He discovered that an advertising agency was getting 75% of the money and the "patriotic" organization 25%. The real promoters were not patriots, they were profiteers. They would have sold any motto at all for a 75% take-off. Not every one who boasters for his country is a patriot.

Justice for All

Nevertheless, just as glass "diamonds" don't make real diamonds impossible, so false prophets do not destroy the truth of real prophets, and false patriotism does not do away with true love of one's country. That man Jeremiah was a real patriot. That is to say, he had a real love for his people and his land. Incidentally, he was one of the first persons to call mistreatment of the soil a sin. The word "prosperity" has a magic sound for most minds. Jeremiah was tough enough to ask questions about the prosperity some people had in his time. He threw pitiless light on the fact that some few were getting rich at the expense of the many. He had what seemed then a strange idea, though it turned out to be true, that the very wealth which was piled up in the palaces of Jerusalem was an unhealthy sign. Jerusalem was in the process of being pulled up by the roots for its use of modern language, the wealth was badly distributed. Most of his fellow-countrymen were under-paid, many of them were slaves, while the king and his court were rolling in luxury. True patriotism asks as Jeremiah did: What is happening to the people, all the people? and not simply: Am I getting ahead?

Leadership

Jeremiah preached to the people, but some of his most important messages were directed to the leaders of his nation, the king, the princes, the priests. He knew that the men at the top make the policies which affect the masses. Jeremiah's preaching failed to stave off the end which he predicted, for the men at the top did not change their ways. The success or failure of a nation depends on the stamina and character of the people, but especially of its leaders. No one can consider himself patriotic who votes for a second-rate candidate for public office if a first-rate candidate is available.

WANT ONE GOOD REASON?

Of course you "ought to go to church," you say.

But, you keep putting it off.

Then here's just one of the many reasons why you should start going to church—NOW!

As an American, you like to come and go where you please, and when. You like to speak what you please, and how. You like to pursue life, liberty, and happiness as you will. And in these United States you can—because we still have freedom. You can worship in whatever church you choose—or not at all.

But this freedom of religion and all our other liberties should not be taken for granted. Throughout free countries, the Church is fighting the peril of communism, lest individuals be strangled into hopeless, plodding submission. Freedom, then, is reason enough. Go to church! Support and uphold the Church—NOW!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

INDEPENDENCE R-1

We are very glad to report the sick of our community are improving.

This community was saddened to learn of the death of Alvin Joeger, which occurred at the Louisville Hospital, Friday. Mr. Joeger was born and reared in the neighborhood of Independence, and leaves many friends and neighbors here to mourn his loss.

JACKSON FLORIST

3124 Madison Ave. HEmlock 2222
COVINGTON, KY.

Rev. George Miller and family have returned home from their two weeks vacation with their relatives and former friends in Butler, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fennell and little daughter, Mrs. Joe Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Lybran Richardson and two daughters spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Marshall of near Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Willoughby and little daughter are entertaining his parents from Florida for a couple weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawsey Parsons and children called on friends in Latonia, Sunday afternoon.

The Staffordburg ball team is playing the Oak Island boys, Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. George Fennell are entertaining them after the game with refreshments at their home.

Several from this community attended the picnic at Mr. and Mrs. Will House's on Sunday. It was in honor of their son and family who are enjoying their vacation here. They are from Reno, Nev.

Mrs. Earl Hanna spent Monday with her son and family on Ridgeway Drive, on Taylor Mill Road.

Cattlemen in Logan, Todd and Simpson counties have consigned 550 animals to the south-central calf sale.

KENTON

The Kenton and Community Volunteer Fire Department picnic was a grand success. Everyone greatly enjoyed Rudy Hansen and Bonnie Lutz and the good music by Steve Ammerman and his Ridge Runners. It is wonderful what can be accomplished with the fine cooperation that exists between our fire department and the Ladies Auxiliary. The cheer given away Friday night was won by Mrs. Lloyd Bridges and the deep freeze was won by Bill Fahrendorf. We wish to thank everyone who helped in any way toward the picnic, especially Ralph Payne for the use of his picnic grounds.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Joeger family in the recent death of Alvin Joeger.

Bennie Rich of Erlanger, is visiting Eddie Fisk of Morning View.

Little Joe Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker, cut his foot Friday night and was taken to the hospital where several stitches were required to close the wound.

The many friends of Mrs. Virginia Abner wish for her a speedy recovery. She was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital from work one day last week and is under observation there.

There was a large crowd of fishermen and picnickers at Thorn Hill and Kenton Lakes, Sunday.

One-Half Gone!

This week ends the first half of 1955. The time passes so fast and we have had very little warm weather. All the crop look so good and such a crop of hay we have not had for years. The first half has been very prosperous in several ways for most of us—most of us should be very thankful we are able to work and make a living and able to enjoy life. The years pass so fast we had better enjoy this life as we go along and prepare for the hereafter. The first half of this year brought tragedy to some homes and joy to others—so we should be prepared for either.

Just like buying a new Perfection electric range, a Dayton water system, an electric water heater—you are buying the best and are prepared for years of hard service. When you buy from CONRAD you buy the best for your money and he will take care of your troubles if anything goes wrong. More people are using plastic pipe than ever before. The insects this year and the weeds are terrible—I have plenty of insect killer and weed killer, also those pressure sprayers to mount on tractors. The first day of summer and people were on the go. All wanted to be waited on at once. We sold lots of paint, poultry fence and netting, steel fence posts, bolts and mower repairs. Loreta Richardson, from Kenton Station, bought a square aluminum tub Maytag washer. Harold Arrol called for me to send some bolts down by mail. Mrs. Mary Rice bought more Bolice paint. Emmett Ward bought Bolice outside white paint, DDT and tomato dust. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tomlin bought metal lawn chairs, Marlene and Ratonone. Chas. Portwood bought two metal lawn chairs and bicycle repairs for the boy.

Mrs. Wichterhann from Palm Beach, Fla., was here with her grandmother, Hugh Hemminger, who lived here 67 years ago—he wanted to see Mrs. Carrie Rouse. Not many left, his age. There was a large crowd at the funeral home last night as Herbert Hoffman's friends gathered to show their respect of a long friendship for an honorable man, and today at the funeral a larger crowd was present. Brewster and I have been busy with a lot of repair work, putting up stock and taking care of the customers who are in a hurry.

Tom Brewster bought his wife a new Perfection electric range and I sold Emmett Ward a used gas range for the best price. I have a used Maytag washer, 5-burner Perfection kerosene range to sell, cheap. I also have a used Maytag washer to sell, real cheap. Both are in good condition. Opal Simpson bought plastic pipe and fittings. Bruce Cox and wife bought Armstrong lineoleum and poultry netting. Mrs. Harris Mudgeon bought rug border in oak pattern. Mrs. Mattie Dudgeon bought deviled egg plate and sewing machine needles.

We just received a large shipment of enamelware pots and pans of all kinds, even have some of the new pink colors. I have cold pack canners in all sizes, from $1.98 up; blue enamel and aluminum. I also have a stock of canning supplies and deep freeze boxes, bags and paper. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roberts bought a very nice piece of lineoleum for their kitchen. Chas. Steers came after lumber, two and a leather punch. John Hartman bought Vigora for his flowers. Richard Kelly bought insect spray for tobacco worms and grasshoppers.

We sold more paint today, as we do every day. Mabel Griger bought Bondee and Sto-Dri for her basement. We sold more of that rubber base floor enamel for porch floors or any type floor, wood or cement—it lasts longer. We sold several hay forks and hay hooks—there sure is a large hay crop. Mrs. Earl Moore was in today and bought a pig killing lamp, a rag rug, pie pans and other small items. Mrs. Jenny Altha also was here buying some hardware. Roland Glenn bought poultry netting, and Wallace Glenn bought fish hooks.

Leslie Williams bought lineoleum, paint and enamel for his home. These women need a lot for a man to do on a rainy day. Mrs. Viola Roberts bought enamel for a bed. We sold several bundles of bolts tie to customers I did not know. Lewis Stephenson bought mower repairs. His son, Charles, bought bicycle repairs. I sold cow halters, horse halters. Raymond Durr bought a horse collar. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Hind, from over at Verona, bought several hardware items. William Rosa and wife bought felt paper, glue and paste to repair the walls of a room. George Finnell came after a lot of plastic pipe and fittings.

Joe Richardson was looking for a rubber tire wheel for his wheelbarrow—he bought a pair of wire grip tires and a crescent wrench. Mrs. Kenneth Tomlin came after another one of those spring steel lawn chairs. I just came from the R.E.A. fair at Nicholson—they had a nice crowd tonight and expect a big day tomorrow. We had several prospects on our Perfection electric ranges, also our Dayton water systems—it was a little cool for air conditioners, but several thought we had an extra good price and when it did get hot they would be in.

What I get out of the fair is to see and talk to my friends and customers—I see people who are customers of mine, from Grant, Gallatin, Boone, Pendleton and Kenton counties—EC Stewart from Jonesville; R. C. Giesert from Lebanon Road, between Crittenden and Verona; Albie Elliott and wife from Parkers Grove neighborhood, Guy Mann and wife from Crittenden; Frank Knight and wife from Flingsville; B. N. and J. B. Seegal from Fishburg; Marlon Cooney from Ridge, and lots more I can't name now. I have the finest lot of customers and I try to treat them the best I know how. Come to CONRAD the last half of '55!

WATER, water everywhere, in KENTUCKY

The water's fine in Kentucky--and there's more of it than ever before. This year, you'll find water recreational facilities at Kentucky's State Parks, all across the state.

In addition to the gigantic man made lakes which serve visitors at state parks at Kentucky Lake and Lake Cumberland, smaller lakes--either old or newly created--now exist at every major Kentucky vacation park. These recreational waters include the newly constructed Chenoa Lake at Pine Mountain State Park and Smoky Hollow Lake at Carter Caves State Park, as well as the old scenic lakes at Pennyroyal Forest, Natural Bridge, General Butler, and Audubon State Parks. In addition, recreational facilities are now available at Dewey Lake State Park. And of course, complete water facilities are provided for in the beautiful Cumberland River at Cumberland Falls State Park.

At most all parks, facilities for swimming, fishing, boating, and sunbathing, are available. Wherever you go in Kentucky, you'll find water sports facilities nearby.

This year,

WHAT IS THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH?

By Rev. Charles A. Vaughn
The Christian Church, Churches of Christ or Disciples of Christ came upon the American scene in protest against ecclesiasticism and the denial of individual freedom in the church. In 1792, Rev. James O'Kelly, a Methodist minister in Virginia, withdrew from that church in protest against the development of the superintendency into an episcopacy. It gave the Methodist bishops absolute power in appointing ministers to their churches.

Rev. Abner Jones left the Vermont Baptists and organized a church at Andover, Vermont, in 1801. He was convinced that sectarian names and human creeds should be abandoned. This was done to secure a wider freedom in religion and to develop the idea that piety and character were to be the sole tests of Christian Fellowship. The Great Awakening in 1801 swept Tennessee and Kentucky. This was preaching that largely ignored doctrine and old emphasis of the denominations. Barton W. Stone was accused of anti-Presbyterian preaching. He led a number of Presbyterians out of the Synod at Kentucky to organize the Springfield Presbytery. He was an ardent revivalist. Alexander Campbell led many of his followers and churches into the Disciples of Christ.

The religious groups under the leadership of O'Kelly, Jones and Stone, and the Campbells (Thomas and Alexander) engaged in long conferences which resulted in six basic Christian principles. They were:

1—Christ is the Only Head of the Church.

2—The Bible is the only sufficient rule of faith and practice.

3—Christian Character was to be the test of Membership.

4—A right and individual interpretation of the Scriptures gives the true way of life.

5—Christian was the name taken at birth of followers of Christ.

6—Unity was necessary. All Christians were to work together to have the world.

Many people are confused as to the part Alexander Campbell played in the development of what is known as the Christian Church. He had no thought of establishing another church. He deeply grieved over the numerous churches and confusion of denominationalism in his day. He said, "There ought to be no schisms, or uncharitable divisions, such divisions are anti-Christian, anti-Scriptural, anti-natural, and productive of confusion and every evil work." He wrote, preached and debated that the Church and Church Membership and beliefs were to be based upon the New Testament. He tried to find a place in the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches where he could preach and worship God as he was led of the Holy Spirit. He believed in Christian Unity and Christian Fellowship. He was made very unhappy because the Presbyterians did not look upon Open Communion for all Christians, regardless of denominations and as the practice for churches. He later came to the point that Baptism was by Immersion, and Immersion alone as the New Testament form. He preached in the Baptist church from 1820 to 1830. The separation from the Baptist was gradual because he could not harmonize the doctrine of the Baptist denomination with his conception of the New Testament Church. He was convinced that all Christians were to wear Bible names and to require nothing for membership except what the New Testament Church required. He preached, "Where the Bible speaks, we speak, where the Bible is silent, we are silent; in things essential to salvation, Unity, in things non-essential, liberty; but in all things, love."

In 1832, in Lexington, Kentucky, on High Street, Mr. Stone and Mr. Campbell and their followers united to form what is now known as Christian Churches or Churches of Christ or Disciples of Christ. They did not form a new church but endeavored to Restore the Church of the New Testament, as they understood the Scriptures. They did not claim to be the only Christians, but did claim to be Christians only and to invite all followers of Christ to unite upon the Bible, especially the New Testament, and to fellowship and work to the fulfillment of the Lord's Prayer as expressed in the 17th chapter of John's Gospel—that they all may be one, that the world may believe that Jesus Christ was the Divine Son of the Living God.

A church that has no written creed or no human authority is very difficult to state their belief. I can understand who so many people completely miss the point of the Christian Church and its doctrine. This business of religious freedom is most challenging and very important.

Below is listed ten of the cardinal principles of the Christian Church, but they may vary with the understanding of each individual minister or member:

1—We teach and preach that no one is to do more that is enjoined by our Lord and His Apostles. We are trying to restore in faith and spirit and practice the Christianity of Christ and His Apostles as given in the New Testament.

2—We affirm that the Sacred Scriptures, as given by God, answer all purposes of faith and practice, and a law for the government of the church. We believe that all human creeds and confessions of faith spring out of controversy and tend to division and strife.

3—We place emphasis upon Divine Sonship of Jesus, as the Fundamental Fact of Holy Scripture, the essential creed of Christianity, and the one article of faith to receive Christian Baptism.

4—We do not regard the Old Testament and the New Testament as of equal authority in the age of Grace or the Church Age. We believe the New Testament in a perfect constitution for the worship, government and discipline of the Church.

5—We claim the names of Christians and Disciples are New Testament names but do not deny that others are Christian or deny that other Churches are Christian Churches also. We preach we are not the only Christians but are striving to be Christians Only.

6—We preach that regeneration must begin with the Holy Spirit, and if followed will lead to hearing, believing, repentance and obeying the Gospel.

7—We Repudiate the false doctrine of "Baptismal Regeneration." We teach that baptism, by immersion, was one of the original practices of Jesus and the New Testament Christians. We believe that baptism was a command, Acts 2:38 and is necessary in order to receive the remission of sins. The water does not wash away sin, it is the completion of man's obedience to Christ. The Blood of Christ is the only power to remove sin.

8—We celebrate the Lord's Supper each Lord's Day. There is no Scripture to say how often to do this but we follow the Apostolic practice of weekly Communion. This is not a "Sacrament" but a Memorial Feast for all Christians who are present. We invite none or debar none. Each must examine himself or herself. God is the Judge of being worthy.

9—We do not call the Lord's Day the Sabbath. This is a New Testament institution commemorating our Lord's Resurrection and consecrated by apostolic example.

10—We preach the Church of Christ is a Divine Institution; sects are unscriptural and unapostolic. We believe the sect name, Spirit, and life should give place to the union and cooperation that distinguishes the church of the New Testament.

I wish to thank the publisher of the Walton Advertiser for his generous space to carry this article. My sincere prayer is for the people of God, of all faiths, creeds or denominations to work together for the fulfillment of Christ's desire on earth. No one has a monopoly on truth or no one has all the Christians in any community. I pledge the full cooperation of the Walton Christian Church to work with every Christian plan or program in this community for the ushering in of the Kingdom of God on Earth.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION—

The family of Herbert Hoffman, Carlisle Road, wish to thank each and every one who helped in any way, either in word or deed, in the last sad hours. 11-27"

JUST FOR FUN, jot down on this page the names of the freight cars pictured here that you recognize. Only ten types are shown—but we have more. Why so many? Because the railroads carry anything, any time, anywhere. So our equipment is "tailor-made" to handle all kinds of shipments in the best, most efficient manner.

Wherever you live in the South, freight cars like these are mighty good friends of yours. There's hardly a thing that's made or used that doesn't involve rail transportation somewhere along the way. In fact, railroads are often the only carrier equipped and geared to do the job.

Today the Southern operates some of the fastest regularly scheduled freight service in America. To our fleet of 50,700 freight cars are now being added 1,200 new-type "easy ride" steel box cars, costing $10 million. And we are ordering 1,500 more steel hopper coal cars costing an additional $10 million.

We are growing with the growing South, with modern equipment and ever-improving service. All in the Southland benefit.

God In Dark Days

Lesson for July 10, 1955

SOMETIMES we envy the serene faith of the prophets of old. If so, it shows we have not read the prophets carefully, for some of them had a faith that was anything but serene. Jeremiah was one of those. Habakkuk was another. During the dark days at the end of the time of the little kingdom of Judah, reading his opening lines, one might think he had been reading our morning papers in 1935. "Why dost thou make me see Dr. Foreman wrongs and look upon trouble? Destruction and violence are before me; strife and contention arise. So law is slack and justice never goes forth. . . . Why does God let such things go on?"

This Is Hard To Believe

Habakkuk asked the same question; and got an answer from God that the Lord told him he would hardly believe. Not only was the local scene, in Jerusalem and Judea, dark with violence and injustice, but the farther Babylon was darker still. Out of the east the newly resurgent Babylonian empire was rising. Now empires seldom rise peacefully. They come to power with the uproar and the agonies of war. Empires arise by crushing smaller kingdoms, and Babylon was no exception. If you had asked any wide-awake Hebrew of Habakkuk's time, "What is the greatest national danger you see threatening your country?" he would probably have said: "The imperial ambitions of Babylon." Most Hebrews would have said that the Babylonians, or Chaldeans as they are often called, were the enemies of God's people. But Habakkuk is told something God says is hard to believe: "I am raising the Chaldeans." That bitter, hasty, terrible, violent, godless nation, whose only god was their own might—God was arousing that nation to punish Judah for Judah's sins. What was God going to do about the violence and injustice in Judah? He was going to wipe it out, wipe it off the face of the ground . . . and use the Chaldeans to do it with.

Is The Remedy Worse Than The Disease?

We can see from reading the second part of Habakkuk's first chapter, that he could not understand, at first, how God could do such a thing as arousing the Chaldeans. How can God use devilish men to accomplish divine purposes? Is it conceivable that a God who is the Holy One, who cannot look on wrong—i.e., it conceivable that such a God would be silent while the ruthless and cruel armies of the invaders were capturing men and treasure, cities and wisdom, as a Babylonian takes everything in his net? Nevertheless it has often been true that God's good purpose has been set forward by men who did not know nor obey him. When Joseph's brothers sold him into Egypt as a slave, they intended no good by it. Their only motives were greed, cruelty, jealousy and revenge. But God brought good out of it. War is a terrible thing; but as Lincoln suggested, it is quite possible to believe that the horrors of a civil war are God's way of punishing a nation for the injustice of slavery. If a nation will not listen to its true prophets and repent, God can use sterner measures.

Faith Endures

Habakkuk, pursuing bravely his questioning of God, comes out at last to two illuminating thoughts which the Lord gave him. It may be noted in passing that sometimes the questioning mind gets answered when the unquestioning mind does not. One is that in dark days, when God is not to be seen, the man of faith must wait. "God does not settle all his accounts in October." The answer to life's riddles is not always given immediately. God's signature can be seen at the end, though not always do we recognize his handwriting at first. The other thought was this: The man of faith must not give up his faith. For faith has the power of enduring life. God may use a "bitter and hasty nation" to punish another sinful one. But God judges all nations, Chaldeans and Judeans alike. Seen in the light of history, we can perceive as a fact what Habakkuk could see only with his inward eye: that the God-defying conquering Chaldean nation would vanish without a trace; while the little conquered people of the Hebrews would survive, because in them was the undying seed of faith.

The circus brings excitement for young and old alike—the animals, the thrilling acts, the funny clowns. Perhaps we like the clowns best of all with their antics and their grinning faces.

But the jolly face of a clown is not necessarily what it seems to be. A mask of humor might very well conceal a sad heart, and the jester could easily be living in a world of self-doubt.

Many people know this dilemma. To the world they show a countenance of false gaiety, but within there is disquiet. Why? It may be that these people have found no basis for genuine peace and contentment. And no amount of banter or pretense can heal a bruised spirit.

A basic faith is essential to the soul of every individual. To attain this faith turn to the Church, which for countless generations has given new life and hope to millions. Then, with a heart full of love and confidence, know the joy of genuine, heartfelt laughter.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest power on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual riches. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

COMBS WOULD BE THE STRONGEST DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

EDITORIAL from THE COURIER-JOURNAL (June 24, 1955)

In the Democratic primary of August 6, this newspaper believes BERT COMBS should be nominated as the man best qualified to be Governor of Kentucky.

We like Judge Combs on his record. In his 43 years he has not held as many jobs as his opponent, A. B. CHANDLER, who has described himself as "former everything." But the COMBS record as Judge of the Court of Appeals is uniformly good.

CHANDLER's record in jobs ranging from State Senator to Governor to United States Senator is spotty. It has good marks, especially in his first two years as Governor, but there are also a disturbing number of bad marks, dating mostly from the time when national ambition seemed to turn Happy's head.

We like Judge COMBS on his campaign to date. It has been positive and constructive, where CHANDLER's has been negative and destructive. Though HAPPY will only be 57 in July, he seems to concentrate heavily on the past. He is bent on revoking or reversing many of the things done by recent Democratic administrations in Frankfort.

We like COMBS on the basis of character and intellect for Kentucky's biggest job. He graduated from the University of Kentucky Law School with the second highest average ever obtained there. His Court of Appeals opinions have been models of clarity in thought and expression. He led the effort to modernize the state's civil code. It was his personal work that led to the jury reform legislation passed by the 1954 General Assembly.

Every one of COMBS' former associates on the court are giving him enthusiastic support in his race. These men know him as able, trustworthy, and devoted to duty.

CHANDLER has portrayed a big grin, an exuberant personality and a memory for names into a long political career. He was in public office of one kind or another from 1928 until 1945, when as United States Senator he was offered the job of Baseball Commissioner at $50,000 a year (later $65,000), plus expenses.

He announced his acceptance of the baseball job in April, 1945. Until November 1 of that year he held onto his Senate post, though he was absent for more than a third of the major votes that came before the Senate in that period (SENATOR BARKLEY missed one of them). His resignation threw the appointment of a Senator from Kentucky into the hands of Republican Governor SIMEON WILLIS, who naturally named a Republican to fill the opening.

CHANDLER was entirely within his rights in choosing the fat baseball job over the leaner job in the Senate, but he made a deliberate choice that took him out of the top ranks of public service. Now, with the baseball position gone, he asks to come back.

COMBS INSPIRES CONFIDENCE

We like the air of independence about BERT COMBS. He has shown evidence that he would be his own man in the Governor's mansion, with a strong personal program to carry out. He is not burdened by old grudges or tied by old favoritisms. CHANDLER, by contrast, has been in and out of so many political alliances that his view of public life is keyed to personalities rather than to issues.

We like the confidence COMBS inspires. He has not tried to sell the idea that there is any magic formula for meeting the heavy financial needs of the state. He cites programs of service Kentuckians are demanding in bigger portions—better roads, better schools and teacher salaries, better welfare services, better state hospitals and prisons—and he admits that new money must be found to provide the level of operations our state must obtain. He pledges a complete review of Kentucky's patchwork quilt of taxes, and action in line with the forthcoming report of the Legislative Research Commission.

CHANDLER is a very promising politician—he will promise almost anything to anybody. He has pledged in a general way all the added services COMBS has pledged in a specific way, and has included others, such as a private pledge of a Medical School at the University of Kentucky. The $20,000,000 minimum cost of such a school, added to CHANDLER's other promises, puts him on record as favoring at least $45,000,000 of new spending for Kentucky. Yet he insists he can give us "all this and heaven too" without any new taxes.

HAPPY is misleading us one way or the other. Either he does not mean to perform on his pledge of increased state services, or he does not mean to perform on his pledge of no new taxes. You can pay your money and take your choice.

We like the positive statements COMBS makes on issues. Take the problem of the mental hospitals. COMBS pledges to increase the state appropriation from the present $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 the first year and to $10,000,000 the second. He further promises that he will build up the hospitals "to meet the personnel standards of the American Psychiatric Association." The many Kentuckians who have friends or relatives in the hospitals could not ask for anything better or more specific.

CHANDLER is for "modern treatment and modern facilities, properly administered"—good, but not very specific.

On support for Kentucky schools, COMBS says: "If I am elected Governor, I will recommend to the Legislature that sufficient funds be provided in the year 1956 to put the Minimum Foundation Program into immediate operation and effect. At the same time, I will recommend that the Minimum Foundation Law be expanded by the inclusion of a provision which will insure every school district at least $80 per annum for each pupil in average daily attendance." Kentuckians concerned about our schools could not ask for anything better or more specific.

CHANDLER says he will "make the Minimum Foundation Program work," but he throws doubt on the sincerity of his own pledge by insisting that the $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 of new money required can be found without new taxes.

CHANDLER wants to turn the clock back on such assets as our state parks, the new toll road, and the new state fairgrounds.

He has tried to make a major campaign issue of HENRY WARD's administration of the park system. Under WARD's direction, the parks have been built into a top attraction that is helping to draw half a billion tourist dollars a year to Kentucky.

CHANDLER has ridiculed and misrepresented the toll road. He has tried to make it appear that the taxpayers, and not the users of the road, will pay for Kentucky's first super-highway. He claims it "starts nowhere," the city of Louisville apparently being "nowhere" in his book. He ignores the fact that toll roads are running ahead of their financial commitments in every state but one where they have been built, and that the Kentucky project was only started after a scientific study had shown that even present traffic would pay off the bonds.

CHANDLER has been slurringly critical of the new state fairgrounds. He scorns the use of tax money for "fancy cattle barns," in a state that is developing cattle raising into a major resource.

On all these issues HAPPY is purely negative. His program consists of criticism of present operations and personal slurs on those who are running them.

We like the way COMBS tells people where he stands on an issue. With HAPPY you need a crystal ball, a Geiger counter, and a water witch's wand.

For instance, CHANDLER is now loudly insisting that he has always been faithful to the Democratic Party and its candidates. Yet THE WOODFORD SUN, fully owned by him, publicly and bitterly bolted the Democratic ticket in 1954, '46 and '48, the last being the year when ALBEN W. BARKLEY was running for Vice President of the United States. CHANDLER now says that it was his paid editor, ORVAL W. BAYLOR, who bolted, not himself.

HAPPY takes no responsibility for the fact that BAYLOR, while editing his paper, was state chairman for the Dixiecrat ticket, that MRS. CHANDLER signed the petition putting the Dixiecrats on the Kentucky ballot, and that Dixiecrat candidate STORM THURMOND came straight from his Kentucky opening at Madisonville to spend the weekend with the CHANDLERS in their house at Versailles.

CHANDLER now says he is in favor of the Minimum Foundation Program, though his same WOODFORD SUN hotly fought the amendment to the state constitution which made the program possible.

PROMISES vs. VOTING RECORD

CHANDLER has been wooing the Negroes of the state, expecting these voters to forget his Dixiecrat connections and such matters of record as his two votes in the Senate to uphold the poll tax, in 1942 and '43, and his Judiciary Committee vote in 1940 against the Anti-Lynching Bill...

He has been making hay with the support of some labor leaders. Evidently he expects labor to forget such votes as the one he cast for the SMITH-CONNALLY Anti-Strike Bill in 1943, his vote to override President Roosevelt's veto of that same measure, and his action in ordering National Guardsmen into Harlan County in 1939 to force reopening of the coal mines during the United Mine Workers strike.

COMBS has solid opinions, and he tells the public frankly what they are. CHANDLER, who has been running hard for more than two years, has tried to make every voter believe he agrees with him on every issue.

CHANDLER has made a campaign of promises. The trouble is that his promises usually have three faults: they are not sufficiently precise to be binding, they contradict some portion of HAPPY's public record, or they contradict each other.

COMBS has been much more cautious in what he has pledged, but what he does promise is as plain as a pike-staff. He said in his opening speech: "I want to win this race—and I am convinced that I will win it—but I would rather lose than to win and then go out of office with a record of broken promises."

The voters of Kentucky can know in advance what character of administration they could expect from Judge Combs. Under Chandler no man could know exactly how we would proceed—not even HAPPY himself, who plays politics by ear and by the siren call of his personal ambition.

We believe COMBS would definitely be the strongest candidate the Democratic Party could field in November.

BUSINESS REVIEW OF COVINGTON & ERLANGER

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

The Dissenter:

The lone Kentuckian on the Supreme Court, Justice Stanley Reed of Mason County, has won a reputation as the leading dissenter on the Supreme Court. In the term just ended, Justice Reed has dissented from the majority opinion on 24 occasions, thus taking away the title from Justice Douglas who has differed with his colleagues 21 times.

Justice Harlan, who comes from a Kentucky background and is the newest member of our high court, has four dissents on his record.

President Pro-Tem:

Kentucky's Alben Barkley is the new president pro-tem of the Senate. He was named when Senator Walter George of the Georgia Georgia's went to the hospital.

Under the law, the president pro-tem of the senate is third in line for the presidency, ranking behind the vice president, and speaker of the House.

However, Senator Barkley is only acting in that capacity and probably, in the unlikely deaths of the top three men, would not qualify. It's a legal question that is not expected to become a decision.

Similar Careers:

We were looking over some senatorial biographies the other day at the Congressional Library and we came across some data on former Senator John Sherman Cooper, now ambassador to India. We were struck by the similarity in the careers of Mr. Cooper and Judge Bert Combs, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Both entered the army as private, Cooper serving ten months at that rank, Combs serving 15 months. Both went to Officers Candidate School and both were commissioned. Both were discharged as captains and both won the Bronze Star. Both were in the army's legal department and both are now in politics.

It's not unusual that both are veterans but their parallel careers in other respects is remarkable.

Mail Call:

To Harrison County man: You are right, Judge Wilber Miller of the U. S. Court of Appeals is a Kentuckian. Owensboro is his home. To Kenton Co. writer: The Spring Lake postoffice will remain open, one of the few reversals of postoffice decisions. Reply to Lawrence County letter: Political observers say that the hottest senatorial races next year will be in Ohio, Maryland, California, New York and Oregon. Answer to Robertson County tourist: Best way to see the Capital is to join the guided tours. Those guides know more about it than any congressman or senator on the Hill.

FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS
by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE
KENTUCKY BANKERS ASSOCIATION

ALFALFA SEEDING TIME IS NEAR—Kentucky's program to increase alfalfa acreage in '55 will depend largely upon what's done during the next few weeks. Optimum seeding dates are August 10 to the 20th. Successful seeding may be made up into September, but as the season progresses danger of failure increases. Between now and seeding time there is a lot to be done—soil testing, application of lime and fertilizer, and the preparation of a good, firm seed bed.

There are several advantages, and some disadvantages, of August-seeded alfalfa. Usually there is more time at this season to get the job done properly, there is less competition from weeds and grass, and the crop is ready for maximum production early next year. Among the disadvantages of summer seeding is the severe erosion that might occur on rolling land during periods of heavy rain fall before the crop becomes established and the susceptibility to crown rot, a disease often severe in early spring on young stands.

Atlantic, Ranger and Buffalo are the varieties now on the recommended list. A light seeding of grass should be included with alfalfa—it reduces erosion.

makes curing easier and increases yield. Bromegrass is showing more and more promise in Kentucky, especially the newer varieties, Southland, Chapel Hill and Elsberry. Orchard grass, blue grass and timothy are also suitable.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?—Wherever one travels in Kentucky he meets citizens in every walk of life sincerely concerned about the future of our agriculture. They are wondering, among other things, how to supplement the income from the diminishing tobacco crop, where fruit and vegetables fit into the scheme of things and how young farmers can get started in the face of increasing capital needs.

Without trying to answer these questions, I will merely make these statements which do have bearing on the subject—First, because of its topography and climate, Kentucky's agricultural progress will be determined more by its progress in livestock production than by the introduction or expansion of cash crops. Second, the development of new row crop enterprises will be limited to communities where special conditions, including facilities for irrigation, exists. And, third, a larger proportion of our farm youth should prepare themselves for non-farm enterprises so that they will be better fitted for industrial and scientific fields. A well-known agricultural economist recently stated "if young people who stay in agriculture are forced to do so because of their lack of training permits no other choice, we may well drift to an underprivileged peasant agriculture."

Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8" with 180 hp.

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. No matter what you drive, you're going to see twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

... Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8" of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

What makes the Super seat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industrial, the most power per pound, and the only 12-valve electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

Air Conditioning

This is one of the months you need one of these Air Conditioning Units I have. I came up tonight when I closed the store and my wife had our air condition unit running. It was just the right temperature in my apartment and it was hot outside. Nothing like being comfortable when it is hot and sultry outside. Did you ever try to clean up and put on some clean clothes on a hot day, with the sweat running down your collar and the women could not tell if they had put on any powder or not. That is when you really appreciate an air conditioning unit, because that don't happen.

I have several very much interested in air conditioning units but are waiting to see how hot it is going to get. Well, it will be hot this month, and next—it always has been plenty hot in July and August, so you had just as well give me a call to install a unit next week. Loretta Richardson and mother came over today, they bought a little of everything, pots, pans, enamel, brush, sprayer, weed killer and stove wicks. Ed Pernell bought mower repair for an old Deering Mower. Miss Oni Riley bought more Bolce Point, she is painting up all the buildings. I went out to see some prospects on air conditioning units, it is hot enough but not long enough yet. If it stays this way, but the last of the week, they will be calling to these air conditioners. Ask anyone who has an air conditioning unit. I sold several last year, one to Doyle McElroy, one to Clinton Clerk, one to Glenn Edens, one to Maynard Meadows, one to Roger Arnold at Beaver, two to William Brown at Piner, two to Vest & Vest in their offices, one to Joe Kennedy.

I believe that was all and they are all really satisfied. If you are really interested I'll put one in on trial. The R.E.A. Fair is over and we had a lot of prospects for our merchandise we had on display. I gave away a Presto Deep Fryer, the lucky ticket was Mr. O. B. Cain, Demosville, Ky., who was very proud to win such a nice cooker. My Perfection Store salesman was on the job, showing the beautiful and economical Electric Ranges. My Hardware salesman from Stratton & Tarstegge, Louisville, Mr. Macie Hughes, also helped out on the air conditioning units. It was a little cool to sell these but we have the price and a quality unit, fully guaranteed. What else would you want because when you buy from Conrad and it is not right, I will make it right. Just today Mrs. Wayne Gabbard brought in a duster, I told her when she bought it, if it was not a good one bring it back and she did because it was defective. I gave her another duster. That is the best service I can give.

Mr. and Mrs. Elfrie Henderson from Gallatin county were in. Mr. Henderson bought mowing machine repair. Mrs. Flora and Dorothy Woods bought five gallons of Bolce Outside White Paint to paint their house.

house—take a look at it and see what a fine job that Bolce does. Bob Bolce and his wife were in today—they are two of the owners of Bolce Paint Company, Bob is not feeling too well and they go to their farm in Owen county for a day or two. They are fine people and they make fine paint. He has been in that business for 50 years and his nerves are very bad, he has to get out. When you serve the public for even 20 years, your nerves are not too good. Just today I recall Geo. Waters wanted an airplane, Model Maddox wanted to know if I had clear plastic, Donald Morgan wanted to know how much that bicycle seats was and someone else wanted some nails all at one time—that is what makes your nerves have the jitters. But when a hard-wear man wears out they will get another—This store has worn out eight and ready for more. Chas. Maloney came back after more rubber base paint, he is moving back to Jack Rouse's apartment.

Emmett Ward was in buying Rotonone, chloroform and a duster, the insects are very bad. Mrs. Guy Crase bought linoleum for her kitchen—a very nice pattern. This morning about 7:30 my telephone rang and it was Mrs. Elfrie Henderson from over beyond Glencliff—the said to bring that Sunbeam Mower over that they were looking at yesterday. Brewster took it over today and showed them what it would do. Their grass was high and a lot of dead grass underneath, it was very hard to cut. They bought the mower and it will be fine after the first cutting.

Blanche Ransom was in having some keys made—we sure sell lots of keys every day. I brought down another load of Bolce Paint today. They wanted to know at the factory what I did with all of that paint. We sell it all over five counties and sell some every day. We carry the largest stock of paint and more different kinds than most anyone else. If its point you want we have it for most all jobs. We just received a new shipment of border and decals—lots of new designs and patterns. I got in some new saddles—I have all size pony saddles and now I have a large size western saddle so all who are too large for a pony saddle, I have the one for you—it is tan with lots of brass spots, with a bridle and martingale. We have most all types of deep freeze containers, round boxes, square boxes, bags and paper.

What is the use of being so hot you can't sleep—I have some window fans for $4.50 for 20" size, a real bargain. We have any size table fan you want and all prices. Put in an air conditioning window unit and it will take place with the fans. Air conditioning is being put in the new, modern homes some as an automatic summer—keeps you warm in winter and cool in summer. Come to CONRAD!

Sidewalk Ordinance Is Passed by Council

Vote Is 4 to 1 Favoring Proposed New Project

At a regular meeting of the Town Council at Walton, Monday night, July 11, a vote was taken on an ordinance calling for the construction of sidewalks on Alto Diata Drive.

Many interested people attended the meeting to learn the fate of the ordinance which has been resisted by various property owners whose homes are on Alto Diata. It was emphasized by the residents that there was no resistance whatever to the sidewalks, since such were undoubtedly needed. Rather, the resistance was to the location of the walks which, by the ordinance, will be located nearly to the edge of the right-of-way and thus cause removal or several large trees.

However, the Town Council felt that the walks should be placed as proposed so as to allow room for future widening of the street and consequent relief from congestion which results from motorists parking in the "no parking" zone.

After brief discussion in which a much-sided petition was read expressing disapproval of the proposed walk location, the Council voted 4 to 1 for passage of the ordinance and thus took the final step in placing of the walks as proposed.

Telephone Lines Are Damaged by Storm Saturday Afternoon

By Manday of this week work crews of the Consolidated Telephone Company had completed repairs caused by last Saturday afternoon's severe electrical storm.

More telephone wires were down between Limburg and Burlington, caused by the snapping of an electric power line during the storm. Many residents of the Burlington section of the county, including the telephone exchange were without electricity for approximately four hours. Telephone operators at Burlington worked under the most extreme difficulties. However, by late evening, telephone service had been completely restored, except in a very few isolated cases.

4-H Members Urged To Show Cattle-Calves At Boone County Fair

Boone county 4-H Dairy Club members are urged to show their cattle and calves at the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Fair, August 4-5-6, according to Ed McCandless, assistant county agent.

Showing cattle has many advantages for boys and girls. In fitting the cattle for the show ring they get acquainted with their habits and develop a love for livestock. Heifers which have been broken to lead and which have been shown are easy to handle the rest of their lives.

In fitting the animal for the show ring teach the calf to lead well and to stand squarely on its feet with the head elevated above the level of the back. If the animal appears thin, feed more grain, but pulp will also make the calf look more attractive for showing. If the calf have not been blanketed, this should be done right now in order to smooth the hair and remove dead and loose hair. Brush the animal thoroughly each day will also help to remove the excess hair and any dirt. Clip the entire face and head as well as the neck.

The horns and hooves should be filed and scraped until they are smooth, then oiled just before showing. When showing the animal be prompt and do not delay the judge; have on clean clothing and appear neat and have the animal clean and neat, also. Lead the animal slowly and walk backward so you can see the animal at all times. Keep one eye on the judge so you can do what he asks and keep the animal alert. But, remember, everyone can't win, so be a good winner and a good loser.

Air Conditioning

This is one of the months you need one of these Air Conditioning Units I have. I came up tonight when I closed the store and my wife had our air condition unit running. It was just the right temperature in my apartment and it was hot outside. Nothing like being comfortable when it is hot and sultry outside. Did you ever try to clean your car on some clean clothes on a hot day, with the sweat running down on your collar and the women could not tell if they had put on any powder or not. That is when you really appreciate an air conditioning unit, because that don't happen.

I have several very much interested in air conditioning units but are waiting to see how hot it is going to get. Well, it will be hot this month, and next—it always has been plenty hot in July and August, so you had just as well give me a call to install a unit next week. Loretta Richardson and mother came over today, they bought a little of everything, pots, pans, enamel brush, sprayer, weed killer and stove wicks. Ed Pernell bought mower repairs for an old Deering Mower. Miss Oni Riley bought more Bolce Paint, she is pointing up all the buildings. I went out to see some prospects on air conditioning units, it is hot enough but not long enough yet. If it stays this way, but the last of the week, they will be calling these air conditioners. Ask one to Roger Arnold at Beaver, two to William Brown at Piner, two to Vest & West in their offices, one to Joe Kennedy. I believe that all and they are all really satisfied. If you are really interested I'll put one in on trial.

The R.E.A. Fair is over and we had a lot of prospects for our merchandise we had on display. I gave away a Presto Deep Fryer, the lucky ticket was Mr. O. B. Cain, Demosville, Ky., who was very proud to win such a nice cooker. My Perfection Store salesman was on the job showing the beautiful and economical Electric Ranges. My Hardware salesman from Stratton & Terstege, Louisville, was in. Mr. Moore Hughes, also helped out on the air conditioning units. It was a little cool to sell these but we have the price and a quality unit, fully guaranteed. What else would you want because when you buy from Conrad and it is not right, I will make it right. Just today Mrs. Wayne Gabbard brought in a duster, I told her when she bought it, if it was not a good one bring it back and she did because it was such a nice cooker. I gave her another duster. That is the best advertising I can do.

Mr. and Mrs. Elfrid Henderson from Gallatin county were in. Mr. Harold Henderson from Fiskburg, who was in. Mr. Clara and Dorothy Woods bought five gallons of Bolce White Paint to paint their house—take a look at it and see what a fine job that Bolce does. Bob Bolce and his wife were in today—they are two of the owners of Bolce Paint Company. Bob is not feeling too well and they go to their farm in Owen county for a day or two. They are fine people and they make fine paint. He has been in that business for 50 years and his nerve is very good. He has got to know when you serve the public for even 20 years, your nerves are not too good. Just today I recall Geo. Waters wanted an airplane, Mabel Model wanted to know if I had clear plastic, Donald Morgan wanted to know how much that bicycle seats was and someone else wanted some nails all at one time—that is what makes your nerves have the jitter. But when a hard-ware man wears out they will get another. This store has worn out eight and ready for more. Chas. Maloney came back after more rubber base paint, he is moving back to Jack Route's apartment.

Emmett Ward was in buying Rotanone, chlordane and a duster, the insects are very bad. Mrs. Guy Crase bought linoleum for her kitchen—a very nice pattern. This morning about 7:30 my telephone rang and it was Mrs. Elfrid Henderson from over beyond Glencoe—she said to bring that Sunbeam Mower over that they were leaving all winter. Brother took it over today and showed them what it would do. Their grass was high and a lot of dead grass underneath, it was very hard to cut. They bought the mower and it will be fine after the first cutting.

Blanche Ransom was in having some keys made—we sure sell lots of keys every day. I brought down another load of Bolce Paint today. They wanted to know at the factory what I did with all of that paint. We sell it all over five counties and sell some every day. We carry the largest stock of paint and more different kinds than most anyone else. If it points you want we have it for most all jobs. We just received a new shipment of border and decals—all of new designs and patterns. I got in some new saddles—I have all size pony saddles and now I have a large size western saddle so all who are too large for a pony saddle, I have the one for you—it is tan with lots of brass spots, with a bridle and martingale. We have most all types of deep-freeze containers, round boxes, square boxes, bags and paper.

What is the use of being so hot you can't sleep—I have some window fans for only $49.50 for 20" size, I have a real bargain. We have any size window fan and all prices. Put in one air conditioning window unit and it will take place of the fans. Air conditioning is being put in the new, modern homes some as an automatic furnace—keeps you warm in winter and cool in summer. Come to CONRAD!

Sidewalk Ordinance Is Passed by Council

Vote Is 4 to 1 Favoring Proposed New Project

At a regular meeting of the Town Council of Walton, Monday night, July 11, a vote was taken on an ordinance calling for the construction of sidewalks on Alta Vista Drive.

Many interested people attended the meeting to learn the fate of the ordinance which has been resisted by various property owners whose homes are on Alta Vista. It was emphasized by the residents that there was no resistance whatever to the sidewalks, since such were undoubtedly needed. Rather, the resistance was to the location of the walks which, by the ordinance, will be located nearly to the edge of the right-of-way and thus cause removal of several large trees.

However, the Town Council felt that the walks should be placed as proposed so as to allow room for future widening of the street and consequent relief from congestion which results from motorists parking in the "no parking" zone.

After brief discussion in which a much-disputed petition was read expressing disapproval of the proposed walk location, the Council voted 4 to 1 for passage of the ordinance and thus took the final step in placing of the walks as proposed.

Telephone Lines Are Damaged by Storm Saturday Afternoon

By Monday of this week work crews of the Consolidated Telephone Company had completed repairs caused by last Saturday afternoon's severe electrical storm, G. S. Foushee, Jr., general manager, said.

Part of a large tree crashed across telephone wires on Limburg hill, blocking traffic for at least an hour and thirty minutes. More telephone wires were down between Limburg and Burlington, caused by the snapping of an electric power line during the storm. Many residents of the Burlington section of the county, including the telephone exchange, were without electricity for approximately four hours. Telephone operators at the Burlington worked under the most extreme difficulties.

Telephone service had been completely restored, except in a very few isolated cases.

4-H Members Urged To Show Cattle-Calves At Boone County Fair

Boone county 4-H Dairy Club members are urged to show their cattle and calves at the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Fair, August 4-5-6, according to Ed McCandless, assistant county agent. Showing cattle has many advantages for boys and girls. In fitting the cattle for the show ring they get acquainted with their habits and develop a love for livestock. Heifers which have been broken to lead and which have been shown are easy to handle the rest of their lives.

When fitting the animal for the show ring the calf to lead well and to stand squarely on her feet with the head elevated above the level of the back. If the animal appears thin, feed more grain, but pulp will also make the calf look more attractive for showing. If the calf have not been blanketed this should be done right now in order to smooth the hair and remove dead and loose hair. Brushing the animal thoroughly each day will also help to remove the excess hair and any dirt. Clip the entire face and head as well as the neck.

The horns and hooves should be filed and scraped until they are smooth, then oiled just before showing. When showing the animal be prompt and do not delay the judge; have on clean clothing and appear neat and have the animal clean and neat, also. Lead the animal slowly and walk backward so you can see the animal at all times. Keep one eye on the judge so you can do what he asks and keep the animal alert. But, remember, everyone can't win, so be a good winner and a good loser.

Highway No. 25) at a point six (6) feet from the property line on each side of said street and extending in a Westerly direction to the first curve and then making the transition so that the edge of the sidewalk shall be seven (7) feet from the abutting property lines on each side of the street, then along the property lines and seven (7) feet therefrom to the end of the wide portion of the paved portion of Alta Vista Avenue; then making a transition on another curve so that the edge of the sidewalk nearest the property line shall be six and one-half (6 1/2) feet from the abutting property lines; thence to the property line of the Walton-Verona School property, for a distance of two thousand and eighty (2080) feet be the same more or less, sufficient to extend along the course outlined from the West edge of the sidewalk in Main Street to the Walton-Verona School Property.

Section 3. That the sidewalk shall be made of 3,000 pound concrete, four (4) inches thick; on a grade parallel to the grade of the Street and above it.

Section 4. That in the construction of the sidewalks aforesaid care shall be taken to hold the work on the same grade as crossing driveways, so far as it is possible and maintain the proper grade and any damage done to abutting property by reason of not being able to maintain the grade because of the grade of a driveway shall not be borne by the city but by the abutting property owner who owns the driveway.

Section 5. That the City Engineer shall make available to the City Clerk for the use of the bidders a complete set of specifications setting out in detail the type of mixture, the expansion joints, the reinforcement to be used in crossings and other places where it may be determined reinforcements shall be needed; the amount of stabilization which shall be required for the event that it is necessary for any fill to be made, and such other specifications as said Engineer shall deem proper for the proper construction of the sidewalk.

Section 6. That before the commencement of any work on this improvement the City Council of the City of Walton shall advertise for bids to do the work set out in this ordinance in accordance with the specifications provided for in section 5 hereof. The advertisement shall require that all bidders shall be required to make a deposit of ten (10%) per cent of their bid to insure compliance with their bid. Each bid shall state the time within which the work will be done, if he is successful bidder; the City Council shall select the lowest and best bidder but may in its discretion reject any and all bids and readvertise.

Section 7. That the city shall bear the cost of construction of the sidewalk at street intersections making appropriate connections.

Section 8. That the cost of the laying of the sidewalk on both sides of this street, including the bid, the engineering and legal expense are to be made by levying an improvement tax against all abutting property on both sides of the portion of the street improved by the construction of the sidewalk.

Section 9. That upon the completion of the work on this improvement the same shall be inspected, and objections heard to the improvement, and the same shall be accepted if it meets the specifications, then the same shall be apportioned according to the engineer's certificate of apportionment and levied on the abutting property as by law required.

Section 10. That this Ordinance shall not be construed as being contrary to any existing Sections of the Kentucky Revised Statutes which relate to the construction of sidewalks in Cities of the Fifth Class, and to the collection or levying of the costs of construction thereof; that the bids made for the construction of this project shall be on a unit basis, the unit being the square yard in place, with forming and reinforcement and expansion joints included.

Section 11. That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication as by law required.

Passed by the City Council of the City of Walton, after having been read in a meeting of Council on June 27, 1955, and re-read in another meeting of the Council on July 11, 1955, by the vote of 4 (four) members of Council voting in the affirmative and 1 (one) voting in the negative.

Fertilized Pasture Cuts Feed Bills Ups Hog Profits

PASTURE can be one of the best farm money-makers when you have high yielding stands and you make full use of them, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

The committee points out that good pasture is the most economical source of feed for livestock. High quality pasture can produce up to 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients for about 75 cents, farm economists say.

Missouri livestock specialists report that savings on feed of $3 per hog can be made when hogs are fed on high quality pasture.

G. E. Smith, Missouri agronomist, reports that beef production has been boosted from less than 100 pounds to more than 500 pounds per acre by pasture improvement practices including the use of fertilizer in some Midwestern demonstrations.

Whether the pasture stand is good or bad, says the committee, depends largely on three factors: 1—The soil's fertility level; 2—The use of well-adapted legume grass mixtures; 3—Good grazing management.

"The presence or absence of plant nutrients is especially important," says the committee.

When the soil is well supplied with nitrogen, phosphate and potash, you not only get higher yields, but more protein as well.

Freezing Time Again

Freezing time is here again! Quick freezing is an excellent method of preserving those vegetables now ripening. In order to obtain that high quality frozen product, a few simple rules must be observed, according to Miss Helen Horton, Apprentice Home Demonstration Agent, Boone County.

The University of Kentucky Extension Service, Circular 527, gives the following recommended practices:

Selection: 1. Select vegetables that are young and tender—at the right stage of maturity for cooking; 2. Vegetables keep best if processed and placed in the freezer within 6 hours after gathering. Scalding: This is necessary to stop the action of enzymes that would otherwise cause loss of food value, flavor, color and texture during storage—1. Scald only a small amount of vegetables at one time; 2. Place prepared vegetables in wire basket or cheese cloth; 3. Lower container into rapidly boiling water and heat according to time in directions (keep water boiling); 4. Use one gallon of water per pint or pound of prepared vegetables.

Chilling: 1. Remove vegetables from boiling water and chill quickly in cold water. Cooling time depends on kind of vegetable; 2. Drain well and pack. Packing and Sealing: 1. Wipe the inside of the bag being used with a clean cloth to remove moisture and press air out; 2. If a plastic bag is used, twist top of bag, fold the end over and seal tightly with a rubber band, wire tape or string; 3. If a cellophane bag is used, fold over the top of the bag and seal with a warm iron; 4. Boxes with special coating or covered with cellophane should also be sealed with a warm iron; 5. Cartons with an overlapping lid should be sealed with gummed tape; 6. Glass jars and tin cans should be tightly sealed. Additional information on home freezing of various fruits and vegetables can be obtained from the Extension office at Burlington or by calling Burlington 412 and ask for the circular, "Home Freezing of Foods."

Plans are underway for a fair to be held in Livingston county, and a permanent fair building is being constructed.

SINCERITY OR BROKEN PROMISES

HERE ARE THE ISSUES:

Do you want a Governor proven in the fields of broken promises and false claims who will put his personal ambitions above the good of Kentucky... or do you want a man as your Governor who is straight-forward, honest and sincere and has proven himself in civilian and military life? Of course your answer is Bert Combs who will put Kentucky first.

CHANDLER'S BROKEN PROMISES!

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would reduce state tax on gasoline one cent.

His Performance: Chandler did not reduce the gasoline tax while he was governor.

His Promise: Chandler said he would cut the state tax on real estate to one cent.

His Performance: The state tax on real estate was not reduced under Chandler.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 he would repeal the act giving the state the right to make blanket raises in county property assessments for tax purposes.

His Performance: Chandler not only did not repeal that act, but his State Tax Commission made blanket raises in county assessments every year of his term.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would take the Game and Fish Commission "out of politics."

His Performance: Chandler kept that program in politics throughout his administration.

His Most Misleading Promise: Throughout his 1935 campaign, Chandler declared that through "efficiency and economy" he could reduce state spending and make great progress without the sales tax. He talked of how he would eliminate waste and useless spending.

His Most Damaging Performance: Chandler did not reduce total state spending during even the first fiscal year of his administration, as compared with the last fiscal year of the Laffoon administration. And he made many reductions in essential state services, especially in the field of education.

BERT COMBS' STRAIGHT-FORWARD CANDOR

Bert Combs is not running on the success of any past administration; nor does he find it necessary to distort his own past record. He has clearly stated his courageous platform and his record in both military and civilian life proves him qualified to handle such a program. He will put Kentucky first rather than desert the people to further his own political ambitions.

Ice Cream Festival Saturday Afternoon At Christian Church

In answer to your thousands of cards and letters, the Crusaders Class of the Walton Christian Church announces it will again sponsor the annual old-fashioned home-made ice cream festival on Saturday, July 16, beginning at 3:30 p. m., on the greensward.

Unsolicited testimonials as to the nutritive value and incomparable taste of this ice cream are overflowing our archives. Modestly prohibits publication of these testimonials, naturally, but imagine how YOU'D feel if YOUR archives overflowed. Seldom in the course of human events has a purer, more delectable local product been offered for human consumption. No eggs but here eggs, no cream but Jersey cream. Even the sugar is refined.

The unquestionable quality of this home-made ice cream has prompted the Brotherhood of Bicep Bruisers, Local 812, Freezer Cronkers' Union, to announce with pride that "of thousands of mankind who have switched to this home-made ice cream, not one cast of Bang's disease has been reported."

Cancel all prior engagements. Advise relatives you will not be home on this date. Avoid fried foods, chiggers, heat exhaustion. Let nothing, absolutely nothing, detain you from attending this festival.

Free portions of home-made cakes and pies to all patrons born on or before July 16, 1965. Must have proof, of course.—Pub. Chm.

Farm Talent Round-Up Amateur Contest Set For Aug. 2, In Walton

Lipscomb Coal & Feed and the Farm Advisory Committee voted at their annual meeting planning conference, held recently, to hold another Farm Talent Round-Up Amateur Contest this year as one of the highlights of their local Southern States Annual Membership meeting to be held August 2, at the old Walton school gymnasium, Walton.

This contest, which is for amateurs only who are 12 years of age or over on August 1, 1955, offers an opportunity to the winning act at the local meeting to compete for an expense-paid three-day trip to New York City, plus a $100 cash award. Members of the immediate families of all farmers and all Southern States' patrons are eligible.

All individual members of the 1954 talent acts who won first place at their local contests and those who participated in last year's district contests are ineligible to compete. Employees of Southern States Cooperative and its Co-operative Service Agencies and members of their families are also ineligible.

Talent acts desiring to enter will contact Miss Dorothy Nanny, Walton, chairman of the local Talent Round-Up Committee or Agency Manager Henry Lipscomb, Walton. The other member of the Farm Talent Round-Up committee is W. D. Scroggins, Verona. All committee members have contest entry blanks.

The Farm Talent Round-Up will be sponsored jointly by Lipscomb Coal & Feed and Southern States Cooperative. About 440 similar contests will be held throughout the six-state operating territory of Southern States within the next few months.

The winning local act will be eligible to compete with winning acts from other communities in one of the 18 district elimination contests. The winner of each elimination contest will be given an expense-paid trip to the Southern States Annual Membership Meeting in Richmond, Va., November 17-18, to compete in the final contest. The winner at Richmond will be given an expense-paid trip to New York, plus $100 cash. The second-place award will be given an expense trip to Washington, D. C., or any city in Southern States' operating territory, plus a cash award of $75. The third-place winner will receive a cash award of $200. Appropriate ribbons will be awarded all members of the top three acts.

Rev. and Mrs. John Hammer and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keeney attended revival services at Citizens Baptist Church, where Rev. R. Lawrence, a former pastor of the Oak Island Church, is preaching.

The refinishing of 50 pieces of furniture has been started by homemakers in Mercer county.

Family Reunion Enjoyed

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watson entertained for dinner Sunday, Mrs. Watson's son, William K. Durr, and wife and little son, Johnny, from Champaign, Ill., also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klein and daughter, Karen, Mrs. Walter Gentry and two little sons, Timmy and Wally, of Erlanger, Mr. and Mrs. Lybrian Richardson and children, Larry, Donna and Chella, Mrs. Mabel Martin and son, Edgar, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Riggs and son, Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. George Klein and John Mehan.

Afternoon callers were Miss Joyce Cooper, Miss Jane Cram and Harris Mires.

Picnic Weather Is Bacteria Weather, So You Be Careful

This is picnic weather, but it is also bacteria weather, says Nancy Guilfoil, Home Demonstration Agent. When the two of these get together, it can be dangerous. Avoid this terrible hazard of food poisoning by simply keeping the two apart. Here are some simple rules:

Don't let perishable foods, like meat, fish, poultry, salad mixtures and cream-filled pies stay out of the refrigerator longer than necessary. When you cook meat, fish or poultry to be used later, cool it and refrigerate as quickly as possible. Whenever possible, avoid preparing meat loaf, stews or salad mixture too far in advance, mix only right before serving. When you prepare large quantities of salad before serving time, don't put it into one large bowl and push it into the refrigerator to cool; divide it into small bowls so that it will cool quickly. If you plan to go on a picnic don't plan to take foods that spoil rapidly. Creamed dishes or pies should never be taken. If you are on a motor trip eat only at clean Grade A restaurants. Select simple foods; don't drink raw milk or drink water from strange wells. And don't forget to be careful in handling food all year around. Remember to eat well this summer so you may eat well next summer.

STAFFORDSBURG

We were very glad to welcome into the membership of our church, Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raum and children and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nunery and son. Our prayer is that this union may be mutually helpful.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Deuser recently attended the wedding of their niece, Miss Edna Rothrig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rothrig, 1062 East Caldwell St., Louisville, to Mr. Luran Brown of Liberty, N. C., on July 3, at 7:30 p. m. The bride's attendants were dressed in pastel tints, making a beautiful setting for the impressive ceremony in the Concordia Lutheran Church. One regrettable occurrence was when the pastor suffered a heart attack and another minister had to be called in at the last minute.

The choir practice and social hour at the Staffordsburg Church on Friday night was much enjoyed by all present.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Faulkner back from their vacation. A good number came on Wednesday evening to see Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richardson show their pictures of Lybia.

Revival services with Rev. Arvest Lawson of Colico Rock, Ark., assisting, will begin here on Monday, July 10 at 8 p. m. Come and bring someone.

We are glad that Layton Brinkley was not seriously injured at the Legion picnic.

Mrs. Denny and children seem to be slowly recovering from serious burns.

From Your Undersigned County Officials To People Of Boone Co.

Dear Friends

As the primary election approaches, we, the undersigned as your elected county officials, have tried to discover who among those running is the most honest, intelligent, and sincere. As you know, on Saturday, August 6, there will be a crucial election in the form of the Democratic Primary.

Having studied the candidates for the office of Governor of Kentucky who are running for nomination in that primary, we found our choice an exceptionally easy one to make. We feel Judge Bert T. Combs is the man best qualified in every way for being our next Governor and, by this publication, we wish to announce our complete and unqualified endorsement of Judge Combs as the candidate of our choice and the one we support. We are not interested in any personal gain or position for ourselves but feel that the election of Judge Combs will be to the best interest of Boone County as well as the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

We would therefore appreciate it as a personal favor to us if you, your family and friends will vote for Judge Combs at the Democratic Primary, Saturday, Aug. 6. Thank you very much.

FROM THE PAGES OF
THE NATION'S HISTORY
COME THE STORIES OF

KENTUCKY'S HISTORIC SHRINES

Cumberland Gap, Kentucky's Gateway to the West for America's pioneers, opened up a great new world for the nation's early settlers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky.

Historic shrines stand today in many Kentucky communities, commemorating the lives of great men and the stirring events which were a part of the historic story of Kentucky. Many highways follow historic trails. This luxurious country, which was both "Happy Hunting Ground" and "Dark and Bloody Ground" to the Indians, became the earliest promised land for the pioneers from the East.

The history of Kentucky makes up much of the early history of the nation, and the nation's history is filled with the deeds of men who were first Kentuckians. The deeds and men of this history are memorialized in state parks, shrines and museums throughout the state. To the studious or to the casually interested observer of history, Kentucky is an exciting museum, an inspirational and unforgettable center of historic action.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT

The writer of this ad had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot. Just give it a try. Your 40c back at any drug store if not completely pleased.

Prolong Alfalfa's Life With Plant Nutrient Top-Dressing

Poorly fed soil, no alfalfa (left). Here's the alfalfa stand (right) when the crop got all the needed nutrients in balance.

THE life span of alfalfa stands can be greatly increased by top-dressing your meadows with a full feed of phosphate-potash fertilizer after the first cutting of hay, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Your pastures will make a quicker comeback this summer and you will get these additional benefits, says the committee:

- 1—Each acre will produce more hay. This will cut the cost of feeding your dairy or beef cattle and give you higher profits.
- 2—Higher yields often mean higher quality. Your hay may have a larger protein content and be more nutritious.
- 3—The fertilizer will help de-

Trench silos can be filled without a blower. The cost of feeding cattle from a trench silo can be reduced by self-feeding from the open end. Silage in a trench silo is removed or fed out from one end.

Chopped and unchopped grass and legumes as well as chopped corn have been successfully stored in trench silos. A good crop of corn will yield 10 tons of silage an acre. A crop of hay that will yield two tons field cured an acre will produce about six tons of silage an acre. Forage must be well packed with a tractor when the silo is filled.

The college's engineers have figured to show sizes of trench silos needed to feed various numbers of cattle 90 days to 180 days. Included are the widths at top and bottom, depth, length and capacities in tons.

Trench Silo Okay If Properly Made

That farmers are showing wide interest in trench silos as a way to preserve food is indicated by letters received at the University of Kentucky, College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Engineers at the college point out that it is now possible to make trench silos permanent, if attention is given to location and construction.

Drainage is important. There should be no mud in and around the silo. The approaches should be covered with rock or gravel. The silo floor should keep out water, and the walls should be coated with concrete to keep them from sloughing off. The silo should be located where it will save work in filling and feeding.

Fertilizer 'Best Buy' Compared to Other Items Farmers Use

FERTILIZER is still in the "best buy" class on the farmer's shopping list, Michigan agronomists report.

These soils men point out that plant food has gone up less in cost than virtually any other commodity a farmer buys. Yet fertilizer is a production item that increases crop yields and profits and often returns $3 to $5 for every dollar invested.

R. L. Carolus, Michigan State College horticulturist, reports that the cost of fertilizer today is only 13 per cent above that of 25 years ago, whereas the cost of other farm supplies has increased by 125 per cent.

Since 1930, fertilizer use on American farms has increased from 5 1/2 million tons to 21 million tons at present, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out. As fertilizer use has risen, its crop-feeding power has steadily been increased by the manufacturers.

A number of the high analysis nitrogen-phosphate-potash fertilizers today contain twice as much plant nutrient as did the older, lower grade fertilizers 25 years ago, the committee says.

Soil Building Boosts Beef Output, Doubles Profit

Fertilizing pastures can often double beef production per acre.

NEARLY a billion more pounds of beef could be produced on Midwestern farms, if pastures were fertilized according to the recommendations of Land Grant colleges' agronomists.

That was the statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee based on estimates of soil specialists. These authorities figure that the present beef acreage in eight Midwestern states could be produced on about half to two-thirds of the acreage now used. Many Midwestern farmers could produce from 600 to 800 pounds per acre of beef, with better soil and pasture management methods. Some agronomists estimate, too, that milk production could be doubled or tripled on the farmers, by the use of more fertilizer and grasses.

"Prescription" for Soil Building Gives 220-Bu.-Corn Yield

FERTILIZER "prescriptions" are helping some Wisconsin farmers grow corn yields up to 220 bushels per acre, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in summarizing 1954 results of the Wisconsin Pacemaker Corn Club. The "prescriptions" are written by soil specialists of the University of Wisconsin. In the Pacemaker Corn Club program, each member sends soil samples to the University for analysis. The agronomists then write the "prescriptions," telling the grower which plant nutrient elements are needed to produce top corn yields, what fertilizer to apply and how best to care for his crop.

The "prescriptions" are based on the soil samples, the previous cropping history of each field and the average maturity date for corn in each area. Last year, 690 corn growers in 34 Wisconsin counties averaged 113 bushels per acre in the Pacemaker's program. Highest yield was 220 bushels per acre, harvested by Lawrence Gunnison, of Cambridge, in Dane county. Another Dane county farmer, Joseph Caine, had a 216 bushel yield. Runner-up was Robert Schwalzer, of LaCrosse county, with 208 bushels per acre. In addition to the fertilizer "prescription," the yield-boosting program includes using certified hybrid seed and planting a stalk population big enough to use all the plant nutrients available in the soil.

Band-Seeded Legumes Get Jump on Weeds Make Thick Stands

SUMMER seeding of legumes or legume-grass crops after grain harvest can be a profit-building practice on many Midwestern farms, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. That's particularly true where the season is long enough to allow roots and tops time to make thick, husky growth. Some agronomists say best results come when there is at least six weeks of frost-free growing weather following grain harvest.

The soils men stress this point, too: You have to feed the legumes to get high, profit-building yields. Legumes have heavy appetites for phosphate and potash. So it is wise to follow college recommendations for fertilizer carrying these nutrients and to add lime, too, if needed.

Many farmers have found they can establish thrifty legume stands by adding plant food via band seeding method and by applying additional amounts of phosphate-potash fertilizer to build the soil's overall fertility reserves.

Band seeding places practically all the legume and grass seed about 1/4 to 1/2 inch deep in the soil and about an inch above a band of fertilizer. In this way, the seedling roots are within quick and easy reach of nutrient supplies when they need them most.

This helps get the young plants off to a quick, vigorous start and gives them the jump on weeds. Then, when the roots grow bigger and push deeper down they will find reserve stocks of nutrients from plowed-down fertilizer to feed them all season long.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By G. L. Kingsbury

Tobacco Prices:

Just aside Washington, in Maryland, something is going on of interest to Kentucky tobacco farmers. Members of the Maryland General Assembly are investigating low tobacco prices.

There, in the southern counties of Maryland, the crop already is half-sold and prices are 12 cents lower than last year. Company buyers have been summoned to tell lawmakers about the situation.

One buyer explained that the quality is poor and, in addition, there is no government price support on the Maryland crop.

Markland Dam:

More activity on the Markland Dam and it looks as though Congress, after some backing and stalling, is going to come up with the money. But don't rush out to buy a new boat to race up and down the Ohio river.

It's going to take about five years to build the dam and when it is completed there will be a "lake" 90 miles long. The only remaining thing that must be done is to clean up the river and make it usable for swimming. That task, in itself, is a problem!

Majority Leader:

The elevation of Kentucky's Earle Clements to majority leadership of the Senate is a natural development for several reasons.

First of all, the assistant leader—the late Clements held before Senator Johnson fell ill—is usually elected by his colleagues. And secondly, Earle Clements has the gift of leadership. His political career, dating back about 30 years, includes an unbroken series of victories from county clerk, judge, sheriff and state senate (and the majority leadership there), member of congress, governor and now, senator. He's well liked by his colleagues on both sides of the senate aisle.

Earlier this year, Senator Clements was the acting leader and upon Senator Johnson's return to duty following an operation, members of the senate got up to heap praise on the Kentuckian for his firmness and astuteness.

Emergency Pastures Cut Feed Cost, Keep Milk Output High

It's time for emergency pasture when grazing gets short like this.

DAIRY farmers can help lick the traditional summer milk slump by growing well fertilized emergency pastures to pinch-hit for bluegrass growth that is burned out by hot, droughty weather, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Emergency pastures such as Sudan grass or oats and rape, says the committee, can pay off in faster milk checks. They can save you money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain. They can help cut down costs of milk production and increase your net returns.

The key to these benefits is high pasture yields per acre. To get those high yields, your soil needs a high fertility level. Whether you plant Sudan grass or oats and rape, the emergency pasture crop needs not only a balance of fertility, but ample amounts of fertilizer as well.

Using a fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash at from 300 to 500 pounds per acre can be good insurance against poor stands and low yields that cut the carrying capacity and run up the cost of each pound of feed.

Agonomists at Corn Belt colleges say that seedlings for emergency or supplemental pastures can be made up to the middle of June.

Sudan grass is particularly resistant to drought, the agonomists point out. One precaution is necessary, however. Agonomists advise keeping livestock off Sudan grass pasture until the growth is 18 or more inches high and has taken on a dark green color. This is a safeguard against prussic acid poisoning.

Electric and Automatic

Everything today is electric and automatic. You buy Perfection electric range, put your food in the oven, set it on automatic, it comes on, cooks the food and turns itself off. You buy electric Dyson water pump, it is set automatically to pump at 20 pounds pressure and cut off at 40 pounds. You buy a Cool-Aire room air conditioner, set your thermostat at 75 degrees and it will work automatically. You buy Mirromatic percolator, it percs the coffee and automatically keeps it hot until you drink it. Electric ice cream freezers are right in season—buy one!

This was the day after the fourth of July and we were really busy. Everyone wanted something to work with or to keep them cool. Mrs. Mary Howe bought a 12" G. E. fan. When you buy this type fan you buy something you will have for years. I hate to sell my customers those cheap fans when I know they will cause trouble. We sold a lot of paint and screen wire, also screen doors, water hose, hose handles, 14" iron skillet, a lot of pink enamelware, dishes, pitchers, sets of glasses, floor enamel, iron board and lots of Rotomane.

George Nicholson bought the best G. E. fan I had, the old model 16" oscillating fan they have made for years to sell for $49.50—it will last for 25 years. Beattie Webster and daughter were in—they bought a 20" table fan. We sold out of Boice outside white—1 called Boice and they sent down another load—we get it fresh—this was just made last week and it don't have time to get hard in bucket. Red Belcher has been buying a lot of paint for Woodland Inn.

Ben Dixon bought a gallon of Insect 'spray' for tobacco worms and grasshoppers. We have lots of different things for the insects. Carl Simpson bought pump repairs and a metal lawn chair. Ray Johnson bought the new Maytag washer I have been advertising. Mrs. J. C. Benton bought a lot of window shades for one of their houses. William Armstrong got five large poultry feeders on legs and 200' of 1" plastic pipe with the fittings.

Neuman Armstrong called to bring him something that would kill bed beetles, so I sent him that 1½% Rotomane, which will do the work. Oatney Worthington came after an electric water pump and 167' of plastic pipe for over at Goshen Church. Mrs. Anna Mae Davis from Galatin county bought an XLX chain pump with all the fittings, a stepladder, a lot of dishes and other pots and pans. Blanche Franks brought in her electric fan for repairs—I just had a broken cord. Roger Robinson and wife bought a lot of fishing tackle and some camping pots, pans, tools and skillets—they are going on a fishing trip.

Nelda Lucas and mother bought a lot of Armstrong lineoleum—Nelda put it down but did not like the job too much. Laying lineoleum is hard and tiresome—try it sometime. Mr. Hall up at Last Chance bought a 12x12 lineoleum for his pithen. We unloaded two more shipments of paint. We sure sell paint because we carry a large stock of all kinds, colors and prices. Save money and buy paint from CONRAD! That is one reason we sell so much, because our prices are lower.

Brewster installed an air conditioning unit in Mark Meadows' home and put one in for my wife. They really make it comfortable up here in this apartment. Mrs. John Kennedy was over early today and bought a new rug and a metal lawn chair. Alfrie Henderson came after a set of guards for his mower—he has a lot of thick hay to cut. We unpacked a lot of new patterns in glassware pitchers and glasses in a lot of new designs and colors.

Mrs. John House bought a 12" G. E. oscillating fan. This is one of the best fans on the market today for the money. Mrs. Lorena Myers had Brewster put a new work in her water heater. Mort Rust brought down a lot of down spout in to solder together. Walter King, bought Marlate to kill flies on his cows, D-Con Fly-Con to kill flies in dairy barn and D-Con rat poison for the rats—he is sure hard on the flies and rats. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, on Verona Road, bought two metal lawn chairs. We sell lots of these every year.

Robert Hoffman bought his wife a G. E. steam iron—you can iron wet or dry with these irons and they are not heavy. Spencer Reed was in today and we got to talking about electric ranges and he was telling how cheap they cooked on an electric range. That is what I have been trying to tell all of you for a long time. Now is the time to buy a new Perfection electric range. They are cheaper than they have been for several years but are going up again. I will sell you a double oven range for only $269 and a single oven for $229.

We also have a cheaper range for $129. We sold more Dayton water pumps today and lots of plastic pipe. We made up U bolts and strap irons for Robert Durr. We soldered down scout for Mort Rust. We repaired several irons. When you buy at CONRAD's you get service and the best hardware I can buy and some of it is not too good. We try to put it in in the best way we can use it without a lot of trouble. Bill Denier took out another load of Boice paint—he is painting for Mrs. Frederica Mann out at the farm.

Walton Firemen's Picnic Set For This Week-end

Elimination Series In Softball League To Get Started July 29

The Boone County Softball League held a meeting this week and all details were worked out for the elimination series, leading up to the championship series.

Drawings were as follows: Petersburg vs. Grassy Creek at Burlington, July 29; Burlington vs. Rural Daxol at Kentaboo, July 30; Walton vs. Hebron at Walton, July 29. The second round will be Grassy Creek vs. Rural Daxol at Walton, August 5; Petersburg vs. Hebron at Kentaboo, August 5; Walton vs. Burlington at Burlington, August 5. The elimination series is a two-and-out affair.

The Walton Merchants won their last game of the season, against Petersburg, by a score of 21 to 14, in a rain-soaked slugfest.

The final season standings:

	won	lost
Burlington	7	1
Walton	7	3
Rural Daxol	4	4
Hebron	4	5
Petersburg	2	7
Grassy Creek	2	7

Benefit Game Sunday

The Walton Merchants will play on Sunday afternoon at the Verona park against a worthy opponent, and the entire proceeds will be given to Wendell Ryan, a well-known sports figure, who recently was stricken with rheumatoid fever. The public is urged to attend and help this very worthy cause.

TWO OPERATORS ON DUTY

The Walton telephone exchange now has two operators on duty during most of the daytime hours. G. B. Foushee, General Manager, Consolidated Telephone Company, reported this week.

Mr. Foushee said that while reporting the fact that two operators were now on duty sounded like a very simple statement, the work behind the project was very involved.

It became necessary to remove the old switchboard, made to accommodate only one operator and to rebuild and install another switchboard, removed from the old Florence exchange, without any interruption to service.

It took more than a month to complete the change-over. The work was done under supervision of Ray Brooks, equipment engineer for the telephone company.

Service at Walton is now very much improved, Mr. Foushee said.

Former Resident Honored

Samuel W. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard of Church Street, and a former Waltonian, recently completed his freshman year at California Western University, San Diego, with flying colors. He was one of four students, one from each class, to received the outstanding achievement award, given by that school.

Segregation May End This Year In Walton-Verona School District

Segregation in the schools of the Walton-Verona Independent School District will be ended, beginning with the school term starting in September, if the Board of Education heeds a mandate handed Tuesday night at a meeting in the new Walton school, attended by both white and Negro parents.

J. O. Ward, school superintendent, who presided, said the question of ending segregation now or postponing it for a year should be decided by the people and that both white and colored should study the problem together.

When the question was put to a vote, 41 voted in favor of ending segregation, beginning with the fall term, while 18 voted to defer it for a year. Several persons, both white and Negro, declined to vote.

Following the meeting, the following called to order by Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, regent. Mrs. Clarence Wallie read the President General's message, following which Mrs. Samuel Denham, Sr., gave a message on National Defense.

The Chapter Homemaker's award was presented to Miss Barbara Avery, Petersburg, pupil of Mrs. Fannie Collins. Announcement was also made of the State contest winner, Miss Virginia R. Nestor, for her essay on Big Bone Springs.

SAMUEL H. MCCARTT

Services were held Monday morning at the Allison & Rose funeral home, Covington, for Samuel H. McCartt, 79, of Covington, who died last Friday at St. Petersburg, Fla. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Ft. Mitchell.

Mr. McCartt, a former agent at the Southern Railroad depot, in Walton, he was 79 years old, and a member of Walton Lodge, 719, F. & A. M., as well as the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers. Besides Walton, he had worked for the Southern in Ludlow and Cincinnati.

Survivors include a son, Lawrence E. McCartt, Kenton county engineer, of Dudley Pike; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Thornton at Edgewood, and Mrs. Gladys Spang at St. Petersburg, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Della Williams of Covington; eight grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Under Retirement Law Teachers Get Total of $1,261,000

Kentucky's Teacher Retirement System, now 15 years old and with a membership of more than 22,000 school teachers—retired 128 teachers at the end of the past school year for various reasons, N. O. Kimbler, secretary of the Retirement System, said.

The number included seven for disability and 69 reached the compulsory retirement age of 70. Two of the retired teachers are 48 years old, with the others ranging between 48 and 70 years.

During the last school year, $1,261,000 was disbursed to teachers under provisions of the Retirement law, with the current school year's requirements being estimated at $1,500,000.

Since the system was activated in 1942, more than 2,000 school teachers have retired, of whom 249 retired due to physical disability. Those who have retired have received from the system $4,850,000 in allowances; while death benefits and refunds have amounted to $2,452,000.

The Retirement System operates on a matching basis, according to Kimbler, with the State paying an additional amount for prior service. Teachers' have in their savings fund $13,250,000. The State has paid $4,325,000 in prior service contributions, with the total reserve now exceeding $32,000,000. Cumulative interest earnings on the total reserve amount to $4,500,000.

Proceeds for Purchase Of Practice Grounds

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department is presenting their annual picnic this weekend—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This organization is composed of volunteer members who contribute their time and efforts to the prevention as well as the extinguishing of fire.

Members attend fire school each year at the University of Kentucky to learn the latest methods of fire fighting and bring them home to the fire department so the techniques can be applied to our community.

Every Monday night, the department meets to check the equipment, clean the fire house, and go out in the community to work out a theoretical fire. Many of the business places in town have been mapped out as to the location of fire equipment, entry into the building, and particular hazards that would be encountered if a fire happened. "Pre-attack plan," as we call it has aided the department to extinguish a blaze that might otherwise have destroyed the building.

With the thought in mind that experience is the best teacher, we purchased the ball diamond on the old school property. Future plans call for the erection of a three story training tower. This tower will have windows, stairway, and doors to simulate a house. Fires can be built in the tower so fire department personnel can get the experience of entering a hot, smoke filled room to prepare themselves for the time it might be YOUR business or residence. Ladders can be raised on the outside to put hose through a window or rescue stranded persons. Facilities for water supplies on the ground will be a fire hydrant as used in the city limits and an underground tank for drafting water to duplicate a pond or cistern that we use in the country.

The above paragraphs have outlined the purpose of the fire department and why we purchased the ball diamond. The money we make from our picnic this weekend will help pay for the practice ground and equipment we need to maintain a high standard of fire service in this community. HELP US SO WE CAN HELP YOU!—W.V.F.D. Pub. Chm.

Week of July 24-31 Proclaimed State Soil Conservation Week

The week of July 24-31 has been proclaimed by Governor Lawrence Wetherby as State Soil Conservation Week.

In keeping with the aims and intent of the Governor's proclamation, Judge C. L. Cropper, Boone County, by a similar proclamation, called upon "all citizens of Boone county to observe the period as Soil Conservation District Week."

M. W. Belt, Burlington, Work Unit Conservationist for the Boone County Soil Conservation District, reports that Boone county farmers are keeping his office very busy in working up conservation farm plans, staking out farm lakes and ponds, and making specific recommendations in reforestation for land unfit for other purposes.

Mr. Belt also reported that a team of U. S. Soil Conservation scientists and engineers was in Boone county last week rechecking the feasibility of the proposed Gunpowder Creek watershed impoundment.

Members of the group, who discussed the matter with one of the local soil conservation district supervisors, said that Boone county still was in the running, providing that full cooperation could be secured from farmers whose land lies in the watershed.

A spokesman for the team explained that the Hope-Alken bill, approved by both houses of Congress in 1954, was designed to clear the way for Federal, state and local cooperation in small watershed programs, thus bringing the entire water control program of the country closer to home.

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service has declared emphatically that the small watershed idea fills the biggest gap in the management of the country's soil and water resources. It gets at the heart of

Electric and Automatic

Everything today is electric and automatic. You buy perfection electric range, put your food in the oven, set it on automatic, it comes on, cooks the food, and turns itself off. You buy electric Dyson water pump, it is set automatically to pump at 20 pounds pressure and cut off at 40 pounds. You buy a Cool-Air room air conditioner, set your thermostat at 75 degrees and it will work automatically. You buy a Miramonte percolator, it percs the coffee and automatically keeps it hot until you drink it. Electric ice cream freezers are right in season—buy one!

This was the day after the fourth of July and we were really busy. Everyone wanted something to work with to keep them cool. Mrs. Mary Howe bought a 12" G. E. fan. When you buy this type fan you buy something you have for years. I hate to sell my customers those cheap fans when I know they will cause trouble. We sold a lot of paint and screen wire, also screen doors, water hose, hoe handles, 14" iron skillet, a lot of pink enamelware, dishes, pitchers, sets of glasses, floor enamel, iron board and lots of Rotanone.

George Nicholson bought the best G. E. fan I had, the old model 16" oscillating fan they have made for years to sell for $49.50—it will last for 25 years. Bessie Webster and daughter were in—they bought a 20" table fan. We sold out of Bolce outside white—called Bolce and they sent down another load—we get it fresh—this was just made last week and it didn't have time to get hard in bucket. Red Belcher has been buying a lot of paint for Woodland Inn.

Ben Dixon bought a gallon of insect spray for tobacco worms and grasshoppers. We have lots of different liquids and powders for the insects. Carl Simpson bought pump repairs and a metal lawn chair. Ray Johnson bought the used vacuum washer. I have been advertising. Mrs. J. C. Benton bought a lot of window shades for one of her houses. William Armstrong got five large poultry feeders on legs and 200' of 1" plastic pipe with the fittings.

Neuman Armstrong called to bring him something that would kill bent berries, so I sent him that 1 1/2" Rotanone, which will do the work. Oatney Worthington came after an electric water pump and 167' of plastic pipe for over at Graham Church. Mrs. Anna Mae Davis from Gallatin county bought an IXL chain pump with all the fittings, a stapler, a lot of dishes and other things for over at Graham Church. Mrs. Anna Mae Davis for repairs—it just had a broken cord. Roger Robinson and wife bought a lot of fishing tackle and some camping pots, pans, tools and skillets—they are going on a fishing trip.

Nelda Lucas and mother bought a lot of Armstrong lineoleum—Nelda put it down but did not like the job too much. Laying lineoleum is hard and tiresome—try it sometime. Mr. Hall up at Lost Chance bought a 12x12 lineoleum for his pitch. We unloaded two more shipments of paint. We sure sell paint because we carry a large stock of all kinds, colors and prices. Some money and buy paint from CONRAD! That is one reason we sell so much, because our prices are lower.

Brewster installed an air conditioning unit in Mark Meadows' home and put one in for my wife. They really make it comfortable up here in this apartment. Mrs. John Kennedy was over early today and bought a new rug and a metal lawn chair. Alfrie Henderson came after a set of guards for his mower—he has a lot of thick hay to cut. We unpacked a lot of new patterns in glassware pitchers and glasses in a lot of new designs and colors.

Mrs. John House bought a 12" G. E. oscillating fan. This is one of the best fans on the market today for the money. Mrs. Lorena Myers had Brewster put a new wick in her water heater. Rust brought down a lot of down spout for us to solder together. Walter King bought Marfale to kill flies on his cows. D. Con Fly Con to kill flies in dairy barn and D-Con rat poison for the rats—he is sure hard on the flies and rats—Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, on Verona Road, bought two metal lawn chairs. We sell lots of these every year.

Robert Hoffman bought his wife a G. E. steam iron—you can iron wet or dry with these irons and they are not heavy. Spencer Reed was in today and we got to talking about electric ranges and he was telling how cheap they cooked on a electric range. That is what I have been trying to tell all of you for a long time. Now is the time to buy a new Perfection electric range. They are cheaper than they have been for several years, but are going up again. I will sell you a double oven range for only $269 and a single oven for $229.

We also have a cheaper range for $129. We sold more Dayton water pumps today and lots of plastic pipe. We made up U bolts strap irons for Robert Durr. We soldered down spout for Rust Rust. We repaired several irons. When you buy of CONRAD'S you get service and the best hardware I can buy and some of it is not too good. We try to put it in condition so you can use it without a lot of trouble. Bill Denster took out another load of Bolce paint—he is painting for Mrs. Frederica Mann out at the farm.

Benefit Game Sunday

The Walton Merchants will play on Sunday afternoon at the Verona Park against a worthy opponent, and the entire proceeds will be given to Wendell Ryan, a well-known sports figure, who recently was stricken with rheumatoid fever. The public is urged to attend and help this very worthy cause.

TWO OPERATORS ON DUTY

The Walton telephone exchange now has two operators on duty during most of the daytime hours. G. B. Foscoe, General Manager, Consolidated Telephone Company, reported this week.

Mr. Foscoe said that while reporting the fact that two operators were now on duty sounded like a very simple statement, the work behind the project was very involved.

It became necessary to remove the old switchboard, made to accommodate only one operator and to rebuild and install another switchboard, removed from the old Florence exchange, without any interruption to service.

It took more than a month to complete the change-over. The work was done under supervision of Ray Brooks, equipment engineer for the telephone company.

Service at Walton is now very much improved, Mr. Foscoe said.

Former Resident Honored

Samuel W. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard of Church Street, and a former Waltonian, recently completed his freshman year at California Western University, San Diego, with flying colors. He was one of four students, one from each class, to receive the outstanding achievement award, given by that school.

Segregation May End This Year In Walton-Verona School District

Segregation in the schools of the Walton-Verona Independent School District will be ended, beginning with the school term starting in September, if the Board of Education heeds a mandate handed them Tuesday night at a meeting in the new Walton school, attended by both white and Negro parents.

J. O. Ward, school superintendent, who presided, said the question of ending segregation now or postponing it for a year should be decided by the people and that both white and colored should study the problem together.

When the question was put to a vote, 41 voted in favor of ending segregation, beginning with the fall term, while 18 voted to defer it for a year. Several persons, both white and Negro, declined to vote.

Clarence Vest and David Houston were the only Board members present. O. F. Young resigned as a member of this body last month.

Under Retirement Law Teachers Get Total of $1,261,000

Kentucky's Teacher Retirement System, now 15 years old and with a membership of more than 22,000 school teachers—retired 128 teachers at the end of the past school year for various reasons, N. O. Kimbler, secretary of the Retirement System, said.

The number included seven for disability and 69 reached the compulsory retirement age of 70. Two of the retired teachers are 48 years old, with the others ranging between 48 and 70 years.

During the last school year, $1,261,000 was disbursed to teachers under provisions of the Retirement law, with the current school year's requirements being estimated at $1,500,000.

Since the system was activated in 1942, more than 2,000 school teachers have retired, of whom 249 retired due to physical disability. Those who have retired have received from the system $4,850,000 in allowances, while death benefits and refunds have amounted to $2,452,000.

Report On 1955 ACP In Boone County Is Released by Chairm'n

A review and appraisal of accomplishments to date under the 1955 Agricultural Conservation Program has just been completed by the local ASC office staff, according to A. L. Stephens, Chairman of the County ASC Committee. Funds made available to farmers in the county for Federal cost-sharing amounting to $36,204 were divided into two budgetary periods. The first period began at the opening of the program year, January 1, 1955, and ended June 30. Cost-sharing in the amount of $18,664.22 for the performance of conservation practices during this time was approved for 126 farms.

Requests for Federal cost-sharing for practices to be performed the second half of the program year are now being taken at the county office, but the initial sign-up will end July 30, Mr. Stephens said. Orders for lime, fertilizer, and seed are being taken under the Purchase Order plan for the carrying out of approved conservation practices.

All farmers who have not already done so, and who have a conservation need, should contact the local ASC office and discuss their needs in the light of practices available under this year's program.

Mr. Stephens pointed out that more opportunities are offered farmers for good conservation in the county this year through ACP than in many years. More funds have been appropriated by Congress for the National program, and as a result, the allocation to the county is larger. We have more acreage eligible for and badly in need of some form of conservation through the ACP.

Stet and Son, on Green Road, south of Walton, for Friday, July 22 at 2:00 p. m. E. C. Scheidehalm, Field Agent in Dairymen, from the Dairy Department of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, will be the guest speaker, discussing dairy management problems with local dairymen. Proceeds for Purchase Of Practice Grounds

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department is presenting their annual picnic this weekend—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This organization is composed of volunteer members who contribute their time and efforts to the prevention as well as the extinguishing of fire.

Members attend fire school each year at the University of Kentucky to learn the latest methods of fire fighting and bring them home to the fire department so the techniques can be applied to our community.

Every Monday night, the department meets to check the equipment, clean the fire house, and go out in the community to work out a theoretical fire. Many of the business places in town have been mapped out as to the location of fire equipment, entry into the building, and particular hazards that would be encountered if a fire happened. "Pre-attack plan," as we call it has aided the department to extinguish a blaze that might otherwise have destroyed the building.

With the thought in mind that experience is the best teacher, we purchased the ball diamond on the old school property. Future plans call for the erection of a three story training tower. This tower will have windows, stairways, and doors to simulate a house. Fires can be built in the tower so fire department personnel can get the experience of entering a hot, smoke filled room to prepare themselves for the time it might be YOUR business or residence. Ladders can be raised on the outside to put hose through a window or rescue stranded persons. Facilities for water supplies on the ground will be available as used in the city limits. An underground tank for drafting water to duplicate a pond or cistern that we use in the country.

The above paragraphs have outlined the purpose of the fire department and why we purchased the ball diamond. The money we make from our picnic this weekend will help pay for the practice ground and equipment we need to maintain a high standard of fire service in this community. HELP US!—W.V.F.D. Pub. Chm.

Week of July 24-31 Proclaimed State Soil Conservation Week

The week of July 24-31 has been proclaimed by Governor Lawrence Wetherby as Statewide Soil Conservation Week.

In keeping with the aims and intent of the Governor's proclamation, Judge C. L. Cropper, Boone County, by a similar proclamation, called upon "all citizens of Boone county to observe the period as Soil Conservation District Week."

M. W. Bell, Burlington, Work Unit Conservatorist for the Boone County Soil Conservation District, reports that Boone county farmers are keeping his office very busy in working up conservation plans, staking out farm lakes and ponds, and making specific recommendations in reforestation for land unfit for other purposes.

Mr. Bell also reported that a team of U. S. Soil Conservation scientists and engineers was in the county last week, checking the feasibility of the proposed Gunpowder Creek watershed impoundment.

Members of the group, who discussed with one of the local soil conservation district supervisors, said that Boone county still was in the running, providing that full cooperation could be secured from farmers whose land lies in the watershed.

A spokesman for the team explained that the Hope-Aiken bill, approved by both houses of Congress in 1954, was designed to clear the way for Federal, state and local cooperation in small watershed areas, bringing the entire water control program of the country closer to home.

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service has declared emphatically that the small watershed idea fills the biggest gap in the management of the country's soil and water resources. It gets at the heart of the problem.

The new "Two-Ten" Sport Coupe

Maybe you've had a yen for a hardtop but couldn't quite squeeze it into your budget. If so, this baby's for you! It's the hardtop as only Chevrolet builds it. Long, low and plenty saucy, like its convertible cousin. It's an honest-to-goodness hardtop, too—no center pillars when you roll down the windows. Nothing but fresh air and a picture-window view. Best of all, this big, beautiful "Two-Ten" Sport Coupe is priced right down with the two-door sedans in Chevrolet's field. It lists for less than any other leading hardtop sold today. Come in and see what a wallop bargain it is.

HERE IS HOW HE REDUCED THE STATE DEBT

It should be repeated that Chandler DID NOT retire the state debt during his administration; he reduced the state debt by $14,558,481.76 and this was accomplished from the benefits of $14,688,723 derived from whiskey and beer taxes levied in 1934, prior to his administration. This windfall that came into the state treasury was actually $130,242.00 more than the state debt was reduced under Chandler.

This is a matter of record and not truth twisted by Chandler, who puts his own ambitions above the good of Kentucky and Kentuckians.

the trouble, the department says, is that it combines good soil conservation practices on the land with stream improvement and small water-retention structures that keep the rainfall mostly where it falls.

Soil conservation experts contend, too, that more can be accomplished by using the small watershed as a basic conservation unit than in any other way since all resources—soil, water, forest, and recreation—can be worked into a unified program at one and the same time.

If a water retention structure is constructed near the headwaters of Gunpowder Creek, it would provide water not only for irrigation purposes during periods of drought, but it would serve as an auxiliary water supply for small municipalities as well.

A citizens organization, known as the Gunpowder Creek Watershed Association was formed in 1954. Joe Dringenberg, Florence, is president, with Robert Ellis, Burlington, secretary.

Soil Conservation district supervisors for the county are: Joseph Huey, Union; Stanley Eichholz, Walton; Route 2; Earl Jones, Verona; Charles Hemphill, Taylorport; and Mr. Ellis.

Ferguson, Charlotte Fullerton, Donald S. Fullerton, Thomas Ray Johnson, Elmer K. Kidwell, Anne Lou Lutes, William Lucas Maddox, James Clifford Pruett, Robert Thomas Pruitt, Frances L. Ground Broken for Church

Construction of a new church building for Grace Episcopal Parish, Florence, is expected to be finished in time for occupancy before Christmas.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Sunday at the site on Price Pike at Sweetbrier Avenue. Rev. Bruce Weatherly, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Covington, officiated, assisted by Rev. F. W. Kephart, Jr., vicar of Grace Church; Rev. A. D. Willis, assistant at Florence; and Newell Graham, G. B. Foscoe, Jr., and James E. Ransom, lay leaders.

The mission congregation, sponsored by Trinity Church, has been meeting in the Florence Community Center for almost a year. The new structure will cost about $27,500.

Poultry-raisers in Meade county are trying to get 100,000 hens signed up for an egg-marketing coop. Arrangements have been made for grading and packing Edmonson county tomatoes for the commercial trade.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT

The writer of this ad had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for similar itches. Just give it a try. Your 40c back at any drug store if not completely pleased. BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Right and Wrong

Lesson for July 24, 1955

IT IS all very well to speak of the downfall of a nation, or of a national disaster, you can read in history books that such and such a nation finally was wiped out in such and such a year. Judah, for instance, ceased to exist as a nation after 586 B. C. But these are cold words. When a nation, a city, goes to smash, it means that homes are burned down, people are killed, business is bankrupt, nothing is "as Dr. Foreman usual" any more. There is no way a nation can crash without taking many individual lives and much happiness down with it.

Pulling Others Down

Out of the many lessons one can learn from the downfall of Judah and its capital Jerusalem is that innocent people suffer with the guilty and because of the guilty. Not every one in a wicked nation is wicked; some may have been doing their level best to keep the nation from going on the wrong track. Jeremiah is a prime example of this kind of man. An inspired prophet, he had been warning his fellow-citizens for years, as had Ezekiel and other prophets. But in the general disaster he suffered quite as much as anybody who was to blame for the whole mess. Jerusalem was swallowed, you might say, in two bites. The first was in 597 B. C. when the boy king Jehoiachin was taken off to Babylon there to spend the rest of his days as a prisoner. Along with the kinglet went the royal family, the aristocracy, the top army officers, and a thousand skilled workers. Jerusalem and Judah were left to third-raters for eleven years; stupid, weak men who (to make a long story short) committed national suicide. Jeremiah suffered a great deal at the hands of these men. More than this he suffered in the final days of starvation and panic. (Of which more next week.) He was by far not the first, last or only innocent man to suffer in a nation's disaster. A good Christian like Kagawa suffers for Hitler's madness; a saintly Japanese like Kagawa suffers in Japan's defeat, even though both of them protested against their nation's policies.

Pulling Others Up
Needless to say, there is the other side of this. Just as the innocent are dragged down by the guilty, so the guilty are sometimes protected and benefited by the good. A nation by breaking God's laws pulls down many individuals who keep God's laws as far as they can; and on the other hand a nation that keeps God's laws pulls up many individuals who are quite indifferent to God. Take America at the present writing, for instance. The picture may have changed by the time you read this; but while it is being written our nation is at peace, prosperity blooms on every side, we are one of the two most powerful nations the world has ever seen. Who deserves the credit? Not all of us, surely! We talk about the heroism of our forefathers, immigrants and pioneers; but we are not very heroic. We talk about American smartness and know-how, but few of us know how! We point with pride to our vast educational system—and we read the comic strips. We are happy to see arson brought under control and fertility restored to waste land. But how many farmers were eager for such a program at first? We are proud of progress, when if it had been left to most of us, we would still be stuck in the mud.

The Price of Being Human
The truth is, and we cannot be reminded of it too often, that the human race is all tied together. Mankind is made for community. The human race is not like a tray of sand, where one grain can be blown off without disturbing the others very much. It is more like a block of concrete; move one grain of that and it will move the whole block. We are pulled down by the community or the nation when that is better than we are; so we have not too much to cry about when we are pulled down by the community or the nation when that is worse than we are. We can't have it both ways. We must not expect to benefit from the goodness of our good neighbors and at the same time not be hurt by the badness of our bad neighbors. It is the price of being human, that we are bonded together with countless others, and that with them we must often suffer the severe judgment of God.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

Have enough gas for where you're going, Mister?

Well, little matter. You can always get more at some service station.

The same goes if unexpected guests drop in at home. You can buy bread, meat, or eggs at a nearby store... or you can borrow from a neighbor.

But this is not possible when a serious emergency strikes. You have to be prepared beforehand. You can't buy strength of spirit. Nor can you borrow it. It grows within you, little at a time.

So be prepared when disappointment discouragement, trouble, or grief strike.

Through worship at Church fortify yourself with faith and courage. Get acquainted with God's love and wisdom.

Come what may, you'll be ready for any emergency.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in our life for the building of character and good citizenship. It is without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his good and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Independence Firemen's Picnic Friday-Saturday

Entertainment of All Kinds for Everyone

The Independence and Community Volunteer Fire Department will hold its 19th annual picnic Friday and Saturday nights, July 29-30, at the Independence Courthouse grounds.

The department has purchased a large quantity of equipment in recent years and plan more extension of their already splendid service, and these picnics are their source of revenue, in order that all this may be done.

Chairman Warner Cox, with co-chairmen, Bill Back and Carl Scherder, announce that there will be, as has been in years past, all kinds of entertainment for everyone, including fish pond, rides and a new Dory Crockett game for the children. They state that there will be music, dancing, and refreshments.

Some of the many valuable prizes to be given away during the two days are a 6 E clothes dryer, 5 1/2 h. p. outboard motor, boy or girl's bicycle, fishing reel and, and one ton of coal.

The department cordially invites every one to attend and enjoy the fun.

CHANDLER FISH RY AT VERONA LAKE RANCH

On Friday, July 29, at 7:30 p. m., the Verona Chandler Club will have an old fashioned community fish fry and political speaking. Joe Leary, co-chairman for Happy Chandler, will be the principal speaker.

Joe Leary is considered one of the best speakers in Kentucky and this will be a home-folks gathering as Joe has many close friends in this area. He received his high school training at Verona and graduated with the class of 1924.

Bible School to Begin At Banklick Baptist Church Next Monday

Vacation Bible School will begin on August 1 at the New Banklick Baptist Church. The Bible school will be held in the new church building which was used for the first time on Sunday, July 3. The church is on Banklick Road, near Maher Road.

Transportation will be provided for those who wish to attend. The church bus will leave Orlin Switzer's at Independence Station Road at 12:00 noon. It will travel over Bristol Road, going back Mr. Zorn and Hogre Road, to Banklick Station Road. It will then cross Wilson and Bramlage Roads to Banklick Station, and from there to the church if you do not live on the bus route, contact Rev. R. D. Hopkins, Walton, Route 1, or call Fleetwood 7-2682, and transportation will be provided.

Bible school will be held from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m., Monday through Friday. There will be Bible study, handwork and Christian fellowship.

"Our Sunday school attendance," said Rev. Hopkins, "has been near the one hundred mark and we hope to double this in Vacation Bible School. There will be a place for you, so come and join with us for a wonderful time with the Lord."

PATRONS ASKED NOT TO USE STEEL DRUMS FOR GARBAGE

Walton residents who use steel drums for garbage are warned by Gilbert Groger, garbage collector, that containers of this type are too heavy for use—and in the future will be left on the premises or drum and contents taken to the dump. For the sake of those hauling the refuse, please use nothing larger than the average large size garbage can.

City Ordinance 218 says that only standard sanitary garbage cans with fly-proof lids may be used. Violation of the ordinance is subject to a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00. Let's all cooperate with our garbage collector.

An effort is being made to clear up all reports from Boone county by August 1. However, any funds received between now and August 31, by headquarters will be considered a part of the 1955 Cancer Crusade.

The fine cooperation of all persons who contributed to or had any part in this highly successful crusade is deeply appreciated. Mrs. Scroggin stated that special credit is due the following chairmen for each town:

Early Services at Christian Church Well Received

"The Gift of Peace," John 14:18-27, will be the topic at the 9:30 a. m. worship service Sunday at the Walton Christian Church. Sunday school, for all ages, will begin at 10:30. Rev. C. A. Vaughn said, "The early worship service is being well received, and most people, with whom I have talked, have expressed very favorable comments."

The subject for Sunday will emphasize the teaching of Jesus on one of the great values of the Christian religion for the life of the Christian. There is a greater need to experience the joys and blessings of Christ in this life. For too many people most of the emphasis upon words of the future life and miss the "here and now" teachings of Christianity.

Sunday night, Walton, Crittenden and Dry Ridge Christian Churches will hold a union fifth Sunday evening service at the Dry Ridge church. Rev. John Chambers, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Council of Churches, Lexington, will deliver the sermon.

The total Sunday morning Sunday School offering will be given to the Christian Church Widows and Orphans Home. The goal is always $50 every fifth Sunday.

Rev. C. A. Vaughn and family reported a fine vacation, but were glad to be home. He said, "Walton is one of the finest towns in which to live and the people are among the finest in our nation."

Everyone living in this community, who has no church home, is cordially invited to attend the Walton Christian Church.

GOLF COURSE OPENING

Bud Beirne, former Kentucky Open champion, played good golf despite rain and a tough course, to take top honors in the official opening of Little Creek Golf Course, at Union. He fired a five-over-par 63, which included three birdies. Second was Dick Schild, with 64; Bill Berling shot a 70, and Derek Detjen 74. Among the four Little Creek Golf Club members who also played with the visitors in the opening match, Jimmie James had an 80, George Prigge 91, Bruce Ferguson 104, and David Redding 123.

Despite the rain, a nice crowd turned out for the picnic, dedication service, and the professional exhibition. After the official matches were completed, many tried their skill at mastering the tough little 29-par layout.

The Little Creek Golf Course is located one-fourth mile south of Union, on U. S. Highway 42. Anyone may play, free of charge, any day in the week except Sunday morning. Balls and clubs are available, free, at the clubhouse.

Kindergarten Info Needed

Mrs. James S. Webster, who heads the local kindergarten, sponsored by the Wa-Na Woman's Club, would like to know how many youngsters will be in kindergarten this year. She would like to know within the next ten days. Phone Mrs. Webster at Walton 693.

MRS. SALLY HUEY

Services were held last Friday afternoon at the Chambers & Grubb funeral home, Florence, for Mrs. Sally Willis Huey, Union, Route 1, who died July 20 at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington. Burial was in Big Bone Cemetery.

Mrs. Huey, a lifelong resident of this county, and a member of the Big Bone Baptist Church, leaves a son, Tom Robert Huey of Union, and two grand-children.

Combs Well Received In Talk at Burlington, Thursday of Last Week

"I did not resign my place on the bench of the Kentucky Court of Appeals to be a puppet governor. I did not resign to become a mediocre governor, nor did I resign in order to have someone behind the scenes tell me just what to do," declared Bert T. Combs, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, when he spoke at Burlington, last Thursday.

"There is no one big enough, either in Kentucky or out of Kentucky, who can influence my judgment. However," he went on, "there is no citizen in the state, however humble, who will ever be denied the opportunity to talk to me when I am governor."

All 4-H Club members are urged by Miss Nancy Guilford Ed McCandless to exhibit their projects.

Joe Cloxon, county agent, said there should be a larger number of exhibits in all departments, and that the following will do the judging: Miss Vernice Low-lady, home demonstration agent in Scott county; Miss Hazel Smith, home demonstration agent in Owen county; J. E. Humphrey and E. E. Fish, University of Kentucky, and Boyd Elliott, Independence.

Homecoming and Revival Scheduled at Wilmington Church

The Wilmington Baptist Church, Fiskburg, will hold its annual homecoming on Sunday, July 31. The homecoming is to be followed by an eight-day revival, July 31 to August 7.

Homecoming will feature dinner on the grounds, following morning service. The homecoming services will be at 2:00 p. m., at which time Rev. G. R. Pendergast, from the Baptist State Headquarters in Louisville, will speak. Perhaps the most important part of the day will be the offerings for the retirement of the building debt, $1,407.16. The pastor feels that to eliminate the debt would be a noble accomplishment in view of the fact that it is only two years since the new building was completed and the debt incurred.

J. B. Spegal, Sunday School superintendent, has announced a Sunday School attendance goal of 166. This would be a new high and he invites everyone to be present. The pastor, Rev. James Helvey, would also like to see many present as this will be his last Sunday with the people at Wilmington, he is taking up a new pastorate in Newton, North Carolina.

The day will be climaxed Sunday evening with the beginning of revival services at 8:00. These services will continue each evening through Sunday, August 7, under the leadership of Rev. Pendergast. Emphasis of the revival—Building a stronger church with more and stronger Christians.

Softball Game Here Friday

The Walton Merchants softball team will play their first game of the elimination series Friday night at Walton, Hebron will be their opponent.

Paul Simpson bought a White Mountain ice cream freezer. I have had several calls for us to deliver them a National pressure canner—I have sold several of these this year, and they save fuel and time in canning. Mrs. Charles Wilson, on Edwards Avenue, came after gaskets for a National pressure canner. We try to keep repairs for all cookers and canners we sell. I try to keep all sizes of fruit jars, lids of all kinds, even sealing wax that isn't even manufactured any more, jelly glasstes, tin cans and syrup buckets. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter at Bracht came in with the cash and hauled away a new Maytag washer.

Those Maytags are the easiest thing to sell if a woman's washer has quit and she has to wash on the board. Brewster sold some harness today. I had more lookers for a real man size cowboy saddle—now I have one but no lookers—where did they all go? Brewster put up more new venetian blinds for Mrs. John Tomlin—she has bought several orders of these blinds. Brewster took Neuman Armstrong more 1½% Rotanone for bean beetles—it will really kill the beetles.

Leslie Hoffman and son, Herbert, were in today—Leslie is still going in a hurry. I have some more pressure canners—they must be scarce—I bought all they had at the wholesale house in Cincinnati, which was on the sample floor—I ordered some from Louisville and Cleveland. Take advantage of some of these specials as I have cut the price so you can really get your money's worth for cash. See the new Mirromatic pressure canner at CONRAD'S!

Entertainment of All Kinds for Everyone

The Independence Community Firemen's Picnic will hold its 19th annual picnic Friday and Saturday nights, July 29-30, at the Independence Courthouse grounds.

The department has purchased a large quantity of equipment in recent years and plan more extension of their already splendid service, and these picnics are their source of revenue, in order that all this may be done.

Chairman Warner Cox, with co-chairmen, Bill Beck and Carl Schaefer, announce that there will be, as has been in years past, all kinds of entertainment for everyone, including fish pond, rides and a new Davy Crockett game for the children. They state that there will be music, dancing, and refreshments.

Some of the many valuable prizes to be given away during the two days are a G. E. clothes dryer, $15; a push mower, boy or girl's bicycle, fishing rod and reel, and one ton of coal.

The department cordially invites everyone to attend and enjoy the fun.

PATRONS ASKED NOT TO USE STEEL DRUMS FOR GARBAGE

Walton residents who use steel drums for garbage are warned by Gilbert Groger, garbage collector, that containers of this type are too heavy for use—and in the future will be left on the premises or drum and contents taken to the dump. For the sake of those hauling the refuse, please use nothing larger than the average large size garbage can.

City Ordinance 218 says that only standard sanitary garbage cans with fly-proof lids may be used. Violation of the ordinance is subject to a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00. Let's all cooperate with our garbage collector.

He fired a five-over-par 63, which included three birdies. Second was Dick Schild, with 64; Bill Berling shot a 70, and Derek Deffen 74. Among the four Little Creek Golf Club members who also played with the visitors in the opening match, Jimmie James had an 80, George Prigge 91, Bruce Ferguson 104, and David Redding 123.

Despite the rain, a nice crowd turned out for the picnic, dedication service, and the professional exhibition. After the professional matches were completed, many tried their skill at mastering the tough little 29-par layout.

The Little Creek Golf Course is located one-fourth mile south of Union, on U. S. Highway 42. Anyone may play, free of charge, any day in the week except Sunday morning. Balls and clubs are available, free, at the clubhouse.

Combs Well Received In Talk at Burlington, Thursday of Last Week

"I did not resign my place on the bench of the Kentucky Court of Appeals to be a puppet governor; I did not resign to become a mediocre governor, nor did I resign to attempt to have someone behind the scenes tell me just what to do," declared Bert T. Combs, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor when he spoke at Burlington, last Thursday.

"There is no one big enough, either in Kentucky or out of Kentucky, who can influence my judgment. However," he went on, "there is no citizen in the state, however humble, who will ever be denied the opportunity to talk to me when I am governor."

Bert T. Combs

Judge Combs added that, "if I'm elected, I'll be the governor!" He said he would be from the mountains, and that he could not be influenced against his better judgment.

"This is the main issue of the campaign," he said. "Do you want to vote for a man who thinks he has a program good for Kentucky? Or do you want to vote for my opponent, who is running on a program of bitterness and revenge, who will take you back to the 30's?"

The speaker said he wanted to beat his opponent so bad that he wouldn't even be mad at him.

Judge Combs charged that Mr. Chandler brought about more new taxes in 1934 than any governor of Kentucky before or since his administration, and that he (Chandler) spent more in operating the state government than any prior governor in the history of the state.

The former Court of Appeals Judge declared that Mr. Chandler was committed to a program that would cost $46 million more than the state now collects in revenue, and contended that his opponent would raise the needed revenue in one of three ways—the operation of state-owned liquor stores; the sale of whisky; raising the state tax on real estate; or raising the state individual and corporate income tax by eliminating the credit presently allowed for Federal income taxes.

A fine crowd was on hand to greet Judge Combs at the Burlington Hotel, with persons standing in the rear and in the hallways.—Pub. Chm.

Three Horse Shows And Other Event Set

The twenty-third annual Boone County 4-H and Utopia Fair will be held August 4, 5 and 6, at the fairgrounds, 1/4 mile North of Burlington.

J. E. Criger, chairman of the fair, said that all fair committees have been working hard to make the 1955 fair one of the most successful ever held.

On Thursday, the registering of all exhibits will be held; judging all Home Economics, garden, fruit, field crops, poultry, tobacco, corn, 4-H secretary books. The dairy show will start at 11 a. m. Wilfred Scott, superintendent of the dairy show, is expecting some of the best dairy animals in Northern Kentucky to be exhibited. C. B. Cooper, Crestwood, Ky., will be the judge.

Thursday night, there will be a big show, consisting of a Western parade, tractor driving contest, tractor-trailer backing contest, tractor belting-up contest, pig scramble, pole bending and rescue riding. Again this year, Earl Huffman returns to handle the grandstand program for the fair.

On Friday, for the first time, there will be a complete Herford show, with Wilbur Hay, as the judge. He said he expects animals from the Tri-State area. Eugene Johnson, president of the Southern Land and Cattle Co., will be the judge. There will also be judging of other live breeds, sheep and hogs, on Friday morning. Robert Crouch, assistant county agent in Campbell county, will be the judge. The team pulling contest will be held Friday afternoon.

There will be three horse shows, as follows: Friday, July 29, 2:00 p. m., Saturday, July 30, 2:00 p. m., and the final show Saturday at 8:00 p. m. Lillard Scott and Frank Kelly are superintendents of the horse show.

All 4-H Club members are urged by Miss Nancy Guilfoill and Ed McCandless to exhibit their projects.

Joe Claxon, county agent, said there should be a larger number of exhibits in all departments, and that the following will do the judging: Miss Vernice Loveless, home demonstration agent in Scott county; Miss Hilda Smith, home demonstration agent in Owen county; J. E. Humphrey and E. E. Fisk, University of Kentucky; and Boyd Elliott, Independence.

Homecoming and Revival Scheduled at Wilmington Church

The Wilmington Baptist Church, Fiskburg, will hold its annual homecoming on Sunday, July 31. The homecoming is to be followed by an eight-day revival, July 31 to August 7.

Homecoming will feature dinner on the grounds, following morning service. The homecoming services will be at 2:00 p. m., at which time Rev. G. R. Pendergaph, from the Baptist State Headquarters in Louisville, will speak. Pendergaph, the most famous preacher in the state, will be the offerings for part of the day of the fact that it is only two years since the new building was completed and the debt incurred.

J. B. Spegal, Sunday School superintendent, has announced a Sunday School attendance goal of 156. This would be a new high for the church and he is to be present. The pastor, Rev. James Healey, would also like to see many present as this will be his last Sunday here, as the people at Wilmington before taking up new pastorate in Newton, North Carolina.

The day will be climaxed Sunday evening with the beginning of revival services at 8:00. These services will continue the next evening through Sunday, August 7, under the leadership of Rev. Pendergaph. Emphasis of the revival—Building a stronger church with more and stronger Christians.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT

The writer of this ad had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for similar itches. Just give it a try. Your 40c back at any drug store if not completely pleased. BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Thy Will Be Done

Lesson for July 31, 1955

THEY were a sorry lot, the people left behind after the 18th invasion. The puppet-king Zedekiah had asked the Egyptians to pull his strings, but the smart Babylonians got wind of it, and that was the end of Zedekiah. Jerusalem, Solomon's Temple, the nation of Judah. After a two-year siege the city fell, was sacked and burned, and anybody that was anybody was either killed or deported.

Jeremiah, the city's most famous citizen, was offered a chance to go to Babylon as a free man; but he declined. He preferred to stay with his own people, he said, and his own land. But they were a sorry lot, the dregs of the populace for the most part. Vows, Good and Bad. They were glad enough to have Jeremiah with them. They seemed to recognize him at last as a true prophet. He had told them so often just what would happen—and it did. So they began to look to him, and come to him with their problems. One day they came up with a very important decision they wanted him to help them make. Should they go to Egypt or not? This was not as if they were going down there like tourists into Florida. This was for keeps, a full-scale emigration. A sort of Exodus in reverse, with Jeremiah the new Moses to lead them back into Egypt. (Why they wanted to go can be read in detail in Jeremiah.) They put this up to him. You are a prophet and you should know "Whether it is good or evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord God," they solemnly promised. But they did not mean it. Their minds were made up to go. When Jeremiah had ten days knew that the Lord did not want them to go to Egypt, he told the people so. But they paid no attention; on the contrary they bundled him up and took him along, an unwilling prisoner on their forbidden road. So they broke their good vow. Some time later down in Egypt they bragged to Jeremiah that they were keeping their promises now. They had vowed to make sacrifices to the star-gods and goddesses—and sacrifice they did, to the "Queen of Heaven" and a lot more.

If You Know God's Will...

Before condemning the people too quickly, let the reader translate the story into the 20th century. Don't we all pray, "Thy will be done"? Have we not all asked more than once to about us what to do? When we pray, "Thy will be done," we are making an implied promise, that we will cooperate. What we mean is to go, not "Thy will be done in spite of everything I do to stop it," but "Thy will be done, and let me know if I can help." This raises two questions: One is: How can we know God's will? Can we know God's will without a guaranteed prophet to help us out? Well, we have the Gospels, we have the Word of God. We surely can know a great deal about God's will. We at least know this much, that any scheme, plan or intention which is out of line with the great teachings of the Bible is out of line with God, and doomed to final failure.

Would You Do It?

The other question raised by that prayer-vow, "Thy will be done," is this: If you knew the will of God, would you do it? Those ancient men of Judah scorned God's will, and scorned his prophet, although they had been pleading for light and direction. We had better be sure we are without sin before we cast at them the first stone. We often feel that God does not give us enough light. We pray earnestly for his will to be made known to us, and we are inclined to grumble at the silence of God. The trouble is we do not follow the light he has given us. A great American preacher called attention to Saul's request of the Witch of Endor, "Bring me up Samuel." The thing is—he had had Samuel. For a long time Samuel had been telling Saul where he was wrong, but the king had paid no attention. A man who will not listen to Samuel living will not listen to his ghost. So with us. "Thy will be done" suggests sadly many a broken vow. How can we hope to persuade God that we will follow his will, if he will show it to us, when we have not followed his will when he did show it to us? We might make a humbler vow: O God, help me to go back and pick up some of the promises I have broken!

SUNDAY MORNING

"Timmy" sleeps on Sunday Morning... Why not? "Timmy" has no place to go. And, what's more, "Timmy" has no problems, no worries, no fears. Mice and milk, and the occasional luxury of a little catnip, provide "Timmy" with all the requisites of a happy, useful life. He can afford to sleep.

But with human beings, it's different. We have needs that cannot be satisfied by a Sunday morning snooze. Six days of labor bring more than physical weariness. Those six days drain our spiritual resources, our courage, our confidence, our moral stamina. A thousand fears and a million worries sap our inner strength.

"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

Sunday morning and the Church doors are open. They are open for every adult and child, that the deepest needs of humanity may be satisfied. Neither pillow nor armchair can give us the courage and faith and moral vitality that this busy life requires... these are the gifts of Worship.

The Church doors are open... open for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for the betterment of the world. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a living Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four ways to support the Church: (1) For the children's sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Successful Lawyer—

★ Qualified ★ Experienced ★ Unafraid

As a member of the 1954 Legislature from the Bourbon-Nicholas District, Clay was voted by the news reporters who covered the session one of the two "most valuable members of the House from a public standpoint."

Clay Voted FOR:

- (1) All legislation for the betterment of the school system, including the Minimum Foundation Plan;
- (2) Empowering eight Northern Kentucky cities to acquire their own water-work system;
- (3) Repeal of the law giving the State a lien upon the property of old people under the Old Age Assistance program;
- (4) The repeal of the antiquated fee system whereby prosecuting attorneys receive a part of the fines imposed.

Clay Voted AGAINST:

- (1) Increase of the State Tax on cigarettes;
- (2) Highway Authority Act which would have allowed a politically appointed commission to saddle the State with an unlimited amount of road bonds without a vote of the people. (This Act has since been ruled unconstitutional by the Courts).

"Bert Combs tonight proposed a program that would cost the state (YOU and ME) an additional $25 million a year, starting in 1956..."

—COURIER JOURNAL

ALL THIS—AND NOW THEY WANT A SALES TAX

CLEMENT'S TAX RECORD

Increased property tax assessments in 69 counties.
Increased personal and corporation income taxes.
Increased income tax for married couples by reducing tax credit for married couples from $50 to $40.
Forced couples having a gross income of $2,500 a year to file a tax return.
Increased gasoline tax from 5¢ to 7¢ a gallon.
Levied tax on vending machines.
Increased price of auto dealer's license plates.
Increased state taxes from $50,605,086.24 per year to $79,097,502.23.

WETHERBY'S TAX RECORD

Blanket raises in property tax assessments in 69 counties.
Made permanent previous "temporary" increases in personal and corporation income taxes.
Increased income tax of married couples by reducing tax credit.
Forced all wage earners to pay two years' income tax in one year by starting a withholding plan.
Increased tax on cigarettes.
Levied 7¢ tax a gallon on fuels, other than gasoline.
Increased state taxes from $79,097,502.23 per year to approximately $100,000,000.00.

Don't be fooled by the talk that if a sales tax law is passed, the income tax law will be repealed. The Clements-Wetherby-Combs-Brown machine is on record as wanting an additional $25 million per year in taxes. This means a 14.8% increase in your taxes, and simple mathematics proves that they cannot squeeze this out of you without both the income tax and the sales tax.

Boone County Fair In Progress This Week At Burlington Grounds

This is fair week in Boone county, with folks getting ready to have one of the largest Boone County Fairs and Horse Shows ever held at the fairgrounds near Burlington. Neighbors and friends from this section will gather to see the displays of sewing, handicraft, crops, livestock, commercial booths and the free horse shows.

The fair starts today (August 4) with home-made exhibits, crops, livestock and 4-H projects being registered and judged. Thursday night there will be a big show in front of the grandstand with the Western parade, tractor contests, pig scramble, pole bending and rescue riding.

On Friday, there will be livestock judging of sheep, hogs and beef in the morning, and in the afternoon the team pulling contests. At 8:00 p. m., Friday will be the first horse and pony show.

On Saturday, August 6, there will be special music; baby show, exhibitors' parade, and a horse and pony show in the afternoon and at night.

Refuse and Picnics

To you families that will be picnicking the U. S. Department of Agriculture offers the reminder that discarding food or other refuse not only is unsightly and unsanitary, but provides new breeding places for that convicted disease-carrier, the house fly, says Miss Nancy Gullfart, Boone county home agent. Just one female fly can lay nearly 3,000 eggs in a month. Flies may carry typhoid and dysentery—help spread cholera, trachoma and many other diseases.

Sanitation is the first step against the house fly, killing the second. Good screening of the home is important, but briefly, here's the one-two-three of fly control:

1—Sanitation all the time to hold down the fly population. Keep garbage and other refuse tightly covered. Dispose of it frequently, by burning, if regular pick-up service is lacking. Never leave garbage in the open. Keep compost piles covered. Clean up after dogs, cats and chickens. Clean up garden or crop wastes.

2—Have well-fitting screens that swing outward on all windows and doors.
3—Kill flies by sprays—both space and surface types—in and around the house, and by the new bait preparation outside where flies gather, such as around garbage cans.

When buying sprays, look on the label to see that pyrethrins are listed as an ingredient—often along with other in-secticides. Pyrethrum is harmless to human beings and animals, but fatal to flies.

Dry-sugar baits containing 1 or 2 percent of organic phosphorus insecticides are highly effective against flies when scattered around garbage cans, etc. Such baits are not approved for use inside the house. Directions for use are on package.

Your Home At Vacation Time

"Planning to go on a vacation?" If you are, make sure your home and its contents are kept safe, sanitary and in good condition until you return, says Miss Helen Horton, Boone county apprentice home agent.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported over 155,000 homes burglarized last year. Many of these could have been prevented if precautions had been taken before leaving for that vacation.

To insure finding your house as you left it, follow these tips and precautions given by the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

1—To keep insects away, leave your house clean; use a good household spray on rugs, in closets, and along baseboards and don't leave soiled dishes, garbage or soiled refuse to attract cockroaches or ants.

2—Avoid possible lightning damage by disconnecting television set.

3—If possible, arrange with a neighbor to check on your refrigerator or home freezer every day or so.

4—Tell a neighbor of your vacation schedule and leave the key with him so he can inspect your house to make sure it is free of uninvited guests. Have him notify police if he hears noise inside the house or see a suspicious person lurking about.

5—Stop all deliveries. Accumulations of milk, milk bottles and newspapers are glaring signs that you are on vacation.

6—Lock each window and door of house and garage.

7—Leave blinds or window shades at regular level. If you fear damage to furniture and rugs, pull blinds on sunny side of house.

8—Avoid advertising in newspapers that you are going away.

9—Put valuables away—in a safe deposit box at the bank.

10—Be sure your insurance on your furniture and other property is paid and in effect.

11—Make arrangements to have the grass cut once a week while gone.

12—Temize furniture and valuables and put list in safe deposit box.

STORAGE UNITS NOT FOR FREEZING FOODS

Use of storage compartments of refrigerators for freezing large quantities of food is not generally recommended, according to Mrs. Pearl Haak, authority on freezing foods at the University of Kentucky. Such compartments store foods successfully after they are frozen, but in most instances they are not intended to be used for quick freezing.

For quick freezing, foods require a temperature of zero or below. When a large amount of unfrozen food is placed in the storage compartment, it causes the temperature to rise above zero, resulting in slow freezing. This is often accompanied by discoloration of food, softened texture, and loss of food value and flavor.

A committee is investigating the purchase of fire-fighting equipment for farms in Harrison county.

Heavy rains and lodging damaged oats and barley crops in Anderson county.

The Bullitt County Farm Bureau has voted cash awards for a 4-H club dairy and pig show in September.

The green bean crop in Morgan county is estimated at 15,000 bushels.

A total of 182 copper rooled planters, seven pairs of bookends and three waste baskets were made by Crittenden county homemakers in one month.

THE TRUTH

Hasn't Figured Too Much With Happy!

(Editorial from The Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky.)

Even if we ignore his other shortcomings, there remains one simple, inescapable fact that by itself proves that Happy Chandler is not fitted to be Governor of Kentucky. A review of his campaign shows a shocking contrast between Chandler's statements and the truth.

1. At Brooksville, Chandler assailed the Wetherby Administration for "saddling our old people with this lien law," and promised to repeal it if elected. "I was the first governor to bring about old-age pensions," he said, "and I didn't put any liens on their homes to bring it about."

FACT: Happy didn't give anybody an old-age pension. In 1936 the legislature passed, and Chandler signed, the Kentucky Old Age Assistance Act, which simply took advantage of the federal Social Security Act of 1935. The federal act required no lien on the homes of people receiving assistance, but Happy approved an addition to the state law specifically requiring liens. At the following session of the legislature, an attempt was made to repeal the lien section of the law, but it died in Happy's "graveyard" committee when Happy refused to support it. One of those leading the fight for the repeal, and who criticized Chandler for his opposition, was Harry Lee Waterfield.

2. At Flemingsburg, Chandler said, "Why, I was the one who provided free textbooks in the first place, and I provided the first money for them."

FACT: The first money for free textbooks was voted under Governor Ruby Laffoon in 1934.

3. At Benton, Chandler said, "They say I'm against the park system. Why, I established it. They forget that I originated the state parks system. I'm responsible for creating the office he (Henry Ward) now holds."

FACT: The first Parks Commission was established in 1924 under Governor William J. Fields. Charles Truesdell was the author of the law establishing it. Vance Prather, of Fort Thomas, was the first Parks Director, followed by Mrs. James Darnell, Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell and by Bailey Wootton, who was appointed by Chandler.

4. At Ashland, Chandler said, "I promised to pay off the state debt and I paid it."

FACT: The state debt amounted to $19,843,199.13 when Chandler took office. Yet, though he was left a $14,000,000 windfall of whiskey tax-revenue by the Laffoon Administration, he paid only $13,907,562.21 of the debt. It was finally paid off by Governor Keen Johnson.

5. At Frenchburg, Chandler said, "When I get back to Frankfort, I'll guarantee you that the state won't come in here making any more blanket assessment raises."

FACT: In 1935, Chandler campaigned against the state having the power of assessment review, yet his own administration exercised that power throughout his administration.

6. At London, Chandler charged that the present Fish and Wildlife Department is being "run for the wishes of a few men in Frankfort," and promised to "return it to the control of the sportsmen of Kentucky." He also promised to rid the department of "political control by dictators."

FACT: A bill was presented to Chandler's 1936 legislature by the League of Kentucky Sportsmen to establish Civil Service in the Division of Fish and Game. Chandler refused to endorse it, and it was not until 1944, under Governor Willis, that the Department was removed from strict political control.

7. Four times Chandler has said that when he came into office, the state per capita school appropriation was "six dollars and I raised it to $12."

FACT: The per capita school appropriation was $10.95 when Chandler took office. In four years it was increased to $12.19. Under Governor Wetherby it was $38.40.

8. At Frenchburg, Chandler asked, "Wasn't I the first to bring aid to the old folks and to the needy children?"

FACT: He was not. Through fumbling within his administration, an amendment to the Constitution permitting aid for dependent children was not properly advertised, and could not be voted upon. Such aid did not begin until the administration of Governor Keen Johnson.

9. At Shelbyville, Chandler said, "The state is spending $1,049,444 for a restaurant and snack bar on the turnpike." He added that the snack bar was not just a snack bar, but "a drinking bar, and I don't mean Hadacol, either."

FACT: The cost of the Turnpike service area will be $1,314,802.90, not $1,049,444. This includes the cost of building and equipping two restaurants, four service stations, roadways and parking lots. The cost will not be borne by the taxpayers of Kentucky, as charged by Chandler. The state has already made a contract with the Interstate Company of Chicago for lease of these concessions which will make money for the state and its taxpayers. The state's contract with the Chicago firm specifically states that "no alcoholic beverages, or beer, will be sold, served or permitted to be consumed in these buildings." This provision was prepared and approved by leading prohibition officials.

At Hawesville, Chandler charged that the Kentucky Turnpike, which he called "Wetherby's Folly," would never pay for itself, and that the taxpayers of Kentucky would be stuck with those revenue bonds.

FACT: The trust agreement between the Department of Highways and the Citizens Fidelity Bank & Trust Company as bond trustees, says: "The Commonwealth of Kentucky shall not be obligated to pay this bond or the interest thereon except from the revenues of the Kentucky Turnpike (hereinafter defined) and neither the faith nor credit nor the taxing power of the Commonwealth is pledged to the payment of the principal or of the interest on this bond."

10. At Franklin, Chandler, attacking the stadium at the new State Fairground, charged, "That stadium is going to cost you $25,000,000."

FACT: Contract 1665, between the State Property and Buildings Commission and Robert Simmons Construction Company, in the sum of $1,686,000, covers the general construction work on the stadium. Contract 1666, for $79,218, covers the cost of all labor and materials for the ventilating and plumbing. Thus the stadium will cost not $25,000,000, but $1,765,218, plus part of the $1,099,652 cost, under contract 1661, of all of the electrical work on the fairgrounds, including the electrical distribution system and all electrical work in both the coliseum and stadium.

11. Chandler has repeatedly charged, even after his error was pointed out to him, that the Wetherby Administration spent "$800,000 to air-condition the Capital building," and $20,000 for a rug for the governor's office.

FACT: The total cost of reconstruction of the Capital building was $800,000. This included the cost of re-wiring installing new plumbing, major reconstruction and air-conditioning. The rug in question cost $2,700, not $20,000, and covered not only the governor's office but the offices of secretaries, administrative assistants and the connecting corridors.

12. At Princeton, Chandler said, "Look at me! I'm the only Governor you ever saw that cut taxes."

FACT: At Chandler's urging, the 1936 legislature repealed the sales tax, but he immediately asked 15 new taxes, including the income tax, that collected twice as much in the first years as the sales tax had collected the previous year.

13. At Louisville, Chandler promised, "State employees have a right to be free of these would-be dictators. When I'm governor, I will give you a merit system."

FACT: At Monticello, Chandler promised, "... and the first one I'm going to fire is little, weasel-faced Henry (Ward)." He promised five other specific firings, and alluded to others at various places in the state. And at London, he said, "I intend to clean-house. Those that they fire, we'll hire, and the ones they hire, we'll fire."

This is not, of course, a complete list of Mr. Chandler's misstatements. There is, for example, his insistence that he has never been anything but a Democrat, though he was the acknowledged leader of state Dixiecrats in 1948. There is also his promise, at the beginning of the present campaign, to wage a clean fight, based on issues. We believe, however, that these 13 clear-cut cases of misrepresentation constitute sufficient reason why Chandler should not be sent back to Frankfort.

STATE FIRE LOSSES INCREASE 10 PERCENT

Estimated fire losses in Kentucky during the first three months of 1955 amounted to $4,456,148, it was reported by the State Fire Marshal's office.

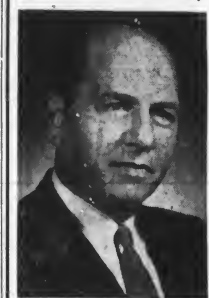

According to J. T. Underwood, Jr., state fire marshal, this $4,456,148 loss represents an increase of approximately 10 percent over losses of $4,146,702 for the first three months of 1954.

Homes headed the list of occupancies most frequently by fire, accounting for 1,113 of the 1,464 fires reported. Miscellaneous mercantiles were second with 67 fires and burns were third with 45.

The leading cause of fire during the three-month period were faulty electric wiring and defective chimneys. Wiring caused 209 fires and defective chimneys accounted for 204. Other important causes included stoves, furnaces, boilers, pipes, 136; matches and smoking, 110; and lightning, 77.

Farm Facts

by Wm. C. Johnstone
AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE

SOMETHING'S WRONG HERE. Recently I have been asking farmers what they think their principle problems are. One, an excellent young farmer in Todd county, answered by giving this example of one of his own problems. In 1947 he purchased a tractor for $1,690, paid for the proceeds of the sale of approximately 770 bushels of corn, at $2.20 per bushel. Now, he needs a new tractor and finds that one in the same relative class costs $3,900. His corn will bring only $1.50 per bushel, thus requiring about 2500 bushels, or 3 1/2 times more corn than was needed in 1947. If farmer John had 2600 bushels of corn for market in 1947, he could have bought a tractor and had 1800 bushels left for other expenses and farm and home improvements. Today his problem is how to live if he buys his needed equipment.

The cost of tractors and other farm expenses is geared to industrial income and labor costs, with their quick turn write-offs, guaranteed annual wages, unemployment insurance and the like. The farm counterparts of these are "production control" and "price supports." The support price of wheat dropped from $2.24 per bushel in '54 to $2.08 in '55. Parity price is now $2.52. The support price for 1956 is announced at $1.81. While one arm of the government announces lower supports for farm products, another arm increases the minimum wage scale from 75 cents to $1.00 per hour.

In the face of these lowering farm prices and rising labor and industrial income, consumers are being misled in believing that farmers and their government supports are the cause of the high cost of living.

THE SMALLEST ACREAGE OF CORN on record was planted by Kentucky farmers in 1955. Only slightly over 2 million acres, with an estimated production of 76 million bushels, is the official estimate. A few years ago is required more than 3 million acres to produce that much grain. This reduction in land used for corn will permit larger acreages of alfalfa and pastures, which reminds us that August is "Green Pasture Month," the time to sow alfalfa and renovate old pastures.

OVER 400 FARMERS and bankers attended "Kentucky Day" at the U. S. Soil and Water Experiment Station near Coshocton, Ohio, July 7. They were most impressed with the basic research work being conducted and the practical application of new cultural practices, forestry management and water utilization methods.

THE NEED for industrial development in areas of underemployed rural people was recently pointed out by Under Secretary of Agriculture, True D. Morse, when he cited the results of a survey in the South. He said that each additional 100 factory workers in a community brings 296 more people, 112 more households, 51 more school children, 174 more workers, 4 more retail stores, 107 more passenger cars, and adds annually $590,- 000 more personal income, $360,000 more retail sales and $270,000 more bank deposits.

Mansion of General Butler Is Now Open

Butler Now Open For

The newly-renovated Butler mansion was formally opened to the public recently in ceremonies at General Butler State Park, near Carrollton, according to Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward, Frankfort.

This famous old home has been completely renovated, decorated and furnished by the State Division of Parks. Meticulous care has been given by park planners in restoring the home to its original state. Work has been in progress on the mansion for more than a year, and a seven-year search for authentic furnishings has aided in establishing the atmosphere of 1820's. The Division of Parks reports that more than $18,000 has been spent in restoring the historic place.

General Percival Butler, one of the five famous brothers of the American Revolution, moved to Jessamine county, Kentucky, in 1785. He moved his family to Port William, now Carrollton, at the mouth of the Kentucky River in 1796. Four years earlier he had been named Adjutant General by Governor Shelby, and he held that post until 1816. Two of General Butler's sons followed their father's profession and added further luster to one of the most distinguished names in military annals.

Thomas L. Butler served in the Northwest campaign under General Harrison and as aide-de-camp to General Jackson, participated in the capture of Pensacola, Fla., and the Battle of New Orleans. Butler was elected to the Kentucky General Assembly in 1826 and again in 1847.

William Orlando Butler, the second son, fought heroically during the War of 1812, rising from private to Major. He served in the Kentucky General Assembly after the war, and in 1839 was elected to the United States Congress where he served two terms. He was a candidate for Governor against the Whigs, who were able to elect out a 4600 majority for Governor Owensley with the help of Henry Clay.

In 1846 President Polk named Butler Major General of Volunteers under General Zachary Taylor. During the first two years of the Mexican War, General Butler directed his troops in the field bravely and dauntlessly. A grievous wound made it necessary for him to retire from the front late in 1846. The following year he returned again to the heart of the fray in Mexico, and on January 13, 1848, he was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the armies in Mexico, in which position he stayed until the conclusion of the war in May, 1848.

In recognition of Butler's resplendent service in the Mexican War, Congress voted to him a magnificent sword and the Commonwealth of Kentucky provided a second superb one for him.

At Baltimore in 1848 Butler was nominated for Vice President on the Democratic ticket with General Lewis Cass. This combination lost to Taylor and Fillmore by less than 150,000 votes.

General Butler refused an appointment in 1854 to the governorship of the Territory of Nebraska. He did, however, serve on the Peace Conference at Washington in 1861 in an effort to dispel the gathering war clouds preceding the Civil War.

On Friday, August 6, 1880, General Butler, most distinguished of the descendants of the Revolutionary Butlers, died at his home in Carrollton.

In addition to its historic interest, General Butler State Park has gained wide use as a vacation and recreational park. Located off U. S. 42 and 227, the park offers over-night accommodations, water sports, horseback riding, and other recreational opportunities.

By July 1 farmers in Floyd county had sold an estimated 2,500 bushels of snap beans.

Hog raisers in Ballard county met at the farm of H. L. Middleton & Son, where they saw the herd and a new central farrowing house.

"Mr. Has Been" Finds Fault With Majority Leader

To the Editor of The Courier-Journal

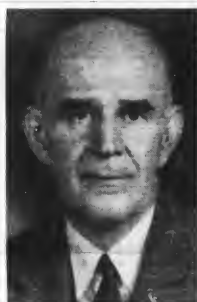

It is a tragedy that voters in the Democratic primary must be subjected to the tirades of a disappointed "has been," such as Mr. Chandler. He has been governor, has been senator, and has been baseball commissioner. Now, having removed himself from the domain of public service he again is attempting to climb the ladder. However, his claim to the right to run seems to lie in belittling the people who have not resigned their jobs for $50,000 a year.

The man Mr. Chandler refers to as "Clémentine" happens to hold tremendous respect in Washington as well as acting as majority leader on the Senate floor. Perhaps Mr. Chandler would prefer someone other than a Kentuckian to hold this position, but I am proud of the success Senator Clements has in Washington and am proud he is a Kentuckian. Perhaps if Mr. Chandler had not tried to get rich quick he might have attained a measure of success for Kentucky and for himself in national politics.

The governorship of Kentucky is a great office and demands the talents of a larger person than one who can find no better campaign material than ridiculous nicknames for loyal Kentuckians who are serving their state and nation. Because I am proud of Kentucky and want a governor who commands respect and is brave enough to wage a constructive campaign, I am going to vote for Bert T. Combs.

Lee View Acres

The pet project of Louis P. Lee, Sr., is now nearing completion. It is a barn, about the largest in the county, and more useful than a bucketful of matched pearls. With only the flooring to be laid and a point job, Mr. Lee's barn will be ready for use for many, many years. Many years of obtaining ideas and planning will have been placed into regularity when this structure is completed. If you want to see this barn, it is located at the end of Cody Road. The name, "Lee View Acres," will be painted on the barn.

Youth Center?

The teenagers in and around Independence are now recruiting adults to form a Youth Center, a club for teenagers and operated by teenagers, under the direction and assistance of adults.

I have heard many persons mention that a youth club, a center, a recreation area or a teen club is needed to keep the children occupied within their own area.

I have heard, too, that the teenagers were ever ready to help to have such a club and have been waiting for someone to start the ball rolling. Now the teenagers are recruiting adults, and the more adults the better.

The teenagers are placing the recruited persons in two brackets. The first one is for knowledge of what and how a Youth Center should be formed and operated, and second, persons who are willing to learn and give a little time to place this center on a self-supporting basis.

Are you in favor of such an organization? If so, drop Clifford Watson a card to let him know. A little encouragement now can go a long way. If you would like to offer your help in forming this Youth Center, add it to your card and he will let you know the time and place of the next meeting. Just send your card to Butch Watson, Box 332, Independence, Ky.

Job's Daughters' Ice Cream Social

Members of Job's Daughters, Bethel B., will hold their annual home-made ice cream social Saturday, August 6, on the Independence Courthouse lawn.

Serving will begin at 7:30 p. m. and there will be home-made ice cream, cake, candy and soft drinks. Also, there will be available a country store which will have many useful and needed items for the home. All mothers and wives will be interested in this country store and its products.

Bonnie Jackson, chairman for this annual affair, will be on hand with her helpers to give you prompt and efficient service. You will be missing some mighty fine eating if you miss this ice cream and cake social.

The public, which means you, are cordially invited, also, a special invitation is extended all members of other Masonic Orders in the area. Come out and help make this a bigger and more successful annual event than Bethel B. has ever had.

Latest Facts for Fishermen

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has come up with a booklet, "The Lure of Fishing in Kentucky," that is attracting much attention among the fishermen within and outside Kentucky. This newest booklet consists of 32 pages and is crisscrossed with information and in the center may be found a map of Kentucky's principal fishing streams. Embellished with many pictures and excellent art work, the bulletin takes up in detail the five major Kentucky lakes—Dale Hollow, Cumberland, Dewey, Harrington and Kentucky—giving their approximate size, where located and the principal species of fish that may be caught therefrom. Also, boat docks, and camps on these various lakes are listed and facilities offered at each, such as boats, motors, meals, lodging and other services are presented. Mailing address for each establishment is given.

Information on stream fishing in Kentucky is given and species of fish which may be taken from them are listed. Their approaches are pointed out and the center may show their approximate locations in the state. A story on jig fishing, one of the newest fads in Kentucky, also is presented. In the back of the book are given fishery regulations for Kentucky, the cost of licenses, how fish may be taken and the creel limit.

This compact booklet probably gives more information on Kentucky's lakes and streams and fishing than other publications. Because of its size it may be folded so that it will fit snugly into a coat pocket. It is available, free, upon request to the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Ky.

A Picnic Idea

For picnic lunches try making sandwiches with frozen bread. Makes spreading easier, helps keep lettuce crisp, reduces risk of food spoilage in hot weather, says food specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. When frozen slices thaw, they have the characteristics of fresh bread. A frozen loaf thaws in 3 to 4 hours at room temperature. Individual slices separate readily when taken from the freezer, thaw more quickly.

Emergency feed shelves have been assembled by 349 homemakers in both county to take care of sudden illness, guests, or other emergency conditions.

BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Loyalty Under Fire

Lesson for August 7, 1955

SOMETHING can be learned from history, even when it is the history of obscure men. Perhaps we can even learn more from the history of obscure, little-known, forgotten men, because we are mostly of that sort ourselves, than we can from the biographies of the rich and great. We are invited in this week's lesson to consider a little community of displaced persons more than 2,000 years ago.

Most of those displaced persons Dr. Foreman were citizens of Jerusalem, or had been. That city had been laid flat by Nebuchadnezzar's army. That the little nation of Judah had brought the war on itself, that the prophets, and especially Jeremiah, had predicted exactly what happened—all this did not soften the blow. These people were exiles, but with a special bitterness. It is one thing to be driven from home; another thing to have no home to go back to. If those displaced persons could have been taken back to Palestine, to the exact spot where Jerusalem stood, all they would have found was rubble. They would have perished of starvation. Yet in their memories Jerusalem still lived, a dream-city unchanged by time. They wept when they saw it in their mind's eye, but tears did not wash away the picture they loved. Did it do them any good, this remembering and remembering a city that was no more, a city they would never see again? Yes, it did. For even if that city were less fair than their homestead minds portrayed it, the good which they remembered would remain as an ideal. The community they would build in exile would be as near like the best they remembered as they could make it. A remembered glory that comes no more may become an ideal for today's world. Loyalty to memory may be nothing better than laying posies on well-tended graves; it may be the channel through which the best of yesterday flows into today and tomorrow.

Loyal to Life's Must's

These exiled Jews often dreamed of going back. That was before Jerusalem fell, and before Jeremiah wrote them a famous letter. (Jer. 29.) You will never see your native land again, he told them. The captivity will last, but not in your lifetime. Meanwhile be good citizens where you are. Build houses, plant gardens live with your growing families. Seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile. . . . That may have been hard advice to take; but they took it. Dreams of the past can be slow poison if all they produce is tears. Dreams can make men crazy, they can keep people from looking at life's realities. Dream-wishers can keep men from doing what is possible under the circumstances. Jeremiah did not wish these people to forget Jerusalem. He wanted them to recognize the Must's of the situation where they were. There is such a thing as loyalty to the inevitable. "Shake hands with the Inevitable" is a good rule, for the really inevitable is the hand of Providence.

Loyal to God

The story of the young men who chose death rather than be disloyal to God by worshipping Nebuchadnezzar's golden image, reaches one of its high points in what the young men said to the king. God will deliver us, they said. He is able to deliver us and we believe He will; but if not—if there is no God, or if He is not able to save us, or if He does not choose to save us, if He forsakes us altogether, we will not be disloyal to Him. The story is a kind of parable about all the loyal servants of the true God in great pagan Babylonia during those exile years. Many Jews must have been tempted to take over the religion of their conquerors, just as after the second World War there was a rush toward Christianity in Japan. Certainly there in Babylon there were many voices whispering or calling aloud, Bow down! Conform, be like everybody else, when you are in Babylon do as the Babylonians do. Don't be peculiar, don't be stubborn, leave your invisible God and come worship the golden gods to whom the nation prays! But the young men made the right choice, hard then, hard always. They would be loyal to the true God, even if his deliverance was delayed.

PLAY SAFE WITH YOUR CHILD

If you wanted your child to learn to swim, would you toss her into the water and say, "Sink or swim, honey?"

"How silly!" you exclaim. "I'd do like any sensible parent—provide her with every safeguard. I'd stay nearby, teaching her, and I'd give her a life preserver to help keep her afloat and give her faith in herself."

And you're so right. With adequate "how-to" and confidence, she will be safe as long as she holds on to her life preserver.

It's the same with her spiritual safety. To meet most of life's problems confidently and without fear she will need a spiritual life preserver.

To keep her afloat, help her acquire those necessary and stabilizing qualities of faith, hope and love found through regular worship at the Church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sheepmen to Vote On Promotional Program

The following statement on the wool and lamb program was released by R. C. Miller of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics:

"A referendum to determine whether an agreement providing for advertising, promotional and related market development activities on wool and lambs will be put into effect under section 708 of the National Wool Act of 1954 has been announced by the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

"Eligible to vote in this referendum are all sheep producers who have owned sheep over six months of age for any 30-day period since January 1. If the referendum is approved by sheepmen owning at least two-thirds of the sheep represented by votes in the referendum, one cent a pound will be deducted from shorn wool incentive payments and five cents per hundred pounds of live weight from lamb and yearling payments for the purpose of financing the program. Ballots for voting can be obtained from local AFC offices and must be returned not later than Friday, August 19.

"The promotional program, if approved, is to be carried out by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., made up of directors and delegates from leading organizations throughout the United States. Ballots should be available from ASC offices. Remember that these must be returned no later than August 19."

Allen county farmers report good results from diskling old fescue sod and then seeding barley and a legume.

REPAIR MONTH

We do a lot of repair work every day—Brewster repaired Mrs. Emma Flynn's electric water heater, which repaired Wallace Grubbs' lawn mower, and also replaced Gayle McElroy's lawn mower. We took one up to Midway Garage for Bill Breeden to overhaul. I took a used Maytag washer to Huber's and told him to put it in good condition—that will be a good, cheap used washer for sale. Mr. Haddix came for power repairs, George Menke came after water pump repairs, Kintley Steele was repairing the water line at Huber's Jewelry Store.

We cut and threaded lots of pipe and steel rods. We make all lengths and sizes in bolts. Charles Northcutt was after more bolts—he is repairing his hay baler. Nick Tropp was after more bolts. Jim Falls bought gray paint, orange and brown paint—he was repairing also. There is always a lot of repairing to do around the home and farm if you look around. It is cheaper to do a little each year than to wait and do it all at once. August is repair month and painting time. Get everything ready for fall and winter.

As one of my good Kenton county customers, Russell Recter, bought 15 gallons of Bolce outside white paint. Then came Bob Daniels and Myrla Cough with a broken trimmer for Brewster to repair. Then came Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stenius from Keeler with lawn mower troubles—Chuck cleaned out the carburetor and it ran like a new one. Sam and Lucille Hudson bought a new Maytag washer. Mrs. Emma Flynn bought a square aluminum tub Maytag washer. Mr. Baker from Mr. Zien bought a used five-burner Perfection oil range. Allen Ritt called to see if we had a playground set for the children—Fred took it over to him at Fiskburg. We sold several fans today and most to the strangers. We have some very nice porch swings, also some hammocks with stand or without. They are a few of those metal lawn chairs for 4.50 and 9.00, in the carton. We received a shipment of National pressure canners—we have the 7-quart size for 27.95, and the five half-gallon size for 29.95—buy a National and we carry all the parts.

Russell Recter was back today to get a window we had put a glass in for him. Harley Tippitt, the house builder, was in today—he has just finished two more houses. Brewster went over to Owen Flynn's to service their water pump. He could not find the trouble so all I had to do was call my Dayton pump man in Cincinnati and he came out and fixed it. That is the reason I sell and you should buy Dayton water pumps from this. This is the greatest item today in buying any merchandise is the service you are going to get because anything you buy mechanical is going to need repair sooner or later and most of them today sooner.

Ed Black bought an Eclipse power mower. I sold his son, George (Pete), we call him! Eclipse earlier in the season. Ed used it to cut his lawn so today he bought one for himself. Eclipse is quality and there is always a sale for quality merchandise. Lots of people buy price merchandise but some want quality and they know it's the cheapest. I sold Albert Parker one of these mowers during the war—we had to pay a high war price to get it, but it is still running and cuts the same as it did the first year—only been overhauled once—but he knew quality was the cheapest.

Mrs. Stella Custer came after poultry netting. I sold a Perfection electric range, a Maytag washer and a Gibson refrigerator to Paul Simpson, Jr. of Grant county—he bought the best of everything. I have a new supply of sleds; just made up and painted, only 45.00, also have a 4-ton rubber tired wagon for 135.00. Now is the time to get a bargain in lawn chairs and hammocks—we are cleaning out our stock for the season.

We have sold more cold pack canners and National pressure canners this year than we have sold for several years, also fruit jars and all the fittings. We carry a large stock of most all kinds of freezer boxes, paper, bags and plastic canners. Bought 20 gallons of Bolce outside white paint, a gallon of floor enamel, two gallons of linseed and two gallons of turpentine—he is sure making Brachi white because that white paint is white and has a wonderful gloss.

We sold a lot of everything today—Armstrong rugs and linoleum, table fans in 12", 16" and 20". Chas. and Maude Holder bought a 20" window fan. We sold wiring material and fixtures. Saturday is always busy day—we sell lots of dishes, pitchers and glasses, also cooking utensils for the weekend. Raymond Stephenson bought a lot of PTZ pellets for his sheep and lambs. Winston Brown also bought PTZ pellets for his sheep. Most all the good sheep raisers give Dr. Hess PTZ twice a year. These kill the worms and serve as a body conditioner.

Manford Craft came over for a mower tongue—we drilled the holes in it and even painted it for him. Eustell Sleight bought a pair of grass shears. J. B. Spagel was checking on putting a shower in his basement—had everything all ready to assemble and put the pipe on. Luther Kiser bought plumbing supplies—he is putting in a bathroom at his home on Verona Mudlick Road. So, don't forget to come to CONRAD for your paint and paint of all kinds and colors. I have been selling a lot of that 3.75 per gallon outside white paint—that house that sold Saturday was painted with it—it raised the price $1,000. We have paint and materials for your repairs—come to CONRAD!

More Employees In State Getting Social Security Coverage

More than $3 million a year is being paid by state and local political subdivisions for social security coverage on their employees. H. B. Fithian, director of the Division of Personal Security in the State of Economic Security, reported.

The first quarter of 1955 found 19,082 employees of 130 state agencies, including educational institutions and regular governmental activities, on which contributions of $516,846 were paid. In addition, 18,693 employees of counties, cities and independent groups were included on which contributions of $336,412 were made.

Employees of all state agencies already are under social security, but a number of those in other political subdivisions are not yet covered, according to Fithian.

Coverage of separate political units includes 84 of 120 county school districts; 78 of the 106 independent school districts; 89 of the 120 counties; 79 independent groups such as electric and water plant boards, public libraries, housing commissions and hospitals.

Municipal employees covered include: Louisville, only first-class city; four of the seven second-class cities; eight of the 11 third class cities; 41 of the 58 fourth class cities; 45 of the 78 fifth class cities, and 19 of the 147 sixth class cities.

During the last year, 13 school districts, 11 counties, 18 cities and 10 independent agencies, such as public libraries, municipal utility boards, housing commissions and hospitals, elected to place their employees under social security coverage.

Edwin R. Denney Is Republican Nominee

"Happy" Chandler swept into the Democratic nomination for Governor in Kentucky, Saturday, by about 20,000 votes, after an uphill battle with Bert T. Combs, administration-backed candidate. Chandler carried all of the Northern Kentucky counties of Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Gallatin and Grant.

This places him in the November general election against Edwin R. Denney, the Republican nominee, who won easily.

Combs, 43-year-old mountain judge who lost his first state-wide race to the political veteran, sent Chandler "congratulations and best wishes" on his triumph in Saturday's stormy primary.

Combs pledged the 57-year-old former baseball commissioner and U. S. Senator and other party nominees "my full support" for the November election.

The concession came with a series of "partisan" announcements from top leaders of the regular Democratic state organization which had opposed Chandler's political comeback bitterly.

Chandler extended a hand of friendship Tuesday and said he anticipated a general closing of Democratic ranks for the November election.

Chandler will run against Edwin R. Denney, 51, of Mt. Vernon, who easily won the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Returns from 3571 of Kentucky's 4074 precincts gave Chandler 243,830, Combs 224,682, and Cecil 3739.

Returns from 3342 precincts gave Denney 77,951, or 18.12, with a plurality of 59,819 for Denney.

From among those who had opposed Chandler came these statements: Governor Wetherby: "Our great Democratic party has elected its nominees. I have always supported the nominees of my party and I shall do that this November."

Senator Earle Clements: "The Democratic voters... expressed their will. I extend my best wishes to all nominees. My services in any capacity are available to the Democratic party and its nominees."

During the heated campaign, Chandler had indicated he would find an opponent to run against Clements, who comes up for re-election next year.

Lt. Governor Beauchamp's statement was similar to Clements'. Rumey Taylor, Combs' campaign chairman, said "every vote I have ever cast... has been a Democratic vote and this November will be exception."

In Washington, Senator Alben W. Barkley, who gave up his neutral position late in the campaign and came out strongly for Combs, said: "I sent Mr. Chandler a telegram this morning congratulating him and telling him my services could be available for the entire ticket."

Chandler's victory followed the same pattern as his 1935 gubernatorial triumph. The organization which opposed him this summer is a continuation, in general, of the one he ran against then.

Through the years, there have been two factions in the Kentucky Democratic party. Chandler has headed up one in recent years; Sen. Clements the other.

Speed New Legume-Grass Growth With Plant Food

Well fertilized first crop hay (left) has almost no weeds the year following seedling. Weeds took over (right) where legume seedling ran out of nutrients.

HERE are two steps recommended by Midwestern agronomists for speeding the growth of new legume-grass seedlings this summer, after the small grain harvest:

1—Clip and haul off the straw after the wheat crop is combined, except where the legume seedling is made up of sweet clover. By removing the straw, you allow sunshine and air to reach alfalfa, red clover, Ladino and pasture grasses.

2—Top dress with fertilizer high in phosphate and potash, after the straw is taken off, unless the seedling has had a full feed of nutrients before planting. This will give the small legume plants the nutrients they need to make thick growth and to build husky roots that can fight off winter kill.

One of the advantages of getting rid of the straw is that it cuts down the danger from fungus and molds. The fungus and molds encouraged by the dampness under the straw can sometimes destroy the new seedling, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. Agronomists recommend that new legume seedlings should not be grazed for at least a month to six weeks before growth stops. The plants need this time to store up in their roots the plant food needed to carry them over the winter and to help get growth started promptly the following spring. Over most of the Corn Belt this period runs from around the first of September to the middle of October.

After growth stops for the fall, then the topgrowth can be taken off, for then the plant will not start regrowth and use up the food reserves in its roots.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

They're Gone:

The session has ended and most congressmen have left for home. The Kentucky delegation got out in a hurry, rushing home to vote in Saturday's primary. Consequently, they left a lot of work piled on the desk and that means they'll be drifting back to care for unfinished business.

There is talk about a special session, particularly on a highway construction bill. Lawmakers from our state got a lot of letters opposing a tax program to pay for new roads. But when the highway bill was defeated, a new batch of letters arrived protesting the action. You just can't win!

Money to Give:

A Kentucky lady, here in the capital, has money to give away and whose eligible must apply by the 20th of August.

Mrs. Stanley Pace, prominent in GOP politics in the Blue Grass, is heading up a program to give Korean prisoners of war cash due them. The difficulty seems to be that very few POW's realize they have money coming. So this is a notice to those boys: Get that application in to Mrs. Pace, Foreign Claims Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Toll Roads:

We've heard a lot about toll roads during the recent Democratic primary campaign. Right across the river from Washington, the state of Virginia seems sold on such pay-to-ride highways.

Virginia, so we hear, is going to put up about 30 million dollars and various banks and investment houses are to invest about 170 million dollars more. It seems that bankers believe the investment is a solid one, what with more and more cars—and more and more tourists—hitting the road every day.

The Postoffice:

Reply to Scott county reader? A tremendous barrage of protests against new gasoline, tire and diesel oil taxes spelled defeat for the billion dollar highway bill, we believe. Answer to Montgomery county writer: It's the opinion of some officials that housing construction will drop off due to tightening of credit by Uncle Sam. . . . To Broken county letter writer: The best time to visit Washington is in October. Try to take the Skyline Drive when the leaves are beginning to turn. . . . Reply to Lewis county Republican: The next GOP national convention opens August 20, 1956, in San Francisco. State Republican leaders should give you information on housing accommodations and other matters.

Taylor county farmers have been getting $487 a day more for Grade A milk than they could get for Grade C milk.

It is claimed that the reduction in the tobacco allotment will cost Franklin county farmers $700,000 this year.

Lloyd Holderby, Magoffin county, who has a flock of broiler-type hens, has been selling eggs to a hatchery for 68 cents a dozen.

W. H. Carney, Washington county, used basilite as a preservative in filling a silo with rye.

Higher Social Security Benefits Received by 15,000 This Month

This month, more than 15,000 retired workers over the nation will receive the first higher social security benefit amount payable under the new disability freeze payment in the law. Joseph T. Ware, manager of the Covington district of the Social Security Administration, announced this week.

Mr. Ware explained that social security offices have been accepting applications from disabled workers since January, although July was the first month for which increased amounts could be paid under the law. This was done so that all necessary determinations could be made in these cases, and increased checks for July delivered in the mail the first week in August, as usual.

Mr. Ware explained that under the new disability freeze provision, a worker who has been totally disabled for work for six months or more, with a disability which is expected to continue indefinitely, can apply to have his social security frozen as of the time his disability began. When the time comes for figuring up the monthly benefit payable to him at 65 or to the family in case of the worker's death, the years when he was unable to work because of disability will not be counted against him.

Because the law was written to apply to workers now over 65 if they became disabled before reaching that age, as well as to younger workers, a beneficiary is able to have his monthly benefit reduced to leave out the years when he had no earnings. These disabled beneficiaries have received an average increase of about $11 a month.

Old age beneficiaries who meet the requirements and apply before July 1, 1957 to have their social security earnings record frozen, will receive any increases due in their benefit amounts retroactively to July, 1955.

Information may be obtained from the Social Security office in the Post Office Building, Seventh and Scott Streets, Covington, Ky. Telephone HEmlack 1-524.

Members of the Rowan County Livestock Improvement Association voted to take part in an Eastern Kentucky feeder-calf sale.

book James Stephenson, Verona, won first prize in 4-H poultry and Robert Maddox first prize in the 4-H rabbit class.

Willford Scott, dairy superintendent, said that this was one of Boone county's largest and best dairy shows. He pointed out that there were dairy herds from Campbell, Bracken, Shelby, Carroll, Grant and Harrison counties, aside from Boone, making one of the top shows and some of the stiffest competition in the state. Beef herds were shown from Carroll and Boone counties and hogs from Kenton.

What's a 3-letter word for $31,855?

RELAX, MISTER! You won't find it in the dictionary. But in our book the answer is "JOB"—for that's the kind of money it takes to create a job opportunity on the Southern Railway today.

This $31,855 is our invested capital per employee—the money that has been put into the equipment, land, facilities and other "tools of the trade," without which there could be no jobs.

Because of the nature of the railroad business, this investment per worker is far higher than in most other industries. But it is money well spent. For our invested capital not only creates employment for many thousands of men and women, it also makes possible a modern, ever-improving transportation service that is constantly adding value to the investment all of us have in the Southland and its future.

FROM THE PAGES OF
 THE NATION'S HISTORY
 COME THE STORIES OF

KENTUCKY'S HISTORIC SHRINES

Cumberland Gap, Kentucky's Gateway to the West for America's pioneers, opened up a great new world for the nation's early settlers who followed Daniel Boone into Kentucky. Historic shrines stand today in many Kentucky communities, commemorating the lives of great men and the stirring events which were a part of the historic story of Kentucky. Many highways follow historic trails. This luxuriant country, which was both "Happy Hunting Ground" and "Dark and Bloody Ground" to the Indians, became the earliest promised land for the pioneers from the East.

The history of Kentucky makes up much of the early history of the nation, and the nation's history is filled with the deeds of men who were first Kentuckians. The deeds and men of this history are memorialized in state parks, shrines and museums throughout the state. To the studious or to the casually interested observer of history, Kentucky is an exciting museum, an inspirational and unforgettable center of historic action.

THEN what? What happens next? What is going to happen to me if I don't do what you want? What does "or else—" mean? If the person who asks such questions doesn't get answers he likes, but goes right on in his determined way, we say he is brave. If a man does what he does when everybody else is doing it, when he gets well paid for it, praised and rewarded, we do not call that brave. But when a man does what he does knowing pretty well that he will get hurt because he does it, we call the man brave.

Two Kinds of Courage

There are two kinds of bravery or courage. One we call physical courage, the other is moral courage. The physical hero dashes into a burning building or into a swift river, to save some one else at real peril to his own life. He may refuse to disclose an important secret even though he is being tortured to make him reveal it. The moral hero stands up even though he knows is right even though this makes him unpopular or ridiculous in the eyes of people whose good will he would like to keep. We might say that physical courage is determination in spite of the prospect of bodily pain; moral courage is determination in spite of the prospect of mental or spiritual pain. Sometimes the two are combined in the same act and the same person, as with Daniel in the stories assigned for this week. Moral courage being rather more unusual than physical, let us take a look at that, especially.

Ridicule

Standing with the crowd never takes courage. Standing alone against the crowd always calls for courage, no matter what the crowd is carrying. Are they picking up stones? Then facing them calls for physical courage. Are they laughing their heads off? Then facing them calls for moral courage. The one thing that most people are afraid of more than anything else is being laughed at. Ridicule can be as cruel as any instrument of torture. Even men with a keen sense of humor don't like to be made fun of. Why do people who really know better, who down in their consciences know it is wrong for them to drink, drink and even get drunk all the same? The reason is, they can't stand being laughed at. It takes courage to stand alone against a laugh!

Contempt

Most men do not like to admit having made a mistake. It sounds a little like admitting one was a fool. And it has been observed that most men can more easily admit to being knaves than fools; we would almost rather be wicked than look silly. We can stand opposition more easily than we can stand contempt. But that is exactly what calls for moral courage in the man who stands alone. No one likes to be looked down on, no one likes to be thought of as so stupid or out-of-line that no one will respect him. But that is what young Daniel was facing in Babylon, it is what many today have to face. To take our temperance illustration again: Why do many people drink alcoholic liquors against their better judgment? They can't stand up against the crowd. Within the memory of living men there was a White House hostess who would not serve liquor at State dinners, no matter who was there. Many foreign ambassadors wrote home contemptuously about it; but she stood to her convictions. Not many have courage of that sort.

Loneliness

"Dare to be a Daniel, dare to stand alone!" is easy to sing, hard to do. The sheer weight of numbers overpowers people. They will climb aboard any bandwagon if it looks crowded; they will not venture into a heavenly chariot if they have to ride alone. It takes a little moral courage to stand up and be counted with a minority. It takes a great deal more to stand up and be counted THE minority of One. But such courage is possible. Daniel showed it; he showed that his moral courage was matched by his physical courage. And after all, he was not in the minority after all. God was on his side, for He was on God's side, and that made the difference. Many a time a good cause has been lost not by weakness but by cowardice; but on the other hand good causes have been saved by men who believed in their rightness so deeply that rather than deny their faith, they would be buried alive in loneliness.

KNOW HIM?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now . . . you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why . . . and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WRAPPING IMPORTANT IN FREEZING FOODS

The choice of wrapping paper is important for the successful freezing of foods, says Miss Elizabeth Helton, assistant professor of foods at the UK School of Home Economics. Packaging foods properly is as important as freezing only foods of good quality, she said.

Good freezer wrapping should have these qualifications, according to Miss Helton: (1) It must be moisture and vapor proof to prevent freezer burn or dehydration; (2) it must be pliable so it will adhere to irregularly shaped objects, thus eliminating as much air as possible. If air is left in a package, the frost will accumulate inside the wrap; (3) The wrapping must be tough to withstand the wear and tear caused in moving packages about, and (4) it should take labeling that can be read quickly.

Ants In the Home

Has your house been invaded by ants? This time of year many of these little fellows are seen around containers of food, especially sweets and fats, says Miss Helen Horton, Boone County Apprentice Home Agent.

To get rid of these pests the first step is to find their nests and then treat them with an insecticide. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says the most effective insecticide in the home is 2% oil-base chlordane solution. This can be applied with a paint brush or sprayer as near as possible to where the nests are located. Ants can be kept from entering the house by painting or spraying the insecticide along baseboards, cracks in floors, doors or window frames, sinks, and electric outlets or applying chlordane along the outside walls from ground up to windows. A 2% water-base chlordane preparation in various forms is recommended for outdoor use.

Chlordane has a long lasting effect; therefore it is usually not necessary to spray the same surface more than once every 1 to 3 months.

A good preventive measure against ants is to keep all containers of food, flour canisters and bread boxes tightly closed. Ants can be kept off tables, refrigerators and other movable pieces of furniture by placing the legs of such articles in shallow dishes containing a small quantity of kerosene.

As chlordane is poisonous to people and pets, as well as ants, so a few simple precautions are required for its use around the home—Keep the insecticide away from children, pets, foods, dishes and cooking utensils; be certain not to inhale the spray mist; if chlordane gets onto skin, wash it off immediately with soap and water.

Thirty acres of strawberries were picked and 75 acres set in Lincoln county this season.

A tin can opened at each end is handy when containers are being filled with food for freezing, says Mrs. Anna C. Thompson, UK area home demonstration agent.

Carry-over Power of Fertilizer Aids All Rotation Crops

FERTILIZER'S "carry-over" power helps boost the yields of all crops in the rotation, when plant food is added to any of them, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in summarizing a recent report by H. J. Mederski, Ohio State University agronomist.

Corn yields were increased 15 bushels per acre, oats eight bushels, wheat 10 bushels, and hay 760 pounds per acre in Ohio tests, said Mederski, when 500 pounds of a nitrogen-phosphate-potash fertilizer was broadcast for corn in the rotation.

When the same amount of fertilizer was added to a new legume-grass seeding after wheat, the yields of hay were increased 1,800 pounds per acre, corn 12 bushels per acre, oats seven bushels, and wheat six bushels. Applying the fertilizer to wheat, boosted yields of wheat by 19 bushels, hay by 1,300 pounds per acre, corn seven bushels and oats six bushels per acre.

When corn is in the rotation, said Mederski, the soil's fertility level can be increased or maintained by adding the bulk of the fertilizer at a convenient place in the rotation, such as the meadow crop, and using smaller amounts of plant food in the row at corn planting time.

Archie Adams, Lewis county, figured he got $5.17 an hour for his work in growing 1,000 broilers to an age of 10 weeks.

Ninety-two percent of the farms in Kentucky are now electrified.

Eleven pigs in one litter on the farm of Richard Jackson, Warren county, weighed 50 pounds each when 60 days old.

It was August 5, 1935 that E. E. Fry (Uncle Ed, as most everyone called him) came down to the store, as he had been home with a bad heart since March—he called me back behind the wrapping table and told me he wanted me to buy his half of the hardware store, as my father-in-law, Dr. R. E. Fry, had bought from Barnett Frank in 1931—he told me what he wanted and I said, like all other young fellows, I haven't got but $100 in the bank—I went to the bank and they would not loan me the money, as I did not have enough security—then I thought of my old friend, Dr. R. E. Fry—I went up to the office and told him what I wanted to do—he asked what security I could give him and I told him I had a large insurance policy would sign over to him—he said, I will have the money tomorrow—I went and told my wife and she did not know what to say—going in debt all that amount in 1935—but then and at all other times we have had business deals, I have always consulted her, and she has always said, if you think it is the right thing to do, we will try it—so, for 20 years we have done very well—we have made lots of friends and some enemies, but Ed Fry told me you have to run this business yourself and not let other people run it for you—the hardware business is a good business, but it moves slow and takes lots of time to operate a good store—it is very slow turnover in stock—now with all the wholesale buying and the discounts these appliance dealers are giving down town, it is hard to make over a $10 sale and make a profit, but in time this will wear out, because the service on these appliances will tell the tale—because you have to have a profit if you give good service—20 years has made a lot of changes in business—people and the town, as a whole—I believe the rural electrification helped our community more than anything—the good roads and the prosperity we have had, for 20 years has made this a fine place to live.

Omer Kite was in today for a few minutes—he bought cartridges and a flashlight. We made up several heavy rods for him for each gun, and he had a lot of cut up a lot of angle iron for Spillman at Crittenden, to put over windows to let concrete block on. Mrs. Omer Black bought six gallons of that good old Bala outside white paint. Mrs. Emma Flynn bought a new 52-gallon electric hot water heater. Jack Alphin installed it for me. Walton is lucky to have so many good mechanics to do all kinds of repair jobs.

Eldon Ashcraft and Eddie were in today—Eddie is getting his pony ready to take to the fair at Burlington. Mrs. Elmer Webster, on Green Road, came in and got a Dayton water meter for her dairy barn—they tell me the milk shipper will have to put in a water system. Joe Knapp, corner of Harris Pike and Ky. 17, bought a combination water heater and water pump, put out by the Dayton Pump Co. We have sold several of these. R. C. Brakfield was buying pipe fittings—they are installing a large air conditioning system in the drug store, so if you want to get cool, go to the drug store!

We sold a lot at Paris Green, Arsenate of Lead and DDT, as tobacco worms are bad this year. Several have been complaining about a long gray-blue bug eating up the tomatoes and have been using Morlate, which is Dupont's 50%; Methoxychlor. C. M. Alister bought a new radio—his old one quit and he has to have music. Some fellow stopped and bought a pony bride. Another bought a wagon whip. Another bought cow bells and collars. We sold bale ties and baler twine. Louis Schwab bought water hose and sewer rod to clean out his drains.

I have an extra good used Maytag washer I just had overhauled, to sell cheap. Carl Gerth's wife called me and she was having a little trouble with their Dayton water pump—they ran out of water and never could get the pump to work after they put in water—all I had to do was call the Dayton pump man in Cincinnati, and here he came—that is the reason I sell Dayton water systems—when we have trouble, we can get service at once. When you get ready to buy a water system, see CONRAD, I believe I can sell you the best pump for the least money and I will give you the best service. There are a lot of places you can buy Dayton water pumps, but you get no service, because they come to me and say, I bought this pump from a certain place, but I get no service, so I try to take care of them.

Mrs. Omer Black bought a lot of plastic pipe to run city water to her house on High Street. This plastic pipe is cheap and very easy to install—all you need is a knife and a screw driver. It was a hot, dry election day, and not many came out to vote, but we had very good business day. We sold so many electric fans I don't know who all did buy. Buddy Whitson and Carolyn bought a window fan. Arthur Brewster bought a window fan. Mrs. Hall, up at Last Chance, bought a window fan. Roy Eaton and wife bought a 20" table fan. Lebus and Louise Stephenson bought a GE table fan. John Burgess bought a 20" table fan for Hymer, and Mr. Reynolds, the brick layer, bought a 20" table fan.

We sold a lot of small fans, I can't remember now. We sold more plastic pipe and fittings. We sold fruit jar lids, cold pack canners, iron skillets, stone jugs, milk crocks, pitchers and glasses, Pyrex pie plates to Mrs. Alfred Hunt. Mrs. Mary E. Bedinger Logan and husband bought several items, and Joe Richardson bought brush killer and a dog muzzle.

Autopsy Is Now In Progress at Hospital

The body of a woman was found in Boone County, late Sunday near the Ohio River in what police described as "Lower Lane" area. The body was nude and was badly decomposed.

Kentucky state police and Boone County authorities immediately launched an investigation and assumed that the woman had been murdered.

The body was partly covered by a portion of cardboard box, she was between 20 and 30 years old, slight build and had long red hair.

Robert Brugh, Boone County coroner, declined to estimate how long the body had been lying where it was found. He did say that he "didn't think" it could have been washed up from the river.

Authorities said nothing was found at the scene to aid in identifying the body.

Assisting with the investigation are Sheriff Byron Kinman and Deputy Lillard Scott, of Boone County, and Sgt. Harold Kinman, Corp. Robert Kline and Troopers Alvin Roberts and Chester Henderson of Kentucky State Police.

Officials removed the body to General Hospital, Cincinnati, and an autopsy and further examination was made.

Top-Dress Alfalfa This Fall For Extra Tons of Hay in '56

Annual fall top-dressings since 1950 are maintaining alfalfa yields at 3½ and 4 tons per acre, on this Barron county, Wis., field.

Top-dressing legume - grass meadows late this summer with phosphate and potash fertilizer can pay off in extra tons of higher quality hay next year.

Another dividend will come in added protection against damage to the legumes from winter killing, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

To obtain fullest benefits from the top-dressing, the fertilizer should be put on as soon as possible after the last cutting of hay, says the committee.

"Plant food added late in the summer or early in the autumn," says the committee, "will help increase the fall growth of the legumes."

"It will also enable the plants to store up nutrients in their roots. This is important in tiding the legumes over severe winter weather. Strong, well nourished roots anchor themselves more solidly in the soil. Thus they are able to withstand the effects of heaving during alternate periods of freezing and thawing."

"When legumes are fed plenty of phosphate and potash, they come through the winter with enough nutrients in their roots to start growth vigorously in the spring."

The committee points out that it pays, also, to top-dress new legume - grass seedings with phosphate - potash fertilizer in cases where they did not receive enough plant food at seeding time. Here again, the nutrients provided by the top-dressing will help the legumes develop deeper, thicker root systems to carry them safely through extreme winter conditions.

Applications of from 300 to 500 pounds per acre of a fertilizer such as 0-20-10, 0-20-20, 0-10-20, or 0-10-30 are recommended by some agronomists, depending on the soil's need for phosphate and potash, says the committee.

TRUCK OPERATORS SEEK RATE INCREASE

Commissioner of Motor Transportation John M. Kinnaird today set for hearing September 15 a proposed increase in rates sought by common carrier truck operators in the State—and suspended the proposed rates for not to exceed six months pending final determination of the question. Central and Southern Motor Freight Tariff Association, Inc., of Louisville, filed the proposed rate schedules which, generally, provide:

An increase of 20% on shipments of 2,000 pounds or less, and a minimum fee of $2.50—instead of the new $2.00 minimum—on any shipment.

Meanwhile, Kinnaird announced that the Department's Division of Rates and Service was conducting a survey on what effect, if any, the proposed rate increases would have on traffic movements in the State.

Delmer Ison, director of the Division, appealed to common carriers to reply to Department inquiries as soon as possible, as a preliminary to a hearing on the merits of the issue. The Association represents most of the common carrier truck operators in the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods and sons Charles Ray and Ricky Wayne, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Flora Woods and family. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woods also were Saturday guests.

J. B. Douglas, of Loyall, Harlan county, cleaned undesirable growth from three acres and replanted with pine seedlings.

Local Trucking Firm to Participate in National Highway Safety Camp.

The Groger Truck Line of Walton reported today its participation in the Partners in Safety Campaign sponsored by the American Trucking Industry thru the Council of Safety Supervisors of the American Trucking Associations, Inc. This industry campaign is designed to back up the Slow Down and Live Campaign being conducted throughout the 48 states in an effort to cut down the peak in traffic accidents which occurs during the Summer vacation season between Memorial Day and Labor Day. In backing up this all-out effort to save lives on the highway, the professional drivers of the trucking industry have pledged themselves to: (1) Extend driving courtesy to all users of the streets and highways; (2) Drive defensively at all times; and (3) Obey all company, city, state and federal safety regulations.

"As the Partners in Safety Campaign approaches the half-way point, we have operated our fleet of five vehicles without an accident since the start of the campaign on May 28th," said Mr. Groger.

Promises of God

Lesson for August 21, 1955

MANY Christians today become confused when they read the prophecies of the Old Testament. They do not seem to be either plain or profitable, because they are written in a strange style and the reader has no way of knowing without help, just how they are to be interpreted. Just as the prophet is a man, a holy, sensitive man, with spiritual insight, generally with great courage and persistence; in short, a prophet. We do not know for certain just what the process is by which a divine truth gets into the human mind of the prophet, but when first the divine truth enters the human sphere, it comes as an idea, a thought, in some prophet's mind. Sometimes more than one prophet may say the same thing, as when Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel were all predicting the return of the Jews to Jerusalem. Sometimes the prophet stands entirely alone. But the prophet is like the lookout in the crow's nest of a ship, sighting the dim landfall before any one on deck can see it.

The Prophet
The promises of God are never made directly, as by a loudspeaker in the sky. The same promise may be made to many persons, but not all at once. The message first takes shape under the skill of one man, a holy, sensitive man, with spiritual insight, generally with great courage and persistence; in short, a prophet. We do not know for certain just what the process is by which a divine truth gets into the human mind of the prophet, but when first the divine truth enters the human sphere, it comes as an idea, a thought, in some prophet's mind. Sometimes more than one prophet may say the same thing, as when Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel were all predicting the return of the Jews to Jerusalem. Sometimes the prophet stands entirely alone. But the prophet is like the lookout in the crow's nest of a ship, sighting the dim landfall before any one on deck can see it.

The Promise
Sometimes the signal the prophet's keen spirit caught from on high spelled disaster; sometimes it was like "news behind news," a commentary on the why of events in past or present. But often, indeed more often than anything else, the message of the prophet is a promise. You can sum up all the promises there are into one sentence: God is good; he desires the good of all his children; and he will bring good to pass. One writer in the New Testament suggests that the prophets did not always understand their own messages; they were like radio receivers crossed by static. Be that as it may, we know from reading the Gospels that the people who read the prophets, even the professional interpreters, did not always understand what they read. The promises were set in obscure language, often in poetry. One feature however is clear. The focus and center of the prophet's hope, and dream was the Messiah. It is true, their descriptions were so misread that when Jesus Christ came, most of his fellow-countrymen, measuring him by the literal words of these promises, did not recognize him. But there were those who did. The Christian discovers that all the best good that God desires for his children is summed up in Christ and what he does for men.

The Present
What can a Christian today do with the promises passed on by the prophets? Some of them refer no doubt to events long since past, as when Ezekiel and Jeremiah predict the destruction of Babylon. The Christian can take such promises to support his faith that God does rule in the history of men; that his decrees are certain, his foreknowledge sure. Some of the promises are still unfulfilled, as when a prophet predicts the utter destruction of evil from this earth and the coming of a time of universal peace. A Christian can live by such hope even when (just as in the prophet's own days) the hope seems out of reach entirely. Where the prophet speaks of God's Servant the Coming One, we can use such promises to deepen our understanding of what Christ is to mean to the world. But every once in a while, in reading the prophets, one discovers that spans past, present and future. It was a promise made good long ago; it will come true in centuries to come; it is true this present hour. Such a promise is to be found, for instance, in Isaiah 55:6-7.

HOW TALL THE TREES...

How tall the trees, and how straight the road. It cuts unwaveringly through the countryside, and the trees border it like sentinels. Sentinels they have been too, walls of protection during storm, blessed shade when the heat of the noonday sun is mercilessly strong.

As we go through life, it might be easier if our roads could be that straight. But so often they aren't. So often they are full of unexpected turnings. So often we're tempted to stray from them entirely.

But we, too, have a sentinel to protect us... in the Church. It is there to shelter us in storms, to shade us when we've erred.

The Church teaches mercy. It teaches compassion. It teaches forgiveness. We need the Church, and it is never too late to find it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a structure of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

QUICK HANDLING HELPS HOMEGROWN SWEET CORN

There's a season why home-grown sweet corn on the cob tastes better than most corn bought at a market, says Mrs. Pearl Hoak, specialist in foods at the University of Kentucky. The secret is a quick trip from the garden to the kettle of boiling water, she explained, before the sugar has time to change to starch.

After removing the husks, place the ears in boiling salted water and cook for 10 minutes.

A recent practice among some large scale truck gardeners is to gather corn at night, plunging the ears before husking in cold water, then immediately packing in ice. The result is fresher, finer-tasting sweet corn for the housewife who buys corn at the market.

UK ACCEPTS $32,005

Gifts of money totaling $32,005 and two miscellaneous items were accepted for the University of Kentucky this week. Among the most liberal gifts were those of $5,000 from the Central States Forest Service, U. S. KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

The Dull Season:

It's the dull season in Washington now, what with Congress gone home. Secretaries are finishing the last of the mail and will soon depart on vacations. Newsmen still on the job, recall the final night of the senate session when Democratic Leader Clements praised Republican Leader Knowland and members of the Upper House applauded both.

There is some talk of a special session to act on the highway construction bill but when Senator Clements notified the President that Congress was about to leave town, he had no message or suggestions to offer. That may come later.

The Voice:

The Voice of America is about to broadcast a series of stories to Europe describing the birthplace of some famous American writers. And a spot outside of Ashland, Ky., is to be one of them.

Author Jesse Stuart will do the job and we've seen some of the paragraphs to be used. He traveled in the wild hills, worked his way through school and his father, a miner-farmer, lived to see four of his five children earn college degrees. It's an inspiring story of an American family.

Tobacco Experiment:

If we report often on tobacco matters it's because we believe no other industry is so important to our state. Right outside of Washington, across the city limits in Maryland, there's an experiment under way to irrigate tobacco crops. It's a chance, the planters say, to overcome drought.

Thus far there is no decision on the effectiveness of such irrigation. But the experiments go on. In the meantime, Maryland tobacco farmers are being urged to establish farm ponds to assure themselves of a water supply.

Mail Call:

The mail already is falling off, what with the lawmakers gone home. Readers, however, are still writing about the failure of the highway construction bill to pass. . . . Reply to Gallatin county man; Not one member of Congress died during the present session. . . . To Boone county dairy farmer: The Department of Agriculture is trying a new plan to get rid of surplus butter. Weekly auctions are to be held. The butter is to be used for industrial purposes, if sold. . . . To a Campbell county sports fan: So far as we know, not a single Kentuckian is on the Washington Redskins, the pro football team. Usually the team has one or two former U.K. Wildcats.

TIME TO PAINT

From now until frost or the fall rains start is the time to paint your buildings outside, and to put your roof in condition for winter, so I try to have all kinds of paint. I have the best Outside White Paint for $4.95 per gallon and a cheaper grade for 3.75 per gallon. I have a good Red Barn Paint for $3.25 per gallon. If you want a good Red or Pink, I have it for only $4.95 per gallon. I have a good Aluminum Roof Paint for $3.75 per gallon and that heavy grade Asbestos Fibre Black Roof Coating 5 gallon can for 3.50. Put it on when hot and spread it thin for a real job. I have that Aluminum and Green Roof Coating with Asbestos Fibre. I just received another shipment of Sta-Dri for your basement walls leaky cisterns, paint your asbestos shingle siding. We carry it in Green, Gray and White and can get lots of other colors. STA-DRI is one of our best sellers this year. Leon Hall used it on his swimming pool. Red Brewster used it on his cistern. Ralph Lucas used it on his basement walls. Chas. Wilson painted his house and lots of others used STA-DRI. That Rubber Base Wall Paint is the greatest paint for inside ever made I believe. My wife had our kitchen painted over 'Santas gray ceiling and one end with Blue walls, on other end, it is washable and don't have that high gloss. Try some it comes in lots of colors. Have you noticed my store how white the trim is and only one coat, it was just dirty.

Mrs. Lizzie Williams from over at Verona bought a Combination Coal heater and cooker. I sent William Armstrong over three more large Chicken Feeders on legs. They save feed and are lots cleaner. Ed Hetzel is putting in a bathroom and I am furnishing all the pipe and fittings. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eason were in. Mrs. Evans brought her electric iron, it had been dropped—we checked it and was O.K. Roy bought a hose and trowel, he is brick layer by trade. Jack Burk and two boys were after fruit jars. Gordon Perkins was buying fruit jars and pipe fittings. We sell lots of canning supplies, we sold out of both sizes of cold pack canners, but have a stock now for the fall canning. We have National Pressure Canners, love time and fuel with these Pressure Canners.

William and Betty Brown were buying a few small items—Betty always has a list. Raymond Durr's wife brought in her G.E. Steam Iron but could not find anything wrong. Halien Huffman brought in her iron, I could not fix it—I sold her a new one. That is the way it is here. Every day is a busy and interesting day at Conrad Hardware Store. Today Chick helped Junior Hoffman fit up a Dayton Water System to put in his dairy barn. I took a Rotary Power Mower over to Mrs. John Carter at Verona and sold her real-time mower to Mrs. William McGee—her neighbor, Bill Denier came over more Boice Inside White Paint and Sheffield's Aluminum Roof Paint—he is painting for Mrs. Fredricka Mann out at the farm. Boice is bringing down another truck load of paint tomorrow—we sure sell lots of it every day.

Mr. Cummins over Atwood way brought me the nicest box of corn and tomatoes—he is a fine man and has been a good customer of mine for years. Red made up more rods and plates for Kurt Richter to put in his barn. Mr. Baker over at Mt. Zion came after eye bolts and chains—he is getting a truck ready to haul coal from the mines. Russell Rector came after ten more gallons of Boice Outside White Paint. Floyd Seebree sent after more Boice Paint. Mr. Elmer Webster came in and said he had water and plenty of it after installing the Dayton Water System. Junior Hoffman's wife came after a few parts—he has his Dayton Water System installed. We sell lots of these pumps and very few ever cause trouble if they are installed correctly.

Mrs. Fredricka Mann called for 5 gallons of Boice Paint and 2 gallons of thinner to paint the ceiling of her basement. Bill Denier is going to put it on with a spray. He has a large paint spray and does a good job—no like these fellows that go through the country and paint your barn cheap. Brewster was back on the job today after two weeks vacation. We had several repair calls for him waiting. He took Rev. Kelly Kennedy a new Maytag Washer for his wife, they were away from home but Brewster and Red put the washer in the basement—a surprise for his wife. Then they set up Mrs. Williams coal heater. Brewster went over on Mallett Road to check the wringer on a new Maytag—it was O.K., needed grease was all. Then he made a service call to Claude Thompson's and put the washer wringer back together—it had jumped apart.

Then he went to the Bischoff farm, Mrs. Eva Deon's washer, the agitator would not turn. She needs a new Maytag. We sold several small orders of paint. We sold Boice Floor Enamel, Super Chrome, Aluminum, Rubber Base Wall Paint, Liquid Satin Wall Paint, Black Asbestos Fibre Roof Paint and Boice's Outside White—So when you get ready to paint try CONRAD HARDWARE for paint and brushes—also caulking, putty, wire brushes, scrapers—Now is the time to repair!

COOLING IMPORTANT IN PRODUCING CREAM

No other factor is more important to the production of high quality cream than cooling, says Morse W. Dunning, Jr., of the Dairy Section of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and home Economics.

"Cream must be cooled immediately after separating to a temperature of 60 degrees or below in order to retain most of its original freshness," Dunning said. "To prevent speedy decomposition of cream, never mix warm and cold cream. Each separation should be kept in individual containers until cooled throughout. Mixing can then be done when cream is emptied into the marketing container."

"The home refrigerator is a good place to cool and store cream. On farms not having refrigeration, a tub or tank of cold water can be used as a cooling medium. Contrary to the belief of some cream producers, the cellar is neither satisfactory nor desirable as a cooling and storage place for market cream."

"Sell only clean, cooled cream and sell it at least every four days or after."

Young Woman's Body Is Still Unidentified

Remains Buried In the Burlington Cemetary

Boone county officials have been stumped in their investigation of the death of a young woman whose body was found in a secluded spot near the Ohio River, August 14.

William P. McEvoy, county attorney, and Sheriff Byron Kinnaman were discouraged by a pathologist's report that an autopsy had failed to reveal the cause of death. The pathologist, Dr. R. J. Ritterhoff, said the negative result of the post mortem examination was due to decomposition of the body.

"About all we have left our examination," Dr. Ritterhoff said, "is that she was a brown-haired young woman in her late teens or early 20s, about five feet, two inches tall."

Sheriff Kinnaman and Mr. McEvoy attached little importance to the discovery last Wednesday of a length of sash cord, a piece of wrapping twine, some fused yellow powder and a few small bones near the spot where the body was found.

Mr. McEvoy said the evidence would be tested by the FBI in Washington or by a local concern. He pointed out that "hundreds of people have visited the area since the body was found. Maybe any one of them discarded the stuff."

There still is no clue as to the woman's identity. Her nude body, with hands and feet missing, was found by two fishermen between Highway 8 and the Ohio River. The remains were buried this week at Burlington.

Union OES to Meet

Union Star Chapter, No. 461, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting Thursday, August 25, at 8:00 p. m., in the Masonic Hall at Union.

A class of candidates will be initiated at this time and a social hour will be enjoyed at the close. All members are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary Hayes, Worthy Matron, and Riley J. Presser, Worthy Patron, will preside.

Training Schools Held For Kenton County's Homemaker Chairmen

Eighty-four federation chairmen of the Kenton County Homemakers' Association attended training schools held August 18 and 19 at the Federal Building in Covington. Chairmen were assisted by Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Home Demonstration Agent, in conducting the sessions.

The citizenship chairman, under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Cartwright, the county chairman, set up county goals and chose as their theme for the year "Faith in Freedom, Our Hope of World Peace."

The subject for the International Essay contest is to be "How is the Organization to Which I Belong Contributing to World Peace." The motive of this essay competition is the desire of homemakers to bring about international understanding for the long and difficult road to peace.

Mrs. Harold Buxton, county reading chairman, stressed the importance of a planned reading program and announced that a certificate of award will be given by the State Reading Committee to members reading at least six books during the year—books read to include three works of fiction, one inspiration or religious, one biography, and one on travel or history.

The county publicity program will be directed by Mrs. Charles B. Hesselman, who asked that all clubs have an exhibit during National Home Demonstration Week observance, and that clubs take and use more pictures in home demonstration work.

Mrs. William Walterman, county membership chairman, reported that Kenton County Homemakers' reached 300 organized groups last year, and asked that homemakers continue to expand home demonstration influence by promoting work with unorganized groups. The club vice president and two other members will constitute a membership committee in each community.

A training school for presidents and program chairmen is scheduled for 10:00 a. m., Tuesday, August 30, at the Covington YMCA.

Northern Kentucky's first large state-owned lake, Bullock Pen Lake in Boone and Grant counties threw open its waters to eager fishermen August 1.

Two biologists from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources spent the opening week at the lake collecting data on the catch made by fishermen.

They report that they collected 297 fish from 100 anglers in the first week. The catch was 332 bluegills or 101 bullhead catfish. This represents an average of 3.25 fish per fisherman, or 988 fish per fishing hour for the 979 hours fished. Approximately half of the fishermen were contacted.

The biologists report the average size of the bass was 10 1/2 inches long, but that they saw five bass measuring 13 1/2 inches and two 14 1/2 inches. The bass were all spawned in May at 1954, making them 14 months old, when the lake opened.

Bluegills were in two size ranges. The Reunion After 13 Years

Monday morning at the Webster Grocery two men were standing at the counter together—one of the men, Walter Schaffer, a salesman, in talking to Mr. Webster, mentioned an incident during World War II—the other man standing there, George Dickson, spoke up and said that he also remembered that incident. After a short conversation, the two men found that they had been the closest of buddies all during the War. What a happy reunion they had.

D. of A. Picnic Tonight

Ground Observers to Meet

The Walton Ground Observation Corp will hold its monthly meeting on Friday night, August 26, at the Walton City building at 7:30 p. m. It is very important that all members attend this meeting.

The Past Supervisor has received a letter of reply from Brent Sorence, that he would try to get the Walton Ground Observation Post some surplus government material for the purpose of building an observation tower. In the event that Mr. Sorence is unable to obtain this material, it will be necessary for the Post to ask the people of Walton for funds to help build this tower.

Clements Named To Farmers Home Adm. Committee In Boone

Nathan Ivan Clements, Union, Route 1, is the new member of the Boone County Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. His appointment became effective July 1, according to Rob Ray Norton, county supervisor.

Mr. Clements is a longtime resident of the county, being a farmer in the Union community. He is also associated with the Walton Stock Sales and is well known throughout the county.

The other two members of the committee, Harold L. Alphin of Walton, and Joseph A. Huey of Union, are farmers in their respective communities.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions. Each member is named for a 3-year term, and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his 3-year term cannot succeed himself. At least two of the members must be farmers.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy, improve, enlarge or operate efficient family-type farms. It also lends money to farmers or their nonprofit associations to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices.

Before the agency can make any loan, the applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of a farm ownership loan, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved also must be approved by the committee, Mr. Norton said. The agency does not make a loan of any type to an applicant whose credit needs can be handled by other credit sources.

Plans Under Way For Teen Canteen Club At Independence

If you are 13 to 19 years old and reside within the community of Independence, you are eligible to become a member of the new Teen Canteen Club, which is now being organized by adults, teen-agers and members of the American Legion. It is the teen-agers who are doing the work on this project and it will be your membership and your willingness to help to keep it building to sufficient heights to make this a self-supporting club.

At the last meeting, held in the American Legion hall, more adults than teen-agers were present and this shouldn't be. However, you can do your part by being present at the next regular meeting on Moon Bros. Post, 275, on Thursday evening, September 1. Mark your calendar and be present—above all, bring your parents. Members of the American Legion are holding this meeting open especially for you—Pub. Chm.

Tobacco Production Discussed by Mr. Hunt

Boone county's annual tobacco field meeting was held Monday afternoon on the farm of Melvin Moore in the Hamilton community.

Russell Hunt discussed tobacco production and the new experimental work being done on Burley tobacco in Kentucky. Mr. Hunt stated that there is one of the best Burley crops in Kentucky that has been had for the past few years; that this crop is a fast-growing one and should be a cigarette type tobacco. He advised growers to prepare their plantbeds in the fall, whether they were burning them or using a chemical as sterilizer; that this has been found one of the best ways of preventing wildfire; that bluestone and lime and good management are still the recommendations for preventing wildfire. The new wildfire resistant tobacco WS 12-53 is proving good in Kentucky.

Joe Claxon, county agent, said that there are 15 growers in the county who have demonstrations of wildfire resistant tobacco which has a vigorous growth and good quality at cutting time.

Mr. Hunt said that there are new chemicals that will be out in the next few years that could be applied to plants easily and will kill insects, weed seeds and nematodes.

Mr. Hunt said the tobacco raised on sand land this year was of good quality and that Kentucky Fescue was a good grass to have on land for a tobacco rotation; that low nicotine tobacco is what the farmer wants, and the grower wants more profit. The use of less nitrogen, rotation of tobacco and proper fertilization will give us the cigarette type burley tobacco that is desired by manufacturers.

He stressed the importance of having tobacco soil tested in order to have a profitable fertilization program.

Growers saw at the Moore farm the new wildfire resistant tobacco and the Black Shank resistant tobacco. Mr. Claxon said that much of the tobacco in Boone county, which has not grown out well, is due to the hard rains packing the soil and the air could not get into the roots for proper growth. The tobacco would not have grown regardless of the amount of fertilizer applied. If the tobacco is not too large they would have to plow to let the air to the root system and a very small amount of ammonium nitrate could be applied.

Home Economics Instructor Attends State Conference

Mrs. Helen Ruth McElroy attended the State Conference of the Future Farmers of America Training Center, Hardinsburg, August 9-12. The theme of the program was "Improving Instruction in the Area of Family Relationships and Food."

Mrs. Jessie Newell, Supervising Teacher of Jacksonville, Ala., was the principal speaker. She discussed the "American Family" and how its functions have changed. This discussion led to some "techniques of teaching relationships" and highlighted by some audio-visual aids.

Another highlight of the week was a few words of advice from Mrs. Frances Golden, head of the home economics department of the University of Louisville. "Dress the very best you can all the time, as we are constantly selling our job and we need to look like we believe in it," she said. "It is up to us to have as home economics teachers to look like the books say we should for our personal satisfaction and for the confidence it gives us in working with our students, co-workers, school administrators, and community members."

Approximately 200 home economics teachers were at the convention.

The Farm and Home Development Activity

The Farm and Home Development Activity will be offered to families in Boone county, according to Miss Nancy Guillot, Home Agent, and Joe Claxton, County Agent.

At the last meeting of the Extension Advisory Committee there were not enough families signed up to have the program this year, but a number of the members felt that if 12 families signed up by August 12 that the activity could be carried on this year. Families may stop by or call the County Agent's office. There will be six meetings that the families will attend during the slack time of the year.

Farm and Home Development is a way in which families study their own resources, goals and problems in order to improve their farms and homes with the guidance of the Extension Service. Farm and Home Development may help you increase your net farm income; it may help you provide better living in your home; help you in working together as a family to make plans reach decisions; and also provide a way for you to work with other families to get improvements that call for cooperation, such as drainage or marketing facilities.

Your Extension Service will provide the latest information from your College of Agriculture and Home Economics. It will offer you guidance in making and carrying out your plans.

There are no fees or costs for taking part in Farm and Home Development. Any changes to be made on your farm and in your home will be decided by you, planned by you, and carried out by you. Your Extension Service will give you information needed in making your decisions and in carrying out your plan.

What is to be done and when it is to be done, each family decides for itself. The only requirement is that you want to improve your farm and home operations. For example, you may want to increase crop yields or livestock production, or improve your home or the living conditions in home and community. You may want to make only one or two improvements or you may want to make many. Whatever your family decides to do, your Extension Service will advise you and offer suggestions to help you get the job done.

You get from Farm and Home Development what you put into it, plus information and guidance from the Extension Service. In order to profit from being in Farm and Home Development, you must make a good plan and carry it out.

Three Farm and Home Development families in Bell county are considering going into the dairy business.

In Trigg county, homemakers made 204 copper planters and 18 waste baskets in one month.

TIPS ON POISON IVY

If you are suffering from poison ivy, read the latest information published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Probably more has been written about one group of weeds—poison ivy and its relatives, than about any other. And with good reasons. These plants cause severe skin irritation to many thousands of people each year. Unluckily, the weeds are hardy and thrive in fields or woods, along walls, fences, and in your own yard or garden, and are common in most parts of the country. The best and simplest protection against poisoning from these plants is to learn to identify them and then stay away. Poison ivy usually grows as a vine, poison oak as a low shrub, while poison sumac is a small tree or shrub most often found in swampy places in the eastern part of the country.

One point should be clearly understood, especially by farm families, gardeners and vacationists is that these plants poison by contact with the skin, but not necessarily by direct contact. Petting a dog or cat that has run against these weeds has often caused severe poisoning because the irritating substance rubbed off on the fur and remained there. Tools used in digging up plants or clothes that have brushed against these plants may cause poisoning many months later. Workers in laundries or dry cleaning concerns have had poison ivy from handling the clothes that have been in contact with the plants. Even if you drive in the country and don't get out of your car, you may have trouble later when you polish, wash or simply touch the car if it has brushed against these plants along the roadside.

Contrary to popular belief, the poisonous substance is nonvolatile or very volatile. So it isn't warded to you on a breeze, and there's no danger from simply ly being in the vicinity of the plants. However, there is danger of poisoning from contact with smoke when the plants are being burned.

The skin irritant of all this group of plants is the same—a phenolic substance called urushiol that is in the roots, stem, leaf, and fruit of the plant. Danger of poisoning is greatest in spring and summer when the sap, which contains the most poison, is abundant, but poisoning occurs in fall and winter, too. Take care when gardens and grounds are being cleared and weeds grubbed out.

To help you recognize and avoid the poison plants or to get rid of them most effectively, single copies of "Poison Ivy, Poison Oak, and Poison Sumac" (F. B. 1972) are offered free by the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

... thoughts turn to beauty in the home. This is the time of year when thousands of homemakers are buzzing with plans and ideas for home improvements and redecorating.

... And this is a good time to check over your HOME LIGHTING, to make sure you have adequate lighting—decorative lighting—good lighting in the right places for reading, sewing, studying or games. It's wise to have your home lighting problems solved before the "indoor" season begins.

A visit to the Lamp Department of your favorite department store, or to your appliance dealer's, would be a good thing to plan right soon.

WHITES TOWER

The Kingaid property in the heart of the Tower has been sold and the owner is making a number of improvements, making things look just dandy in that part of town.

Tom Brumback of Independence, spent the past two weeks with his grandmother in the Tower. We only wish there were more like Mr. and Mrs. Colston in the community. When they tell you they will do so and so, they are not just talking to make conversation. Thanks again.

A serious condition is now developing in the tobacco crop. If this weather continues another week, tobacco will have to be cut, regardless, as it is now fixed half way up the stalk and the top leaves are getting yellow before the suckers have hardly formed. Tobacco will be of better quality but will weigh about two-thirds of the usual yield. The price should be good as about a half crop will be harvested.

Briggs, the Whites Tower painter, had several valuable brushes stolen from his car while parked on Taylor Mill pike recently.

Sugar corn this year is at a premium price owing to the dry weather. Gardeners here are selling at 50c per dozen and they are real nice, considering the weather.

William Binder and family were at Cedar Point, when "Connie" whipped her tail in there and they report it was very exciting as the waves rolled in against the hotel where they were stopping and kept Mrs. Binder awake all night. No damage was reported in that vicinity but everyone had a bad scare.

The new cottage across from the White Tower Service Center will be completed this week.

Several minor accidents took place over the weekend; none serious, we are glad to report.

Linda Ward has returned to her home in Covington, after spending her vacation with Grandma Ryle.

Carl Fisk of Riggs Road was a visitor Sunday at the Dorsey farm at Whites Tower. He was looking for a job of tobacco cutting.

The foundation for the new church here has been completed and they are ready for the lumber part.

Skies Richardson, who has been working on the Dorsey farm for five years, has retired on disability and is now enjoying the fruits of the Social Security System.

HOMEMAKERS SPONSOR RURAL HEALTH CLINICS

Four rural health clinics held during the past year were an important part of the citizenship project carried by the Shawnee Homemakers Club of Mercer county. Fifty-three mothers and children attended the most recent clinic, 26 of the latter being inoculated in preparation for their first year of school. The clinic was open to all residents of the community. Its success, observed Miss Mary C. Green, UK home demonstration agent, was due to the determination of the homemakers to reach every resident through home visit. Another clinic is now being planned.

Other projects of the club included giving $60 to the Red Cross, donating food and clothing to three needy families, and filling 10 boxes for shut-ins. In appreciation for the cooperation of a local church, where the clinic and many of the homemakers' meetings are held, the club increased the church dining room facilities by buying glassware, a utility table, and other needed equipment.

God In History

Lesson for August 28, 1955

WHAT is it that makes the world move? — the world of men, of events, the wide world of history? What is the most powerful factor in history? Some say geography, some say climate (which is still geography), some say great men, some say ideas, some say the progress of inventions.

The religious answer is strikingly different from all these: it is GOD. The reason why historians seldom mention God (even when they believe Dr. Foreman in him) is that they limit themselves to what can be seen and heard. True, sometimes historians are concerned with thoughts, as for instance, what were Stalin and Roosevelt and Churchill thinking of at Yalta? But thoughts are facts that scientists all admit; while God is not the kind of fact with which science can deal. So "historical science" as it is called confines itself deliberately to the kind of fact that science describes. Now God—let it be repeated—is not in that class of things at all. He is not a thing, he is not in a class. He works in history, but not in the way a man works, still less like a force such as that of wind or rainfall or volcanic eruptions. God can be seen, but only with "eyes of faith." He can be known, but by no means as simply as your cat be known. God works in history, not separately from events and men, but in men and forces. As Paul says, God is over all, through all and in all.

King's Intention

According to the Bible, God can work in and by mean of the acts of men who do not know him at all. There is a mystery here which no writer in the Bible undertakes to explain, a mystery which perhaps no human mind is capable of understanding. But the fact is believed by men of faith. Take for instance the famous king Cyrus, known to history outside the Bible as well as inside it. He was one of the great conquerors and administrators of all time. At a peak of his career he made himself master of what had been the Babylonian Empire. He knew that many a temple had been plundered and destroyed by the Babylonian kings, and he knew that the many displaced persons from all the conquered cities where those temples had been would be grateful for the restoration of those temples. So King Cyrus, in order to make himself "solid" and popular with this mass of subject peoples, adopted the policy of returning the "gods" of those peoples and authorizing the restoration of their temple worship. It used to be thought that Cyrus was a worshipper of the Jews' God, but archaeologists have discovered the original edict or announcement of Cyrus, explaining what he was doing, and asking that all these gods whose worship he was restoring should be regarded as the king over all the gods, on Cyrus' behalf. Isaiah says plainly that Cyrus did not know the true God—but God knew him, and wrought out his purposes through him, ignorant of God though he was.

People's Devotion

The Bible shows also that God works through the devotion and service of men who do know him. We may doubt whether the proclamation of a Cyrus would have done any good if there had not been men who were eager and ready for just such a chance to return to Jerusalem and restore the worship of the true God. We have had in American history one of the many other illustrations of this same point in the freeing of the slaves. The emancipation proclamation of 1863 was not made altogether from charitable motives. There was a strong political-military purpose in it; the immediate object of the proclamation was not to free the slaves everywhere, but to win the war and restore the union. Later, when slavery was abolished by the Constitution, the freeing of the slaves would have done more harm than good if it had not been for the devotion of men and women of both races who made it their life-work to educate and uplift those who were like sheep without a shepherd. God does work in history; but he needs the service of those who understand his ways and work with him.

AS MODERN AS TOMORROW

Does going to church seem to you old-fashioned?

Well, it is, for worship is as old as creation, yet ever-new.

In church buildings before the fourteenth century there were no seats. Worshipers stood, or sat on cold damp floors. Later, three-legged stools were used.

Today, churches compare with our finest buildings in modern beauty, comfort, and convenience. Our speech habits have changed with advancing generations. Scriptural style, too, has changed, yet neither meaning nor intent has been altered. The Bible's message remains the same—a gospel of good news filled with faith, hope, and love—for you, the same as for your forefathers.

Then be old-fashioned. Go to church. Find for yourself a faith that is steadfast—"the same yesterday, today, and forever,"—yet modern as tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church: they are (1) children's sake (2) For the sake of his own soul (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON
By G. H. Kingsbury

TRAVEL ABROAD

At least two Kentucky lawmakers are going abroad. Congressman Frank Chelf is heading for Geneva and some discussions on European migration. Senator Barkley is also eastward bound, with Finland as the target.

While only a few lawmakers march the Capitol corridors, workers are busy turning the place inside out. The architect's office has 200 employees busy painting, washing and redecorating. Some of them are also working on plans to enlarge the Capitol building.

NEW CHAIRMAN

The best word is that Senator Symington of Missouri or young Senator Al Gore of Tennessee will be chairman of the Senate Democratic Campaign committee.

That group lends help to colleagues up for election next year, and that number includes Kentucky's Earle Clements, the present committee chairman. However, the job usually goes to someone not a candidate hence the up-coming change. Both men are good friends of Kentucky's senate leader.

SYMPATHY
Many former University of Kentucky students will be sorry to hear of the misfortune suffered by Dr. Robert E. Galloway, U. K. agricultural economist now with International Co-operation Administration.

His wife and two young sons were killed in a plane crash in Missouri while on the way to Washington to join Dr. Galloway in a trip to Palestine. The Kentuckian is on two-year leave from his Lexington post.

POSTOFFICE
Note to Lewis County writers: Most congressional offices remain open straight through the recess. Just drop your letter to your congressman or senator Reply to Mason County teacher. Senator Hill of Alabama is confident of a school construction program next year. That's small consolation for those facing this year's problems... and to a Boone County teacher: Senator Morse has offered a bill to help increase teacher salaries... To Grant County reader: Congressman Spence ranks 18th in seniority in the House. Speaker Rayburn is the oldest in point of service.

A HOT AUGUST

This has been a very hot and humid month—some say it was not as hot as last year, but it seemed to be hotter to me. School starts soon and we have a lot of school supplies, so get yours early and avoid the rush. Jim Stone and Harold Penick have been building plastic model airplanes—they have about 20, all sizes—some day they will be airplane mechanics. After this hot August has passed and we have a cool, rainy day, you will begin to think about your heating this winter—if you need anything, give us a call.

Today was a service day—Brewster spent all morning cleaning oil heaters; then he and Red went to the B. F. Bedinger farm and put up new furnace pipe. We sold a lot of plastic water pipe and fittings today. Kurt Richter was in town, so I left when he arrived. I had to go to Erlanger after pipe fittings and washer repairs. We had a lot of strangers and tourist trade today. Howe Hood and wife were buying a few things, and then went to the stock sale on Verona Road.

We sold several tobacco knives and spears—they are getting that tobacco cut. Russell Rector came after 8 gallons of Bolce outside white—this makes 35 gallons he has used—he has painted 11 buildings and one they white. Bill Denler took out a lot more Bolce outside white—he is still painting for Mrs. Frederica Mann, out at the farm. Mrs. John L. Vest just called for an O'Garra sponge mop—these are very useful, as you can mop wash windows and even put on liquid wax with them—no trouble to wash out when finished.

Bolce sent down another large shipment of paint—I try to buy the best paint and it is in the can. Bill Upton bought a Skil electric saw—they sure save time and hard work when building a building. We have some two and three burner Perfection oil stoves—they are fine for cooking—the basements—lots of people still cook on them, only you can cook on electric cheaper, but some people can't afford to buy electric ranges, so they cook with oil.

Several times a day—they're trying to get our new school ready for opening day. Dan Roberts tells me that teachers are scarce—Boone County High needs teachers at does Walton-Verona. We sure have a wonderful building and a fine group of teachers, as Dan named them that we have. J. W. Marsh from over in the future mechanics, also a lot of new balloons for the smaller ones, and water pistols for all ages. We also unloaded a lot of new Perfection oil heaters—ready for those cold, rainy days this fall. I have everything ready for you—heating stoves, stove pipe, furnace pipe, and all the fittings for your heating troubles. Arthur Linton bought some more of that good linoleum. J. C. Reynolds bought a gallon and half electric ice cream freezer so his friends and neighbors can all have ice cream. Earl Metcalfe came in after bolts.

Jess Sebree came after electric water pump repairs. We received some new electric motors and I have a real buy—a ½ h. p. heavy duty electric motor for only $25.95. This is a special for a short time. Brewster went over and put down some linoleum for William Brown in the Piner school. J. C. Reynolds and wife were in and said they really had the finest ice cream last night with the new electric freezer J. C. bought. Chick and Red made them some table legs out of pipe for a table out in the yard—J. C. said he wanted some of that Sheffield aluminum roof paint with Gilsonite base for his barn roof.

Mrs. Frederica Mann called for more white paint and linseed oil—she has Bill Denler painting for her. We built a lot more paint shelves and added a little more paint, so now I have paint for every purpose and can find it when you call for it. I have a complete line of enamels, a full stock of interior glazes, a large stock of rubber base, a stock of liquid satin and a large selection of water mix caulk, all for the inside, then outside. I have a large selection and stock of Bolce painters pure paint in white and all colors, but the Ranch Red and Pink, which I have in Chicago Chief—when you go across Nicholson Road take a look at that Ranch Red on Miss Oni Riley's barn doors and those pink houses in Chambers Heights—that is some of my paint.

Saturday was a very hot day and there were not many people in town. We sold a lot of hardware items to people who just came right in and out again. Estill Hudson bought three lawn chairs; O. F. Young bought two metal lawn chairs. Ed Elmore bought a G. E. 18" fan—the best one GE makes, some stronger bought two wood deck chairs; Chick sold electric churn and lots of paint. Arthur Brewster and I had a stove trade—he wanted a large size Perfection oil heater because he had seen the one his father has and how well it heats—I have told you many times you never go wrong when you buy Perfection because it is the best in anything they make. Now that oil heater season is here, give us a call or a chance to show you what a Perfection heater is or ask someone who has one.

Mrs. James Webster, who operates Webster's Grocery called for two rolls of 2x4 welded mesh fence 4' high to put around her chicken yard—we had it down there in a jiffy and she put it up today. Mr. and Mrs. Payne of Steffordburg Road bought hardware and paint.

Labor Day Outing at Woodland Inn, Mon.

Chicken, Roast Beef Dinners to Be Served

"We will be there, right on the job," the Rev. Charles A. Donovan, whose two parishes of All Saints, Walton, and St. Patrick, Verona, will be hosts for the traditional Labor Day homecoming outing, Monday, September 5, on the Woodland Inn grounds, 2 miles south of Walton, on U. S. Highway 25.

The pastor had reference to the unusual array of entertainment and socialities organized under the supervision of George W. (Ab) Ryan, general chairman of the two-parish volunteer committee. With the cooperation of Edward H. Walton, a member of the Walton parish and who practices law in Covington, Mr. Ryan is directing a contact program extending throughout Northern Kentucky.

Dinner service at the outing will be provided in an air-conditioned dining hall. The menu will offer choice of roast beef or chicken, with $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Chairman Ryan, who is coordinating the affairs of the Labor Day festivities, will have association of 100 volunteers. There will be a midway of amusement, merchandise, and recreation.

When appointed to the chairmanship assignment Ryan accepted with gusto, and "let each and all of us cooperate to the fullest degree so that the 1955 Labor Day outing will be the greatest project in the history of the Walton-Verona parishes."

"Ryan will be there," he reiterated "and I'm hopeful that as many as 3000 others will be on hand to give my committee a full workout afternoon and evening."

Boone Red Cross Asked for $225 For Northeastern Relief

The following telegram has been received by R. D. Frost, Chapter Chairman of the Boone County Red Cross, from Roland Harriman, National President of the American National Red Cross:

"Needs continue to grow in the disaster areas. Estimated number of families looking to the Red Cross for assistance exceeds 10,000 and continues. This will require 8 million dollars. Your chapter has been assigned a rock bottom quota of $225.00 and expect you will make every effort to make it."

Mr. Frost said, "I deem it very essential that our chapter respond to the request of the National office. It is our duty to help in this emergency, even though it is not in our county. This in no way concerns our regular March fund drive, but is for the Northeastern Emergency Disaster Fund, widely mentioned by the plea of President Eisenhower over all TV and radio networks."

Mr. Frost has appointed Mrs. Virginia Goodridge, Florence, as county chairman for this Disaster Appeal, and she, in turn, named the following people throughout the county who will work and accept funds in their communities: Bellevue, Mrs. Frost; Walton, James S. Training Classes Held For Boone County Homemakers

Under the leadership of Miss Nancy Guilfoill, Home Demonstration Agent, 56 county and club chairmen of the Boone County Homemakers Club, attended classes held recently at the Florence Fire House for the purpose of planning the coming year's program.

Mrs. Joseph Hogan, county citizenship chairman, announced that the theme selected by her chairman was, "Fifth in Freedom—Our Hope of World Peace." The purpose of their goals is to urge homemakers, as good citizens, to know their community and its needs; use the privilege of freedom—be a conscientious voter; continue interest in United Nations and civil defense, and enter the International Essay contest on "How is the Organization to Which I Belong Contributing to World Peace?" In this way, homemakers can contribute in their own way to international understanding, which is the first step on the road to world peace.

County membership chairman, Mrs. Joseph Domschick, stressed the importance of an active membership committee in each club and outlined the need to expand home demonstration influence thru contact with at least ten unorganized groups, the addition of 50 new members and one new club.

Mrs. R. R. Ragland, county reading chairman, proposed the use of the Bookmobile, magazine exchange and a planned reading program for each club. As a means of stimulating added interest in reading, she announced the Reading Award Program, wherein members may be awarded a certificate by the State Reading Committee for reading at least six books during the year.

The goals of the county publicity program, directed by Mrs. Robert J. Paul, will be the use of more pictures to promote better publicity in home demonstration work, as well as exhibits and displays during National Home Demonstration Week, the annual Citizenship Tea, and the Boone County Fair.

Alpha Class to Meet

The Alpha Sunday School Class of the Walton Baptist Church will meet at 8:00, Thursday evening, September 1, at the home of Mrs. Dwight Maddox. Several items of business are on the agenda, including an interesting program.

School Opens Tuesday Morning in New Bldg.

At a special meeting, Saturday, Aug. 27, of the Walton-Verona Board of Education, there were three resignations given and accepted by the board.

The first was that of Superintendent J. O. Ward, who has served since September, 1951. Mr. Ward merely stated in his resignation, "Please accept my resignation as superintendent, effective immediately. Thanks for all you have done in my behalf." The board accepted.

Then came the resignation of Mrs. J. O. Ward, who had been teaching in the Verona school and wanted to be transferred to Walton. She said, "Since there has been so much confusion as to where I should be placed in the system, I hereby tender my resignation," which the board accepted.

The third resignation was that of Miss Ruth Ellen Moss, a relative of Mrs. Ward, who had been hired to teach home economics in the new school.

Spencer Resigns August 17

Ten days earlier, on August 17, James W. Spencer, who has served as treasurer of the school district for about five years, resigned, effective as of that date, and at the same time requested an audit of the school accounts, which is customary when there is a change in the treasurer's post.

School to Open Tuesday

The schools at Walton and Verona will officially open Tuesday, September 1, at 8:30 a. m., according to Principal James Smith. School will be dismissed at noon the first week. The lunch room will start serving those who desire to eat, beginning the second week.

Faculty Meeting Friday

There will also be a faculty meeting of all teachers and bus drivers Friday morning, September 2, at 9:00 a. m. It was announced by the Board of Education that eighth grade pupils from Verona will attend school at Walton.

Everyone Invited to Opening

On Tuesday morning, the parents, friends and citizens of Walton and Verona, as well as surrounding territory are cordially invited to attend opening exercises and to view the new building, which is complete except the finishing of the gym floor. This is expected to be the largest school enrollment ever to attend these schools.

Kindergarten Registration

Don't forget the kindergarten registration to be held next Thursday, September 8, from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m., in the Walton Methodist Church basement.

All children, four and five years of age, please be present. Transportation will be provided this year, as in the past. The kindergarten will be under the supervision of Mrs. James S. Webster, who has served in this capacity the past two years.

Warsaw Boys Send Prize Winning Ewe To Pres. Eisenhower

Robert and Louis Ewbank, of Warsaw, two of Kentucky's most outstanding 4-H and FFA sheep raisers, recently sent to "Farmchild" Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gettysburg, Pa., one of their Kentucky State Fair prize-winning ewes.

A letter, written by Robert, and signed by both boys, explaining the motive behind the gift, was addressed to Dwight D.
Eisenhower, Farmer, Gettysburg, Pa. It read: "Dear Friend: We read in the papers where you have received cattle and hogs for your farm, but no sheep."

"So we are shipping to you, express prepaid, one of our Kentucky State Fair prize-winning ewes from our FFA project."
"She is of straight imported English blood lines and we hope a neighbor sheepman can breed the ewe so your grandchildren will have a purebred lamb to 'pet' when they come to visit you next spring."

"We feel that you need sheep on your farm to eat the weeds that your cattle and hogs will not eat."
"I won state championship in the 4-H sheep project last year and my brother,
Louis, won state championship in our state fair on his FFA project. Our farm has been in our family for 91 years and always had a flock of good sheep. Sincerely, your friends, Robert and Louis Ewbank."

"P. S.—We boys hope that you will not completely retire to your farm before 1960."

The boys' grandfather, a Yorkshireman from England, purchased a Kentucky hill farm just across the river from Patriot, Ind., because he thought it would raise sheep.

The family has been raising prize-winning Southdown sheep for many years. Robert and Louis and their three sisters, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ryle Ewbank, have won countless ribbons and prizes over the years. Two of the girls, a few years ago, won a trip to England by reason of their prize-winning sheep activities.

The Ewbanks ship their registered Southdowns to all parts of the United States. Some go as far west as California.

INDEPENDENCE

To the Adults:

The teenagers in this community are needing your support and sponsorship to organize a Teen Canteen in Independence. At a recent meeting in the local American Legion hall, there were more adults than teenagers were present because of the uncertainty the youth have that such a program in this community is possible—but, it can be done, and the start has been made. Now, it's up to you to be present at the American Legion home this (Thursday) evening at 8:00. Even though you may not be too concerned on such a program at present, your presence would be most helpful at this time.

Just A Thought:

It's rumored that the person who invented the upper berth also invented the telephone booth and the breakfast nook.

New Race Track Opens:

The new auto race track on Stephens Road, 2 miles east of Independence, has its opening recently. A fixed schedule for racing at this track will be on Wednesday and Friday evening of each week.

Subscription Dates:

Now would be a good time to notice that date alongside your name on your Walton Advertiser. That date tells you when your subscription expires. If your's is past due or is near that date, it would be best to remit now and keep this date far ahead.

Kenton Countians At Home Demonstration Meeting In Chicago

A total of 2,139 members from 44 state organizations, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Alaska attended the 19th session of the National Home Demonstration Council held in Chicago, August 22-25. Mrs. R. P. Matchett, president of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers, headed the delegation of 31 women from Kentucky. In addition to Mrs. Matchett, those from Kenton county attending were Mrs. Edgar Arnett, Erlanger, and Miss Zelma E. Byerly, home-demonstration agent.

The National program offered opportunity to hear reports from state organizations and to hear outstanding National speakers. The theme was, "As Leaders—One Serves." The Council is affiliated with the Country Women's Council of the United States and with the Associated Country Women of the World. Membership is available through the Co-operative Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Land-Grant College Association.

Mrs. Matchett was given a high honor. She will serve as National Chairman of the International Committee for the next three years. The purpose of this committee is to encourage friendship and understanding among women of all countries.

Much of the future planning for the triennial conference, to be held in Ceylon, in '56, was accomplished at the meeting. Kentucky will be represented by Mrs. R. P. Matchett at this international meeting.

The annual banquet of the Home Demonstration Council held in the ball room of the Conrad Hilton hotel, was attended by 1,446 women, and besides each plate was a souvenir upon with the seal of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation on the handle, and a beautiful orchid as a gesture of friendship from the Hawaiian organization, which also presented each national officer with a lei or orchid.

The 1956 meeting will be held in El Paso, Texas.

"Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." John 3:5.

QUESTION: "Why do some say that it is not necessary to be baptized, when Jesus plainly said that we must be born of both the water and the spirit in order to enter the Kingdom of God?" "To be born of" means "to come out of." How can we be born of water, then, unless we come out of the water, and how can we come out of the water, unless we go down into the water, and what, besides immersion, is a going down into and a coming out of the water—a birth of water as commanded by our Saviour. "We shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John 8:32.

CANNING RECOMMENDED FOR WHOLE TOMATOES

INDEPENDENCE News Events . . .

Gathered and edited by Robert X. West, Holly 8601

Men's Best Friend:

Last Sunday evening wrote finis to the eldest Independence of the canine family, on Main Street, Old Billie, the battle-scarred Fox Terrier followed "Judge" Stephenson for the last time, as his 16-year-old body was buried within the boundary line of his native town.

As a pup, Billie was brought to independence by Randall Wagner from Pleasure Isle, where he soon made friends with all and was permitted to tread where no other dog was allowed: As he grew into doghood, he soon overcame many obstacles by his fighting ability, and lived up to his ability until a year before he died. Toward all humans he desired their companionship, but he could not tolerate other dogs, no matter what their size. Old Billie made his home with "Judge," who fed and watched over him with special care during his last few years.

Independence Teen Canteen:

The meeting to establish and operate a teen canteen in Independence, was held last Monday evening in the American Legion Home with the following being present: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hatfield and Jerry, Mrs. Alma Thomas and Edna, Mr. and Mrs. John Alton and Shirley, Mrs. James E. Watson and son Clifford, and Robert West. Also present were two Legionnaires, representing a committee on building maintenance.

An open discussion on sponsorship of such an organization was held and many ideas were obtained to help the teen-agers in this community to have a Teen Club. But more parents, teen-agers and adults who knew of the more intricate details are needed to help. Representatives from Moon Bros. Post, 275, American Legion, stated that members of this Post will help and will allow full usage of any furniture, games, etc., that the Post now has or will have in the future.

It is necessary for all adults and teen-agers interested in this program to be present at the next regular meeting of Moon Bros. Post for a full discussion and to know more about the help that can be given by the sponsors.

Members of Moon Bros. Post, 275, American Legion, and members of the teen canteen will have a combined meeting at the Legion Hall, north edge of Independence, this (Thursday) evening at eight o'clock. All who are interested in this venture are urged to be present.

Anonymous Letters:

Have you ever had the desire to send an anonymous letter? If you had, I wish to point out a few things that can happen, even though you sent the letter as a friendly gesture or, even if it pertains to bitter personal feelings.

The moment the letter leaves your hands and enters the letter chute or box, you have placed the Postal employees under criticism from the receiver, or addressee, and it is quite possible that this letter may pass through the Post Office without having been canceled or dated, which really causes much unavoidable eyebrow raising and hard feelings by all concerned. Perhaps it would cause the addressee to throw care to the four winds and shout from the roof tops that he has knowledge of the culprit or the person shielding the culprit who sent that damnable message, even though the content merely expresses one person's opinion on one particular subject. This can happen just by you sending a note or letter to a person without signing your name.

Now then, if you should have a desire to write an anonymous letter to a person—there's only one way to curb this desire—DO IT—place this message in an envelope, seal it, BUT, deliver it, personally. Never hand it to the addressee and wait until the message has been read. This way it keeps the innocent people innocent and your personal thoughts have been relayed to the right person, in person.

Just A Thought:

Remember to keep your thinking straight—many a train of thought goes haywire because of too many local motives.

Job's Daughters:

The next regular meeting for members of Bethel 8, Job's Daughters, will be held Monday, September 12, at 7:30 p. m., at the Lodge Hall in the Independence Bank Building.

All members of the order are cordially invited, also the honored queen, Marilyn Cooper, cordially invites parents and members of other Masonic Orders.

Refreshments will be served by the appointed committee.

Ambulance Run:

The ambulance was summoned to Spillman Road, where a young mother, Mrs. Summons, was rushed to the hospital.

Floyd Crawford, 952 Philadelphia St., Covington, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, August 21. He was in an auto wreck on the LLL Highway near Huffman Heights.

An emergency case on Rich Road, where the Life Squad transported Mrs. Kate Armstrong to the hospital.

Another emergency call was made on Wilson Road, where the ambulance took the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Smeal to the hospital. She fell off a pony, and sustained internal injuries.

Mrs. Gross of Maher Road, was taken to the hospital when a young calf caused her to fall. She received a broken ankle.

Last Friday evening the Independence Life Squad was called to a wreck on the big curve on Independence Hill. No wreck was located, but a family argument was in bloom in a nearby house, and here's the outcome: The husband was shaving when he managed to get into a hot discussion with his wife. Swinging his straight razor to enforce his ideas on the subject was the husband's downfall. His wife mistook his actions and hit him on the head with a bottle. The discussion ended with the husband losing with a cat over his eye and the wife winning with no hurts except her feelings.

Each week Field travels wherever there are noteworthy and newsworthy personalities, to interview them for "People Here and Now," whether they be cabinet members or safety-minded teen-agers.

Fire Runs:

Two grass fires were extinguished by the Independence Fire Department before serious damages were caused. One on Sugar Camp Road and the other at the Boyd Elliott farm on LLL Highway at Atwood.

Bradford Lodge, 123:

The next regular meeting for members of Bradford Lodge, 123, F. & A. M., will be held Thursday, September 8, at 8 p. m., in the Independence Bank Building. All members of the Masonic order are cordially invited.

St. Cecilia Labor Day Picnic:

on Monday, September 5, with chicken dinners being served from 12:00 to 8:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Bring your friends and stay all day. Refreshments and sandwiches will be available on the grounds.

FLAME-RESISTANT CLOTH

Homemakers will be interested to know that research has brought about an improved flame-resistant finish for cotton cloth, according to Miss Helen Horton, Boone County apprentice home agent. This new finish, which has been developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists, may in the future make safer uniforms, tents and other cotton fabric items for the military. Plans are also being made for its use for civilian wear—work garments, camper's or woodmen's outfit, or fire resistant cotton goods for women's and children's clothes of for curtains, bedding and upholstery fabrics.

This new treatment consists of two fire-retardant chemicals skillfully combined. It is the combination that has brought about finished cloth that passes the most stringent laboratory tests for flame resistance. Although earlier finishes gave a durable finish, the new process gives cotton cloth which is even more fire-resistant. It is also slightly lighter in weight, more durable and less stiff than previous fire-resistant fabric and the finish stands up well after many launderings. Wrinkle resistance and rot resistance has also been added to the fabric.

The new finished cotton goods has not been placed on the market. Before being done, the unusual chemicals required must go into commercial production and the process must be accepted by cotton goods manufacturers.

WE'RE PUTTING IT "RIGHT ON THE BARRELHEAD"

IT TAKES FAITH in the future to put this kind of "cash on the barrelhead" so that the Southern can keep pace with the fast-growing industrial South.

For many millions of dollars are involved when we buy locomotives and cars...build or modernize yards and other facilities. Conditions must be anticipated for years ahead...large commitments must be made far in advance. Then—somehow—the money must be found to meet these obligations.

Since 1945, the Southern Railway System has spent more than $327 million for major improvements. Some of this money came out of earnings. The rest we borrowed. But earned or borrowed, every dollar we committed ourselves to spend represented our faith in the future of the South we serve.

With this same faith—and without being subsidized by tax dollars as are other transportation agencies—we are continuing to build today for the still brighter "tomorrow" that surely lies ahead for the Southland.

Sunday School Lesson
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

A Nation's Worship

Lesson for September 4, 1955

IT WOULD be very nice to wake up some Sunday morning and find that everybody in America had decided to join our church. Suppose that up to now you had belonged to the First Universal Church of All Angels, and there was only one congregation of that denomination in your town, along with maybe six or eight other denominations. But suppose that on this Sunday morning as you walked to church you would find the Universal Church of All Angels sign on every church building you passed. Suppose you learned by the morning paper that this was because the President of the United States (himself a prominent member of your denomination) had issued a Directive ordering all churches to come over into this one—or be abolished entirely. Well, you would know that was a dream... because this is free America, and there is not and constitutionally can never be an official, government-supported, national, established religion.

The Nucleus

So when we talk of "a nation's worship" in America we can't mean what we would mean in a country where everybody is dragged into one single kind of church, a country where to be born into the nation is to be born into the church at the same time. Still, there is sense in talking about the nation at worship, for take us by kind large, we do worship; the church is too prominent an object in every landscape to be overlooked. And even in free America where church and state are separate, we can learn something from the ancient Hebrews who combined church and state in one. The first thing we learn is not to be discouraged by the fact that many people don't go to church at all. The whole story of Ezra and Nehemiah, the prophecies of Haggai and of Zechariah show us that there were great masses of indifferent people in Judea after the "Return" and the restoration of the worship at the high altar in Jerusalem. There were the same difficulties with a building program that we have; preaching fell on many a deaf ear, just like now. Worship is now, and has always been, carried on in the true sense, not by the masses but by a nucleus of devoted men and women.

The Opposition

The Jews who returned to Palestine to get their religion organized and under way again, with public services and all, found out another thing which we Americans might as well learn.—indeed, we have learned it. That is, not only is there indifference to religion, but it has many enemies. It is nothing but prettified nonsense to suppose that everybody in the world means well, that we all desire the welfare of society. It is contrary to the facts to believe that even those who do not worship with us and will not join us nevertheless wish us well. Don't deceive yourself. There are in America, as there are everywhere, people who are "plain mean." There are businesses that contribute to crime, indeed some businesses that even a not-too-moral police force labels as crime. Those who live by the profits of these enterprises just hate the church; let's face it.

Can Government Help?

Now in ancient Palestine, say Zechariah's time, not to mention earlier times, church and state helped and supported each other. King and high priest might even be related. Especially after the Exile, church and state became practically one. In our free America—and we would not wish it to be free, for a moment—can the government do anything to help the church? Readers who belong to Sunday school classes can start a very interesting discussion by asking that question. How can Government help the church? Ought Government to try to help us? One way, surely, by which the State can aid the church, is by laws which will keep the Lord's Day free, so far as possible, from workday necessities. Another way is by setting an example. When leaders in government set an example of sharing in the "public" and private worship of God, the nation is all the better for it.

IT ISN'T EASY!

"Most anything worth doing, isn't easy. A man's job, for example, isn't easy. Often it's complicated and dangerous with problems a-plenty."

It isn't easy, either, to be a homemaker. A dozen skills and more are needed, not to mention endless hours of monotonous tasks.

Yet, man or woman, usually you're urged on by a dogged determination to "do it—or else!"

But when it comes to living a life that's commendable and above reproach, does your determination still prod you on? Do you dare stand for right against all odds?

Then your place is in the Church, where others feel exactly as you do. Join them now in worship and work, and your determination will be strengthened, your faith renewed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without it, no civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs the moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Facts

FOR KENTUCKY FOLKS

TIME TO SOW SMALL GRAIN. Small grain—wheat, rye, barley and winter oats—are the most reliable cover crops for winter pastures, soil conservation and early harvested feed or cash crops. It's particularly important to sow oats and barley early. Wheat should not be seeded until early October and rye may be seeded early or late—as soon as the ground is ready.

Plant breeders are making rapid progress in developing improved varieties of small grain and this year many progressive Kentucky farmers will be trying new varieties of wheat and oats. The wheat is KNOX, a high yielding variety developed at Purdue and recommended by the Kentucky Experiment Station. It's short, stiff straw and early maturity make it the best variety to use as a nurse crop for grasses and legumes. VIGO wheat, introduced a few years ago, is still very popular and will make up the largest part of Kentucky's 200,000 acres.

DUBOIS is the new winter oats. It also has a shorter, stiffer straw than old varieties and seems to be just as winter hardy. The other recommended varieties are ATLANTIC and FORKEDDER. BALBO is still the best variety of rye and provides more winter grazing than any small grain it seeded early on good land. KENBAR barley is by far the best variety of barley but will soon have strong competition from a new variety yet unnamed.

EATING OUR WAY OUT OF FARM SURPLUSES. Encouraged by the success of the dairy promotion program, some people seem to think that the way to rid ourselves of farm surpluses is to promote "eat more, use more" campaigns.

This would cause a radical change in the contour and capacity of stomachs. Usually, as we increase the consumption of one feed, we reduce another, and now we have surpluses of corn, wheat, rice, and other cereals, potatoes, beef, pork, and other meats and many other things. In the past generation, we have greatly increased our per capita use of fresh vegetables, fruit and dairy products but at the same time we greatly reduced the average consumption of cereal grains and potatoes. The relative consumption of beef, pork, mutton, fowl and fish may vary from year to year, but the total consumption of meat is relatively stable. It seems to me that the control of surpluses must take place at the point of origin and, because of the large number of producers involved, the program must be on a national scale.

CLEANED FROM USDA'S REPORTS. Farm mortgage debts increased 7 percent in 1954, and indications are that the rate of increase will continue in 1955. The farmer's share of the consumer's dollar dropped from 45 percent in April of 1954 to 43 percent in April, 1955. The capital investment of the average farm operator increased from $3,500 in 1940 to $14,000 in 1954.

Saddles and Bridles Stolen —Riding equipment valued at $700 was taken by burglars early Tuesday from the farm of Rel C. Wayman, Covington real estate dealer.

For the second time in four weeks an outbuilding on Mr. Wayman's "Old Kentucky Home" farm, Nicholson, was broken into.

On July 31, burglars took tools valued at $300 from the shed. One was a power saw valued at $200. Tuesday's loot included four pony saddles, an English saddle, bridles and harness, and nearly all other riding equipment stored in the shed.

About 205 pressure canner gauges were tested in Morgan county by Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair, UK home demonstration agent.

Frank Adams, at Leitchfield, Grayson county, raised 23,000 turkeys this year.

"We Can Play Anything"

"We can play anything" is not just an idle boast with "The Hayrides," a versatile trio who add to the entertainment and hi-jinks at WLW's "Midwestern Hayride" every Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. EST. Sonny Spencer, on trumpet, can play 22 instruments while Lefty Carson, on bass, can handle the entire rhythm section. Doc Spencer plays piano and adds to the madcap merriment of the popular group.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Latonia Baptist Church, August 20 when Donald Brinkley, son of Carsee Brinkley and wife, and Miss Roberta Kinman were married by Rev. Shelton the pastor. They will make their home in Lexington, where Mr. Brinkley will finish his college work at U. K.

Earl Hanna, who recently sold his farm here, is building a new home on Staffordburg Road.

Latham Brinkley is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ervin Brinkley, at London, Ky.

Quite a number of lots have been sold in Laura Acres, next to Bide-A-Wee farm. These are probably the best lots on Taylor Mill Pike, and no kidding, as it is just far enough out to get the cool winds in summer. The lots lay just right to get the best drainage and very little work is required to start building. Someone is overlooking a bet when they fail to buy one of these lots. I get no commission and even Mr. Hosse does not know I'm writing this.

Mrs. May Samuels and daughter, Mrs. Feuss, of Latonia, called on the writer Wednesday. They were looking for canning tomatoes and were accommodated.

One hundred and sixty-five members of homemakers and Kiwanis clubs joined in the annual 4-H visitation day in Madison county.

URGES DELAY IN CUTTING TOBACCO

The suggestion that tobacco should not be cut too early comes from George Everette, tobacco specialist at the University of Kentucky. Some tobacco was cut about Aug. 1, according to reports received at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington.

"With weather conditions as they have been in much of the state, tobacco is better off in the field than in the barn," Everette said.

"Manufacturers want ripe tobacco, due to its improvement in quality as it ripens. One of the basic requirements

HEATING PROBLEMS

Bring your heating problems to CONRAD—if we can help you, we will be glad to and if we can't, we know someone who can solve the problem. September is here and it is but a very few days until we have a fall rain and cool weather, especially at night, when you may need a little heat. I have a nice selection of Perfection and Coleman oil heaters and I have several sizes and models of Warm Morning coal heaters, also have that large Martha Washington coal heater, the greatest coal heater on the market today—if you want to burn some wood with the coal, a wide front feed door and a deep firebox.

I also have several kinds of cheaper coal heaters. I have a large size gas heater which will heat two rooms very nice stove—I sold Bill and Frances McCormick one like it last year. I have plenty of portable oil and electric heaters. If you have to order stove repairs, you had better do so early, as they get slower every year and lots of them going out of the repair business.

Mrs. Ben Snow came after another gallon of Chief rubber base white paint—this sure does a wonderful job and we sell lots of it. A fellow on Wilson Road came after odd pipe fittings—said the neighbors told him he could get them at CONRAD'S and sure enough he could. We have a lot of lookers for oil heaters and coal heaters, and I have lots of them in all sizes and prices. I also have several used oil and coal heaters, cheap—get these early, as they are not plentiful—a good used stove is hard to find.

Eldon Ashcraft drove in with his old Maytag washer in his truck and traded it for a new one. I took the old one and told them to put it in A-1 condition, so I will have a good used Maytag for sale. Ora Stone bought a very nice used washer I had taken in on a trade. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, who bought the Busmeyer place and had a fire in their garage burned last week, Francis Baker from Gallatin was in today buying a few pieces of hardware.

Mrs. Nick Parr bought linoleum from Brewster. I have a very good used 40-gallon electric water heater, cheap; also have a 12-gallon pour-in electric dairy water heater and will sell it very cheap. Ralph Stephens bought two gallons of Bolce best outside white paint. The women took it all the other day, were washing machines but most of the income back and buy Maytag, because you get more for your money. The same thing in Perfection oil heaters and electric ranges—look at all others then take a look at Perfection and you can see more stove for your dollars.

I don't believe anyone can show you an oil heater that will put out 78,000 BTU, automatic flow, porcelain case and pilot light for $197.50 or $240.00 installed with 135-gallon oil tank, all set up, ready to light. Just received a shipment of Warm Morning coal heaters. We have always tried to make CONRAD HARDWARE STORE the place to buy your heating stove. I try to have all kinds and prices. I have several used coal and oil heaters in good condition. If they don't burn, you know where you bought it and CONRAD will make it burn or your money back.

Brewster and Red put up a new Perfection oil heater for Arthur Brewster today. Mrs. Thos. Morgan bought a beautiful 9x12 Armstrong linoleum rug. Brewster repaired an oil cook stove for Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Leonard Caldwell, who operates the filling station and lunch room down at Mud Lick on U. S. 42, was buying water hose and other hardware items.

Mrs. Bray, on Verona Road, bought a lot of linoleum and linoleum rug. Dawson Bollinger and wife were over and bought a lot of Bolce outside white paint—Dawson said he bought some last year to try it, and he came over more of it today—he also bought a good 31½-inch paint brush. Brewster cleaned out several oil heaters today—one for Nell Hunt, one for Nathan Brewster and one for a fellow at Boone Lake. Junior Shields bought two 35-pound buckets of Sta-Dri for his basement walls. Now is the time to put on.

Mrs. R. P. Mann from Piner bought five gallons of Sheffield aluminum roof paint, the one with the gillstone base. She has used some of this before and come back for more. Every day we sell lots of paint and I have the best paint for a reasonable price—try some of our paint and I believe you will come back for more. John Sleet bought more fly powder for his cows—we still have 30 days of fly time, anyway. The first customer I had today was Kenneth Vaughn with a broken bicycle chain, which I fixed for him.

Then came Butch Smith, Roland Glenn's grandson, and said it was his birthday—he bent over a stool and I took the yard stick to him, nine times, he sure did yell, and then I had to give him a birthday present. I have an extra good used Maytag washer, just been overhauled and painted—this is one of the old square aluminum tub Maytags. Don't forget if you have heating problems, let us know—all heaters serviced, new pipe put on furnaces. We also have most all kinds of heating stoves—get them early at CONRAD'S!

James E. McCabe

From the New Haven Evening Register Friday, August 12, 1955

Cheshire, Conn.—Word has been received here that James E. McCabe, a former Cheshire resident, died Thursday morning at Walton, Ky.

He is survived by his widow, Anna M. McCabe, whom he married November 25, 1936.

His was among the early Irish families to settle here. James, the youngest of seven children, was the McCabe family's only survivor.

School Road to Be Built This Fall; County To Bear Brunt of Cost

The connecting road from Verona Road to Stephenson Mill Road, passing just in front of the new Walton-Vernon school in Walton, will be built this fall, according to action taken Tuesday night. The Boone County Fiscal Court agreed to build the road if the City of Walton and the Walton-Vernon Board of Education would participate in the expense.

This much-needed project will cost close to $8,000 and the county is furnishing all the equipment, material and culverts, and the two Walton departments are merely paying for the building equipment, which will have to be hired.

The Boone Fiscal Court is also accepting a deed to the right-of-way, which will mean that the county will maintain this section of highway in the future. The Boone County Fiscal Court is to be commended for their generous proposition in this regard.

NEW WATER HEATERS

Something new in electric water heaters is the quick-recovery type heater says Miss Nancy Guilfoyle, Home Agent. These heaters are being installed in many homes now, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Homemakers in cities will appreciate it just as much because of its compact size and its ability to deliver plenty of hot water in a remarkably short time.

Here's how the quick-recovery heater operates. In a 40-gallon heater equipped with two interlocked electric elements of approximately 4500 watts each, one element is located so that it heats the upper one-fourth of the tank. When the temperature of the water in that section rises to 150 degrees F., for example, a thermal relay switches over to the lower element and the remainder of the water heats. Further, after all the hot water has been drawn out of the tank it takes only about 30 minutes to get enough 150-degree hot water to take a shower or wash a sinkful of dishes—which is hotter than the average person needs for these jobs.

This 40-gallon quick-recovery heater has demonstrated that it can deliver more hot water than the old-style heater that is twice as large, and considerably more expensive. Where space is limited, the 40-gallon tank is particularly welcome. It is believed that the 40-gallon tank will be satisfactory for families using up to 4,000 gallons of hot water a month.

Mrs. Terry wore a blue suit with red accessories. Her corsage was red rose buds. Mr. Terry wore a light gray suit with a white carnation boutonniere.

After the vows were made the wedding party assembled at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Littell, where a delicious wedding dinner was served to twelve guests. Upon their return, they will be at home on a farm owned by Dewey Sizemore, a brother-in-law of the groom, near Whites Town, Kenton county.

Local Firemen Called to Kenton County Home Wednesday

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department made a run Wednesday morning to a fire started by children playing with matches under a bed in the home of Leroy Cook on Parkers Grove Road, Kenton county, about six miles from Walton.

Mrs. Cook used all the water available at the home—ten gallons—and had the fire in the mattress under control.

Chief Russell Groger was held back from passing the fire engine by cars driven by two local people, neither of whom the fire lighted. The department has this condition to cope with all the time, according to reports. If the sight-seers would wait for at least five minutes for firemen to get to a fire, it would be a wonderful contribution to fire fighting.

A grass fire was extinguished Monday afternoon on land owned by Tom Ransom on Johnson Street, Walton. No damage.

Large Crowd Attends Opening Exercises

Tuesday, September 6, was the first day of school for many school children, all of them anticipating a fine, bright future.

It was the first day of school also for Walton-Vernon's beautiful new and recently completed building. And the anticipated future for the building is likewise fine and bright.

More parents and friends were on hand this year than anyone could remember for an opening day of school. All, seemingly without exception, were impressed by the beauty of the new building which, in comparison with the old and recently abandoned schoolhouse, is almost breathtaking.

At the opening exercises were heard brief addresses by James W. Smith, principal and acting superintendent of the new school; Rev. A. E. Atkinson, new pastor of the Walton Methodist Church; Judge John L. Vest; Asa M. Rouse; Rev. R. Tackett, new pastor of the Walton Baptist Church; Don J. Roberts, chairman of the Board of Education, and Rev. C. A. Vaughn, pastor of the Walton Christian Church.

On hand also was a fine faculty from whom excellent things are expected and will no doubt be realized. They include: Mrs. Lillian B. Acree, first grade; Mrs. Sara Sleet, second grade; Mrs. Juanita Kline, third grade; Mrs. Lucile Hudson, fourth grade; Mrs. Thelma Vaughn, fifth grade; Miss Abbe Flynn, sixth grade; Mrs. Helen Dowlick, seventh grade; In the high school are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conner, Mrs. Colleen Shields, Mrs. Dorothy Beighle, James T. Vest, Mr. Snow, Miss Charlotte Fullerton, the new home economics teacher.

But this year of the clean slate is marked by the most important thing of all, the student body. These wonderful young people seemed more impressed by all the newness and splendor than anybody. More than one parent was heard to exclaim a wish to be back in school once more.

This year there was a first day enrollment of 447 pupils, many times the number of the opening of the old Main Street school. In fact, the enrollment this year exceeds the population of the entire town at the date of the opening of the old school years ago.

It is hoped that everyone will have a chance to see the new building and meet the new members of the faculty. The invitation is always open.

"After these things came Jesus and His disciples into the land of Judea; and there He tarried with them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because there was much water there; and they came, and were baptized."

—John 3:22-23

QUESTION Do not the Scriptures here relate that the disciples of Jesus were baptized with a baptism requiring water? Was not our Lord Himself baptized with a baptism requiring Him to go down into the water and to come up out of the water? (Matt. 3:16) The Scriptures never relate that any one was ever sprinkled or poured. These modes came into being centuries after the establishment of the Church. We plead with all men to return to the New Testament pattern, and to leave the traditions and customs of men which have corrupted that pattern.

Agronomist Warns Johnson Grass is Serious Menace

Johnson grass, a perennial noxious weed that closely resembles Sudan grass, rapidly becoming a menace throughout Kentucky, according to Joe F. Freeman, agronomist of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Thousands of acres of fertile bottomland have been practically taken over, and upland soils are becoming infested with it.

Eradication of Johnson grass is almost impossible on overflow bottomlands where fresh seed is brought in each year by flood waters. However, control of the grass to allow production of corn in alternate years, or perhaps 2 years out of 3, is possible by certain cultural practices, such as close grazing, frequent cutting and plowing and clean summer cultivation. These methods weaken the root stalks or destroy seedling plants.

Eradication is possible on upland, although it may cost as much as $50 to $75 an acre where infestation is heavy. Single plants or small patches can be destroyed by digging or spot-treating with chemicals. Sodium chlorate in the dry form, or TCA as a spray may be applied to the soil in the stubble after the grass has been cut. Retreatment to kill seedlings and plants that escaped the first application is necessary.

Seed production can be prevented by cutting or mowing the plants each time they put out flower heads. Three close cuttings a year usually will be required. It should be done not only in fields and pastures, but on roads and ditch banks in fence rows and on wastelands.

Various methods of control and eradication are being tested on plots at the Experiment Station farm at Lexington. For further information on Johnson grass, see your county agent or write to the Experiment Station at Lexington for Leaflet No. 157.

DESTROY BAGWORMS NOW
Although bagworms found hanging on trees and shrubs are now dormant, they should be picked off and destroyed at this time, says Prof. W. A. Price, entomologist at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Each bag contains upward of 300 eggs, which will hatch in the spring if allowed to remain.

The bags can be removed easily from the branches and burned. Prof. Price warned against letting the bags lie on the ground, as the eggs will hatch in the spring and the infestation be repeated another year.

High Unit Fertilizers
Popular with Farmers
Sale of mixed fertilizers with more units of plant foods are increasing rapidly over straight materials and those having fewer units of plant foods, according to Bruce Poundstone, head of the Feed and Fertilizer department at the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

He cited the case of 5-10-15 which was unheard of five ago, yet today is the leading fertilizer with 70,000 tons sold. The second most important grade, 3-12-12, with 63,000 tons sold, has more than doubled its tonnage sale.

Grades formerly important, but now not recommended have shown a rapid decline. For example, grade 6-8-6, which at one time sold close to 100,000 tons per year, is down to less than 40,000 tons, he reported.

Mixed fertilizers accounted for less than 70 percent of total sales five years ago, he said, but now have been upped to 80 percent.

Record further reveal that fertilizer grades recommended by the Experiment Station are more popular with farmers than grades not listed. Seventy percent of the fertilizer bought by farmers the past year was of grades on the Station's recommended list. This is in contrast to only 10 percent in 1948.

Executive Task

Lesson for September 11, 1955

THE city of Jerusalem was a slum. There is no other good word for it. The people, poor and few and scared, were existing in the midst of rubble. Today in Korea the cardboard shacks are coming down, more permanent houses are being built, but in Jerusalem there was no rebuilding. Everything was left just as it was after the war. How long had that been? One hundred and forty-one years! Four generations — as far back from Nehemiah's time as 1814 is from us. Suppose the city of Washington had never been rebuilt, since the British burned it in the "war of 1812"? Nehemiah was amazed and shocked when he heard about it. Like all prosperous Jews who lived in Persia, he had supposed everything was all right back in the motherland. When they told him how things actually were, he first cried; but then he acted.

Competition
Nehemiah, armed with a royal commission — for Palestine was now a part of the great Persian Empire — turned out to be one of the most remarkable executives in history. He went to Jerusalem as governor; but he saw it was no real city. In those days you could no more have a city with out a wall around it than you can have a city today without paved streets, or telephones. The wall was an absolute number one. Must. No doubt previous governors had seen as much; but they had done nothing about it. Nehemiah at once went to work on this problem. In 52 days the wall was completed; 52 days to do what for 93 years (since the first "Return") every one else in charge of Jerusalem had failed to do. How did Nehemiah succeed where so many others had failed — or not even tried? The answer, in one sentence, is: Nehemiah was the kind of executive who can make hindrances and handicaps work for him instead of against him. One of the handicaps obviously was the many jealous divisions among the people. The class-spirit can be shown just as easily in a group of castaways on a desert island, as it can in New York. Nehemiah knew all about this; and he organized his wall-builders by groups according to their occupation. The goldsmiths built here, and the priests built there, and so on. No group wanted to be outdone by any other group, so they all pushed on till it was done. It takes healthy competition to bring out what people can really do.

Fear Can Be Useful
Perhaps the big reason why the wall had never been built was that the people, ill-equipped and leaderless, knew that their wall-builders would not want Jerusalem to rise again. They were afraid of "reprisals" or raids from one place or another, if they really set to work to build a real city again. Now Nehemiah did not wait till they got over being scared. They never would. So he (so to speak) tied that scare to their coat-tails, like a pack of firecrackers. He ordered the citizens, as far as it was practical, to build the part of the wall nearest to where they lived. Every man and woman (yes, there were women) working on the wall would think: If this section of wall goes down, my own home will be the first one pillaged! So of course these scared people worked like mad, each one determined that if the wall gave way anywhere, it wouldn't be near his house.

Putting Human Nature To Work
All that business about the spears and other army equipment — ordering half the people to stand by in battle dress while the rest worked on the wall — may have scared off the enemy raiders; but it did something else: it got the wall built in an amazingly short time. Just the sight of those spears would put everybody into high gear. They wanted to finish that wall before the battle started. It never started, out Nehemiah's dramatic mobilization kept those amateur wall-builders going from dawn till dark. So Nehemiah showed in his time what the best executives have always shown: the skill to use human nature as it is. On the hoof. Executives — governors, presidents, heads of corporations, bishops — could doubtless get better results with better people

GEE, DAD, YOU'RE
SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Square Dance Jamboree will be a highlight of Kentucky Day at Coney Island, Cincinnati, Sunday, Sept. 18. The dance will begin at 1:30 p. m. in Moonlight Gardens, under auspices of the Ohio Valley Square Dance Association.

In honor of Kentucky Day, Coney has made the final day of its 1955 season a "bargain." Prices will be reduced on all rides, with many only five cents. Many refreshments also will be reduced in price for the day. All of Coney's attractions, with the exception of the swimming pool, will be in operation Sunday.

For those who like the more conventional types of dancing, Coney will offer a "double feature" in Moonlight Gardens, Saturday and Sunday nights, Sept. 17 and 18. Hix Dixieland Rhythm Kings, one of the Dixieland bands in the business, will alternate with the "sweet" music of Clyde Trask and his orchestra.

As the final strains of the dance music fade out Sunday night, Coney will bring to a close another fine season of whole-some summer entertainment.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Europeans -- and many others, too -- can speak two or more languages. This subject was touched upon the other day by Congressman John Watts of Kentucky.

He put an article into the Congressional Record in which he urged our schools to put more emphasis on teaching foreign languages. He came to the sound conclusion that an understanding of another tongue would bring peoples of the world into a close kinship. Another conclusion is that world peace -- permanent -- would be more quickly achieved.

IN RUSSIA

It looks right now as though 30 to 40 American congressmen will visit Russia this fall and winter, including two lawmakers from Kentucky, Alben Barkley and John Robison of Louisville. All of which gives encouragement to those people who would like to sell some of our farm surplus to the Russians.

However, there is a hitch in those sell-to-Russia plans. The Reds have no money to buy anything from us and some officials in the capital are against making any deals on products other than which are perishable.

AN ILL WIND

We do not reject, of course, in the damage done by those recent hurricanes, but if we can believe reports reaching the Department of Agriculture, those storms may -- we say may, not will -- bring higher tobacco in Kentucky. North Carolina a ten million dollar loss. Maryland cigarette leaf was hit hard. And up in Connecticut, cigar makings took a bad beating. Last week we report some losses in Virginia.

MAIL BOX

To Harrison County writer: Again we report, with our fingers crossed, that prospects look good for a tax cut next year, on election year. Reply to Fleming County lady: Three Confederate veterans. None live in Kentucky. Answer to Lewis County: We hear that the GOP National Committee is going to take an interest in Kentucky's November election. To Boone County reader: Don't expect the National Park Service to take an interest in the State park in Boone County. The National park group is in need of funds to operate its present facilities.

Executive Task

Lesson for September 11, 1955

THE city of Jerusalem was a sium. There is no other good word for it. The people, poor and few and scared, were existing in the midst of rubble. Today in Korea the cardboard shacks are coming down, more permanent houses are being built; but in Jerusalem there was no rebuilding. Everything was left just as it was after the war. How long had that been? One hundred and forty-one years! Four generations — as far back from Nehemiah's time as 1814 is from us. Suppose the city of Washington had never been rebuilt, since the British burned it in the "war of 1812"? Nehemiah was amazed and shocked when he heard about it. Like all prosperous Jews who lived in Persia, he had supposed everything was all right back in the motherland. When they told him how things actually were, he first cried; but then he acted.

Competition
Nehemiah, armed with a royal commission — for Palestine was now a part of the great Persian Empire — turned out to be one of the most remarkable executives in history. He went to Jerusalem as governor; but he saw it was no real city. In those days you could no more have a city without a wall around it than you can have a city today without paved streets, or telephones. The wall was an absolute number one must. No doubt previous governors had seen as much; but they had done nothing about it. Nehemiah did once went to work on this problem. In 52 days the wall was completed, 52 days to do what for 90 years (since the first "Return") every one else in charge of Jerusalem had failed to do. How did Nehemiah succeed where so many others had failed — or not even tried? The answer, in one sentence, lay in Nehemiah's kind of executive who can make hindrances and handicaps work for him instead of against him. One of the handicaps obviously was the many jealous divisions among the people. The class-spirit can be shown just as easily in a group of castaways on a desert island, as it can in New York. Nehemiah knew all about this; and he organized his wall-builders by groups according to their occupation. The goldsmiths built here, and the priests built there, and so on. No group wanted to be outdone by any other group, so they all pushed on till it was done. It takes healthy competition to bring out what people can really do.

Fear Can Be Useful
Perhaps the big reason why the wall had never been built was that the people, ill-equipped and leaderless, knew that their watchful enemies would not want Jerusalem to rise again. They were afraid of "reprisals" or raids from one place or another. If they really set to work to build a real city again, now Nehemiah did not wait till they got over being scared. They never would. So he (so to speak) tied that scare to their coat-tails, like a pack of firecrackers. He ordered the citizens, as far as it was practical, to build the part of the wall nearest to where they lived. Every man and woman (yes, there were women) working on the wall would think: If this section of wall goes down, my own home will be the first one pillaged! So of course these scared people worked like mad, each one determined that if the wall gave way anywhere, it wouldn't be near his house.

Putting Human Nature To Work
All that business about the "spear" and other army equipment — ordering half the people to stand by in battle dress while the rest worked on the wall — may have scared off the enemy raiders; but it did something else: it got the wall built up on an amazingly short time. Just the sight of those spears would put everybody into high gear. They wanted to finish that wall before the battle started. It never started; out Nehemiah's dramatic mobilization kept those amateur wall-builders going from dawn till dark. So Nehemiah showed in his time what the best executives have always shown: the skill to use human nature as it is, on the hoof. Executives — governors, presidents, heads of corporations, bishops — could doubtless get better results with better people

GEE, DAD, YOU'RE
SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for good in the world. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs a moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SEPTEMBER

Labor Day is over and September is on its way. Most people have had their vacation and are ready to settle down and work to make some money to pay their taxes and get Christmas presents. September is a fine month to paint, repair the buildings and roofs. I have mine already fixed and painted for winter. Now is the time to get a new Perfectoid oil heater, so we can install it before the rains come. Don't you need new furnace pipe? We will put it up if you will measure the size, number of joints and elbows, then call WALTON 23 (CONRAD HARDWARE) and we will be there in a jiffy. Now is the time to check your heater—maybe you need one or a new grate for your old one—remember, we sell Coleman and Perfectoid oil heaters, Warm Morning and Martha Washington coal heaters, also Martin gas heaters. I have several used coal and oil heaters in very good condition. Whenever you buy a stove from CONRAD and it don't give service, all you have to do is call CONRAD.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsking, another one of my Kenton county customers, bought an Armstrong 9-12 lineal inch Mr. Glass, from Nicholson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hemingway, from Visalia, bought several pieces of hardware. Mr. Fromm, who bought the Autotel Tourist Court on Richmond Court, came in and bought a new Baby washer. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Marsh bought an Armstrong 12x15 lineal inch. George Whitaker bought a Dayton water system—he knew what he wanted because he came in the front door and said "I want a water pump like the one in the window." And Brewster picked up the one in the window and put it in his car. Some fellow over Piner way bought a used Warm Morning coal heater. Lots of people looking at heating stoves—some will come back and buy a good stove, others will try to save some money and buy a cheaper stove and wish later they had bought the best stove at CONRAD'S. Of course I have some cheap stoves but I don't try to sell them because I am just asking for trouble when I do.

Mrs. Myrick Crouch called to bring her a square aluminum tub Maytag washer—her old one had just washed its last—those square aluminum tub Maytags really wash cleaner and faster than any other washer. John Scott, from Verona, was buying pipe and fittings—he is piping water from his new cistern. Red worked all day cleaning up some of those trade-in stoves that people say are just as good as new and they really think I believe it. George Nelson, on Shaw Road, bought a rubber tired wagon and wanted a flat bed built on it—I sent him to the Walrus Lumber Company—he called me and said bring the wagon down to the lumber company—they made the bed and we delivered the wagon before quitting.

time—when you want service, come to Walton. Art Smith wanted the door catch on his refrigerator fixed—we sent him to Leon Hall and Leon came up and helped us fix it, so there is always a way and we have some very good mechanics in Walton. Ray Fisk came after more Bolce outside white paint. Then Mr. Richardson, at Atwood, came after a lot of Bolce paint—he put Bolce paint on his house 12 years ago and he is going to give it two coats this year.

Brewster went down and put in an electric range service for Bill Webb—he bought the house from Stanley Ranson, on the old Dixie Highway. Bolce's truck just unloaded 60 gallons of outside white, linseed oil, turpentine and some inside paint—they really give service—called them about 10:00 and at 2:00 they had the paint here. I buy in small quantities so it will be fresh and soft in the bucket. Try some Bolce paint if you have never used it—you can't go wrong.

Jerry Roland bought a very nice piece of Hoesel lineal inch—they are living on Green Road in the Elmer Webster house. Leo Geuge stopped today and bought a gallon of Bolce quality paint and varnish remover—he also bought 3 gallons of Bolce outside white paint—he wanted to try it to see if it is as good as 1 advertisement—he has five houses to paint. Brewster and Red spent all afternoon at Piner school trying to put in some new electric plugs and switches—they have to go back and finish tomorrow.

Brewster put up new venetian blinds, curtain rods and roll shades for Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Simpson in their new home—it is very nice and convenient. George Clifton came after angle iron—we cut it up for him as we have an angle iron cutter. Woody Butler sent after some heavy U bolts—Red threaded him some heavy rods—he ran them through and bent them. We have to be blacksmiths to keep these farmers going. Brewster went over and took some clothes out of Mrs. Sheppard's Maytag washer—sometimes they really get caught.

Robert Jump just came in after a hand saw and 50 pounds of nails—he is building a garage. Ed Hetzel came after more pipe fittings to complete his bathroom. It is just a few days until fall starts and most of you have a lot to do before the cool, rainy days set in. Get your roots and gutters repaired—it's a fine time to paint your buildings, and your heating problems—call or tell us about them. I have been ordering stove repairs and they are very slow-going—don't wait, get these things done in September, the finest month of the year.

Promise of Salk Vaccine Is Bright

As a stopgap measure to meet the county's acute need for funds to continue care of polio patients, a check for $3000 from March of Dimes headquarters in New York, was received last week by the Boone County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"This money," explained Mrs. R. J. Schwenke, Chapter Chairman, "is an advance supplied by chapters operating in the U. S. When it was realized that more than 1200 chapters would exhaust the March of Dimes funds available to them, National Foundation headquarters called in funds from chapters which had surplus funds."

Recognition that polio respects no state or county lines, Mrs. Schwenke said, chapters with funds have willingly answered the distress signals of those operating in the red to insure the necessary care for polio patients.

Encouraging the "haves" to help the "have-nots," Mrs. Schwenke continued, is one way the March of Dimes assures that the lives and usefulness of polio patients everywhere in the country can be saved.

The check received by the Boone County Chapter will help meet long overdue bills for providing treatment and equipment for two old, two new and two part-time patients in this area, she said. Mrs. Schwenke predicted that because some of these patients will continue to need help for a long time, the chapter would be forced to ask for additional funds in the near future.

"It is hoped that the money we have received can be returned to the National Foundation headquarters from contributions to the next March of Dimes in January, 1956 for assistance to other chapters in need," the local chairman said.

"The promise of the Salk vaccine is bright, but the full realization of that promise is for the future, as we in Boone County know only too well, polio isn't licked yet," Mrs. Schwenke concluded.

Constitution Week Is Proclaimed by County Judge C. L. Cropper

The following proclamation was issued at the request of Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The national society is promoting the observance of Constitution Day on a nationwide basis.

WHEREAS, September 17, 1955 is Constitution Day, the first birthday of the United States of America was signed on September 17, 1787 by George Washington and others. It is the foundation of our nation and stands secure among the mighty documents of all times. The Constitution of the United States is a document of law and these laws were not made for the benefit of any one person but for all people.

So long as our nation is governed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, we will grow in strength, wisdom, and freedom. This day is worthy of our attention and all American people should take this opportunity to give grateful thanks to those foresighted and understanding men who had God in their hearts and minds and wrote this great document and made it the bedrock of our great nation. All American people should take the time to read the Constitution of the United States.

Therefore, we hereby proclaim the week of September 17, 1955 through September 23, 1955, as Constitution Week and request that same be observed by the people of this county.

C. L. CROPPER, Judge, Boone County, Kentucky

Below is a clipping from the Times-Star about our grandson, which should be of interest to Jimmy's many friends: "Some golfers play all their lives without ever coming close to a hole in one, but 22-year-old Jim Ryle, serving with the Army Engineers on Okinawa, has already recorded two of them. Ryle, son of G. (Bud) Ryle, 3172 Werk Road, Westwood, scored his second ace Aug. 20 on the 160-yard first hole of the Awase Meadows Country Club, Okinawa. He recorded his first hole in one when a boy of 15 at Twin Oaks."

Ladies Club Aids Teen Club:

The ladies of the Beechwood Homemakers Club have announced that they will assist in some way toward the organizing of the Teen Club. With Moon Bros. Post, 275, being the first men's organization, and the Beechwood Homemakers being the first ladies' club to give their support in some way, I wonder if other clubs, fraternities or organizations desire to offer their help in some way. It is very good to know that the adults in this community can see the need of so great a project that will help our youth find recreation in their own community.

Progress is being made on this project which will enable teenagers in this community to organize.

HAVE SOIL TESTED NOW

Farmers should let the inventory of the soils on their farms by having the soil tested, so says Joe Claxton, County Agent of Boone county.

Farmers must do a good job of farming if they are going to stay in business. Very few businesses would make a profit without taking inventory and knowing the needs of the product they're selling. So it is with farmers—they must take inventory of the soil so as to know the needs of the crop to be grown.

Now is a good time to have your soil tested, as the soil is in a good condition to take soil samples and it will be all during the fall. If soil samples are taken in January or February, they will be wet and it is hard to get them in condition to be tested.

Make plans to have soil tested in the fall and buy fertilizer early, Mr. Claxton added.

Staffordsburg Homemakers

Twenty-four members of the Staffordsburg Homemakers Club were present to hear Mrs. Floyd Smith instill Mesdames Bluch Rich, president; Boyd Cullett, vice president; Melvin Brueggren, secretary; treasurer, Harry Cooper, program chairman; J. A. Keeney, reading chairman; L. J. Rapp, garden chairman; Beal, citizenship; Herbert L. Barrow, publicity; Ralph Howard, cards, and L. M. Deuser, telephone.

Miss Zelma Byerly, home demonstration agent, spoke on the annual meeting, October 25. This club is fortunate to have four generations of one family present, who plan to take part in the program. Ten 100% members will be presented ribbons.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney announced a reading certificate shall be given to those who qualify this year by reading three fiction, a biography, one travel or history, one inspirational or religious full length books. The article for this year was "Am I Always Kind," and it stressed the ideal to uphold as loyalty, courtesy, honesty and kindness.

Fifteen members own food freezers. Frozen food consisted of 24 1/2 pounds of meat, 416 pounds of fruit, 358 pounds of vegetables. Canned were 297 quarts of vegetables and 525 quarts of fruit.

It was agreed women save fifty percent on articles sewed at home over retail prices of ready-made garments. This is largely due to specialists who bring the lessons to the club through home demonstration.

Mrs. W. H. Tweenhofel of Orlando, Fla., was a guest of the meeting, as was Miss Zelma E. Byerly, Kenton county home demonstration agent. Others present were Mesdames E. B. Rich, Denver Binder, Clinton Henry, Ralph Howard, Boyd Cullett, Floyd Smith, Harry Cooper, Thomas Byrne, Stella Richardson, L. M. Deuser, Chester Hill, George A. TREAT PLANTBEDS IN FALL

Treating tobacco plant beds in the fall is usually more successful than in the spring, according to the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. For the past two years, experiments were conducted spring and fall, various treatments being used. The weed count per square yard on treated and untreated plots was the basis of comparison.

Not including the treatments with cyanamide, which was applied only in the fall as it is not suitable for spring use, the spring treatments were slightly more effective in killing weed seed than were the fall treatments.

The report goes on to state, however, that the slight percentage of gain is outweighed by the better treating conditions in the fall, and the better control of wild fire by fall treatment. Furthermore, the difficulty is avoided of sufficiently early spring application to allow treatment materials to leave the ground in time for seeding. In one of the two years, methyl bromide was as effective in fall treatment as in the spring.

Thorough burning of plant bed soil gave about as good control of weeds as the fall as it is not suitable for spring use, the spring treatments were slightly more effective when used at the 2-pound rate than at lower rates.

The trench treatments look promising, the report stated, but have not proved effective enough in these tests to be recommended.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

The evening session began at 7:30 with Rev. Kenneth Parker presiding. Rev. Chase Jennings, Superintendent of Baptist Mission Work in Northern Kentucky, led in a very fine program, giving highlights of the mission program, with a number of workers telling of the progress being made in their field of service. Following this splendid program, L. E. Coleman, State Secretary of the Brotherhood, brought a wonderful message concerning the Cooperative Program of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Tuesday, the second day opened at 10 a. m., with Rev. Taylor presiding. After a fine song service, Rev. Charles Munch, pastor of East Bend Baptist Church, led the devotional. The following program was then presented: The Woman's Missionary Union, Mrs. Arthur Ammann; Home and Foreign Missions, Rev. Charles Goring; Christian Education, Prof. Mullikin, Georgetown College. The morning session was closed with a doctrinal sermon delivered by Rev. James Howell, pastor of the Ludlow Baptist Church.

The afternoon session was devoted to the business of the association.

Rev. Jack Lowndes, pastor of Erlanger Baptist Church, was in charge of the evening session, presenting a program of the Training Union work, led by young people of the association, and closing with a message by Rev. George Riggs of Louisville.

No doubt this closed one of the greatest sessions of the North Bend Baptist Association in many years.

STAFFORDSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maddox of Crittenden.

Sorry to learn that Winford Riley and family are going to spend the winter in Florida. Hope that the change of climate is of great benefit to little Sandra.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kenney visited Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fooks and Mrs. Bessie Mills of Verona, Sunday afternoon. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swinford and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hamilton.

The banquet held at Simon Kenton by the Staffordsborg Methodist Church, on Friday evening, was quite well attended and much enjoyed by all. Among those honored were the two softball teams who won two trophies and the Boy Scouts, who are also a new organization. The principal dish on the menu was turkey with other dishes which go with it. A program, in which Misses Joyce Cooper and Barbara Bluegreen, and Rev. H. C. Oyles took part, was very interesting. Plans are under way to continue the fellowship suppers, which were interrupted by the busy summer schedule. Let's all back our church to the best of our individual abilities and keep it on the upswing.

The Staffordsborg Homemakers Club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Payne, September 7. A large enrollment was gratifying. Mrs. William Twenhofel of Florida, was a guest; also several children. Much interest is shown in the program for the year. Mrs. Bluch Rich is the new president and she had charge of the meeting, assisted by a complete staff.

Miss Minnie Rapp was able to be out to Sunday School and morning worship. The W.S.C.S. held its monthly meeting Thursday and made plans to try to meet in the evening next month and have a larger attendance.

Jessamine county farmers reported good results from spraying tobacco affected with wildfire.

Whites Tower

Two gentlemen from Falmouth were in the Tower, Saturday to buy pigs but had no luck as they are very scarce in this vicinity.

Melvin Vincent has started the foundation for his new home near the new church.

Work on Earl Hanna's new home is progressing very well and he hopes to be in by Christmas.

Glad to hear that Mr. Colston is much better after a temporary indisposition.

Charles Dorsey and wife returned on Thursday from a fishing trip to Kentucky Dam Village. He brought back a nice string of bass and crappies, also a stalk of dark tobacco of the blue cured variety—the first we had ever seen. It cures up with just as green a color as when it is growing.

Randolph Gibson and family and his daughter, Mrs. Pietzinger, and husband attended the state fair at Louisville, Saturday and Sunday.

The weather has been too dry for squirrel hunting, so there ought to be a big crop of them next year.

A Mr. Peasley and Mr. Caduzzo have moved in the property here formerly occupied by Jesse James.

Gardens and pastures are just about burned up, and tomatoes are quoted at $4.50 a bushel, wholesale.

Busiest men in the Tower now are the water wagon drivers—just about going day and night.

A light shower of rain fell here Saturday evening and night, but enough only to relieve the dry spell. Much more is needed for pastures and late vegetation.

A lady driver backed her car over the high bank at Damon's store Saturday evening, necessitating the use of a wrecker to get it back on the road. No damage resulted.

"And He said unto them, go ye in to all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16:15-16

QUESTION: Did not our Lord, in this, the Great Commission under which every Gospel preacher operates to this day, place Belief before Baptism and Baptism before Salvation, in the divinely appointed order of things? Why, then, have men changed and distorted this order, and placed Baptism before Belief, as in the case of infant baptism, or Salvation before Baptism, as in the case of the man who says he was saved before he was Baptized?

BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

What Is Right?

Lesson for September 18, 1955

THE most dangerous notion in the world is that "right" and "wrong" do not mean anything at all but "I like it" and "I don't like it." When people begin to think along that line, all the walls are down, they have made the surrender of their character. Right and wrong do mean something, and all the slippery philosophies to the contrary notwithstanding, a person who is blind to these green and red lights is headed for trouble. Even when people are professing not to see any sense in those great words, for themselves, however, they do see how important they are for others.

Dr. Foreman

Doing As Everybody Does

One of the wrong ways to find out what's right and what's not, is the simple, easy, and foolish method of counting noses. That is, some people will think anything at all is right if enough people do it. At the lowest level, take some primitive tribe in Borneo where men are admired in proportion to the number of heads—human heads—they have cut off and brought home. The "best citizens" of such communities are the most murderous! Now it has not occurred yet to some of those people that this killing is wrong; everybody does it; everybody has always done it, so it must be right. At the upper level, or at higher levels anyhow, take some American school or college where more than two-thirds of the students cheat on examinations. Everybody does it, the freshman is told, so it must be all right. In the same community, perhaps, people who should know better will indulge in liquor just because "everybody" does it. But you cannot make a wrong thing right by addition.

Doing As You Like

Another mistake about right and wrong is to suppose that if a thing appeals to you strongly enough it must be right—for you. One man's meat is another man's poison, you will be told. If it is pleasant, that is a sign it is good; if it is unpleasant, that is a sign it is bad, or wrong. Now everybody knows how silly this is, when they see some one else putting up this kind of excuse. But when it comes home to one's own self, one sings a different tune. We hear talk like this: "I have a right to be happy, haven't I? . . . You can't expect me to sacrifice my own interests. . . . Something I want so much can't be very wrong. I'm in the grip of something too big for me. . . . After all, I've got myself to consider. . . . If you knew how much this means to me you wouldn't blame me. . . ." and so forth and so forth. Now there is a grain of truth—no more than a grain, mind you—in this kind of philosophy of life. Certainly, the opposite is wrong, too; if the pleasant is not always the same as the good, the unpleasant is not always good either. Stuff you hate to eat may be good for you (like spinach) or it may be bad for you (like underdone sausage). In an ideal life, a person would love to do what is right to be done, he would not hate it. Still it does not follow that duty is always delightful, or that the "kick" we get out of something is a measure of how right it is for us.

Doing What God Likes

Malachi the prophet many centuries ago said pretty plainly, in the name of God, what is the real difference between right and wrong. (And of course this is not the only place in the Bible where this comes out.) The righteous (the good man) is one who serves God; the wicked man is the one who does not serve him. Now that is not so simple as it is true. The will of God cannot be read off like a blueprint. God does not follow that duty is always delightful, or that the "kick" we get out of something is a measure of how right it is for us. The will of God we have the main lines of God's will plainly shown. We are never to be saved the trouble of thinking our problems through. But yet we do have some course-lights, some beacons on our way. We have the Ten Commandments. We have the Golden Rule. We have the inspired word, "He that loveth his neighbor hath fulfilled the law." The will of God—the right for men and women—is as simple and as profound, as love.

LET'S GO TO THE FAIR!

Ferris wheels twirl against the sky . . . children munch long streamers of pink and white cotton candy . . . and there are apples on a stick and prize competitions, to say nothing of the animals with their blue ribbon awards.

The Fair is part of summer . . . when crowds throng the old grounds on the far side of the railroad tracks and girls hold hands with their fellows and older people smile, and younger ones literally have a field day.

God smiles on fellowship such as this. And in His Church, he offers the greatest fellowship of all. Here men may join together in prayer and worship, giving thanks for blessings, finding consolation in sorrow, renewing their strength, reaffirming their happiness through faith.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy, nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should join the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For his of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and financial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

KENTUCKIANS

IN WASHINGTON

By Gil Kingsbury

Schools and Money:

Kentucky educators and others will be meeting during the next week, preparatory to the White House Conference on Education. Some states already have held such sessions, and word reaching the Capital City declares that money—and how to get it—is a prime topic for discussion.

In Virginia, for example, they talked about a sales tax—to solve the school money problem. Virginia, so those educators say, could maintain a school system without Federal aid, provided a sales tax is enacted. The Old Dominion already has an income tax.

Penalties:

Uncle Sam—and that means the Department of Agriculture—is upset about overplanting, and several suits have been started to collect penalties from farmers. Wheat farmers are offering the most delinquencies, although tobacco farmers—23,000 of them—are the most numerous overplanters. However, the collections on penalty tobacco solve a lot of problems for Uncle Sam as penalties are deducted from payments right away. In the wheat country it's a different problem, and 200 suits are in the courts right now.

Mass Farm News:

Uncle Sam there: that man again! reports that each farmer should be wealthier this year than last—wealthier by one percent. In other words, if a Kentucky farmer was worth $1,000 last year—just to pick an easy figure—he should be worth $1,010 this year.

The increase is due, so the experts figure, in the increased value of real estate, household furnishings, and money in the bank. However, the same authorities also report that mortgages are up and so are other types of debt.

Postoffice Window:

To Fleming county students: The Labor Department says there's a shortage of draftsmen, engineers, and chemists. Reply to Boone county: Economists see an increase in the use of soft coal this year, which should help Kentucky's economy.

Note to Bracken county reader: Congressman Robinson, of Louisville, is the son of the late congressman from the old Ninth District.

To Lewis county high school seniors: Now is the time to get information on appointments to West Point, Annapolis, or the new Air Force Academy. Write your Congressman or Senator.

Pasture fertilizer tests run for five years have been set up on the farm of John G. White, Clay county.

Farm men and women on the annual Floyd county field day saw some variety tests of hybrid corn, an acre of commercial strawberries, gardens, pastures, irrigation and meadows.

GLENCOE

Miss Rosella Martin is a patient in Booth Hospital. We hope for her early recovery.

Homecoming at Taylor Mill Church was well attended Sunday. All came with well-filled baskets and had a great day in serving the Lord in Christian fellowship with one another.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noel and Mr. and Mrs. Elsie McCormick were callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Poland and son, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Snow and son, Robert Earl, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Pet Noel of near Williamstown.

Sympathy is extended John Finnell and family in the loss of a dear wife and mother, Ethel Finnell, who died at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

If you would like to cheer up a shut-in this week, write Mrs. Grace Snow of Erlanger, Route 4, as announced Sunday over WZIP from the Lanesville Christian Church. She would appreciate hearing from you, and God would bless you.

Deanna Hudson is home a furlough. Always glad when our boys can come home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maddox are building a nice home here in Glencoe. Best wishes to these fine young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noel received word of the death of one of their dear friends last Tuesday, Mrs. Marie Weman of Walnut Hills. Mrs. Weman and family had gathered at the Noel home on Christmas for the past 20 years, to help make it an enjoyable time for the Noel family. Friendship can never be forgotten.

Mrs. Ella Beal is not much improved at this time at the Dry Ridge Rest Home. Mrs. Laura Connelly and Mrs. Lona Higgins called to see her last week. We request your prayers for this fine Christian woman.

Mrs. Sarah Noel's daughter, Carry, and husband, of Baltimore, Md., were guests of Mrs. Noel last week.

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends and relatives for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our loving husband and father, Albert Rhodes, Sr. Especially do we wish to thank the Hamilton Funeral Home for the efficient manner in which the services were conducted, and for the kindly use of their funeral home; Rev. Holtzbaugh for his fine funeral sermon; Dr. J. M. Huxley for his untiring efforts; donors of the many beautiful floral pieces, the pallbearers, also the beautiful music and singing. All this kindness will never be forgotten.

HEATERS

From September 15 to November 1 is the time to put your heaters, so remember we have the finest and greatest oil heaters ever made—they named it right, PERFECTION, for it will burn and heat when all others fail. We sell other heaters but none has ever proven to be the heater with the service as PERFECTION, the stove with a fireproof which has a 10-year guarantee. Sam Hudson has one he bought in 1941 and has been used every year since. We tore it down to examine the bowl and it wasn't even pitted when Brewster scraped the carbon off—it was like new. And talk about Brewster, he is the best oil heater man in the country, 1 bar none, so when you buy a heater from CONRAD, you will have Brewster install it and service it.

Today, he went out to Alfred Hume's to check their Perfection oil heater—Mrs. Hume had kept it so clean it did not need a thing—ask her about Perfection oil heaters. Now if you can't burn oil and have a hard house to heat, I have a complete line of Warm Morning coal heaters, and if they are not large enough, I have a Mortha Washington coal circulator that weighs 485 pounds, and Omer Kite and Ed Knoddy can heat the whole hill above Beaver with the two they have. I believe I have most any size and price in new or used oil or coal heaters. I have had lots of lookers and sold several heaters already—we are ready—are you?

Charley Dorsey and B. Hymer from Independence, were over and Dorsey bought a grass seed sower. Mrs. Owen Flynn was in today for a few hardware items. Lee Mullins from Nicholson, bought 30 feet of the new lineoleum pattern—it should make a beautiful room. Mrs. Mueller, who bought one of the new houses that Benton built on the old Lexington Pike, bought a 35 pound roll of St. Dr. for their basement walls. Mr. Wilson and children, who live in Plantation Heights, on Taylor Mill Road, brought their pony bridle over for me to repair.

Brewster and Chick repaired several irons and two toasters and Brewster and Red went over to a hardware and repaired Bill McCormick's water pump. I hate to send them out on repair jobs on Saturday as I need them here at the store, but I try to keep my good customers satisfied and Bill was out of water. Neuman Armstrong bought several gallons of Bolce paint—he sure keeps his buildings looking good. Mrs. Nell Kelly and Miss Mary Collins were buying a lot of small articles. Mrs. Ed Hopper was buying school supplies for those two boys.

We didn't open up Monday as it was Labor Day, but Robert Jump got me out and bought a lot of nails and a hand saw to the garage. Brewster's brother-in-law from Dayton, Ohio, bought a Maytag washer and took it home with him, so we had a very nice half day after all. Tuesday, we washed windows and had a lot of customers—so many of them strangers. They bought a lot of Bolce paint. Mrs. Newby and Mrs. Rogers, who live in those new houses on the end of High Street, were in. Mrs. Rogers bought Bolce paint for her kitchen.

Chick sold some more of that beautiful pink paint for outside trim. Omer Kite was in a few minutes—and he spent all his money before he got here, so he would go home and make some more and be back for some Bolce outside white—he has used this paint for years and you can look at his buildings and see how good they look. A stove salesman came in today and looked by stock over—said I had the best selection of anywhere—he never tried to sell me more stoves.

One of my salesmen, C. M. Coffield, who travels for Bingham Hardware Co., Cleveland, Ohio, has been coming to this store for over 30 years—he has been selling me over 20 years, and I have never left him leave this store without an order—he has been on his vacation and went across the northwest to Astoria, Oregon, then back through Reno, Nevada—a wonderful trip through the northwest this time of year—after you cross the Mississippi River you never worry about being crowded or the highways congested—wide open spaces and lots of room.

My other salesman, the big fat one from Louisville, went on his vacation, but his leg with an ice chest and had blood poison next day, so they put him in a hospital for two weeks, and the salesman from Cincinnati, old bachelor, went to Michigan fishing, and came back in perfect condition—women never bother him at home or away. So now all the vacations are over and we can all go back to work and try to make some money for taxes and Christmas, which is not far off.

We put up two oil heaters for Katherine Robinson today—they're ready for winter. We put in a window glass for Louis Schweb, also one for Buddy Grubbs. Brewster is working on Mrs. Knox's furnace pipe and cleaning Vera Wright's oil heater in the store. Mrs. Thos. Morgan bought a coal heater and they set it up today. Now is the time, don't wait until the rush starts. Mrs. Sophia Rauchhorst was checking on oil heaters—she needs one large enough to heat her house, which she don't have now. We have all sizes.

Don't buy a brand of oil or coal heater you never heard of—think of the service and repair parts you are going to need and you will get it when you buy Perfection or Coleman from CONRAD.
